SUPPLEMENT TO

The Calcutta Gazette.

Published by Authority.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1847.

FORT WILLIAM,
HOME DEPARTMENT,
LEGISLATIVE,
THE 18TH MARCH, 1847.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 13th of March, 1847.

ACT No. —— of 1847.

An Act for establishing a Court of Subordinate Civil Jurisdiction in the City of Calcutta.

Whereas the jurisdiction of the Court of Requests for the Recovery of Small Debts in and for the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal, is limited to suits brought for the recovery of Debts not exceeding 400 Sicca Rupees, and whereas it is not expedient that the jurisdiction of the said Court of Requests should be extended:

And whereas it is inconvenient to the people to be obliged to resort to Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in all suits for debt exceeding 400 Sicca Rupees, and in all other suits and actions whatsoever:

And whereas for remedy of the said inconvenience it is expedient to establish a new Court with jurisdiction over the subject matters of actions at Law, and with power to make decrees upon such subject matters according to Equity and Good Conscience following the Law:

I. It is hereby enacted, that from and after the day of the Court of Requests for the Recovery of Small Debts in and for the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal shall be abolished, except so far as regards suits pending therein at the time of passing this Act, which shall be proceeded in and determined as if this Act had not been passed, and that on the said day a Court for the exercise of original Civil jurisdiction in the City of Calcutta shall be established, and shall be called the Subordinate Civil Court for the City of Calcutta.

II. And it is enacted, that the said Subordinate Civil Court shall consist of as many Commissioners as to the Governor of Bengal shall from time to time seem meet, and that each of the Commissioners sitting separately shall exercise all the jurisdiction and powers herein conferred upon the said Subordinate Civil Court, except the power of making Rules under Section XXV. of this Act. Provided always, that at least one of the said Commissioners shall be a Barrister of not less than five years standing.

III. And it is enacted, that one of the Commissioners being a Barrister of five years standing, shall be the Chief Commissioner.

IV. And it is enacted, that each of the Commissioners shall receive such Salary as to the Governor General in Council shall seem meet, respect being had to the qualifications of each.

V. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Governor of Bengal to appoint such and so many Ministerial Officers as to him shall seem necessary for the efficient performance of the business of the said Court, and that each of the said Officers shall receive such Salary as to the Governor General in Council shall seem meet.

VI. And it is enacted, that the said Subordinate Civil Court shall have jurisdiction over all causes of Action, for which an Action may be maintained on the Plea Side of the said Supreme Court, where the debt, damages, or value of the property for which such Action may be brought does not exceed the following amounts, that is to say, where the Action is brought, to recover any property for which an Action of Ejectment may be maintained in the said Supreme Court, the amount of Two Hundred Company's Rupees per annum, where the Action is brought for any malicious arrest, maliciously holding to Bail or for any other malicious prosecution, or for any Libel or Slander, or for any Assault, Battery, or false imprisonment, the amount of Three Hundred Company's Rupees, and in all other Actions the amount of One Thousand Company's Rupees.

VII. And it is enacted, that the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall also extend to the recovery of the unliquidated Balance of a Partnership Account, to the extent of Five Hundred Company's Rupees if the Plaintiff shall be content to limit his claim to the recovery of that amount.

VIII. And it is enacted, that the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall also extend to the recovery, against any Executor or Administrator or other Representative of any deceased testate, or intestate person of any demand not exceeding the amount of Five Hundred Company's Rupees for any distributive share of any property under an intestacy, or of any legacy, or residue or share of a residue, under a Will, if the plaintiff shall be content to limit his claim to the recovery of that amount in respect of such share or residue or legacy, provided always, that the said Court by this Act established shall not have jurisdiction over any such demand for such share, residue or legacy if any suit shall at the time of preferring such demand be pending in the said Supreme Court for the Administration of the Estate, out of which such share, residue or legacy is demandable.

IX. And it is enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any plaintiff to divide any cause of action into two or more suits for the purpose of bringing the same within the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court; but any plaintiff having cause of action for debt or damages above the value recoverable under this Act may abandon the excess, and thereupon such plaintiff shall on proving his case have a decree for an amount not exceeding such value, and such decree shall be in full discharge of all demands in respect of such cause of action.

X. And it is enacted, that the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall, as regards the persons to be subject thereto, extend to all persons inhabiting or seeking a livelihood within the City of Calcutta.

XI. And it is enacted, that the said Court shall on all purely legal demands for which an Action at Law is maintainable, decide according to the Law to be administered in the Supreme Court, in the like cases between the like parties, provided that the defendant may in any Action for such legal demand allege and establish an equitable defence, and thereupon the said Court shall by its decree give the defendants the benefit of such defence to the same extent and upon the same principles of Equity as would be applied in the like case by the said Supreme Court on its Equity side, provided that such defence shall not involve a cross demand to an extent exceeding the sum of One Thousand Company's Rupees.

XII. And it is enacted, that the said Subordinate Civil Court shall exercise all the powers which are exercised by Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in the issuing of process, and summoning and compelling the attendance of witnesses and the administering of oaths or solemn declarations and for punishing contempts, and all other powers which are exercised by the said Supreme Court for trial and determination and execution in Actions at Law, and that the said Subordinate Civil Court shall have and use an Official Seal.

XIII. And whereas it is conducive to the good administration of Justice that the respectable part of the public should be associated therein; It is hereby enacted, that the Governor General in Council may, by Proclamation, order that every or any Commissioner of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall, in all suits, or in any particular class of suits, and in all proceedings therein or in any particular proceeding therein, sit with one or more Jurors, and may in the said Proclamation lay down rules for the selection, summoning and compelling attendance of the said Jurors, and for enforcing the performance of their duty by such Jurors.

XIV. Provided always and it is hereby enacted, that the verdict of such Juror or Jurors shall be only for the information of the Conscience of the Court.

XV. And it is enacted, that the manner of commencing a suit in the said Subordinate Civil Court shall be as follows:

1. Each of the Commissioners of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall sit at stated hours for the purpose of receiving plaints.

2. Every plaintiff bringing a suit in the said Subordinate Civil Court shall, except as hereinafter excepted, appear in person before one of the Commissioners, and shall, orally or in writing, lay before such Commissioner the facts which constitute his claim.

3. The excepted cases in which the plaintiff shall be excused from appearing in person for the purpose of making the statement of facts mentioned in the last Clause, are the same as the excepted cases specified in Clause 15 of this Section, but the plaintiff shall in all cases be permitted to make the statement of facts, by an Agent provided he deposit in Court the sum of Fifty Company's Rupees.

4. The sum so deposited shall be held as a security for any sum or such part thereof as it will cover, which may be, or which may become due to the defendant, or to the Government, in respect of the matter of the suit, or in respect of the mode of conducting it: if nothing shall so be, or become due, the sum shall be repaid to the plaintiff.

5. If the plaintiff lays the facts before the Commissioner orally, the facts whether stated of his own accord or elicited by examination shall be reduced into form and written down by the Commissioner or by an Officer of the Court under his direction, and shall constitute the plaint.

6. If the plaintiff lays the facts before the Commissioner in writing, the written statement shall be corrected in form by the Commissioner, or by an Officer of the Court under his direction, if it requires such correction, and in substance if it in any respect disagrees with the statement of facts elicited by the examination of the plaintiff; subject to such correction the written statement shall constitute the plaint.

7. When the statement of facts constituting the plaint has been made, the Commissioner, if he is of opinion that the defendant or the matter of the suit is not within the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Civil Court, shall make a decree accordingly.

8. If the Commissioner is of opinion that the defendant and the matter of the suit are within the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Civil Court, he shall direct a writ of summons to be issued to the defendant.

9. The writ of summons shall contain a copy of the plaint, and an order to the defendant to appear before the Court on a specified day, and to bring with him any documents which he may have in his possession, of which the plaintiff, with the consent of the Commissioner, demands inspection, or which he the defendant may think conducive to his defence, and a list of such witnesses as he supposes may be necessary for his defence.

10. If the plaintiff satisfies the Commissioner that the defendant is likely to withdraw himself from the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Civil Court, the Commissioner may direct a warrant of arrest against the defendant to be issued together with the writ of summons.

11. If the defendant is arrested on the warrant he shall be brought with all convenient speed before the Commissioner, who may discharge him from custody if he gives sufficient security for his appearance, or if he deposits a sum which the Commissioner considers under all the circumstances of the case sufficient, or if he satisfies the Commissioner that he does not intend to withdraw himself from the jurisdiction.

12. On every day in which any of the Commissioner shall sit for the purpose of receiving plaints, all the plaints received shall be laid before the Chief Commissioner, who will distribute them among all the Commissioners, including himself.

13. In distributing the plaints the Chief Commissioner will endeavour to give to all the Commissioners a share of business which will occupy an equal portion of the time of each, and to give to each Commissioner those kinds of suits which he thinks each best qualified to decide.

14. Every plaintiff and defendant in the said Subordinate Civil Court shall appear except as hereinafter excepted in person, on the day specified in the writ of summons, and on every other day fixed for the appearance by the Commissioner.

15. A plaintiff or defendant may be excused from appearing in person,

If ill.

If absent from Calcutta.

If engaged in the Public Service.

If exempted on account of rank by the Regulations from appearing in the Courts of the East India Company.

If of advanced age.

If of the female sex.

If there is a co-plaintiff who appears in person.

If there is a co-defendant defending jointly who appears in person.

If not personally cognizant of the matter in dispute.

16. But in all these cases the Commissioner may refuse to hold the party excused from appearing in person if he is not satisfied that the excuse is made in good faith and that the matter of the excuse exists in a sufficient degree to justify him in admitting it.

17. Whenever an Agent has been admitted in place of a party, such Agent shall be permitted to do all that the party might have done had he appeared, and shall be liable to be examined and cross examined in the same manner.

18. And the Commissioner may if he thinks fit order that the party excused shall be examined in any way in which a witness may be examined.

19. When the Commissioner has refused to hold any party excused he may order the Agent who makes the excuse to summon the party on whose behalf it is made on a specified day, and adjourn the proceedings to that day, or he may make a decree against such party after examining his Agent.

XVI. And it is hereby enacted, that as soon as the plaintiff and defendant are together before the Commissioner to whom the suit has been assigned, he shall proceed to take the pleadings and settle the demurrers and issues of fact.

XVII. And it is hereby enacted, that the manner of pleading shall be as follows.

1. The defendant in answer to questions put by the Commissioner shall confess or deny each of the material allegations contained in the plaint, and shall state any matter whereby he proposes to avoid the plaintiff's right to a decree arising out of such allegations contained in the plaint, as he has confessed.

2. The defendant may demur if he thinks the plaint states a case insufficient to entitle the plaintiff to a decree.

3. The defendant shall not be precluded from demurring to any matter in the plaint because he has pleaded to it, nor shall he be precluded from pleading to any matter in the plaint because he has demurred to it.

4. The defendant shall not be precluded from denying as many of the allegations in the plaint as he does not know to be true.

5. The defendant shall not be precluded from avoiding the plaintiff's right to a decree arising out of any allegations in the plaint which the defendant has confessed by the statement of as many matters as he believes to be true.

6. The Commissioner in framing the pleading from the statements of the parties will take care that pleas shall be kept distinct from demurrers, and that no plea shall be double.

7. The Commissioner will also take care that the pleadings shall not be argumentative and shall state matters of fact only and not evidence of matters of fact, and shall in other respects be such as to lead directly to distinct issues of law or fact, and that each issue shall have as much particularity as conveniently may be.

8. All the above rules of pleading shall be applied, as far as they are capable of such application to the subsequent stages of the pleadings.

9. The Commissioner may examine the parties and permit them to cross examine each other through himself for the purpose of framing the pleadings from their statements, which statements may also be used as evidence at any hearing for the decision of the cause, and the Commissioner may likewise examine the parties and permit them to cross examine each other through himself at any hearing for the purpose of using their statements as evidence for the decision of the cause.

10. If any demurrer results from the pleadings which the Commissioner thinks fit for argument, he will after consultation with the parties fix a day for the argument on it.

11. If any issue of fact results from the pleadings upon which it is necessary to hear evidence the Commissioner will make a note of the names of the witnesses on both sides, and of the facts which each of them is expected to prove, and the documents which each of them is expected to produce, and will grant such subpœnas and subpœnas duces tecum as appear to him to be necessary for the purpose of justice, and will also direct each party to produce any document in his possession the production of which appears to the Commissioner necessary for the purposes of justice, and will after consultation with the parties, fix a day for the taking of evidence.

XVIII. And it is hereby enacted, that if any Commissioner, not being a Barrister, perceives while he is receiving a plaint, or while he is framing the pleadings, or in any subsequent stage, that the suit is one which in his opinion ought not to proceed before a Commissioner who is not a Barrister he may hand over the suit to the Chief Commissioner and direct the parties to go before the said Chief Commissioner who shall proceed with the suit, or direct any other Commissioner who is a Barrister, to proceed with the suit.

XIX. And it is hereby enacted, that if it shall appear to the Commissioner at any stage of the suit, that justice cannot be done unless some person not a party to the suit be made a party thereto the Commissioner may summon such person to appear, and may make a decree which shall be binding upon such person, making such order regarding the costs as shall be agreeable to justice.

XX. And it is hereby enacted, that if in the course of a suit the parties shall disagree as to the balance of an account, the Commissioner may direct that the account be referred to an Arbitrator nominated by the parties, or in default of such nomination to an Officer of the Court, and such Arbitrator or Officer will report the amount due on either side, subject to any exceptions which the Commissioner will hear and decide.

XXI. And it is hereby enacted, that in all suits for the breach of a contract which may be brought in the said Subordinate Civil Court if it shall be made to appear to the Commissioner that the contract may be performed without prejudice to the plaintiff, and that the defendant is able to perform it the Commissioner may direct a specific performance of the contract, and enforce it by attachment.

XXII. And it is hereby enacted, that the Commissioner in his decree shall order how much of the amount of any fees which may have been paid or be payable to any Attorney or Barrister, shall be reckoned as costs between party and party, and what other expences incurred by the parties in prosecuting or defending the suit shall be reckoned as costs between party and party, and shall order in his decree which party shall pay cost to the other, and to what amount: provided that no fees which may have been paid or be payable to any Attorney or Barrister shall be reckoned as costs between party and party unless the Commissioner shall be satisfied that the assistance of such Attorney or Barrister was reasonably required.

XXIII. And whereas it is expedient that inconsiderate litigation should be discouraged, and that those who sue or defend inconsiderately should contribute towards the expences of the Judicial Establishment;—It is hereby enacted, that in every suit in the said Subordinate Civil Court the party or parties against whom the decree is made shall, if plaintiff or plaintiffs pay a fee equal to one-twentieth of the value claimed in the plaint, and if defendant or defendants a fee equal to one-twentieth of the value decreed.

XXIV. Provided that the Commissioner may remit such fee if he shall be satisfied that the party or parties against whom the decree is made, had reasonable ground for suing or defending.

XXV. And whereas it is expedient that parties to suits who prevaricate or wilfully make false statements should be punished;—It is hereby enacted, that whenever the Commissioner is satisfied that any party to a suit in the said Subordinate Civil Court has by himself or his Agent prevaricated or wilfully made a false statement, he may in his decree impose upon such party a fine not exceeding 200 Rs., and in default of payment may order such party to be imprisoned for a period not exceeding.

XXVI. And it is hereby enacted, that the amount of the fees and fines aforesaid shall be paid monthly into the Treasury.

XXVII. And it is enacted, that the said Commissioners, or the majority of them, may from time to time make such Rules for the Regulation of the proceedings of the said Subordinate Civil Court as to them may seem meet, and as are not inconsistent with any thing in this Act contained; which Rules shall be in force from their date, and shall continue in force unless they shall be disallowed by the Governor General in Council within the space of three months from their date; provided that such Rules shall be laid before the Governor General in Council within the space of one month from their date.

XXVIII. And it is enacted, that the Sheriff of Calcutta shall execute the process of the said Subordinate Civil Court, and shall, in respect to the execution of such process, be subject to the authority of the said Subordinate Civil Court, and shall for his trouble in executing such process receive from the Public Treasury such remuneration as to the Governor General in Council shall seem meet.

XXIX. Provided that such remuneration shall be proportioned to the quantity of labour imposed upon the said Sheriff in each month in the execution of the said process.

XXX. And it is enacted, that any suitor in the said Subordinate Civil Court who shall feel himself aggrieved by any decree thereof, may move the Supreme Court for a Rule to shew cause why the decree should not be altered or reversed, or for a Rule to shew cause why the said Subordinate Civil Court should not reconsider its decree, or for a Rule to shew cause why there should not be a new trial of the whole or any part of the facts on which its decree is founded.

XXXI. And it is enacted, that the said Supreme Court shall at its discretion grant or refuse any such Rule.

XXXII. Provided always and it is hereby enacted, that the Supreme Court shall not make absolute any such Rule if the decree of the Subordinate Civil Court be consistent with the Justice, Conscience and Equity of the case: that is to say the Supreme Court shall be governed in its decision upon any motion to make any such Rule absolute by the principles by which an English Court of Law would be governed in its decision upon a motion to make absolute a Rule for a new trial when there has been no misdirection in point of Law by the Judge before whom the cause was tried.

XXXIII. And it is enacted, that any person deeming himself aggrieved by any commitment to prison or fine by the said Subordinate Civil Court may appeal from such commitment or fine to the said Supreme Court who shall thereupon make such order as justice may require.

XXXIV. And it is enacted, that any one of the Judges of the said Supreme Court may, when occasion shall so require, sit apart from the other Judges or Judge, as the case may be, of the same Court for the despatch of the business to be performed by the said Court under this Act at the same time when the other Judge or Judges, as the case may be, of the said Court, shall be sitting for the despatch of business in the said Supreme Court, and that all proceedings whatsoever so had by and before such Judge, so sitting apart for the purpose aforesaid, shall be good, valid and effectual in the Law to all intents and purposes, as fully as if the proceedings were had before all the Judges of the said Court.

XXXV. And it is enacted, that the Judges of the Supreme Court, or the majority of them, may from time to time make such Rules for the Regulation of the proceedings on appeals and motions before them as to them may seem meet and as are not inconsistent with any thing in this Act contained; which Rules shall be in force from their date and shall continue in force unless they shall be disallowed by the Governor General in Council within the space of three months from their date; provided that such Rules shall be laid before the Governor General in Council within the space of one month from their date.

XXXVI. And whereas, although the several provisions hereinbefore contained for the constitution of the said Subordinate Civil Court are all copied, more or less exactly, from the provisions for the constitution of the several sorts of Courts used in the Administration of English Law and Equity, yet the combination of the said several provisions in one Court is new and experimental; and it might happen that suitors accustomed to the Administration of Justice by Civil Action at Law in Her Majesty's Supreme Court, might feel aggrieved if they were deprived thereof, It is hereby declared and enacted, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to affect the jurisdiction now exercised by the said Supreme Court in Civil Actions at Law in the cases falling within the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court.

FORT WILLIAM,

HOME DEPARTMENT,

LEGISLATIVE,

THE 13TH MARCH, 1847.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 13th of March 1847.

ACT No. —— OF 1847.

An Act for the Improvement of the Administration of Justice in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

I. Whereas by the Charter establishing the said Court, it is provided that in case the party summoned by the summons or precept in nature of a summons which the said Court is thereby empowered to award shall not appear upon the return of such summons or precept as aforesaid according to the exigence thereof, the said Court is further authorized and empowered to award and issue a writ or warrant directed to the Sheriff of Calcutta, usually called a capias of contempt, commanding him to arrest and seize the body of such person so making default, and to have his said body at such time and place as shall be specified in the said writ for that purpose before the said Court to answer the plaint; and whereas by the Rules and Orders on the plea side of the said Court under the "Title of proceedings against a party in custody," it is provided that where any plaint shall be filed against any person who shall be in custody at the time of filing the same and shall have had four days notice thereof, or being arrested shall be committed for want of bail and shall not have filed an appearance the plaintiff may file an appearance with the Prothonotory for such defendant; and whereas it is desirable to abolish the power of imprisonment upon mesne process in all cases not hereinafter provided for, upon any process issued on the plea side of the said Court, and to substitut the following provisions for the said power of arrest and of entering an appearance for the defendant—It is enacted, that no capias of contempt shall be issued on the plea side of the said Court for the purpose of compelling or procuring an appearance to the plaint, but that if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the said Court upon the return of the writ of summons, and on affidavit or solemn affirmation of the identity of the party that the defendant against whom such plaint has been filed, or any one or more of several defendants has or have been duly summoned, and that no appearance has been entered for such defendant or defendants within the time prescribed for entering the same, then the said Court shall order that the said suit shall be proceeded with exparte against such defendant or defendants not appearing as aforesaid, and the said suit shall thereupon be proceeded with against such defendant or defendants not appearing as aforesaid in like manner as by the said Charter, and the Rules, Orders and Practice of the said Court is required in the case of an exparte suit after the issuing of a sequestration after a return of non est inventus to a writ of capias or summons.

II. And it is enacted, that every writ of summons which shall be issued from the said Court shall express that if the defendant shall not appear at the time mentioned in the said summons the suit will be proceeded with against him not appearing as aforesaid in his absence, and that the property of such defendant not appearing as aforesaid may be sequestered

III. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the application of the plaintiff in the case of such defaults of appearance as are hereinbefore mentioned upon proof of the demand by affidavit or solemn affirmation or otherwise to the satisfaction of the said Court, to award and issue a writ of sequestration against the property of such defendant which said writ shall have the like operation and effect, and be dealt with by and under the order of the said Court in like manner to all intents and purposes as is by the said Charter directed as to writs of sequestration except so far as the provisions of the said Charter as to such writs of sequestration are varied by this Act, and then in the case of such variations to be dealt with under the provisions of this Act and of the said Charter; and if judgment shall pass for the plaintiff in the said suit, the said Court is hereby authorized and empowered to award and issue a writ to the Sheriff or other Officer to whom the process of the Court may be directed, commanding him to sell or otherwise dispose of the said property according to the nature thereof so seized and sequestered, and to make satisfaction out of the same or out of the produce thereof according to the nature thereof to the plaintiff for the amount of the judgment so recovered with his costs, and to return the surplus, if any there be, after satisfying the said judgment and costs, and the expenses of the said sequestration, to the person or persons in whose possession the said property was seized, or otherwise to reserve it for the said defendant as occasion shall require; and if such property shall not be sufficient to produce after defraying the expenses of such sequestration the amount of the judgment and the said costs, the said Court is further empowered to award and issue such process of execution for the deficiency as is by the said Charter provided for levying money recovered by judgment and costs; and if judgment shall pass for the defendant against whom such sequestration shall have issued the said Court is authorized and empowered to award, and order the costs of the said suit and the expense of the said sequestration incurred by such defendant, and all other damages occasioned thereby to be paid by the plaintiff to such defendant as aforesaid, or his or their Attorney, or the person or persons in whose possession the said property was seized or otherwise as the said Court shall order, and the same shall be levied by such process as in the said Charter is provided for levying costs.

IV. And whereas by the Law of England the practice of arrest upon mesne process has been abolished except in certain cases, and it is desirable to assimilate the practice of the said Supreme Court on the plea side thereof to the Law of England in this respect with a due allowance for differing circumstances—It is therefore enacted, that no person shall be arrested upon mesne process in any civil action, whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act as hereinafter provided, under any writ issuing out of the said Court on its plea side except in the cases by this Act provided and allowed.

V. And it is enacted, that if a plaintiff in any action in which the defendant was liable to be arrested on mesne process under the law in force at the time appointed for the commencement of this Act shall by the affidavit or solemn affirmation of himself, or of any other person, shew to the satisfaction of the said Court or of a Judge thereof that such plaintiff has a cause of action against the defendant to the amount of Company's Rupees four hundred or upwards, or has sustained damage to that amount, or if he shall by like affidavit or affirmation to be filed as aforesaid verify to the satisfaction of the said Court a case of such enormous personal wrong as in the judgment of the said Court requires such security; and that there is probable cause for believing that the defendant against whom the application is made is about to go out of the jurisdiction of the said Court unless he be forthwith arrested, or that such defendant has made or is about to make any fraudulent disposition of his property with a view to defeat or delay his creditors in general, or the plaintiff in particular, or that such defendant has evaded the service of process in the said cause, it shall be lawful for the said Court, or any Judge thereof, by a special order, to direct that such defendant shall be held to bail for such sum as such Court or Judge shall think fit not exceeding the amount of the debt or damages, and thereupon it shall be lawful for such plaintiff to sue out a writ of capias against any such defendant so directed to be held to bail, which writ of capias shall bear date on the day on which the same shall be issued.

VI. And it is enacted, that the Sheriff or other Officer to whom any such writ shall be directed shall arrest the defendant thereupon, and such defendant shall when so arrested remain in custody till he shall have given a bail bond to the Sheriff, or shall have made deposit of the sum endorsed on such writ of capias, together with a sum for costs, including the execution of the said writ according to the practice of the said Court on its plea side for the time being, and all subsequent proceedings as to putting in and perfecting special bail, or of making deposit and payment of money into Court instead of putting in and perfecting special bail shall be according to the like practice of the said Court, or as near thereto, as the circumstances of the case will admit.

VII. And it is enacted, that any such special order may be made and the defendant arrested in pursuance thereof in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act, at any time after the commencement of such action and before final judgment shall have been obtained therein, and that a defendant in custody upon any such arrest and not previously served with a copy of the writ of summons shall be lawfully served therewith.

VIII. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for any person arrested upon any such writ of capias to apply at any time after such arrest to the said Court, or any Judge thereof, for an order or rule on the plaintiff in such action to shew cause why the person arrested should not be discharged out of custody; and that it shall be lawful for such Court or Judge to make absolute or discharge such order or rule, and to direct the costs of the application to be paid by either party, to make such other order therein as to such Court or Judge shall seem fit, provided that any such order made by a Judge may be discharged or varied by the Court on application made thereto by either party dissatisfied with such order.

IX. And it is enacted, that when any sequestration shall have issued in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act against any defendant, and the said defendant shall appear to the said action, it shall be lawful for the said Court, or any Judge thereof, to order that the said sequestration shall stand as a security for the debt and costs to be incurred in such action, or to order that the same be set aside on payment of the costs of such sequestration incurred by the plaintiff, and on the said defendants putting in and perfecting bail to the action, or on his making such deposit and payment in lieu of bail as by the practice of the said Court for the time being shall be required, and thereupon all subsequent proceedings as to the putting in and perfecting special bail, or of making deposit and payment of money into Court instead of putting in and perfecting special bail, and as to surrendering the defendant in discharge of bail, and taking the defendant for the purpose of such surrender, and all other proceedings touching the premises shall be had according to the practice of the said Court on its plea side for the time being in like cases, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will admit.

X. And whereas it is desirable to amend the provisions in the said Charter contained as to the writs of Fieri Facias and Sequestration, and to extend the operation of such writs to be sued out after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act so as to embrace other property besides that which might before the time aforesaid have been seized, taken and sold under such writs respectively; and any writ of Venditioni Exponas issued to complete the execution thereof respectively, and to remove any doubts as to what property may be so seized, taken and sold—It is declared and enacted, that Money and Bank Notes, Notes issued for the payment of money by the East India Company, commonly called Company's Paper, Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes, Bankers' Cheques, Money Bonds, Specialties for payment of money, or other securities for payment of money, whether such bonds, specialties or other securities be payable on a contingency or otherwise the property of the person against whom any such writ shall be issued whether in any action commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act; and all other debts and claims for the payment of money whether the same shall be then due and payable, or to become due and payable at some future time or times, the property of the said person against whom such writ shall have issued shall and may be seized and taken under any such writ as aforesaid in such action as aforesaid; and when any Money or Bank Notes shall be so seized and taken the said Sheriff or other Officer to whom any such writ shall be directed shall and may under any such writ retain so much of such Money or Bank Notes as may be necessary to discharge his own claim for poundage, fees, or other costs, charges and expences of such execution, and shall and may pay or deliver to the party suing out such writ, so much of the said Money and Bank Notes as may be sufficient to discharge such execution, and when any other of the property aforesaid shall be seized and taken the said Sheriff or other Officer shall proceed in all respects in the execution of such process as to such property in like manner as is by the said Charter, and by the practice of the said Court directed and required as to debts seized under such process as aforesaid except where the said mode of procedure is varied by this Act, and from the time of such seizure all sums of money due or to become due on any of the said hereinbefore mentioned instruments so seized as aforesaid, or due or to become due in respect of any debts or claims whether seizable under the Charter, or under the provisions of this Act, and so seized as aforesaid, shall be paid and payable in such manner and form and no other as the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, when the same shall be extended and returned into the said Court shall appoint, and such payment and no other shall form thenceforth be an absolute and effective discharge of the said sums of money and every of them respectively; and it shall not be lawful for the said Sheriff or other Officer to sell any of the said property hereinbefore mentioned, including therein debts seizable under the provisions of the said Charter so seized as aforesaid without the special order of the Court, and the said Sheriff or other Officer shall have power to sue in his own name to recover the money payable on such Notes, Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes, Bankers' Cheques, Money Bonds, Specialties or other securities as aforesaid, and to recover the amount of such debts or claims as aforesaid, and the said Court shall have power to make such orders in the matters of such executions, and to make such alterations in the forms of the said writs as may be necessary to give effect to the provisions of this Act hereinbefore and hereinafter contained in respect of such executions, and to frame, if necessary, any new writ or writs for such purpose provided that no such Sheriff or other Officer shall be bound to sue any party liable upon any such Note, Bill of Exchange, Promissory Note, Cheque, Bond, Specialty, or other security, or liable in respect of such debt or claim as aforesaid unless the party suing out such execution shall enter into a Bond with two sufficient sureties for indemnifying him from all costs and expences to be incurred in the prosecution of such action, or to which he may become liable in consequence thereof, the expense of such Bond to be deducted out of any money to be recovered in such action. Provided always, that when such debt shall have been recovered in any action, or paid after action brought the surplus only of such debt over the taxed costs which the plaintiff may be liable to pay his own Attorney, and to the payment of which the opposite party in the cause shall not be liable, provided that the same have not been incurred unnecessarily and are not unreasonable in amount, shall be deemed and taken to be levied under such execution as aforesaid.

XI And it is enacted, that all Houses, Lands or other real property held in trust for the person against whom such writs as aforesaid shall be issued at the time of the delivery thereof to such Sheriff or Officer as aforesaid, or any Equity of Redemption of the said party in such Houses, Lands or real property, as also all Lands, Houses or other real property over which such person shall at the time of the delivery of such writ to the Sheriff, or at any time afterwards have any disposing power which he might without the assent of any other person exercise for his own benefit shall and may be seized, taken and sold, mortgaged or delivered to be held by the execution creditor subject to an account as hereinafter mentioned, or shall be subject to have a Receiver appointed for the same, or be otherwise dealt with under any such writ to be sued out in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act according to the respective natures thereof under the provisions in this Act and in the said Charter, or in either of them contained as to any such executions in like manner, or as near thereto as may be, as if the interest of the said execution debtor therein were legal and not equitable.

XII. And it is enacted, that if any person against whom any such writ as aforesaid shall be issued out of the said Court in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act shall have any share of, or in any public Company within the reach of the process of the said Court, whether such Company be incorporated or not, standing in his name in his own right, or in the name of any person in trust for him, or shall be entitled to any sum of money in the said Court, or in the hands of any Receiver appointed by the said Court, it shall be lawful for the said Court, or any Judge thereof, on the application of the execution creditor to order that such shares or money, or such of them, or such part thereof as such Court or Judge shall think fit shall stand charged with the payment of the amount for which such execution shall have issued, together with the amount of the costs of obtaining such order; and such order as to any such shares as aforesaid shall entitle such creditor to all such remedies as he would have been entitled to if such charge had been made in his favour by the execution debtor in the mode most favourable to such creditor, provided that no proceedings shall be taken to have the benefit of such charge as to any such shares until after the expiration of six calendar months from the date of such order, and such order as to such money aforesaid shall entitle the said creditor to move to have the said money paid out of Court, or by such Receiver to him, and the said Court shall have power to make such order accordingly, provided always that no such order for payment shall be made without previous notice to all such parties as may have any charge upon or interest in such money as aforesaid.

XIII. And whereas by the said Charter, Houses, Lands and other real property of execution debtors may be sold under the said writs, and it is desirable to protect such debtors against any unnecessary sacrifice of their property by such sales, due regard being at the same time had to the rights of execution creditors—It is therefore enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the application of any such debtor whether such execution shall have been sued out before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act if it shall be made to appear to the said Court that a sale of the Lands, Houses or other real property of such debtor would probably be attended with great and unnecessary loss to such debtor, and that the debt might be discharged by other means than a sale of the property, to order the said Sheriff or other Officer not to proceed to a sale thereof and to appoint a Receiver of the said property, and to direct a competent sum to be raised by mortgage of the property for the satisfaction of the demand of the execution creditor, and of all poundage, costs, charges and expences of the said execution, or to direct that the same shall be paid out of the rents and profits of the said property; and the said Court shall have power instead of appointing such Receiver by its writ to be issued for that purpose to order the said Sheriff or other Officer to make and deliver execution unto such creditor with his assent, of the Lands, Houses and other real property of such debtor, which Lands, Houses and other real property of such debtor shall by force and virtue of such execution be held and enjoyed by the party to whom such execution shall be so made and delivered, subject to an account in the said Court out of which such execution shall have issued, which said account the said Court shall have power on application on its Equity side to order to be taken upon petition without any bill filed for that purpose, provided always that such party to whom such execution shall be made and delivered as aforesaid shall be liable to pay the Government revenue and other payments and charges in respect of the Ownership of such lands, Houses and other real property, to the extent of the rents and profits thereof in like manner as the party against whom such execution shall have issued would have been bound to make, perform and render in case such execution had not issued, and shall be charged in account only with the surplus of such rents and profits over and above such Government revenue, costs and charges which he shall have paid and shall be entitled to hold the said Lands, Houses and real property aforesaid until the said execution shall be satisfied, together with the amount of all such payments and all necessary costs incurred by him under the provisions aforesaid.

XIV. And it is enacted, that no execution creditor, who under the powers of this Act, or in the said Charter contained, shall be entitled under any such seizure as aforesaid to any charge on any property, or to any debt or security or sum as aforesaid, shall afterwards and before the property so charged or secured shall have been converted into money or realized, and the proceeds thereof applied towards payment of the said debt cause the person of the execution debtor to be taken or charged in execution upon such judgment without the previous order of the said Court; and in case such creditor shall obtain such order and shall take or charge the person of such debtor in execution under the same upon such judgment, such creditor shall be deemed and taken to have relinquished all right and title to the benefit of such property, debt, security or sum as aforesaid.

XV. And it is further enacted, that the property of the party against whom any Fieri Facias or Sequestration shall be issued in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act, shall be held to be bound as against the said party and all others claiming by succession from him, or by means of any gift, grant, transfer or conveyance by him, or with his direction or consent otherwise than for any valuable consideration by the delivery of such writ or sequestration to the Sheriff for the purpose of executing the same, and that as well against any Assignee of any Insolvent Debtor, or any person claiming under such Assignee as against all other persons than those hereinbefore mentioned such property shall be bound only from the time of the seizure under the same; provided always that nothing herein contained shall be construed to give validity to any transfer or conveyance or delivery or other disposition of, or dealing with the said property which before and at the time appointed for the commencement of this Act would be held to be fraudulent and void against creditors.

XVI. And it is enacted, that if it shall appear either from the pleadings or particulars, or any copy of any instrument or writing annexed to the pleadings in any action in the said court, or upon the evidence that the form of action has been mis-conceived either as to the whole or part of the subject matter of such action, the Court shall have power at any stage of the cause before judgment to amend the proceedings either by amending the form of the plaint and other pleadings, or by striking out any count or counts or part thereof, or by causing the verdict to be vacated in part and entered up on any count or counts instead of generally, or otherwise, upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as to such Court shall seem just and fit, and if in any such case as aforesaid the said amendments cannot be made without a new trial by reason of the difficulty of apportioning the damages or otherwise, then it shall be lawful for the said Court at any time upon objection taken after verdict and before judgment to order a new trial to be had, and to cause such amendments to be made on the record and proceedings as to such Court shall seem just and fit; and provided always that if the said Court shall be of opinion in any such case as aforesaid that the defendant has been misled or otherwise prejudiced by the improper form of the action either as to the whole or any part thereof, and that a postponement of the trial or of the inquiry is necessary for the attainment of justice the said Court shall postpone the said trial or inquiry, and make such order and impose such terms on either party as to amendments or otherwise, and as to costs as under the particular circumstances of the case shall be just and fit.

XVII. And it is enacted, that if there be any misjoinder of counts in any action in the said Court, the Court shall have power at any time and at any stage of the cause to amend the proceedings either by striking out one or more counts, or parts thereof, or otherwise, upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as to such Court shall seem just and fit.

XVIII. And it is enacted, that if there be a misjoinder of different rights of action in any action in the said Court, and the said misjoinder shall be objected to the said Court shall have power at any stage of the cause before judgment to amend the proceedings either by striking out one or more counts or parts thereof, or otherwise, upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as to such Court shall seem just and fit.

XIX. And it is enacted, that every right of action for mesne porfits, or other damages to which a person dying after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act shall have been solely entitled at his death, for any unlawful possession of, or other trespass, injury or wrong in his life time to his lands and hereditaments, whether arising from commission or omission of any act or duty, shall survive to his Executors, Administrators or Representatives.

XX. And it is enacted, that if upon the trial of any action in the said Court, it shall appear upon evidence that too many persons are joined as defendants therein no objection shall be allowed at the said trial on the ground of variance or otherwise by reason of such misjoinder. Provided always, that the said Court shall upon such trial give its verdict for such defendant or defendants as shall not be proved to be liable to the demand of the plaintiffs in respect of the subject matter of such action; and provided always, that if any such misjoinder appear from the pleadings and particulars, or any copy of any instrument or writing annexed to the pleadings and be not demurred to, no motion in arrest of judgment shall be made on the ground of such misjoinder, and that if such misjoinder be demurred to, the Court shall have power as well before as after the argument of such demurrer to cause the record to be amended by expunging the name of such person as shall be improperly joined as defendant therein.

XXI. And it is enacted, that no plea in abatement of any action in the said Court shall be pleaded for any nonjoinder of any person as plaintiff or defendant in the said action, and that the objection shall be taken in any such action to such nonjoinder in this mode only, viz. by plea to be termed a plea of nonjoinder of parties, which plea shall be in the form of a plea in abatement for such nonjoinder except that it shall not pray judgment of the plaint and that the same may be quashed; and after any such plea shall be pleaded it shall be lawful for the said Court to amend the proceedings by the addition thereto of such person or persons as it may be proper to add thereto, and to make such order as to costs and otherwise as to the said Court shall seem just and fit, and no such action shall abate by reason of any such nonjoinder; and if the said defect appear from the pleadings, particulars or any copy of any instrument or writing annexed to the pleadings, it shall not be a ground of demurrer or of any motion to arrest the judgment in such action. Provided always, that to any such plea of nonjoinder of a defendant the plaintiff may reply that such person named therein has been discharged by bankruptcy and certificate, or by a final order under an Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors; and provided always, that if upon any such plea of nonjoinder of a defendant the plaintiff shall cause the proceedings to be amended by adding as defendant the person named in such plea, and such defendant shall be discharged therefrom by the verdict or judgment of the Court upon the ground that he or they ought not to have been joined as a co-defendant the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover over such costs as he shall be liable to pay to such defendant for whom such verdict or judgment shall be given, from such other defendant so pleading the nonjoinder as aforesaid. Provided always, that any such defendant who shall have pleaded the nonjoinder of any other person as defendant in such action who shall have been added by the plaintiff as defendant in consequence of such plea shall be at liberty to produce proof for the purpose of establishing the liability of such defendant so added as aforesaid. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall in any way affect the right of any defendant against whom a judgment has been given to recover contribution where an action for contribution is by law maintainable in any action to be brought in any Court against any party or parties so joined as defendant and discharged as aforesaid. Provided always also, that no right of set-off shall be prejudiced by any provision in this Act contained, and that it shall be competent for any defendant to plead a set-off in like manner if the party to whom such set-off is alleged to be due was the only defendant which plea of set-off shall aver that he is alone liable to the plaintiff's demand in that action.

XXII. And it is enacted, that an action at law shall be maintainable on the plea side of the said Court between one or more of several co-partners, joint contractors or joint owners, whether they be such as Executors, Administrators or Representatives, or otherwise, against his or their co-partners, joint contractors or joint owners for any demand of such a nature that the same between any parties would be the subject of an action at law, and that no such action shall be defeated by reason merely of the plaintiff and defendant, or any other person interested or concerned in such action being or having been members of the same partnership or such joint contractors or joint owners as aforesaid.

XXIII. And it is enacted, that the provisions in this Act contained as to such action between co-partners, co-contractors and joint owners as aforesaid are hereby extended to and shall include all causes of action arising between different bodies of persons who may be co-partners, co-contractors or joint owners inter se, though any such body may have some one or more of its members a common member or members of such different bodies, and in such cases such common member or members may be both plaintiff or plaintiffs, and defendant or defendants in the same suit.

XXIV. And it is enacted, that in any such action between co-partners, co-contractors and joint owners as aforesaid, the defendant may plead as a set-off any matter for which he could maintain an action at law against the plaintiff and which may be the subject matter of a set-off.

XXV. And it is enacted, that a demand in respect of any chose in action assignable in Equity and which is by this Act made assignable at law may be set-off in any action at law wherein a plea of set-off is allowed, provided that the same is of such a nature as to be the subject matter of a set-off, and in any action brought by a trustee, any sum due from or claim upon the cestui que trust to or by the defendant which is of such a nature as to be the subject matter of a set-off may be set-off against the demand of the plaintiff in such action; subject always to any lien of such plaintiff on the trust fund for his indemnity.

XVIX. And it is enacted, that in every action in the said Court wherein a set-off shall be pleaded if the defendant shall prove a larger sum to be due to him than the sum which the plaintiff shall prove to be due to him, then the Court shall have power to give a verdict for the defendant for the balance found due to him if it shall appear to the said Court that the same may with a due regard to justice be done. Provided always, that every set-off under this Act shall be pleaded in all causes where it is now necessary to plead a set-off.

XXVII. And it is enacted, that all legal choses in action which are the subjects of an action at law, and which are or may be assignable in Equity shall be assignable at law for the same considerations and in the same manner as the same are assignable in Equity, and any assignee of any such chose in action may bring an action in his own name on the plea side of the Court in respect of any such matter or thing as aforesaid so assigned to him against the party originally liable thereon which said party so originally liable shall be sued in the like form as if the action were brought in the name of the original assignor, and in any such action it shall be sufficient for such assignee in alleging his title to sue to state that the title of the original assignor came to him by assignment without stating any intermediate assignments, and in any such action payment or other satisfaction to the original assignor any intermediate assignee whether before or after assignment to the plaintiff may be pleaded, which plea of payment or satisfaction as aforesaid if after assignment to the plaintiff shall contain an averment that the defendant had not notice at the time of such payment or satisfaction of the assignment to the plaintiff, and upon any issue joined upon a traverse of such notice, proof of any facts which would constitute notice in a Court of Equity of such assignment in the like case shall be deemed to be sufficient proof of such notice.

XXVIII. And it is enacted, that in all cases in which by reason of the loss of any instrument the party entitled, but for such loss to sue upon the same in an action at law would before the time appointed for the commencement of this Act have been forced to sue in a Court of Equity it shall be lawful to sue in the said Court in an action at law on the plea side thereof in like manner as if no such loss had occurred; and it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the application of the party sued upon such lost instrument to stay proceedings in such action till the plaintiff shall give security to indemnify the defendant against any claims upon such instrument in case the same shall be afterwards produced in like manner and to the same extent as a Court of Equity would direct in the like case. Provided always, that in any action upon such instrument the plaintiff shall describe the same in his plaint as lost.

XXIX. And it is enacted, that in any action in the said Court whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the motion of either party on the plea side thereof upon affidavit or solemn affirmation disclosing such facts and circumstances that in the opinion of the Court the party so applying would be entitled to a discovery in support of or with a view to establish a defence to the said action according to the principles upon which the said Court on its Equity side would act in giving discovery in the like cases, to grant a rule calling on the opposite party or parties, or any of them, to shew cause why such discovery should not be had and the proceedings stayed in the meantime, and the Court upon granting such rule shall if it think fit order the proceedings to be stayed, and upon the shewing cause against such rule, or if cause be not shewn against such Rule shall, if it shall think fit, make such order for the examination of the party or parties by interrogatories in writing to be exhibited by the party applying for such discovery and by examination vivâ voce at the trial or other previous stage of the cause, or by either of the modes aforesaid as it shall think fit, and the said Court shall have power to order from time to time such interrogatories to be amended and such further interrogatories to be added as it shall consider the justice of the case to require, and to make such order for production of documents as it might make in the like case of a bill had been filed for discovery in such action, and to impose such terms upon the party so applying for such discovery as to the said Court shall seem reasonable and just, and to make such order as to costs, and such other orders as may be necessary to enforce such discovery either by commitment for contempt or by ordering the matter of which discovery is sought to be taken pro confesso.

XXX. And it is enacted, that nothing in this Act contained whereby any jurisdiction is given to the said Court on the plea side thereof over matters which before the time appointed for the commencement of this Act were cognizable by the said Court on the Equity side thereof shall have the effect of ousting the said Court of its jurisdiction over such matters on the Equity side thereof, or shall deprive any party of his remedy on the Equity side of the Court in respect of such matters.

XXXI. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court in any case in which a party shall be entitled to file a bill for an account on the Equity side thereof upon the petition of the party so entitled to the said Court on the Equity side thereof, supported by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and upon due notice thereof to such persons as would have been necessary parties in case such bill had been filed to direct such account to be taken, and such account shall be taken accordingly; and it shall be lawful for the Court in like manner to make such further orders in the matter of the said account as might be lawfully made in case such bill had been filed.

XXXII. And it is enacted, that in any case in which any party shall be entitled to file a bill of interpleader in the said Court on the Equity side thereof, it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the petition of the party so entitled as aforesaid, supported by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and upon due notice thereof to such persons as would have been necessary parties in case such bill had been filed to make such orders in the matter of the said petition as the said Court might make if such bill had been filed.

XXXIII. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court in any case in which a party shall be entitled to file a bill on the Equity side thereof for the payment of a legacy, or any residue or share of a residue, or for any distribution of property under any right of succession, ab intestato or otherwise upon the petition of the party so entitled on the Equity side of the said Court, supported by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and due notice thereof to such persons as would have been necessary parties in case such bill had been filed to make such orders thereupon in like manner as if such bill had been filed.

XXXIV. And it is enacted, that in any case in which a party shall be entitled to file a bill on the Equity side of the said Court for the purpose of obtaining the construction of any instrument, it shall be lawful for the Court upon the petition of the party so entitled to the said Court on the Equity side thereof, supported by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and upon due notice to such persons as would have been necessary parties in case such bill had been filed, to declare the construction of such instrument notwithstanding that the said petition may involve other matters, and to make such further orders in the matter of the said petition as might be lawfully made in case a bill had been filed.

XXXV. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Court to make such orders for compelling appearance to such petitions as aforesaid, and in default of appearance upon such petitions as shall be necessary to give effect to the provisions in this Act contained as to such petitions, and that all orders made on such petitions shall be binding in like manner, and shall be enforced against such persons and in the same manner and by the like process as decrees or orders to the like effect would have been enforced in case a bill had been filed.

XXXVI. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court upon any suit in Equity for the specific performance of an agreement if the Court shall be of opinion that there ought not to be a specific performance to award damages for the non performance of the agreement in like manner as the Court might award damages in an action at law for the breach of the agreement; and in case the Court shall not be able to assess the same then to direct a reference to the Master, or an issue for ascertaining the amount of the same; and it shall also be lawful for the said Court to direct the re-payment of the purchase money, or so much thereof as shall have been paid, or of the deposit and of interest on the said purchase money or deposit.

XXXVII. And it is enacted, that in any Equity suit in the said Court when any answer shall have been reported insufficient, and no exceptions shall have been filed to such report or such exceptions shall have been overruled in the whole or in part, or not proceeded with, it shall be lawful for the Court, if it shall see fit, to direct the defendant to be examined upon interrogatories or viva voce in open Court, and to commit him till he shall have fully answered and shall have paid such costs as the Court shall award.

XXXVIII. And it is enacted, that where any party in any suit in the said Court, whether instituted before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act, is directed to do any act either in any suit or proceeding by petition in manner aforesaid on the Equity side thereof, or under the jurisdiction hereby given to the said Court on the plea side thereof over matters which before the time aforesaid were matters subject to the jurisdiction of the said Court on its Equity side only, and shall be in contempt for the non-performance thereof, it shall be lawful for the said Court to direct the same to be performed by some Officer of the Court, whether the party be in custody for such contempt as aforesaid or not, and without prejudice to the right to proceed for such contempt with a view only to the recovery of any cost which the party in contempt would have been liable to pay before being discharged from his contempt.

XXXIX. And it is enacted, that in the administration of assets by any Executor or Administrator under any Probate or Letters of Administration to be granted after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act, or in any suit for the administration of assets to be brought in the said Court after the time aforesaid, all assets, whether legal or equitable, shall be distributable and distributed part passu amongst the creditors in like manner and according to the same rules as if the whole were equitable assets distributed under a decree of a Court of Equity.

XL. And it is enacted, that the said Court shall have power on the Ecclesiastical or Admiralty side thereof as fully to all intents and purposes, and in the like manner and subject to the like conditions as on the Equity side thereof, to direct and issue to be tried on the plea side of the Court, and every issue directed by the said Court on any of its sides so to be tried as aforesaid, shall be set down for trial on the plea side of the Court upon production to the proper Officer of the Court of a copy under the seal of the said Court of the order of the Court directing such issue unless the order be made on the plea side of the Court, in which case it may be set down to be tried upon the original order which said copy, or which said order, as the case may be, shall alone be considered as the record on which such trial shall proceed, and the verdict shall be entered thereon, and no pleadings shall be had with a view to the trial of any such issue, nor shall there be any other record than as aforesaid upon any such direction of an issue as aforesaid, and the said Court shall have power at any time after the making of such order for the trial of an issue as is aforesaid to issue process for the attendance of witnesses on the trial of such issue, and shall have all the powers to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses, or to take the evidence of witnesses de bene esse, or for summoning witnesses, or for proceeding against any who may have been summoned for disobedience to the process whereby they were summoned, as well as in respect of all other matters and things, except as herein otherwise provided which it might exercise in any action, on the plea side of the Court, and every person wilfully swearing or affirming falsely upon such trial, or in any deposition under any commission issued for the purpose of such trial, or in any affidavit or solemn affirmation relating thereto as to any matters material to the question then depending, shall be liable to be indicted for wilful and corrupt perjury if he shall have sworn falsely as aforesaid, or if he shall have affirmed falsely as aforesaid he shall be subject upon a conviction for a misdemeanor for the said offence to the same pains, penalties and forefeitures to which persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury are or shall be subject.

XLI. And it is enacted, that in all suit on the Equity, Ecclesiastical or Admiralty sides of the Court wherein before the time appointed for the commencement of this Act the evidence was taken by written deposition before the Examiner or other Officer of the Court, and wherein after the time aforesaid it shall be necessary to take the examination of witnesses, the witness shall be examined viva voce in open Court. Provided always, that the evidence of such witnesses shall be reduced into writing and signed by the said witnesses and filed of record in the said Court. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to prevent the use of affidavits or solemn affirmations where such affidavits or solemn affirmations are by the course and practice of the said Court now admissable in any interlocutory proceedings in any suit on the said several sides of the said Court, or upon any application for Probate or Letters of Administration, or ad colligendum bona, or for the appointment of a Curator, next friend, Guardian, Receiver, Trustee, or for the issuing or return of any commission, writ or other process of the said Court, or relating to the service or execution thereof, or upon any motion or petition, or summary application to the said Court on any of the said sides thereof respectively. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any proceedings under any commission for the examination of witnesses, nor to abridge the power of the said Court to issue any such commission.

XLII. And it is enacted, that the Court shall have power to take the examination de bene esse of any witnesses in open Court in any suit on the said several sides of the Court in like manner and subject to the same conditions, rules and provisions which apply to the examination of witnesses de bene esse on the plea side of the said Court.

XLIII. And it is enacted, that every inquisition of lunacy to be holden within the local limits of Calcutta shall be holden before the said Court, any former practice or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, and the trial shall be by a special jury of twelve men who shall be summoned in the usual manner of summoning a special jury.

XLIV. And whereas by the Charter establishing the said Supreme Court, the said Court is authorized and empowered to frame such rules of practice, and to make such standing orders for administration of justice and the due exercise of the Civil, Criminal, Admiralty, and Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction thereby created, and to do all such other things as shall be found necessary thereto so as the said Court shall from time to time transmit the same under the Seal thereof to Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors in Her or their Privy Council for the approbation, control, or alteration of Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors. And whereas by an Act passed at a Session of Parliament holden in the second and third years of the Reign of Her present Majesty, entitled "An Act to confirm certain "Rules and Orders of the Supreme Courts of "Judicature at Fort William and Madras, and "to empower the same Courts and the Supreme "Court of Judicature of Bombay, to make Rules "and Orders concerning Pleadings"—it was enacted amongst other things that the Supreme Court of Fort William should and might by any other Rules and Orders to be from time to time passed by such Court make such further alterations in the mode of pleading in the said Court, or in the mode of entering and transcribing, pleadings, judgments and other proceedings in actions at law or suits in Equity, or any Civil or Ecclesiastical causes, and such regulations as to the payment of costs and otherwise for carrying into effect any such alterations as to the said Court might seem expedient, subject to

And whereas it is desirable to prevent any doubts arising as to the power of the said Court to make such Rules and Orders and Regulations as may from time to time be necessary to give full effect to the provisions in this Act contained—It is enacted, that the said Court shall and may make from time to time such Rules, Orders, and Regulations as to the mode of procedure in the said Court as may be necessary to give full effect to all the provisions in this Act contained, and all such Rules, Orders, and Regulations shall be submitted for confirmation or disallowance to the Governor General of India in Council immediately upon the making of the same, and every such Rule, Order or Regulation shall to all intents and purposes have full effect after it shall have been confirmed by the said Governor General of India in Council, but any such Rule, Order, or Regulation when so confirmed shall be transmitted to Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors in Council, and shall be subject at any time to be altered or rescinded by Her said Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors in Council. Provided always, that no Rule, Order or Regulation to be made by virtue of this Act shall have the effect of depriving any person of the power of pleading the general issue, and giving the special matter in evidence in any case wherein he is now or hereafter shall be entitled to do so by virtue of any Statute or Act now or hereafter to be in force.

XLV. And it is enacted, that the word joint owners in this Act shall be construed to include all joint tenants, tenants in common, co-parceners or other joint proprietors, and the words plaintiff or defendant to include all the plaintiffs and defendants, or some of them, and whenever in describing any person or party, matter or thing the word importing the singular number or the masculine gender only is used in this Act the same shall be taken to include several persons or parties as well as one person or party and females as well as males, and several matters or things as well as one matter or thing respectively, and the term person or party shall be taken to include and shall be applied to a body corporate, unless in any of the before mentioned cases there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction.

Secretary to the Govt. of India.

FORT WILLIAM,
HOME DEPARTMENT,
LEGISLATIVE,
THE 13TH MARCH 1847.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 13th of March 1847.

ACT No. —— OF 1847.

An Act for facilitating the execution of the Process of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and the taking of affidavits without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Court.

I. Whereas by the Charter of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, the process of the Court, except in certain cases, is required to be addressed to and executed by the Sheriff of Calcutta, which in the case of parties resident without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court is often attended with unnecessary expense and other inconvenience. And whereas it is desirable to make provision for the execution of the process of the said Supreme Court without the local limits of its jurisdiction similar to those made for the execution of the process of the Courts of the Hon'ble the East India Company within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court—It is enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Court, notwithstanding the terms of the said Charter when any process of the said Court is to be executed against any person subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and not resident within the local limits thereof, or against any property without such limits to issue any process which the said Court is as may be empowered to issue, and to address the same to such person as it shall think fit, and to direct the execution thereof in the manner hereinafter provided, and that the same shall be executed accordingly, and that upon the same being executed and returned in the manner provided for by this Act it shall be lawful for the said Court to proceed thereupon in like manner as if the same had been executed according to the practice of the Court before the passing of this Act.

II. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Court or for any Judge thereof by a letter of request addressed to any Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, without the local limits of the said Supreme Court, enclosing or accompanied by two duplicate originals of any such process as aforesaid to request that such process may be executed within the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, pursuant to the directions therein contained, and that such letter and each of such duplicates shall be signed by one of the Judges of the said Supreme Court and sealed with the seal of the said Court, and the production thereof purporting to be so signed and sealed as aforesaid shall be sufficient evidence of the issuing of such process, and that the requisition thereof shall and may be performed by any person or persons for the time being, constituting such Court, or discharging the duties of such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace.

III. And it is further enacted, that upon the production of such letter of request, together with such duplicates as aforesaid, any Judge of such Court, or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall, by endorsement upon one of such duplicates respectively under his hand, direct the said process to be executed pursuant to such directions as aforesaid by such person or persons as such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall appoint to execute the same, and shall deliver one of such duplicate to such person or persons so appointed to execute the same and that the same shall be executed accordingly ; and if the same shall require to be executed beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed, then such duplicate may be executed by any other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, having jurisdiction over the subject matter of such process in like manner as the original process of the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed may be executed beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace. Provided always, that when such process shall be executed by any Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom the letter of request aforesaid was not addressed a Judge of such Court, or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace so executing the same shall certify in writing under his hand the execution of such process, and shall forward such certificate to the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request was addressed, of which said certificate purporting to be signed as aforesaid the production alone shall be sufficient evidence.

IV. And it is further enacted, that when such process shall have been executed in manner aforesaid, any Judge of such Court as such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace as aforesaid to which or to whom such letter of request as aforesaid was addressed shall by endorsement upon the other of such duplicates under his hand certify the execution thereof, and shall deliver such duplicate so endorsed to the party or parties by whom the same was originally produced, or his or their agents, and the production of such duplicate so endorsed and appearing to be so signed as aforesaid shall be sufficient evidence of the execution of such process.

V. And it is enacted, that upon the delivery of such duplicates of any civil process as aforesaid, to such Court, Judge or Magistrate as aforesaid the said Court, Judge, or Magistrate shall cause the date of such delivery to be endorsed on such duplicates, and shall cause the said process to be executed in like manner or as near thereto as if the same had been issued from or by such Court, Judge or Magistrate as aforesaid at the time of the said delivery; and no distinction shall be made as to priority or otherwise between the execution of such process as aforesaid, or any other process of or by the said Court, Judge or Magistrate. But every process, whether original or otherwise, shall as between each other, be subject to the same rules touching the mode and order of execution as are now or may be from time to time established in respect of process originally issued by such Court, Judge or Magistrate.

VI. And it is further enacted, that where any process of the said Supreme Court for the appointment of a Receiver of any lands out of such local limits, or any other process of the said Supreme Court against such lands shall be issued for the purpose of being enforced or executed by any other Court, Judge or Magistrate, under the provisions of this Act, a copy of the judgment, decree or order of the said Supreme Court, by virtue of which such process issued, signed by one of the Judges, and under the seal of the Court, shall, if the said local Judge or Magistrate shall so require, be registered in the Court to which such process is forwarded to be executed, and that a copy of such judgment, order or decree shall be forwarded, sealed with the seal of the said Supreme Court for the purpose of such registry.

VII. And it is further enacted, that persons wilfully neglecting to execute such process, or obstructing the execution thereof, shall be liable to be punished in like manner and by the like Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace, as if such process had been issued originally by such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, provided that nothing herein contained shall deprive the said Supreme Court of its power to punish such persons for a contempt, in case they shall not be otherwise punished.

VIII. And it is enacted, that no action or other proceeding shall be had or maintained against any person or persons constituting such Court, or any such Judge, or Magistrate or Justice of the Peace, or any person or persons acting under his or their orders, for or in respect of any act, matter or thing bonâ fide done or omitted to be done in the execution or service of any such process though the authority given be not strictly pursued, and that it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Court upon application thereto to stay any such action or proceeding commenced in the said Court, and to order the party commencing or prosecuting the same to pay the costs thereof as between Solicitor and Clients.

IX. And it is enacted, that every Judge, Magistrate, or Assistant Judge or Magistrate of the Hon'ble the East India Company within the Presidency of Bengal and its dependencies, and every Justice of the Peace under any Commission of the Peace issued in the name of Her Majesty the Queen within the said Presidency and its dependencies, shall be by virtue of his office a Commissioner of the said Supreme Court for the purpose of taking affidavits or affirmations, and shall as such Commissioner be empowered to take any affidavit or affirmation of any person or persons to be used in any proceedings pending or intended to be instituted in the said Supreme Court, or the Insolvent Court, and to swear such party or parties, or to take his or their affirmation to the truth of such affidavit or affirmation respectively, and shall certify in writing upon such affidavit or affirmation that such affidavit or affirmation was made or taken before him, and shall sign such certificate and any exhibits annexed to such affidavit or affirmation, and the production of such affidavit or affirmation, and such certificate appearing to be so signed as aforesaid shall be sufficient proof of such affidavit or affirmation.

X. And it is enacted, that any person wilfully so swearing or affirming falsely shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to be transported for a period not exceeding fourteen years, or imprisoned for any period not exceeding three years with or without hard labor, and any person forging or uttering any instrument purporting to be an affidavit or affirmation so made or affirmed as aforesaid shall be guilty of felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to be transported for any period not exceeding fourteen years, or imprisoned for any period not exceeding three years with or without hard labor.

XI. And it is enacted, that any copy of any judgment, decree or order of the said Supreme Court which is by this Act required to be registered, and any process of the said Court to be executed by any other Court, or by any Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, under the provisions of this Act, and any proceedings by any such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace thereupon may be transmitted by such Supreme Court to such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, or by such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to the said Supreme Court by dawk or by any private hand.

XII. And it is enacted, that the word process in this Act shall extend to and include all Criminal and Civil process of the said Supreme Court which require to be executed without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Court, and any order for the appointment of a Receiver of any lands whether the same be a distinct order or be contained in any decree or decretal order of the said Court, and any notice of any proceedings instituted or to be instituted in the said Court, or of any step to be taken or application made in or in respect of such proceedings; and the word lands shall extend to and include any immoveable property, and any word denoting the singular number or masculine gender shall extend to and include more persons, matters or things than one and females as well as males.

XIII. And it is enacted, that the said Court shall from time to time frame such forms of letters of request, and of any process of the said Court which is to be addressed and executed under the provisions of this Act as may be necessary to give full effect to the provisions hereinbefore contained.

SATURDAY, MARCH 27, 1847.

General Order by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India.

Fort William, Foreign Department, the 30th August, 1843.

NOTIFICATION.—Some misconception appearing to exist with respect to the power which Officers of both Services have over the Documents and Papers which come into their possession officially, the Governor General in Council deems it expedient to notify, that such Documents and Papers are in no case to be made public, or communicated to individuals, without the previous consent of the Government, to which alone they belong.

The Officer in possession of such Documents and Papers can only legitimately use them for the furtherance of the public service, in the discharge of his official duty, and it is to be understood, that the same rule which applies to Documents and Papers, applies to information of which Officers may become possessed officially.

By order, &c.,

(Sd.) J. THOMASON,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

The Governor General deems it advisable to republish for general information, the Notification issued on the 30th August 1843, in which the principle is laid down, that it is contrary to the duty of every Officer, Civil or Military, to make public or to communicate to individuals, without the previous sanction of Government, any Documents, Papers, or Information, of which he may have become possessed in his official capacity.

The practice of making use of official information in carrying on personal controversies is a course highly prejudicial to the public interests, and is not only at variance with the rules by which due discipline and obedience to superior authority can be adequately maintained, but is a positive breach of faith, in as much as no Functionary has a right to reveal, without due authority from his official Superiors or the Home Authorities, any fact or circumstance which may come to his knowledge in the performance of his duty, or to correspond with any one upon the instructions he may have received for his special guidance.

The Governor General is persuaded, that every Officer, Civil and Military, will henceforth conform to this rule of the Service, under the conviction that, if in the transaction of his official duties, his public conduct be impugned, he is at liberty to seek redress through the usual official channel by an appeal to the Government he serves, and that the Government so appealed to will afford him every opportunity of vindicating his character.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India,

H. M. ELLIOT,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India, with the Govr. Genl.

Camp Kulpee, 19th March 1847.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to cancel the General Order by the Governor General, dated the 11th instant, appointing Brigadier T. Monteath, C. B., A. D. C. to the Queen, to the temporary Command of the Benares Division during the absence of Major General Alexander.

EDUCATION NOTICE.

AN Examination will be held early in April 1847, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee language, to enable them to read and write it in the Persian or Devanagri character.

2. All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant certificates of qualification to any candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years: and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this that the above measure has been adopted.

3. Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper descriptive roll may be prepared, for transmission to the examiners of the College of Fort William.

4. The preference in selection, attainments being equal, will be given to those who have already been attached to, or served in civil or regimental hospitals.

5. No candidate will be allowed to present himself for examination who cannot produce a written testimonial of his conduct and character, or afford satisfactory evidence as to who and what he may be. A few individuals of decidedly bad character have upon recent occasions managed to obtain admittance, it is supposed by producing false papers; the strictest care and scrutiny will, therefore, be exercised in examining the credentials of all future candidates.

6. All pupils must, as a condition of their appointment, reside within the college premises at all times, and never be absent from morning and evening muster without special leave.

7. All students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

8. No candidate will be admitted to the school who is physically unfit for the duties of a soldier.

By order of the Hon'ble the President and Council of Education,

FRED. J. MOUAT, M. D., Secretary.

SUPPLEMENT TO

The Calcutta Gazette.

Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, MARCH 27, 1847.

FORT WILLIAM,
HOME DEPARTMENT,
LEGISLATIVE,
THE 13TH MARCH, 1847.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 13th of March, 1847.

ACT No. —— of 1847.

An Act for establishing a Court of Subordinate Civil Jurisdiction in the City of Calcutta.

Whereas the jurisdiction of the Court of Requests for the Recovery of Small Debts in and for the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal, is limited to suits brought for the recovery of Debts not exceeding 400 Sicca Rupees, and whereas it is not expedient that the jurisdiction of the said Court of Requests should be extended:

And whereas it is inconvenient to the people to be obliged to resort to Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in all suits for debt exceeding 400 Sicca Rupees, and in all other suits and actions whatsoever:

And whereas for remedy of the said inconvenience it is expedient to establish a new Court with jurisdiction over the subject matters of actions at Law, and with power to make decrees upon such subject matters according to Equity and Good Conscience following the Law:

I. It is hereby enacted, that from and after the day of the Court of Requests for the Recovery of Small Debts in and for the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal shall be abolished, except so far as regards suits pending therein at the time of passing this Act, which shall be proceeded in and determined as if this Act had not been passed, and that on the said day a Court for the exercise of original Civil jurisdiction in the City of Calcutta shall be established, and shall be called the Subordinate Civil Court for the City of Calcutta.

II. And it is enacted, that the said Subordinate Civil Court shall consist of as many Commissioners as to the Governor of Bengal shall from time to time seem meet, and that each of the Commissioners sitting separately shall exercise all the jurisdiction and powers herein conferred upon the said Subordinate Civil Court, except the power of making Rules under Section XXV. of this Act. Provided always, that at least one of the said Commissioners shall be a Barrister of not less than five years standing.

III. And it is enacted, that one of the Commissioners being a Barrister of five years standing, shall be the Chief Commissioner.

IV. And it is enacted, that each of the Commissioners shall receive such Salary as to the Governor General in Council shall seem meet, respect being had to the qualifications of each.

V. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Governor of Bengal to appoint such and so many Ministerial Officers as to him shall seem necessary for the efficient performance of the business of the said Court, and that each of the said Officers shall receive such Salary as to the Governor General in Council shall seem meet.

VI. And it is enacted, that the said Subordinate Civil Court shall have jurisdiction over all causes of Action, for which an Action may be maintained on the Plea Side of the said Supreme Court, where the debt, damages, or value of the property for which such Action may be brought does not exceed the following amounts, that is to say, where the Action is brought, to recover any property for which an Action of Ejectment may be maintained in the said Supreme Court, the amount of Two Hundred Company's Rupees per annum, where the Action is brought for any malicious arrest, maliciously holding to Bail or for any other malicious prosecution, or for any Libel or Slander, or for any Assault, Battery, or false imprisonment, the amount of Three Hundred Company's Rupees, and in all other Actions the amount of One Thousand Company's Rupees.

VII. And it is enacted, that the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall also extend to the recovery of the unliquidated Balance of a Partnership Account, to the extent of Five Hundred Company's Rupees if the Plaintiff shall be content to limit his claim to the recovery of that amount.

VIII. And it is enacted, that the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall also extend to the recovery, against any Executor or Administrator or other Representative of any deceased testate, or intestate person of any demand not exceeding the amount of Five Hundred Company's Rupees for any distributive share of any property under an intestacy, or of any legacy, or residue or share of a residue, under a Will, if the plaintiff shall be content to limit his claim to the recovery of that amount in respect of such share or residue or legacy, provided always, that the said Court by this Act established shall not have jurisdiction over any such demand for such share, residue or legacy if any suit shall at the time of preferring such demand be pending in the said Supreme Court for the Administration of the Estate, out of which such share, residue or legacy is demandable.

IX. And it is enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any plaintiff to divide any cause of action into two or more suits for the purpose of bringing the same within the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court; but any plaintiff having cause of action for debt or damages above the value recoverable under this Act may abandon the excess, and thereupon such plaintiff shall on proving his case have a decree for an amount not exceeding such value, and such decree shall be in full discharge of all demands in respect of such cause of action.

X. And it is enacted, that the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall, as regards the persons to be subject thereto, extend to all persons inhabiting or seeking a livelihood within the City of Calcutta.

XI. And it is enacted, that the said Court shall on all purely legal demands for which an Action at Law is maintainable, decide according to the Law to be administered in the Supreme Court, in the like cases between the like parties, provided that the defendant may in any Action for such legal demand, allege and establish an equitable defence, and thereupon the said Court shall by its decree give the defendants the benefit of such defence to the same extent and upon the same principles of Equity as would be applied in the like case by the said Supreme Court on its Equity side, provided that such defence shall not involve a cross demand to an extent exceeding the sum of One Thousand Company's Rupees.

XII. And it is enacted, that the said Subordinate Civil Court shall exercise all the powers which are exercised by Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in the issuing of process, and summoning and compelling the attendance of witnesses and the administering of oaths or solemn declarations and for punishing contempts, and all other powers which are exercised by the said Supreme Court for trial and determination and execution in Actions at Law, and that the said Subordinate Civil Court shall have and use an Official Seal.

XIII. And whereas it is conducive to the good administration of Justice that the respectable part of the public should be associated therein: It is hereby enacted, that the Governor General in Council may, by Proclamation, order that every or any Commissioner of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall, in all suits, or in any particular class of suits, and in all proceedings therein or in any particular proceeding therein, sit with one or more Jurors, and may in the said Proclamation lay down rules for the selection, summoning and compelling attendance of the said Jurors, and for enforcing the performance of their duty by such Jurors.

XIV. Provided always and it is hereby enacted, that the verdict of such Juror or Jurors shall be only for the information of the Conscience of the Court.

XV. And it is enacted, that the manner of commencing a suit in the said Subordinate Civil Court shall be as follows:

1. Each of the Commissioners of the said Subordinate Civil Court shall sit at stated hours for the purpose of receiving plaints.

2. Every plaintiff bringing a suit in the said Subordinate Civil Court shall, except as hereinafter excepted, appear in person before one of the Commissioners, and shall, orally or in writing, lay before such Commissioner the facts which constitute his claim.

3. The excepted cases in which the plaintiff shall be excused from appearing in person for the purpose of making the statement of facts mentioned in the last Clause, are the same as the excepted cases specified in Clause 15 of this Section, but the plaintiff shall in all cases be permitted to make the statement of facts, by an Agent provided he deposit in Court the sum of Fifty Company's Rupees.

4. The sum so deposited shall be held as a security for any sum or such part thereof as it will cover, which may be, or which may become due to the defendant, or to the Government, in respect of the matter of the suit, or in respect of the mode of conducting it: if nothing shall so be, or become due, the sum shall be repaid to the plaintiff.

5. If the plaintiff lays the facts before the Commissioner orally, the facts whether stated of his own accord or elicited by examination shall be reduced into form and written down by the Commissioner or by an Officer of the Court under his direction, and shall constitute the plaint.

6. If the plaintiff lays the facts before the Commissioner in writing, the written statement shall be corrected in form by the Commissioner, or by an Officer of the Court under his direction, if it requires such correction, and in substance if it in any respect disagrees with the statement of facts elicited by the examination of the plaintiff; subject to such correction the written statement shall constitute the plaint.

7. When the statement of facts constituting the plaint has been made, the Commissioner, if he is of opinion that the defendant or the matter of the suit is not within the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Civil Court, shall make a decree accordingly.

8. If the Commissioner is of opinion that the defendant and the matter of the suit are within the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Civil Court, he shall direct a writ of summons to be issued to the defendant.

9. The writ of summons shall contain a copy of the plaint, and an order to the defendant to appear before the Court on a specified day, and to bring with him any documents which he may have in his possession, of which the plaintiff, with the consent of the Commissioner, demands inspection, or which he the defendant may think conducive to his defence, and a list of such witnesses as he supposes may be necessary for his defence.

10. If the plaintiff satisfies the Commissioner that the defendant is likely to withdraw himself from the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Civil Court, the Commissioner may direct a warrant of arrest against the defendant to be issued together with the writ of summons.

11. If the defendant is arrested on the warrant he shall be brought with all convenient speed before the Commissioner, who may discharge him from custody if he gives sufficient security for his appearance, or if he deposits a sum which the Commissioner considers under all the circumstances of the case sufficient, or if he satisfies the Commissioner that he does not intend to withdraw himself from the jurisdiction.

12. On every day in which any of the Commissioner shall sit for the purpose of receiving plaints, all the plaints received shall be laid before the Chief Commissioner, who will distribute them among all the Commissioners, including himself.

13. In distributing the plaints the Chief Commissioner will endeavour to give to all the Commissioners a share of business which will occupy an equal portion of the time of each, and to give to each Commissioner those kinds of suits which he thinks each best qualified to decide.

14. Every plaintiff and defendant in the said Subordinate Civil Court shall appear except as hereinafter excepted in person, on the day specified in the writ of summons, and on every other day fixed for the appearance by the Commissioner.

15. A plaintiff or defendant may be excused from appearing in person,

If ill.

If absent from Calcutta,

If engaged in the Public Service.

If exempted on account of rank by the Regulations from appearing in the Courts of the East India Company.

If of advanced age.

If of the female sex.

If there is a co-plaintiff who appears in person.

If there is a co-defendant defending jointly who appears in person.

If not personally cognisant of the matter in dispute.

16. But in all these cases the Commissioner may refuse to hold the party excused from appearing in person if he is not satisfied that the excuse is made in good faith and that the matter of the excuse exists in a sufficient degree to justify him in admitting it.

17. Whenever an Agent has been admitted in place of a party, such Agent shall be permitted to do all that the party might have done had he appeared, and shall be liable to be examined and cross examined in the same manner.

18. And the Commissioner may if he thinks fit order that the party excused shall be examined in any way in which a witness may be examined.

19. When the Commissioner has refused to hold any party excused he may order the Agent who makes the excuse to summon the party on whose behalf it is made on a specified day, and adjourn the proceedings to that day, or he may make a decree against such party after examining his Agent.

XVI. And it is hereby enacted, that as soon as the plaintiff and defendant are together before the Commissioner to whom the suit has been assigned, he shall proceed to take the pleadings and settle the demurrers and issues of fact.

XVII. And it is hereby enacted, that the manner of pleading shall be as follows.

1. The defendant in answer to questions put by the Commissioner shall confess or deny each of the material allegations contained in the plaint, and shall state any matter whereby he proposes to avoid the plaintiff's right to a decree arising out of such allegations contained in the plaint, as he has confessed.

2. The defendant may demur if he thinks the plaint states a case insufficient to entitle the plaintiff to a decree.

3. The defendant shall not be precluded from demurring to any matter in the plaint because he has pleaded to it, nor shall he be precluded from pleading to any matter in the plaint because he has demurred to it.

4. The defendant shall not be precluded from denying as many of the allegations in the plaint as he does not know to be true.

5. The defendant shall not be precluded from avoiding the plaintiff's right to a decree arising out of any allegations in the plaint which the defendant has confessed by the statement of as many matters as he believes to be true.

6. The Commissioner in framing the pleading from the statements of the parties will take care that pleas shall be kept distinct from demurrers, and that no plea shall be double.

7. The Commissioner will also take care that the pleadings shall not be argumentative and shall state matters of fact only and not evidence of matters of fact, and shall in other respects be such as to lead directly to distinct issues of law or fact, and that each issue shall have as much particularity as conveniently may be.

8. All the above rules of pleading shall be applied, as far as they are capable of such application to the subsequent stages of the pleadings.

9. The Commissioner may examine the parties and permit them to cross examine each other through himself for the purpose of framing the pleadings from their statements, which statements may also be used as evidence at any hearing for the decision of the cause, and the Commissioner may likewise examine the parties and permit them to cross examine each other through himself at any hearing for the purpose of using their statements as evidence for the decision of the cause.

10. If any demurrer results from the pleadings which the Commissioner thinks fit for argument, he will after consultation with the parties fix a day for the argument on it.

11. If any issue of fact results from the pleadings upon which it is necessary to hear evidence the Commissioner will make a note of the names of the witnesses on both sides, and of the facts which each of them is expected to prove, and the documents which each of them is expected to produce, and will grant such subpœnas and subpœnas duces tecum as appear to him to be necessary for the purpose of justice, and will also direct each party to produce any document in his possession the production of which appears to the Commissioner necessary for the purposes of justice, and will after consultation with the parties, fix a day for the taking of evidence.

XVIII. And it is hereby enacted, that if any Commissioner, not being a Barrister, perceives while he is receiving a plaint, or while he is framing the pleadings, or in any subsequent stage, that the suit is one which in his opinion ought not to proceed before a Commissioner who is not a Barrister he may hand over the suit to the Chief Commissioner and direct the parties to go before the said Chief Commissioner who shall proceed with the suit, or direct any other Commissioner who is a Barrister, to proceed with the suit.

XIX. And it is hereby enacted, that if it shall appear to the Commissioner at any stage of the suit, that justice cannot be done unless some person not a party to the suit be made a party thereto the Commissioner may summon such person to appear, and may make a decree which shall be binding upon such person, making such order regarding the costs as shall be agreeable to justice.

XX. And it is hereby enacted, that if in the course of a suit the parties shall disagree as to the balance of an account, the Commissioner may direct that the account be referred to an Arbitrator nominated by the parties, or in default of such nomination to an Officer of the Court, and such Arbitrator or Officer will report the amount due on either side, subject to any exceptions which the Commissioner will hear and decide.

XXI. And it is hereby enacted, that in all suits for the breach of a contract which may be brought in the said Subordinate Civil Court if it shall be made to appear to the Commissioner that the contract may be performed without prejudice to the plaintiff, and that the defendant is able to perform it the Commissioner may direct a specific performance of the contract, and enforce it by attachment.

XXII. And it is hereby enacted, that the Commissioner in his decree shall order how much of the amount of any fees which may have been paid or be payable to any Attorney or Barrister, shall be reckoned as costs between party and party, and what other expences incurred by the parties in prosecuting or defending the suit shall be reckoned as costs between party and party, and shall order in his decree which party shall pay cost to the other, and to what amount: provided that no fees which may have been paid or be payable to any Attorney or Barrister shall be reckoned as costs between party and party unless the Commissioner shall be satisfied that the assistance of such Attorney or Barrister was reasonably required.

XXIII. And whereas it is expedient that inconsiderate litigation should be discouraged, and that those who sue or defend inconsiderately should contribute towards the expences of the Judicial Establishment:—It is hereby enacted, that in every suit in the said Subordinate Civil Court the party or parties against whom the decree is made shall, if plaintiff or plaintiffs pay a fee equal to one-twentieth of the value claimed in the plaint, and if defendant or defendants a fee equal to one-twentieth of the value decreed.

XXIV. Provided that the Commissioner may remit such fee if he shall be satisfied that the party or parties against whom the decree is made, had reasonable ground for suing or defending.

XXV. And whereas it is expedient that parties to suits who prevaricate or wilfully make false statements should be punished:—It is hereby enacted, that whenever the Commissioner is satisfied that any party to a suit in the said Subordinate Civil Court has by himself or his Agent prevaricated or wilfully made a false statement, he may in his decree impose upon such party a fine not exceeding 200 Rs., and in default of payment may order such party to be imprisoned for a period not exceeding.

XXVI. And it is hereby enacted, that the amount of the fees and fines aforesaid shall be paid monthly into the Treasury.

XXVII. And it is enacted, that the said Commissioners, or the majority of them, may from time to time make such Rules for the Regulation of the proceedings of the said Subordinate Civil Court as to them may seem meet, and as are not inconsistent with any thing in this Act contained; which Rules shall be in force from their date, and shall continue in force unless they shall be disallowed by the Governor General in Council within the space of three months from their date; provided that such Rules shall be laid before the Governor General in Council within the space of one month from their date.

XXVIII. And it is enacted, that the Sheriff of Calcutta shall execute the process of the said Subordinate Civil Court, and shall, in respect to the execution of such process, be subject to the authority of the said Subordinate Civil Court, and shall for his trouble in executing such process receive from the Public Treasury such remuneration as to the Governor General in Council shall seem meet.

XXIX. Provided that such remuneration shall be proportioned to the quantity of labour imposed upon the said Sheriff in each month in the execution of the said process.

XXX. And it is enacted, that any suitor in the said Subordinate Civil Court who shall feel himself aggrieved by any decree thereof, may move the Supreme Court for a Rule to shew cause why the decree should not be altered or reversed, or for a Rule to shew cause why the said Subordinate Civil Court should not reconsider its decree, or for a Rule to shew cause why there should not be a new trial of the whole or any part of the facts on which its decree is founded.

XXXI. And it is enacted, that the said Supreme Court shall at its discretion grant or refuse any such Rule.

XXXII. Provided always and it is hereby enacted, that the Supreme Court shall not make absolute any such Rule if the decree of the Subordinate Civil Court be consistent with the Justice, Conscience and Equity of the case: that is to say the Supreme Court shall be governed in its decision upon any motion to make any such Rule absolute by the principles by which an English Court of Law would be governed in its decision upon a motion to make absolute a Rule for a new trial when there has been no misdirection in point of Law by the Judge before whom the cause was tried.

XXXIII. And it is enacted, that any person deeming himself aggrieved by any commitment to prison or fine by the said Subordinate Civil Court may appeal from such commitment or fine to the said Supreme Court who shall thereupon make such order as justice may require.

XXXIV. And it is enacted, that any one of the Judges of the said Supreme Court may, when occasion shall so require, sit apart from the other Judges or Judge, as the case may be, of the same Court for the despatch of the business to be performed by the said Court under this Act at the same time when the other Judge or Judges, as the case may be, of the said Court, shall be sitting for the despatch of business in the said Supreme Court, and that all proceedings whatsoever so had by and before such Judge, so sitting apart for the purpose aforesaid, shall be good, valid and effectual in the Law to all intents and purposes, as fully as if the proceedings were had before all the Judges of the said Court.

XXXV. And it is enacted, that the Judges of the Supreme Court, or the majority of them, may from time to time make such Rules for the Regulation of the proceedings on appeals and motions before them as to them may seem meet and as are not inconsistent with any thing in this Act contained; which Rules shall be in force from their date and shall continue in force unless they shall be disallowed by the Governor General in Council within the space of three months from their date; provided that such Rules shall be laid before the Governor General in Council within the space of one month from their date.

XXXVI. And whereas, although the several provisions hereinbefore contained for the constitution of the said Subordinate Civil Court are all copied, more or less exactly, from the provisions for the constitution of the several sorts of Courts used in the Administration of English Law and Equity, yet the combination of the said several provisions in one Court is new and experimental; and it might happen that suitors accustomed to the Administration of Justice by Civil Action at Law in Her Majesty's Supreme Court, might feel aggrieved if they were deprived thereof, It is hereby declared and enacted, that nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to affect the jurisdiction now exercised by the said Supreme Court in Civil Actions at Law in the cases falling within the jurisdiction of the said Subordinate Civil Court.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 13th day of November next.

An Act for the Improvement of the Administration of Justice in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

I. Whereas by the Charter establishing the said Court, it is provided that in case the party summoned by the summons or precept in nature of a summons which the said Court is thereby empowered to award shall not appear upon the return of such summons or precept as aforesaid according to the exigence thereof, the said Court is further authorized and empowered to award and issue a writ or warrant directed to the Sheriff of Calcutta, usually called a capias of contempt, commanding him to arrest and seize the body of such person so making default, and to have his said body at such time and place as shall be specified in the said writ for that purpose before the said Court to answer the plaint; and whereas by the Rules and Orders on the plea side of the said Court under the "Title of proceedings against a party in custody," it is provided that where any plaint shall be filed against any person who shall be in custody at the time of filing the same and shall have had four days notice thereof, or being arrested shall be committed for want of bail and shall not have filed an appearance the plaintiff may file an appearance with the Prothonotory for such defendant; and whereas it is desirable to abolish the power of imprisonment upon mesne process in all cases not hereinafter provided for, upon any process issued on the plea side of the said Court, and to substitut the following provisions for the said power of arrest and of entering an appearance for the defendant—It is enacted, that no capias of contempt shall be issued on the plea side of the said Court for the purpose of compelling or procuring an appearance to the plaint, but that if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the said Court upon the return of the writ of summons, and on affidavit or solemn affirmation of the identity of the party that the defendaut against whom such plaint has been filed, or any one or more of several defendants has or have been duly summoned, and that no appearance has been entered for such defendant or defendants within the time prescribed for entering the same, then the said Court shall order that the said suit shall be proceeded with exparte against such defendant or defendants not appearing as aforesaid, and the said suit shall thereupon be proceeded with against such defendant or defendants not appearing as aforesaid in like manner as by the said Charter, and the Rules, Orders and Practice of the said Court is required in the case of an exparte suit after the issuing of a sequestration after a return of non est inventus to a writ of capias or summons.

II. And it is enacted, that every writ of summons which shall be issued from the said Court shall express that if the defendant shall not appear at the time mentioned in the said summons the suit will be proceeded with against him not appearing as aforesaid in his absence, and that the property of such defendant not appearing as aforesaid may be sequestered.

III. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the application of the plaintiff in the case of such defaults of appearance as are hereinbefore mentioned, upon proof of the demand by affidavit or solemn affirmation or otherwise to the satisfaction of the said Court, to award and issue a writ of sequestration against the property of such defendant which said writ shall have the like operation and effect, and be dealt with by and under the order of the said Court in like manner to all intents and purposes as is by the said Charter directed as to writs of sequestration except so far as the provisions of the said Charter as to such writs of sequestration are varied by this Act, and then in the case of such variations to be dealt with under the provisions of this Act and of the said Charter; and if judgment shall pass for the plaintiff in the said suit, the said Court is hereby authorized and empowered to award and issue a writ to the Sheriff or other Officer to whom the process of the Court may be directed, commanding him to sell or otherwise dispose of the said property according to the nature thereof so seized and sequestered, and to make satisfaction out of the same or out of the produce thereof according to the nature thereof to the plaintiff for the amount of the judgment so recovered with his costs, and to return the surplus, if any there be, after satisfying the said judgment and costs, and the expenses of the said sequestration, to the person or persons in whose possession the said property was seized, or otherwise to reserve it for the said defendant as occasion shall require; and if such property shall not be sufficient to produce after defraying the expenses of such sequestration the amount of the judgment and the said costs, the said Court is further empowered to award and issue such process of execution for the deficiency as is by the said Charter provided for levying money recovered by judgment and costs; and if judgment shall pass for the defendant against whom such sequestration shall have issued the said Court is authorized and empowered to award, and order the costs of the said suit and the expense of the said sequestration incurred by such defendant, and all other damages occasioned thereby to be paid by the plaintiff to such defendant as aforesaid, or his or their Attorney, or the person or persons in whose possession the said property was seized or otherwise as the said Court shall order, and the same shall be levied by such process as in the said Charter is provided for levying costs.

IV. And whereas by the Law of England the practice of arrest upon mesne process has been abolished except in certain cases, and it is desirable to assimilate the practice of the said Supreme Court on the plea side thereof to the Law of England in this respect with a due allowance for differing circumstances—It is therefore enacted, that no person shall be arrested upon mesne process in any civil action, whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act as hereinafter provided, under any writ issuing out of the said Court on its plea side except in the cases by this Act provided and allowed.

V. And it is enacted, that if a plaintiff in any action in which the defendant was liable to be arrested on mesne process under the law in force at the time appointed for the commencement of this Act shall by the affidavit or solemn affirmation of himself, or of any other person, shew to the satisfaction of the said Court or of a Judge thereof that such plaintiff has a cause of action against the defendant to the amount of Company's Rupees four hundred or upwards, or has sustained damage to that amount, or if he shall by like affidavit or affirmation to be filed as aforesaid verify to the satisfaction of the said Court a case of such enormous personal wrong as in the judgment of the said Court requires such security; and that there is probable cause for believing that the defendant against whom the application is made is about to go out of the jurisdiction of the said Court unless he be forthwith arrested, or that such defendant has made or is about to make any fraudulent disposition of his property with a view to defeat or delay his creditors in general, or the plaintiff in particular, or that such defendant has evaded the service of process in the said cause, it shall be lawful for the said Court, or any Judge thereof, by a special order, to direct that such defendant shall be held to bail for such sum as such Court or Judge shall think fit not exceeding the amount of the debt or damages, and thereupon it shall be lawful for such plaintiff to sue out a writ of capias against any such defendant so directed to be held to bail, which writ of capias shall bear date on the day on which the same shall be issued.

VI. And it is enacted, that the Sheriff or other Officer to whom any such writ shall be directed shall arrest the defendant thereupon, and such defendant shall when so arrested remain in custody till he shall have given a bail bond to the Sheriff, or shall have made deposit of the sum endorsed on such writ of capias, together with a sum for costs, including the execution of the said writ according to the practice of the said Court on its plea side for the time being, and all subsequent proceedings as to putting in and perfecting special bail, or of making deposit and payment of money into Court instead of putting in and perfecting special bail shall be according to the like practice of the said Court, or as near thereto, as the circumstances of the case will admit.

VII. And it is enacted, that any such special order may be made and the defendant arrested in pursuance thereof in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act at any time after the commencement of such action and before final judgment shall have been obtained therein, and that a defendant in custody upon any such arrest and not previously served with a copy of the writ of summons shall be lawfully served therewith.

VIII. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for any person arrested upon any such writ of capias to apply at any time after such arrest to the said Court, or any Judge thereof, for an order or rule on the plaintiff in such action to shew cause why the person arrested should not be discharged out of custody; and that it shall be lawful for such Court or Judge to make absolute or discharge such order or rule, and to direct the costs of the application to be paid by either party, to make such other order therein as to such Court or Judge shall seem fit, provided that any such order made by a Judge may be discharged or varied by the Court on application made thereto by either party dissatisfied with such order.

IX. And it is enacted, that when any sequestration shall have issued in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act against any defendant, and the said defendant shall appear to the said action, it shall be lawful for the said Court, or any Judge thereof, to order that the said sequestration shall stand as a security for the debt and costs to be incurred in such action, or to order that the same be set aside on payment of the costs of such sequestration incurred by the plaintiff, and on the said defendants putting in and perfecting bail to the action, or on his making such deposit and payment in lieu of bail as by the practice of the said Court for the time being shall be required, and thereupon all subsequent proceedings as to the putting in and perfecting special bail, or of making deposit and payment of money into Court instead of putting in and perfecting special bail, and as to surrendering the defendant in discharge of bail, and taking the defendant for the purpose of such surrender, and all other proceedings touching the premises shall be had according to the practice of the said Court on its plea side for the time being in like cases, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will admit.

X. And whereas it is desirable to amend the provisions in the said Charter contained as to the writs of Fieri Facias and Sequestration, and to extend the operation of such writs to be sued out after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act so as to embrace other property besides that which might before the time aforesaid have been seized, taken and sold under such writs respectively; and any writ of Venditioni Exponas issued to complete the execution thereof respectively, and to remove any doubts as to what property may be so seized, taken and sold—It is declared and enacted, that Money and Bank Notes, Notes issued for the payment of money by the East India Company, commonly called Company's Paper, Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes, Bankers' Cheques, Money Bonds, Specialties for payment of money, or other securities for payment of money, whether such bonds, specialties or other securities be payable on a contingency or otherwise the property of the person against whom any such writ shall be issued whether in any action commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act; and all other debts and claims for the payment of money whether the same shall be then due and payable, or to become due and payable at some future time or times, the property of the said person against whom such writ shall have issued shall and may be seized and taken under any such writ as aforesaid in such action as aforesaid; and when any Money or Bank Notes shall be so seized and taken the said Sheriff or other Officer to whom any such writ shall be directed shall and may under any such writ retain so much of such Money or Bank Notes as may be necessary to discharge his own claim for poundage, fees, or other costs, charges and expences of such execution, and shall and may pay or deliver to the party suing out such writ, so much of the said Money and Bank Notes as may be sufficient to discharge such execution, and when any other of the property aforesaid shall be seized and taken the said Sheriff or other Officer shall proceed in all respects in the execution of such process as to such property in like manner as is by the said Charter, and by the practice of the said Court directed and required as to debts seized under such process as aforesaid except where the said mode of procedure is varied by this Act, and from the time of such seizure all sums of money due or to become due on any of the said hereinbefore mentioned instruments so seized as aforesaid, or due or to become due in respect of any debts or claims whether seizable under the Charter, or under the provisions of this Act, and so seized as aforesaid, shall be paid and payable in such manner and form and no other as the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, when the same shall be extended and returned into the said Court shall appoint, and such payment and no other shall form thenceforth be an absolute and effective discharge of the said sums of money and every of them respectively; and it shall not be lawful for the said Sheriff or other Officer to sell any of the said property hereinbefore mentioned, including therein debts seizable under the provisions of the said Charter so seized as aforesaid without the special order of the Court, and the said Sheriff or other Officer shall have power to sue in his own name to recover the money payable on such Notes, Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes, Bankers' Cheques, Money Bonds, Specialties or other securities as aforesaid, and to recover the amount of such debts or claims as aforesaid, and the said Court shall have power to make such orders in the matters of such executions, and to make such alterations in the forms of the said writs as may be necessary to give effect to the provisions of this Act hereinbefore and hereinafter contained in respect of such executions, and to frame, if necessary, any new writ or writs for such purpose provided that no such Sheriff or other Officer shall be bound to sue any party liable upon any such Note, Bill of Exchange, Promissory Note, Cheque, Bond, Specialty, or other security, or liable in respect of such debt or claim as aforesaid unless the party suing out such execution shall enter into a Bond with two sufficient sureties for indemnifying him from all costs and expences to be incurred in the prosecution of such action, or to which he may become liable in consequence thereof, the expense of such Bond to be deducted out of any money to be recovered in such action. Provided always, that when such debt shall have been recovered in any action, or paid after action brought the surplus only of such debt over the taxed costs which the plaintiff may be liable to pay his own Attorney, and to the payment of which the opposite party in the cause shall not be liable, provided that the same have not been incurred unnecessarily and are not unreasonable in amount, shall be deemed and taken to be levied under such execution as aforesaid.

XI. And it is enacted, that all Houses, Lands or other real property held in trust for the person against whom such writs as aforesaid shall be issued at the time of the delivery thereof to such Sheriff or Officer as aforesaid, or any Equity of Redemption of the said party in such Houses, Lands or real property, as also all Lands, Houses or other real property over which such person shall at the time of the delivery of such writ to the Sheriff, or at any time afterwards have any disposing power which he might without the assent of any other person exercise for his own benefit shall and may be seized, taken and sold, mortgaged or delivered to be held by the execution creditor subject to an account as hereinafter mentioned, or shall be subject to have a Receiver appointed for the same, or be otherwise dealt with under any such writ to be sued out in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act according to the respective natures thereof under the provisions in this Act and in the said Charter, or in either of them contained as to any such executions in like manner, or as near thereto as may be, as if the interest of the said execution debtor therein were legal and not equitable.

XII. And it is enacted, that if any person against whom any such writ as aforesaid shall be issued out of the said Court in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act shall have any share of, or in any public Company within the reach of the process of the said Court, whether such Company be incorporated or not, standing in his name in his own right, or in the name of any person in trust for him, or shall be entitled to any sum of money in the said Court, or in the hands of any Receiver appointed by the said Court, it shall be lawful for the said Court, or any Judge thereof, on the application of the execution creditor to order that such shares or money, or such of them, or such part thereof as such Court or Judge shall think fit shall stand charged with the payment of the amount for which such execution shall have issued, together with the amount of the costs of obtaining such order; and such order as to any such shares as aforesaid shall entitle such creditor to all such remedies as he would have been entitled to if such charge had been made in his favour by the execution debtor in the mode most favourable to such creditor, provided that no proceedings shall be taken to have the benefit of such charge as to any such shares until after the expiration of six calendar months from the date of such order, and such order as to such money aforesaid shall entitle the said creditor to move to have the said money paid out of Court, or by such Receiver to him, and the said Court shall have power to make such order accordingly, provided always that no such order for payment shall be made without previous notice to all such parties as may have any charge upon or interest in such money as aforesaid.

XIII. And whereas by the said Charter, Houses, Lands and other real property of execution debtors may be sold under the said writs, and it is desirable to protect such debtors against any unnecessary sacrifice of their property by such sales, due regard being at the same time had to the rights of execution creditors—It is therefore enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the application of any such debtor whether such execution shall have been sued out before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act if it shall be made to appear to the said Court that a sale of the Lands, Houses or other real property of such debtor would probably be attended with great and unnecessary loss to such debtor, and that the debt might be discharged by other means than a sale of the property to order the said Sheriff or other Officer not to proceed to a sale thereof and to appoint a Receiver of the said property, and to direct a competent sum to be raised by mortgage of the property for the satisfaction of the demand of the execution creditor, and of all poundage, costs, charges and expences of the said execution, or to direct that the same shall be paid out of the rents and profits of the said property; and the said Court shall have power instead of appointing such Receiver by its writ to be issued for that purpose to order the said Sheriff or other Officer to make and deliver execution unto such creditor with his assent, of the Lands, Houses and other real property of such debtor, which Lands, Houses and other real property of such debtor shall by force and virtue of such execution be held and enjoyed by the party to whom such execution shall be so made and delivered, subject to an account in the said Court out of which such execution shall have issued, which said account the said Court shall have power on application on its Equity side to order to be taken upon petition without any bill filed for that purpose, provided always that such party to whom such execution shall be made and delivered as aforesaid shall be liable to pay the Government revenue and other payments and charges in respect of the Ownership of such lands, Houses and other real property, to the extent of the rents and profits thereof in like manner as the party against whom such execution shall have issued would have been bound to make, perform and render in case such execution had not issued, and shall be charged in account only with the surplus of such rents and profits over and above such Government revenue, costs and charges which he shall have paid and shall be entitled to hold the said Lands, Houses and real property aforesaid until the said execution shall be satisfied, together with the amount of all such payments and all necessary costs incurred by him under the provisions aforesaid.

XIV. And it is enacted, that no execution creditor, who under the powers of this Act, or in the said Charter contained, shall be entitled under any such seizure as aforesaid to any charge on any property, or to any debt or security or sum as aforesaid, shall afterwards and before the property so charged or secured shall have been converted into money or realized, and the proceeds thereof applied towards payment of the said debt cause the person of the execution debtor to be taken or charged in execution upon such judgment without the previous order of the said Court; and in case such creditor shall obtain such order and shall take or charge the person of such debtor in execution under the same upon such judgment, such creditor shall be deemed and taken to have relinquished all right and title to the benefit of such property, debt, security or sum as aforesaid.

XV. And it is further enacted, that the property of the party against whom any Fieri Facias or Sequestration shall be issued in any action whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act, shall be held to be bound as against the said party and all others claiming by succession from him, or by means of any gift, grant, transfer or conveyance by him, or with his direction or consent otherwise than for any valuable consideration by the delivery of such writ or sequestration to the Sheriff for the purpose of executing the same, and that as well against any Assignee of any Insolvent Debtor, or any person claiming under such Assignee as against all other persons than those hereinbefore mentioned such property shall be bound only from the time of the seizure under the same; provided always that nothing herein contained shall be construed to give validity to any transfer or conveyance or delivery or other disposition of, or dealing with the said property which before and at the time appointed for the commencement of this Act would be held to be fraudulent and void against creditors.

XVI. And it is enacted, that if it shall appear either from the pleadings or particulars, or any copy of any instrument or writing annexed to the pleadings in any action in the said court, or upon the evidence that the form of action has been mis-conceived either as to the whole or part of the subject matter of such action, the Court shall have power at any stage of the cause before judgment to amend the proceedings either by amending the form of the plaint and other pleadings, or by striking out any count or counts or part thereof, or by causing the verdict to be vacated in part and entered up on any count or counts instead of generally, or otherwise, upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as to such Court shall seem just and fit, and if in any such case as aforesaid the said amendments cannot be made without a new trial by reason of the difficulty of apportioning the damages or otherwise, then it shall be lawful for the said Court at any time upon objection taken after verdict and before judgment to order a new trial to be had, and to cause such amendments to be made on the record and proceedings as to such Court shall seem just and fit; and provided always that if the said Court shall be of opinion in any such case as aforesaid that the defendant has been misled or otherwise prejudiced by the improper form of the action either as to the whole or any part thereof, and that a postponement of the trial or of the inquiry is necessary for the attainment of justice the said Court shall postpone the said trial or inquiry, and make such order and impose such terms on either party as to amendments or otherwise, and as to costs as under the particular circumstances of the case shall be just and fit.

XVII. And it is enacted, that if there be any misjoinder of counts in any action in the said Court, the Court shall have power at any time and at any stage of the cause to amend the proceedings either by striking out one or more counts, or parts thereof, or otherwise, upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as to such Court shall seem just and fit.

XVIII. And it is enacted, that if there be a misjoinder of different rights of action in any action in the said Court, and the said misjoinder shall be objected to the said Court shall have power at any stage of the cause before judgment to amend the proceedings either by striking out one or more counts or parts thereof, or otherwise, upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as to such Court shall seem just and fit.

XIX. And it is enacted, that every right of action for mesne porfits, or other damages to which a person dying after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act shall have been solely entitled at his death, for any unlawful possession of, or other trespass, injury or wrong in his life time to his lands and hereditaments, whether arising from commission or omission of any act or duty, shall survive to his Executors, Administrators or Representatives.

XX. And it is enacted, that if upon the trial of any action in the said Court, it shall appear upon evidence that too many persons are joined as defendants therein no objection shall be allowed at the said trial on the ground of variance or otherwise by reason of such misjoinder. Provided always, that the said Court shall upon such trial give its verdict for such defendant or defendants as shall not be proved to be liable to the demand of the plaintiffs in respect of the subject matter of such action; and provided always, that if any such misjoinder appear from the pleadings and particulars, or any copy of any instrument or writing annexed to the pleadings and be not demurred to, no motion in arrest of judgment shall be made on the ground of such misjoinder, and that if such misjoinder be demurred to, the Court shall have power as well before as after the argument of such demurrer to cause the record to be amended by expunging the name of such person as shall be improperly joined as defendant therein.

XXI. And it is enacted, that no plea in abatement of any action in the said Court shall be pleaded for any nonjoinder of any person as plaintiff or defendant in the said action, and that the objection shall be taken in any such action to such nonjoinder in this mode only, viz. by plea to be termed a plea of nonjoinder of parties, which plea shall be in the form of a plea in abatement for such nonjoinder except that it shall not pray judgment of the plaint and that the same may be quashed; and after any such plea shall be pleaded it shall be lawful for the said Court to amend the proceedings by the addition thereto of such person or persons as it may be proper to add thereto, and to make such order as to costs and otherwise as to the said Court shall seem just and fit, and no such action shall abate by reason of any such nonjoinder; and if the said defect appear from the pleadings, particulars or any copy of any instrument or writing annexed to the pleadings, it shall not be a ground of demurrer or of any motion to arrest the judgment in such action. Provided always, that to any such plea of nonjoinder of a defendant the plaintiff may reply that such person named therein has been discharged by bankruptcy and certificate, or by a final order under an Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors; and provided always, that if upon any such plea of nonjoinder of a defendant the plaintiff shall cause the proceedings to be amended by adding as defendant the person named in such plea, and such defendant shall be discharged therefrom by the verdict or judgment of the Court upon the ground that he or they ought not to have been joined as a co-defendant the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover over such costs as he shall be liable to pay to such defendant for whom such verdict or judgment shall be given, from such other defendant so pleading the nonjoinder as aforesaid. Provided always, that any such defendant who shall have pleaded the nonjoinder of any other person as defendant in such action who shall have been added by the plaintiff as defendant in consequence of such plea shall be at liberty to produce proof for the purpose of establishing the liability of such defendant so added as aforesaid. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall in any way affect the right of any defendant against whom a judgment has been given to recover contribution where an action for contribution is by law maintainable in any action to be brought in any Court against any party or parties so joined as defendant and discharged as aforesaid. Provided always also, that no right of set-off shall be prejudiced by any provision in this Act contained, and that it shall be competent for any defendant to plead a set-off in like manner if the party to whom such set-off is alleged to be due was the only defendant which plea of set-off shall aver that he is alone liable to the plaintiff's demand in that action.

XXII. And it is enacted, that an action at law shall be maintainable on the plea side of the said Court between one or more of several co-partners, joint contractors or joint owners, whether they be such as Executors, Administrators or Representatives, or otherwise, against his or their co-partners, joint contractors or joint owners for any demand of such a nature that the same between any parties would be the subject of an action at law; and that no such action shall be defeated by reason merely of the plaintiff and defendant, or any other person interested or concerned in such action being or having been members of the same partnership or such joint contractors or joint owners as aforesaid.

XXIII. And it is enacted, that the provisions in this Act contained as to such action between co-partners, co-contractors and joint owners as aforesaid are hereby extended to and shall include all causes of action arising between different bodies of persons who may be co-partners, co-contractors or joint owners inter se, though any such body may have some one or more of its members a common member or members of such different bodies, and in such cases such common member or members may be both plaintiff or plaintiffs, and defendant or defendants in the same suit.

XXIV. And it is enacted, that in any such action between co-partners, co-contractors and joint owners as aforesaid, the defendant may plead as a set-off any matter for which he could maintain an action at law against the plaintiff and which may be the subject matter of a set-off.

XXV. And it is enacted, that a demand in respect of any chose in action assignable in Equity and which is by this Act made assignable at law may be set-off in any action at law wherein a plea of set-off is allowed, provided that the same is of such a nature as to be the subject matter of a set-off, and in any action brought by a trustee, any sum due from or claim upon the cestui que trust to or by the defendant which is of such a nature as to be the subject matter of a set-off may be set-off against the demand of the plaintiff in such action; subject always to any lien of such plaintiff on the trust fund for his indemnity.

XVIX. And it is enacted, that in every action in the said Court wherein a set-off shall be pleaded if the defendant shall prove a larger sum to be due to him than the sum which the plaintiff shall prove to be due to him, then the Court shall have power to give a verdict for the defendant for the balance found due to him if it shall appear to the said Court that the same may with a due regard to justice be done. Provided always, that every set-off under this Act shall be pleaded in all causes where it is now necessary to plead a set-off.

XXVII. And it is enacted, that all legal choses in action which are the subjects of an action at law, and which are or may be assignable in Equity shall be assignable at law for the same considerations and in the same manner as the same are assignable in Equity, and any assignee of any such chose in action may bring an action in his own name on the plea side of the Court in respect of any such matter or thing as aforesaid so assigned to him against the party originally liable thereon which said party so originally liable shall be sued in the like form as if the action were brought in the name of the original assignor, and in any such action it shall be sufficient for such assignee in alleging his title to sue to state that the title of the original assignor came to him by assignment without stating any intermediate assignments, and in any such action payment or other satisfaction to the original assignor any intermediate assignee whether before or after assignment to the plaintiff may be pleaded, which plea of payment or satisfaction as aforesaid if after assignment to the plaintiff shall contain an averment that the defendant had not notice at the time of such payment or satisfaction of the assignment to the plaintiff, and upon any issue joined upon a traverse of such notice, proof of any facts which would constitute notice in a Court of Equity of such assignment in the like case shall be deemed to be sufficient proof of such notice.

XXVIII. And it is enacted, that in all cases in which by reason of the loss of any instrument the party entitled, but for such loss to sue upon the same in an action at law would before the time appointed for the commencement of this Act have been forced to sue in a Court of Equity it shall be lawful to sue in the said Court in an action at law on the plea side thereof in like manner as if no such loss had occurred; and it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the application of the party sued upon such lost instrument to stay proceedings in such action till the plaintiff shall give security to indemnify the defendant against any claims upon such instrument in case the same shall be afterwards produced in like manner and to the same extent as a Court of Equity would direct in the like case. Provided always, that in any action upon such instrument the plaintiff shall describe the same in his plaint as lost.

XXIX. And it is enacted, that in any action in the said Court whether commenced before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the motion of either party on the plea side thereof upon affidavit or solemn affirmation disclosing such facts and circumstances that in the opinion of the Court the party so applying would be entitled to a discovery in support of or with a view to establish a defence to the said action according to the principles upon which the said Court on its Equity side would act in giving discovery in the like cases, to grant a rule calling on the opposite party or parties, or any of them, to shew cause why such discovery should not be had and the proceedings stayed in the meantime, and the Court upon granting such rule shall if it think fit order the proceedings to be stayed, and upon the shewing cause against such rule, or if cause be not shewn against such Rule shall, if it shall think fit, make such order for the examination of the party or parties by interrogatories in writing to be exhibited by the party applying for such discovery and by examination vivâ voce at the trial or other previous stage of the cause, or by either of the modes aforesaid as it shall think fit, and the said Court shall have power to order from time to time such interrogatories to be amended and such further interrogatories to be added as it shall consider the justice of the case to require, and to make such order for production of documents as it might make in the like case of a bill had been filed for discovery in such action, and to impose such terms upon the party so applying for such discovery as to the said Court shall seem reasonable and just, and to make such order as to costs, and such other orders as may be necessary to enforce such discovery either by commitment for contempt or by ordering the matter of which discovery is sought to be taken pro confesso.

XXX. And it is enacted, that nothing in this Act contained whereby any jurisdiction is given to the said Court on the plea side thereof over matters which before the time appointed for the commencement of this Act were cognizable by the said Court on the Equity side thereof shall have the effect of ousting the said Court of its jurisdiction over such matters on the Equity side thereof, or shall deprive any party of his remedy on the Equity side of the Court in respect of such matters.

XXXI. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court in any case in which a party shall be entitled to file a bill for an account on the Equity side thereof upon the petition of the party so entitled to the said Court on the Equity side thereof, supported by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and upon due notice thereof to such persons as would have been necessary parties in case such bill had been filed to direct such account to be taken, and such account shall be taken accordingly; and it shall be lawful for the Court in like manner to make such further orders in the matter of the said account as might be lawfully made in case such bill had been filed.

XXXII. And it is enacted, that in any case in which any party shall be entitled to file a bill of interpleader in the said Court on the Equity side thereof, it shall be lawful for the said Court upon the petition of the party so entitled as aforesaid, supported by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and upon due notice thereof to such persons as would have been necessary parties in case such bill had been filed to make such orders in the matter of the said petition as the said Court might make if such bill had been filed XXXIII. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court in any case in which a party shall be entitled to file a bill on the Equity side thereof for the payment of a legacy, or any residue or share of a residue, or for any distribution of property under any right of succession, ab intestato or otherwise upon the petition of the party so entitled on the Equity side of the said Court, supported by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and due notice thereof to such persons as would have been necessary parties in case such bill had been filed to make such orders thereupon in like manner as if such bill had been filed.

XXXIV. And it is enacted, that in any case in which a party shall be entitled to file a bill on the Equity side of the said Court for the purpose of obtaining the construction of any instrument, it shall be lawful for the Court upon the petition of the party so entitled to the said Court on the Equity side thereof, supported by affidavit or solemn affirmation, and upon due notice to such persons as would have been necessary parties in case such bill had been filed, to declare the construction of such instrument notwithstanding that the said petition may involve other matters, and to make such further orders in the matter of the said petition as might be lawfully made in case a bill had been filed.

XXXV. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Court to make such orders for compelling appearance to such petitions as aforesaid, and in default of appearance upon such petitions as shall be necessary to give effect to the provisions in this Act contained as to such petitions, and that all orders made on such petitions shall be binding in like manner, and shall be enforced against such persons and in the same manner and by the like process as decrees or orders to the like effect would have been enforced in case a bill had been filed.

XXXVI. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Court upon any suit in Equity for the specific performance of an agreement if the Court shall be of opinion that there ought not to be a specific performance to award damages for the non performance of the agreement in like manner as the Court might award damages in an action at law for the breach of the agreement; and in case the Court shall not be able to assess the same then to direct a reference to the Master, or an issue for ascertaining the amount of the same; and it shall also be lawful for the said Court to direct the re-payment of the purchase money, or so much thereof as shall have been paid, or of the deposit and of interest on the said purchase money or deposit.

XXXVII. And it is enacted, that in any Equity suit in the said Court when any answer shall have been reported insufficient, and no exceptions shall have been filed to such report or such exceptions shall have been overruled in the whole or in part, or not proceeded with, it shall be lawful for the Court, if it shall see fit, to direct the defendant to be examined upon interrogatories or viva voce in open Court, and to commit him till he shall have fully answered and shall have paid such costs as the Court shall award.

XXXVIII. And it is enacted, that where any party in any suit in the said Court, whether instituted before or after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act, is directed to do any act either in any suit or proceeding by petition in manner aforesaid on the Equity side thereof, or under the jurisdiction hereby given to the said Court on the plea side thereof over matters which before the time aforesaid were matters subject to the jurisdiction of the said Court on its Equity side only, and shall be in contempt for the non-performance thereof, it shall be lawful for the said Court to direct the same to be performed by some Officer of the Court, whether the party be in custody for such contempt as aforesaid or not, and without prejudice to the right to proceed for such contempt with a view only to the recovery of any cost which the party in contempt would have been liable to pay before being discharged from his contempt.

XXXIX. And it is enacted, that in the administration of assets by any Executor or Administrator under any Probate or Letters of Administration to be granted after the time appointed for the commencement of this Act, or in any suit for the administration of assets to be brought in the said Court after the time aforesaid, all assets, whether legal or equitable, shall be distributable and distributed pari passee amongst the creditors in like manner and according to the same rules as if the whole were equitable assets distributed under a decree of a Court of Equity.

XL. And it is enacted, that the said Court shall have power on the Ecclesiastical or Admiralty side thereof as fully to all intents and purposes, and in the like manner and subject to the like conditions as on the Equity side thereof, to direct and issue to be tried on the plea side of the Court, and every issue directed by the said Court on any of its sides so to be tried as aforesaid, shall be set down for trial on the plea side of the Court upon production to the proper Officer of the Court of a copy under the seal of the said Court of the order of the Court directing such issue unless the order be made on the plea side of the Court, in which case it may be set down to be tried upon the original order which said copy, or which said order, as the case may be, shall alone be considered as the record on which such trial shall proceed, and the verdict shall be entered thereon, and no pleadings shall be had with a view to the trial of any such issue, nor shall there be any other record than as aforesaid upon any such direction of an issue as aforesaid, and the said Court shall have power at any time after the making of such order for the trial of an issue as is aforesaid to issue process for the attendance of witnesses on the trial of such issue, and shall have all the powers to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses, or to take the evidence of witnesses debene esse, or for summoning witnesses, or for proceeding against any who may have been summoned for disobedience to the process whereby they were summoned, as well as in respect of all other matters and things, except as herein otherwise provided which it might exercise in any action, on the plea side of the Court, and every person wilfully swearing or affirming falsely upon such trial, or in any deposition under any commission issued for the purpose of such trial, or in any affidavit or solemn affirmation relating thereto as to any matters material to the question then depending, shall be liable to be indicted for wilful and corrupt perjury if he shall have sworn falsely as aforesaid, or if he shall have affirmed falsely as aforesaid he shall be subject upon a conviction for a misdemeanor for the said offence to the same pains, penalties and forefeitures to which persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury are or shall be subject.

XLI. And it is enacted, that in all suit on the Equity, Ecclesiastical or Admiralty sides of the Court wherein before the time appointed for the commencement of this Act the evidence was taken by written deposition before the Examiner or other Officer of the Court, and wherein after the time aforesaid it shall be necessary to take the examination of witnesses, the witness shall be examined viva voce in open Court. Provided always, that the evidence of such witnesses shall be reduced into writing and signed by the said witnesses and filed of record in the said Court. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to prevent the use of affidavits or solemn affirmations where such affidavits or solemn affirmations are by the course and practice of the said Court now admissable in any interlocutory proceedings in any suit on the said several sides of the said Court, or upon any application for Probate or Letters of Administration, or ad colligendum bona, or for the appointment of a Curator, next friend, Guardian, Receiver, Trustee, or for the issuing or return of any commission, writ or other process of the said Court, or relating to the service or execution thereof, or upon any motion or petition, or summary application to the said Court on any of the said sides thereof respectively. Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any proceedings under any commission for the examination of witnesses, nor to abridge the power of the said Court to issue any such commission.

XLII. And it is enacted, that the Court shall have power to take the examination debene esse of any witnesses in open Court in any suit on the said several sides of the Court in like manner and subject to the same conditions, rules and provisions which apply to the examination of witnesses debene esse on the plea side of the said Court.

XLIII. And it is enacted, that every inquisition of lunacy to be holden within the local limits of Calcutta shall be holden before the said Court, any former practice or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, and the trial shall be by a special jury of twelve men who shall be summoned in the usual manner of summoning a special jury.

XLIV. And whereas by the Charter establishing the said Supreme Court, the said Court is authorized and empowered to frame such rules of practice, and to make such standing orders for administration of justice and the due exercise of the Civil, Criminal, Admiralty, and Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction thereby created, and to do all such other things as shall be found necessary thereto so as the said Court shall from time to time transmit the same under the Seal thereof to Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors in Her or their Privy Council for the approbation, control, or alteration of Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors. And whereas by an Act passed at a Session of Parliament holden in the second and third years of the Reign of Her present Majesty, entitled "An Act to confirm certain "Rules and Orders of the Supreme Courts of "Judicature at Fort William and Madras, and "to empower the same Courts and the Supreme "Court of Judicature of Bombay, to make Rules "and Orders concerning Pleadings"—it was enacted amongst other things that the Supreme Court of Fort William should and might by any other Rules and Orders to be from time to time passed by such Court make such further alterations in the mode of pleading in the said Court, or in the mode of entering and transcribing, pleadings, judgments and other proceedings in actions at law or suits in Equity, or any Civil or Ecclesiastical causes, and such regulations as to the payment of costs and otherwise for carrying into effect any such alterations as to the said Court might seem expedient, subject to the provisoes in that Act contained as to the confirmation or disallowance thereof by the Governor General of India in Council, and the altering or recousidering thereof by Her Majesty, Her Heirs, or Successors, and as to the power of pleading the general issue and giving the special matter in evidence in the cases therein mentioned. And whereas it is desirable to prevent any doubts arising as to the power of the said Court to make such Rules and Orders and Regulations as may from time to time be necessary to give full effect to the provisions in this Act contained—It is enacted, that the said Court shall and may make from time to time such Rules, Orders, and Regulations as to the mode of procedure in the said Court as may be necessary to give full effect to all the provisions in this Act contained, and all such Rules, Orders, and Regulations shall be submitted for confirmation or disallowance to the Governor General of India in Council immediately upon the making of the same, and every such Rule, Order or Regulation shall to all intents and purposes have full effect after it shall have been confirmed by the said Governor General of India in Council, but any such Rule, Order, or Regulation when so confirmed shall be transmitted to Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors in Council, and shall be subject at any time to be altered or rescinded by Her said Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors in Council. Provided always, that no Rule, Order or Regulation to be made by virtue of this Act shall have the effect of depriving any person of the power of pleading the general issue, and giving the special matter in evidence in any case wherein he is now or hereafter shall be entitled to do so by virtue of any Statute or Act now or hereafter to be in force.

XLV. And it is enacted, that the word joint owners in this Act shall be construed to include all joint tenants, tenants in common, co-parceners or other joint proprietors, and the words plaintiff or defendant to include all the plaintiffs and defendants, or some of them, and whenever in describing any person or party, matter or thing the word importing the singular number or the masculine gender only is used in this Act the same shall be taken to include several persons or parties as well as one person or party and females as well as males, and several matters or things as well as one matter or thing respectively, and the term person or party shall be taken to include and shall be applied to a body corporate, unless in any of the before mentioned cases there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction.

XLVI. And it is enacted, that this Act shall come into operation on the day of and that nothing herein contained shall affect or extend to any action, suit, or other proceeding commenced before the time aforesaid except where it is otherwise provided.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 13th day of November next.

G. A. BUSHBY,
Secretary to the Govt. of India.

FORT WILLIAM,
HOME DEPARTMENT,
LEGISLATIVE,
THE 13TH MARCH 1847.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 13th of March 1847.

ACT No. —— OF 1847.

An Act for facilitating the execution of the Process of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and the taking of affidavits without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Court.

I. Whereas by the Charter of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, the process of the Court, except in certain cases, is required to be addressed to and executed by the Sheriff of Calcutta, which in the case of parties resident without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court is often attended with unnecessary expense and other inconvenience. And whereas it is desirable to make provision for the execution of the process of the said Supreme Court without the local limits of its jurisdiction similar to those made for the execution of the process of the Courts of the Hon'ble the East India Company within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court —It is enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Court, notwithstanding the terms of the said Charter when any process of the said Court is to be executed against any person subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and not resident within the local limits thereof, or against any property without such limits to issue any process which the said Court is as may be empowered to issue, and to address the same to such person as it shall think fit, and to direct the execution thereof in the manner hereinafter provided, and that the same shall be executed accordingly, and that upon the same being executed and returned in the manner provided for by this Act it shall be lawful for the said Court to proceed thereupon in like manner as if the same had been executed according to the practice of the Court before the passing of this Act.

II. And it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Court or for any Judge thereof by a letter of request addressed to any Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, without the local limits of the said Supreme Court, enclosing or accompanied by two duplicate originals of any such process as aforesaid to request that such process may be executed within the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, pursuant to the directions therein contained, and that such letter and each of such duplicates shall be signed by one of the Judges of the said Supreme Court and sealed with the seal of the said Court, and the production thereof purporting to be so signed and sealed as aforesaid shall be sufficient evidence of the issuing of such process, and that the requisition thereof shall and may be performed by any person or persons for the time being, constituting such Court, or discharging the duties of such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace.

III. And it is further enacted, that upon the production of such letter of request, together with such duplicates as aforesaid, any Judge of such Court, or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall, by endorsement upon one of such duplicates respectively under his hand, direct the said process to be executed pursuant to such directions as aforesaid by such person or persons as such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace shall appoint to execute the same, and shall deliver one of such duplicate to such person or persons so appointed to execute the same and that the same shall be executed accordingly ; and if the same shall require to be executed beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed, then such duplicate may be executed by any other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, having jurisdiction over the subject matter of such process in like manner as the original process of the Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request may be addressed may be executed beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace. Provided always, that when such process shall be executed by any Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom the letter of request aforesaid was not addressed a Judge of such Court, or such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace so executing the same shall certify in writing under his hand the execution of such process, and shall forward such certificate to the said Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to which or to whom such letter of request was addressed, of which said certificate purporting to be signed as aforesaid the production alone shall be sufficient evidence.

IV. And it is further enacted, that when such process shall have been executed in manner aforesaid, any Judge of such Court as such Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace as aforesaid to which or to whom such letter of request as aforesaid was addressed shall by endorsement upon the other of such duplicates under his hand certify the execution thereof, and shall deliver such duplicate so endorsed to the party or parties by whom the same was originally produced, or his or their agents, and the production of such duplicate so endorsed and appearing to be so signed as aforesaid shall be sufficient evidence of the execution of such process.

V. And it is enacted, that upon the delivery of such duplicates of any civil process as aforesaid, to such Court, Judge or Magistrate as aforesaid the said Court, Judge, or Magistrate shall cause the date of such delivery to be endorsed on such duplicates, and shall cause the said process to be executed in like manner or as near thereto as if the same had been issued from or by such Court, Judge or Magistrate as aforesaid at the time of the said delivery; and no distinction shall be made as to priority or otherwise between the execution of such process as aforesaid, or any other process of or by the said Court, Judge or Magistrate. But every process, whether original or otherwise, shall as between each other, be subject to the same rules touching the mode and order of execution as are now or may be from time to time established in respect of process originally issued by such Court, Judge or Magistrate.

VI. And it is further enacted, that where any process of the said Supreme Court for the appointment of a Receiver of any lands out of such local limits, or any other process of the said Supreme Court against such lands shall be issued for the purpose of being enforced or executed by any other Court, Judge or Magistrate, under the provisions of this Act, a copy of the judgment, decree or order of the said Supreme Court, by virtue of which such process issued, signed by one of the Judges, and under the seal of the Court, shall, if the said local Judge or Magistrate shall so require, be registered in the Court to which such process is forwarded to be executed, and that a copy of such judgment, order or decree shall be forwarded, sealed with the seal of the said Supreme Court for the purpose of such registry.

VII. And it is further enacted, that persons wilfully neglecting to execute such process, or obstructing the execution thereof, shall be liable to be punished in like manner and by the like Courts, Judges, Magistrates, or Justices of the Peace, as if such process had been issued originally by such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, provided that nothing herein contained shall deprive the said Supreme Court of its power to punish such persons for a contempt, in case they shall not be otherwise punished.

VIII. And it is enacted, that no action or other proceeding shall be had or maintained against any person or persons constituting such Court, or any such Judge, or Magistrate or Justice of the Peace, or any person or persons acting under his or their orders, for or in respect of any act, matter or thing bonâ fide done or omitted to be done in the execution or service of any such process though the authority given be not strictly pursued, and that it shall be lawful for the said Supreme Court upon application thereto to stay any such action or proceeding commenced in the said Court, and to order the party commencing or prosecuting the same to pay the costs thereof as between Solicitor and Clients.

IX. And it is enacted, that every Judge, Magistrate, or Assistant Judge or Magistrate of the Hon'ble the East India Company within the Presidency of Bengal and its dependencies, and every Justice of the Peace under any Commission of the Peace issued in the name of Her Majesty the Queen within the said Presidency and its dependencies, shall be by virtue of his office a Commissioner of the said Supreme Court for the purpose of taking affidavits or affirmations, and shall as such Commissioner be empowered to take any affidavit or affirmation of any person or persons to be used in any proceedings pending or intended to be instituted in the said Supreme Court, or the Insolvent Court, and to swear such party or parties, or to take his or their affirmation to the truth of such affidavit or affirmation respectively, and shall certify in writing upon such affidavit or affirmation that such affidavit or affirmation was made or taken before him, and shall sign such certificate and any exhibits annexed to such affidavit or affirmation, and the production of such affidavit or affirmation, and such certificate appearing to be so signed as aforesaid shall be sufficient proof of such affidavit or affirmation.

X. And it is enacted, that any person wilfully so swearing or affirming falsely shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to be transported for a period not exceeding fourteen years, or imprisoned for any period not exceeding three years with or without hard labor, and any person forging or uttering any instrument purporting to be an affidavit or affirmation so made or affirmed as aforesaid shall be guilty of felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to be transported for any period not exceeding fourteen years, or imprisoned for any period not exceeding three years with or without hard labor.

XI. And it is enacted, that any copy of any judgment, decree or order of the said Supreme Court which is by this Act required to be registered, and any process of the said Court to be executed by any other Court, or by any Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, under the provisions of this Act, and any proceeding by any such Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace thereupon may be transmitted by such Supreme Court to such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, or by such other Court, Judge, Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace to the said Supreme Court by dawk or by any private hand.

XII. And it is enacted, that the word process in this Act shall extend to and include all Criminal and Civil process of the said Supreme Court which require to be executed without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the said Court, and any order for the appointment of a Receiver of any lands whether the same be a distinct order or be contained in any decree or decretal order of the said Court, and any notice of any proceedings instituted or to be instituted in the said Court, or of any step to be taken or application made in or in respect of such proceedings; and the word lands shall extend to and include any immoveable property, and any word denoting the singular number or masculine gender shall extend to and include more persons, matters or things than one and females as well as males.

XIII. And it is enacted, that the said Court shall from time to time frame such forms of letters of request, and of any process of the said Court which is to be addressed and executed under the provisions of this Act as may be necessary to give full effect to the provisions hereinbefore contained.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 13th day of November next.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,

Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law [illegible] 6 Victoria, C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury [illegible] require such a Certificate in any case [illegible] they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this Clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 28th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

NOTIFICATION.

An Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years; and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

OVERLAND PRE-PAID LETTERS.

NOTICE.—With reference to the system of optional pre-payment of British Postage in India, upon Letters for places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which will come into operation on the 1st of the ensuing month of March, the following rates of Postage will be levied, namely,

Not exceeding ½ an ounce, 8 Annas,... (1 Shillings)
Above ½, and not exceeding 1 ounce,
1 Rupee, ... (2 Shillings)
Above 1, and not exceeding 2 ounces,
2 Rupees,..... (4 Shillings)
Above 2, and not exceeding 3 ounces,
3 Rupees,..... (6 Shillings)
And so on, increasing 1 Rupee,..... (2 Shillings)
for every additional ounce, or fraction of the ounce.

As 5 ounces is the nearest integral of English weight to 12 Tolas, the maximum weight allowed for transmission by Dawk, it is indispensable that letters be not allowed to exceed that weight, to prevent the inconvenience of their being refused at the Post Office.

The option of pre-paying the British Postage is exclusively, limited to Letters transmitted in the Mails sent via Southampton, and such letters must bear the following superscription for the guidance of the Post Office Receivers, viz.

"BRITISH POSTAGE PRE-PAID,
"Via Southampton."

Letters not for places, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, or which may not require to pass through the English Post Office, to their ulterior destinations, will, as heretofore, be subject to Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postage, precisely at the same rates as those fixed for the levy of British pre-paid Postage.

British and Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postages, are exclusive of the India ordinary Inland Postage.

It is strongly recommended, both for the convenience of the individuals bringing the letters, and of the Receivers at the Post Office, that Letters intended to be pre-paid should be accompanied by separate receipts, or be entered separately from other descriptions of letters in the Sender's Dawk Receipt Books.

N B.—These Rules, until further orders, are to apply only, to letters forwarded via Bombay, not to letters transmitted hence by the Steamers Bentinck and Hindostan.

Deputy Post Master.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency, including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,
Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law 5 and 6 Victoria, C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may require such a Certificate in any case where they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to, the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 28th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

Hon'ble W. BARING,

NOTIFICATION.

AN Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years; and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

By order of the Hon'ble the President and Council of Education,

FRED. J. MOUAT, M. D.,
Secretary.

DAMAGED OVERLAND LETTERS.

IN August 1840 by a Notice, repeatedly published, the Public was informed of the damage sustained by Letters sent to England, in the Overland Mails, owing to the use of Sealing-wax, when it was earnestly recommended that, in all possible cases, Letters for that conveyance, should be closed with wafers. This practice, it would appear, has not been generally adopted, seeing that a further representation has been made by the Home Post Office Authorities to the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, of the torn and mutilated state in which numerous Letters had reached London by a late Overland Mail from India, owing to the melting of the wax used in sealing them and their consequent adhesion to other Letters. It has, therefore, pleased the Right Hon'ble the Governor of Bengal to direct that a fresh Notice be published, cautioning the Public against the use of Sealing-wax, as regards Letters for transmission by the Overland Mails. And it is accordingly, hereby, strongly enjoined that, in closing such Letters in future, wafers may be used in every possible case instead of Sealing-wax.

OVERLAND PRE-PAID LETTERS.

NOTICE.—With reference to the system of optional pre-payment of British Postage in India, upon Letters for places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which will come into operation on the 1st of the ensuing month of March, the following rates of Postage will be levied, namely,

Not exceeding ½ an ounce, 8 Annas,... (1 Shillings)
Above ½, and not exceeding 1 ounce,
1 Rupee, ... (2 Shillings)
Above 1, and not exceeding 2 ounces,
2 Rupees,..... (4 Shillings)
Above 2, and not exceeding 3 ounces,
3 Rupees,..... (6 Shillings)
And so on, increasing 1 Rupee,..... (2 Shillings)
for every additional ounce, or fraction of the ounce.

As 5 ounces is the nearest integral of English weight to 12 Tolas, the maximum weight allowed for transmission by Dawk, it is indispensable that letters be not allowed to exceed that weight, to prevent the inconvenience of their being refused at the Post Office.

The option of pre-paying the British Postage is exclusively, limited to Letters transmitted in the Mails sent via Southampton, and such letters must bear the following superscription for the guidance of the Post Office Receivers, viz.

"BRITISH POSTAGE PRE-PAID,
"Via Southampton."

Letters not for places, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, or which may not require to pass through the English Post Office, to their ulterior destinations, will, as heretofore, be subject to Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postage, precisely at the same rates as those fixed for the levy of British pre-paid Postage.

British and Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postages, are exclusive of the India ordinary Inland Postage.

It is strongly recommended, both for the convenience of the individuals bringing the letters, and of the Receivers at the Post Office, that Letters intended to be pre-paid should be accompanied by separate receipts, or be entered separately from other descriptions of letters in the Sender's Dawk Receipt Books.

N. B.—These Rules, until further orders, are to apply only, to letters forwarded via Bombay, not to letters transmitted hence by the Steamers Bentinck and Hindostan.

Deputy Post Master.

Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 4th October, 1844.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency, including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,
Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law 5 and 6 Victoria. C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may require such a Certificate in any case where they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 26th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

Hon'ble W. BARING,

NOTIFICATION.

AN Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years; and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

OUR GOVERNOR OF THE PRESIDENCY OF FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL.

We forward to you copy of a letter which we have received through the India Board, dated the 6th instant, addressed by order of the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to the Secretary of State for the Colonies and to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, for the purpose of enforcing on all Public Servants who may come in contact with the Chinese Authorities, the necessity of respecting the usages and institutions of China; and we desire that you take the most effectual measures in your power for enforcing the strict observance of the principles therein expressed.

To GEORGE W. HOPE, ESQUIRE,
&c. &c. &c.

SIR,—I am directed by the Earl of Aberdeen to request that you will acquaint Lord Stanley that in a despatch recently received from Sir H. Pottinger, that Officer urges upon H. M.'s Government in the strongest terms the indispensable necessity, for the purpose of preserving our amicable relations with China, of requiring and compelling all classes of H. M.'s Servants who may come in contact with the Chinese Authorities and People, to respect the usages and institutions of China, and to study the wishes and feelings of the Authorities and People of the country.

The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

It may readily be conceived that in so peculiar a country as China, actions, indifferent in themselves, and which among European nations would lead to little or no inconvenience, might produce an impression highly unfavorable to the British character, and destructive of that wholesome influence which it is so important should attach in China to every thing connected with Great Britain.

It may be hoped that occasions will rarely if ever arise where any persons in the public service shall expose themselves to censure on the charge of wilfully offending against the usages of China, but Lord Aberdeen is disposed to concur in Sir H. Pottinger's opinion that it would be well that all public Servants in China should be apprized that they are expected and required to be uniformly circumspect in their conduct and to abstain even from things indifferent if likely to give occasion to misinterpretation, and that they should be fully impressed with the conviction that H. M.'s Government are resolved to discountenance any proceeding offensive or annoying to the Chinese Authorities and People, and if necessary, to visit with the severest displeasure any persons under their immediate control against whom complaints on this head should be substantiated.

Lord Aberdeen presumes that the Governor of Hong Kong will himself have taken measures for enforcing upon the attention of persons in the Colonial Service, the principles which he has recommended as the general rule for the guidance of all public Servants in China, and that as Superintendent of Trade, he will have directed the special attention of the Consular Service to the same point, notwithstanding the positive instructions to the same effect issued by Lord Aberdeen to the several Consular Officers on their appointment. But Lord Aberdeen would suggest for Lord Stanley's consideration, whether it would not be advisable by special directions from this country to make known to the Military Authorities in China, for the guidance of all persons in the Military Service, the wishes and commands of H. M.'s Government on the points adverted to in this letter, and their determination to enforce compliance from all persons engaged in the public Service in China and its immediate vicinity.

Of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

RESOLUTION.

The Governor General, having taken into his consideration the existing state of Education in Bengal, and being of opinion that it is highly desirable to afford it every reasonable encouragement by holding out to those who have taken advantage of the opportunity of instruction afforded to them, a fair prospect of employment in the public service, and thereby not only to reward individual merit, but to enable the State to profit as largely and as early as possible by the result of the measures adopted of late years for the instruction of the people as well by the Government as by private individuals and Societies, has resolved, that in every possible case a preference shall be given in the selection of candidates for public employment to those who have been educated in the Institutions thus established, and especially to those who have distinguished themselves therein by a more than ordinary degree of merit and attainment.

The Governor General is accordingly pleased to direct that it be an instruction to the Council of Education, and to the several Local Committees and other authorities charged with the duty of superintending Public Instruction throughout the Provinces subject to the Government of Bengal, to submit to that Government at an early date, and subsequently on the 1st of January in each year, returns (prepared according to the form appended to this Resolution) of Students who may be fitted, according to their several degrees of merit and capacity, for such of the various public offices as, with reference to their age, abilities, and other circumstances, they may be deemed qualified to fill.

The Governor General is further pleased to direct, that the Council of Education be requested to receive from the Governors or Managers of all Scholastic Establishments, other than those supported out of the public funds, similar returns of meritorious Students, and to incorporate them, after due and sufficient enquiry, with those of the Government Institutions; and also that the Managers of such Establishments be publicly invited to furnish returns of that description, periodically, to the Council of Education.

The returns, when received, will be printed and circulated to the heads of all Government offices both in and out of Calcutta, with instructions to omit no opportunity of providing for and advancing the candidates thus presented to their notice, and in filling up every situation, of whatever grade, in their gift, to shew them an invariable preference over others not possessed of superior qualifications.

The appointment of all such candidates to situations under the Government, will be immediately communicated by the appointing Officer to the Council of Education, and will by them be brought to the notice of Government, and the public, in their annual reports. It will be the duty of controlling Officers, with whom rests the confirmation of appointments made by their subordinates, to see that a sufficient explanation is afforded in every case in which the selection may not have fallen upon an educated candidate whose name is borne on the printed returns.

With a view still further to promote and encourage the diffusion of knowledge among the humbler classes of the people, the Governor General is also pleased to direct, that even in the selection of persons to fill the lowest offices under the Government, respect be had to the relative acquirements of the candidates, and that in every instance a man who can read and write be preferred to one who cannot.

Ordered, that the necessary instructions be issued for giving effect to the above Resolution, and that it be published in the official Gazettes for general information.

DAMAGED OVERLAND LETTERS.

IN August 1840 by a Notice, repeatedly published, the Public was informed of the damage sustained by Letters sent to England, in the Overland Mails, owing to the use of Sealing-wax, when it was earnestly recommended that, in all possible cases, Letters for that conveyance, should be closed with wafers. This practice, it would appear, has not been generally adopted, seeing that a further representation has been made by the Home Post Office Authorities to the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, of the torn and mutilated state in which numerous Letters had reached London by a late Overland Mail from India, owing to the melting of the wax used in sealing them and their consequent adhesion to other Letters. It has, therefore, pleased the Right Hon'ble the Governor of Bengal to direct that a fresh Notice be published, cautioning the Public against the use of Sealing-wax, as regards Letters for transmission by the Overland Mails. And it is accordingly, hereby, strongly enjoined that, in closing such Letters in future, wafers may be used in every possible case instead of Sealing-wax.

OVERLAND PRE-PAID LETTERS.

NOTICE.—With reference to the system of optional pre-payment of British Postage in India, upon Letters for places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which will come into operation on the 1st of the ensuing month of March, the following rates of Postage will be levied, namely,

Not exceeding ½ an ounce, 8 Annas,... (1 Shillings)
Above ½, and not exceeding 1 ounce, 1 Rupee, ... (2 Shillings)
Above 1, and not exceeding 2 ounces, 2 Rupees,..... (4 Shillings)
Above 2, and not exceeding 3 ounces, 3 Rupees,..... (6 Shillings)
And so on, increasing 1 Rupee,..... (2 Shillings) for every additional ounce, or fraction of the ounce.

As 5 ounces is the nearest integral of English weight to 12 Tolas, the maximum weight allowed for transmission by Dawk, it is indispensable that letters be not allowed to exceed that weight, to prevent the inconvenience of their being refused at the Post Office.

The option of pre-paying the British Postage is exclusively, limited to Letters transmitted in the Mails sent via Southampton, and such letters must bear the following superscription for the guidance of the Post Office Receivers, viz.

"BRITISH POSTAGE PRE-PAID,
"Via Southampton."

Letters not for places, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, or which may not require to pass through the English Post Office, to their ulterior destinations, will, as heretofore, be subject to Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postage, precisely at the same rates as those fixed for the levy of British pre-paid Postage.

British and Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postages, are exclusive of the India ordinary Inland Postage.

It is strongly recommended, both for the convenience of the individuals bringing the letters, and of the Receivers at the Post Office, that Letters intended to be pre-paid should be accompanied by separate receipts, or be entered separately from other descriptions of letters in the Sender's Dawk Receipt Books.

N. B.—These Rules, until further orders, are to apply only, to letters forwarded via Bombay, not to letters transmitted hence by the Steamers Bentinck and Hindostan.

Deputy Post Master.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency, including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,
Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law 5 and 6 Victoria, C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may require such a Certificate in any case where they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 28th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

Hon'ble W. BARING,
&c. &c. &c.

NOTIFICATION.

AN Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years; and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

DAMAGED OVERLAND LETTERS.

IN August 1840 by a Notice, repeatedly published, the Public was informed of the damage sustained by Letters sent to England, in the Overland Mails, owing to the use of Sealing-wax, when it was earnestly recommended that, in all possible cases, Letters for that conveyance, should be closed with wafers. This practice, it would appear, has not been generally adopted, seeing that a further representation has been made by the Home Post Office Authorities to the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, of the torn and mutilated state in which numerous Letters had reached London by a late Overland Mail from India, owing to the melting of the wax used in sealing them and their consequent adhesion to other Letters. It has, therefore, pleased the Right Hon'ble the Governor of Bengal to direct that a fresh Notice be published, cautioning the Public against the use of Sealing-wax, as regards Letters for transmission by the Overland Mails. And it is accordingly, hereby, strongly enjoined that, in closing such Letters in future, wafers may be used in every possible case instead of Sealing-wax.

OVERLAND PRE-PAID LETTERS.

NOTICE—With reference to the system of optional pre-payment of British Postage in India, upon Letters for places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which will come into operation on the 1st of the ensuing month of March, the following rates of Postage will be levied, namely,

Not exceeding ½ an ounce, 8 Annas,... (1 Shillings)
Above ½, and not exceeding 1 ounce,
1 Rupee, ... (2 Shillings)
Above 1, and not exceeding 2 ounces,
2 Rupees,..... (4 Shillings)
Above 2, and not exceeding 3 ounces,
3 Rupees,..... (6 Shillings)
And so on, increasing 1 Rupee,..... (2 Shillings)
for every additional ounce, or fraction of the ounce.

As 5 ounces is the nearest integral of English weight to 12 Tolas, the maximum weight allowed for transmission by Dawk, it is indispensable that letters be not allowed to exceed that weight, to prevent the inconvenience of their being refused at the Post Office.

The option of pre-paying the British Postage is exclusively, limited to Letters transmitted in the Mails sent via Southampton, and such letters must bear the following superscription for the guidance of the Post Office Receivers, viz.

"BRITISH POSTAGE PRE-PAID,
"Via Southampton."

Letters not for places, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, or which may not require to pass through the English Post Office, to their ulterior destinations, will, as heretofore, be subject to Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postage, precisely at the same rates as those fixed for the levy of British pre-paid Postage.

British and Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postages, are exclusive of the India ordinary Inland Postage.

It is strongly recommended, both for the convenience of the individuals bringing the letters, and of the Receivers at the Post Office, that Letters intended to be pre-paid should be accompanied by separate receipts, or be entered separately from other descriptions of letters in the Sender's Dawk Receipt Books.

N. B.—These Rules, until further orders, are to apply only, to letters forwarded via Bombay, not to letters transmitted hence by the Steamers Bentinck and Hindostan.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency, including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,
Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law 5 and 6 Victoria, C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may require such a Certificate in any case where they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 28th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

Hon'ble W. BARING,

NOTIFICATION.

AN Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years; and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

DAMAGED OVERLAND LETTERS.

IN August 1840 by a Notice, repeatedly published, the Public was informed of the damage sustained by Letters sent to England, in the Overland Mails, owing to the use of Sealing-wax, when it was earnestly recommended that, in all possible cases, Letters for that conveyance, should be closed with wafers. This practice, it would appear, has not been generally adopted, seeing that a further representation has been made by the Home Post Office Authorities to the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, of the torn and mutilated state in which numerous Letters had reached London by a late Overland Mail from India, owing to the melting of the wax used in sealing them and their consequent adhesion to other Letters. It has, therefore, pleased the Right Hon'ble the Governor of Bengal to direct that a fresh Notice be published, cautioning the Public against the use of Sealing-wax, as regards Letters for transmission by the Overland Mails. And it is accordingly, hereby, strongly enjoined that, in closing such Letters in future, wafers may be used in every possible case instead of Sealing-wax.

Post Master General.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Overland Express Mail will be despatched hence to Bombay on Tuesday, the 22d Instant.

OVERLAND PRE-PAID LETTERS.

NOTICE.—With reference to the system of optional pre-payment of British Postage in India, upon Letters for places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which will come into operation on the 1st of the ensuing month of March, the following rates of Postage will be levied, namely,

Not exceeding ½ an ounce, 8 Annas,... (1 Shillings)
Above ½, and not exceeding 1 ounce, 1 Rupee, ... (2 Shillings)
Above 1, and not exceeding 2 ounces, 2 Rupees,..... (4 Shillings)
Above 2, and not exceeding 3 ounces, 3 Rupees,..... (6 Shillings)
And so on, increasing 1 Rupee,..... (2 Shillings) for every additional ounce, or fraction of the ounce.

As 5 ounces is the nearest integral of English weight to 12 Tolas, the maximum weight allowed for transmission by Dawk, it is indispensable that letters be not allowed to exceed that weight, to prevent the inconvenience of their being refused at the Post Office.

The option of pre-paying the British Postage is exclusively, limited to Letters transmitted in the Mails sent via Southampton, and such letters must bear the following superscription for the guidance of the Post Office Receivers, viz.

"BRITISH POSTAGE PRE-PAID,
"Via Southampton."

Letters not for places, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, or which may not require to pass through the English Post Office, to their ulterior destinations, will, as heretofore, be subject to Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postage, precisely at the same rates as those fixed for the levy of British pre-paid Postage.

British and Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postages, are exclusive of the India ordinary Inland Postage.

It is strongly recommended, both for the convenience of the individuals bringing the letters, and of the Receivers at the Post Office, that Letters intended to be pre-paid should be accompanied by separate receipts, or be entered separately from other descriptions of letters in the Sender's Dawk Receipt Books.

N. B.—These Rules, until further orders, are to apply only, to letters forwarded via Bombay, not to letters transmitted hence by the Steamers Bentinck and Hindostan.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency, including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,
Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law 5 and 6 Victoria, C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may require such a Certificate in any case where they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 28th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

Hon'ble W. BARING,
&c &c. &c.

NOTIFICATION.

AN Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years; and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 18th October, 1844.

No. 288 of 1844.—With advertence to Government General Orders, No. 239, of the 3d November 1843, the annexed Extract, paragraph 5, of a Military Letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors to the Governor General of India in Council, No. 23, of the 31st July 1844, is published for general information and guidance:

Section 6.
Articles 128.
130.

"5. We must now call your particular attention to the alteration made in the Articles of War for the present year, having reference to the collection of the Effects of Officers and Men of the Royal Army, under this alteration the power of Officers whose duty it is to collect these Effects, is no longer restricted to such Effects as may be in "Camp or Quarters," but is extended to all Effects within the Territorial possessions of the East India Company, and the same words are introduced with the Clause which provides for the collection of a Soldier's Effects. Full power is therefore now given to the proper Officers of Her Majesty's Troops to collect all the Effects, whether of Officers or Men, which such Officers or Men may leave within the Territorial possessions of the Company, and so long as the present Articles of War for Her Majesty's Service shall remain unaltered, such Effects must on demand be immediately made over to the Officers of Her Majesty's Troops upon whom the duty of collecting them devolves. The only exception to this general rule is the case referred to in the Counsels' reply to the second question proposed to them on this subject which we now quote; viz., "if there were a legal personal representative demanding the Notes, we "think the Government Agents would be warranted in delivering the Promissory Notes to such "legal personal representative in preference to the "Officer," which opinion, under the Amended Articles of War, is now as applicable to the Effects of Officers as it then was to those of deceased Soldiers."

DAMAGED OVERLAND LETTERS.

IN August 1840 by a Notice, repeatedly published, the Public was informed of the damage sustained by Letters sent to England, in the Overland Mails, owing to the use of Sealing-wax, when it was earnestly recommended that, in all possible cases, Letters for that conveyance, should be closed with wafers. This practice, it would appear, has not been generally adopted, seeing that a further representation has been made by the Home Post Office Authorities to the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, of the torn and mutilated state in which numerous Letters had reached London by a late Overland Mail from India, owing to the melting of the wax used in sealing them and their consequent adhesion to other Letters. It has, therefore, pleased the Right Hon'ble the Governor of Bengal to direct that a fresh Notice be published, cautioning the Public against the use of Sealing-wax, as regards Letters for transmission by the Overland Mails. And it is accordingly, hereby, strongly enjoined that, in closing such Letters in future, wafers may be used in every possible case instead of Sealing-wax.

OVERLAND PRE-PAID LETTERS.

NOTICE.—With reference to the system of optional pre-payment of British Postage in India, upon Letters for places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which will come into operation on the 1st of the ensuing month of March, the following rates of Postage will be levied, namely,

Not exceeding ½ an ounce, 8 Annas,... (1 Shillings)
Above ½, and not exceeding 1 ounce,
1 Rupee, ... (2 Shillings)
Above 1, and not exceeding 2 ounces,
2 Rupees,..... (4 Shillings)
Above 2, and not exceeding 3 ounces,
3 Rupees,..... (6 Shillings)
And so on, increasing 1 Rupee,..... (2 Shillings)
for every additional ounce, or fraction of the ounce.

As 5 ounces is the nearest integral of English weight to 12 Tolas, the maximum weight allowed for transmission by Dawk, it is indispensable that letters be not allowed to exceed that weight, to prevent the inconvenience of their being refused at the Post Office.

The option of pre-paying the British Postage is exclusively, limited to Letters transmitted in the Mails sent via Southampton, and such letters must bear the following superscription for the guidance of the Post Office Receivers, viz.

"BRITISH POSTAGE PRE-PAID,
"Via Southampton."

Letters not for places, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, or which may not require to pass through the English Post Office, to their ulterior destinations, will, as heretofore, be subject to Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postage, precisely at the same rates as those fixed for the levy of British pre-paid Postage.

British and Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postages, are exclusive of the India ordinary Inland Postage.

It is strongly recommended, both for the convenience of the individuals bringing the letters, and of the Receivers at the Post Office, that Letters intended to be pre-paid should be accompanied by separate receipts, or be entered separately from other descriptions of letters in the Sender's Dawk Receipt Books.

N. B.—These Rules, until further orders, are to apply only, to letters forwarded via Bombay, not to letters transmitted hence by the Steamers Bentinck and Hindostan.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency, including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,
Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law 5 and 6 Victoria, C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may require such a Certificate in any case where they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 28th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

Hon'ble W. BARING,
&c &c. &c.

AN Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years; and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

By order of the Hon'ble the President and Council of Education,

FRED. J. MOUAT, M. D.,
Secretary.

DAMAGED OVERLAND LETTERS.

IN August 1840 by a Notice, repeatedly published, the Public was informed of the damage sustained by Letters sent to England, in the Overland Mails, owing to the use of Sealing-wax, when it was earnestly recommended that, in all possible cases, Letters for that conveyance, should be closed with wafers. This practice, it would appear, has not been generally adopted, seeing that a further representation has been made by the Home Post Office Authorities to the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, of the torn and mutilated state in which numerous Letters had reached London by a late Overland Mail from India, owing to the melting of the wax used in sealing them and their consequent adhesion to other Letters. It has, therefore, pleased the Right Hon'ble the Governor of Bengal to direct that a fresh Notice be published, cautioning the Public against the use of Sealing-wax, as regards Letters for transmission by the Overland Mails. And it is accordingly, hereby, strongly enjoined that, in closing such Letters in future, wafers may be used in every possible case instead of Sealing-wax.

Post Master General.

OVERLAND PRE-PAID LETTERS.

NOTICE.—With reference to the system of optional pre-payment of British Postage in India, upon Letters for places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which will come into operation on the 1st of the ensuing month of March, the following rates of Postage will be levied, namely,

Not exceeding ½ an ounce, 8 Annas,... (1 Shillings)
Above ½, and not exceeding 1 ounce,
1 Rupee, ... (2 Shillings)
Above 1, and not exceeding 2 ounces,
2 Rupees,..... (4 Shillings)

Above 2, and not exceeding 3 ounces,
3 Rupees,..... ..... (6 Shillings)
And so on, increasing 1 Rupee,.....(2 Shillings)
for every additional ounce, or fraction of the ounce.

As 5 ounces is the nearest integral of English weight to 12 Tolas, the maximum weight allowed for transmission by Dawk, it is indispensable that letters be not allowed to exceed that weight, to prevent the inconvenience of their being refused at the Post Office.

The option of pre-paying the British Postage is exclusively, limited to Letters transmitted in the Mails sent via Southampton, and such letters must bear the following superscription for the guidance of the Post Office Receivers, viz.

"BRITISH POSTAGE PRE-PAID,
"Via Southampton."

Letters not for places, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, or which may not require to pass through the English Post Office, to their ulterior destinations, will, as heretofore, be subject to Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postage, precisely at the same rates as those fixed for the levy of British pre-paid Postage.

British and Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea ages, are exclusive of the India ordinary Inland Postage.

It is strongly recommended, both for the convenience of the individuals bringing the letters, and of the Receivers at the Post Office, that Letters intended to be pre-paid should be accompanied by separate receipts, or be entered separately from other descriptions of letters in the Sender's Dawk Receipt Books.

N B.—These Rules, until further orders, are to apply only, to letters forwarded via Bombay, not to letters transmitted hence by the Steamers Bentinck and Hindostan.

Deputy Post Master.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency, including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,
Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade,
Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law 5 and 6 Victoria, C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may require such a Certificate in any case where they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 28th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

Hon'ble W. BAYLY,

NOTIFICATION.

AN Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years; and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

By order of the Hon'ble the President and Council of Education,

FRED. J. MOUAT, M. D.,
Secretary.

Council of Education,

DAMAGED OVERLAND LETTERS.

IN August 1840 by a Notice, repeatedly published, the Public was informed of the damage sustained by Letters sent to England, in the Overland Mails, owing to the use of Sealing-wax, when it was earnestly recommended that, in all possible cases, Letters for that conveyance, should be closed with wafers. This practice, it would appear, has not been generally adopted, seeing that a further representation has been made by the Home Post Office Authorities to the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, of the torn and mutilated state in which numerous Letters had reached London by a late Overland Mail from India, owing to the melting of the wax used in sealing them and their consequent adhesion to other Letters. It has, therefore, pleased the Right Hon'ble the Governor of Bengal to direct that a fresh Notice be published, cautioning the Public against the use of Sealing-wax, as regards Letters for transmission by the Overland Mails. And it is accordingly, hereby, strongly enjoined that, in closing such Letters in future, wafers may be used in every possible case instead of Sealing-wax.

L. J. H. GREY,
Post Master General.

Fort William, Genl. Post Office,

OVERLAND PRE-PAID LETTERS.

NOTICE.—With reference to the system of optional pre-payment of British Postage in India, upon Letters for places within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, which will come into operation on the 1st of the ensuing month of March, the following rates of Postage will be levied, namely,

Not exceeding ½ an ounce, 8 Annas,... (1 Shillings)
Above ½, and not exceeding 1 ounce,
1 Rupee, ... (2 Shillings)
Above 1, and not exceeding 2 ounces,
2 Rupees,..... (4 Shillings)
Above 2, and not exceeding 3 ounces,
3 Rupees,..... (6 Shillings)
And so on, increasing 1 Rupee,..... (2 Shillings)
for every additional ounce, or fraction of the ounce.

As 5 ounces is the nearest integral of English weight to 12 Tolas, the maximum weight allowed for transmission by Dawk, it is indispensable that letters be not allowed to exceed that weight, to prevent the inconvenience of their being refused at the Post Office.

The option of pre-paying the British Postage is exclusively, limited to Letters transmitted in the Mails sent via Southampton, and such letters must bear the following superscription for the guidance of the Post Office Receivers, viz.

"BRITISH POSTAGE PRE-PAID,
"Via Southampton."

Letters not for places, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain, or which may not require to pass through the English Post Office, to their ulterior destinations, will, as heretofore, be subject to Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postage, precisely at the same rates as those fixed for the levy of British pre-paid Postage.

British and Foreign Steamer, or Red Sea Postages, are exclusive of the India ordinary Inland Postage.

It is strongly recommended, both for the convenience of the individuals bringing the letters, and of the Receivers at the Post Office, that Letters intended to be pre-paid should be accompanied by separate receipts, or be entered separately from other descriptions of letters in the Sender's Dawk Receipt Books.

N. B.—These Rules, until further orders, are to apply only, to letters forwarded via Bombay, not to letters transmitted hence by the Steamers Bentinck and Hindostan.

WM. MOORE,
Deputy Post Master.

NOTICE.

Customs. THE following copy of a letter addressed by order of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to the Board of Commissioners for the Affairs of India, relative to a change in the Law as it affects the importation of Coffee into the United Kingdom, has been received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, and is hereby notified for the information of the Mercantile Community, and the guidance of the Authorities at the Ports of this Presidency, including those of the Straits and the Tenasserim Provinces.

By order of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, the 27th September, 1844.

H. TORRENS,
Secretary.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 25th May, 1844.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to call the attention of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India to the circumstance that the House of Commons has acceded to the repeal of the Clauses 5 and 6, William IV. C. 66, requiring absolutely that Coffee imported at the low Duty should be accompanied with a Certificate of origin, and that that Article now stands simply liable to the general Provisions of the Law 5 and 6 Victoria, C. 47, by which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may require such a Certificate in any case where they shall see cause for such a proceeding.

My Lords are desirous that the repeal of this clause should not be interpreted as meant to sanction any departure from the Spirit of the Law, restricting the benefit of the low Duty to the produce of British Possessions, and they are anxious that it should be pointed out by the proper Authorities to the Custom House Officers of the Ports of the East India Company's Territories, that no other Coffee except such as may be grown in Her Majesty's Dominions, can be lawfully entered as British Coffee in this Country, and further that if any information should reach my Lords of such a nature as to induce them to believe that Foreign Coffee is actually sent or likely to be sent to the Ports of the East India Company's Territories in order that it may be shipped from thence under a false designation, they will not hesitate to advise the Treasury to give directions under the 28th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Vict. C. 47, that henceforward no Coffee whatever shall be admitted at the low Duty without a Certificate of origin.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) JOHN G. SHAW LEFEVRE.

Hon'ble W. BARING,
&c. &c. &c.

DAMAGED OVERLAND LETTERS.

IN August 1840 by a Notice, repeatedly published, the Public was informed of the damage sustained by Letters sent to England, in the Overland Mails, owing to the use of Sealing-wax, when it was earnestly recommended that, in all possible cases, Letters for that conveyance, should be closed with wafers. This practice, it would appear, has not been generally adopted, seeing that a further representation has been made by the Home Post Office Authorities to the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, of the torn and mutilated state in which numerous Letters had reached London by a late Overland Mail from India, owing to the melting of the wax used in sealing them and their consequent adhesion to other Letters. It has, therefore, pleased the Right Hon'ble the Governor of Bengal to direct that a fresh Notice be published, cautioning the Public against the use of Sealing-wax, as regards Letters for transmission by the Overland Mails. And it is accordingly, hereby, strongly enjoined that, in closing such Letters in future, wafers may be used in every possible case instead of Sealing-wax.

Further particulars relative to the amount of qualification required, and the nature of the examination to which all candidates for public employment must be subjected, before they can be recommended to Government, will be made known hereafter.

NOTIFICATION.

AN Examination will be held on the 1st day of June 1845, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All Candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee Language, to enable them to read and write from dictation, or from a printed work, in the Persian or Devanagri character.

All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant Certificates of qualification to any Candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years: and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience, have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with Certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this, that the above measure has been adopted.

Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper Descriptive Roll may be prepared for transmission to the Examiners of the College of Fort William.

All Students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

No Candidate will be admitted to the School who is physically unfit for the duties of a Soldier.

By order of the Hon'ble the President and Council of Education,

FRED. J. MOUAT, M. D.,
Secretary.

[illegible] EXECUTIVE,

[illegible] THE 26TH OCTOBER, 1844.

ACT No. XX. OF 1844.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Advances bona fide made to Agents intrusted with Goods by extending to the Territories of the East India Company in cases governed by English Law, the Provisions of the Statute 5 and 6 Victoria C. 39, as altered by this Act.

Whereas by Act XIII. of 1840 the Provisions of the Statute 4, Geo. IV. C. 83, as altered and amended by the Statute 6, Geo. IV. C. 94, were extended to the Territories of the East India Company, in cases governed by English Law; and whereas by the Statute 5 and 6, Victoria C. 39, the said Statute 6, Geo. IV. C. 94, is altered and amended, and the Provisions thereof are extended:

It is hereby enacted, that the Statute 5 and 6, Victoria C. 39, as altered by this Act, shall from and after the passing of this Act, be extended to the Territories of the East India Company; provided always, that this Act shall not be construed to affect any case which would not have been governed by the Law of England before the passing of the last mentioned Statute, if this Act had not passed, or to extend or alter the jurisdiction of any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice.

The Statute hereby extended to the Territories of the East India Company and as altered by this Act, is as follows:

5 AND 6 VICT. CAP. XXXIX. as altered by this Act.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Advances bona fide made to Agents instrusted with Goods.

Whereas by an Act passed in the 6th year of the Reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled an Act to [illegible] and amend an Act for the better protection [illegible] perty of Merchants and others who may [illegible] ter into contracts or agreements in [illegible] Goods, Wares and Merchandize intrusted to Factors or Agents, validity is given, under certain circumstances, to contracts or agreements made with persons intrusted with, and in possession of the Documents of Title to Goods and Merchandize, and Consignees, making Advances to persons abroad [illegible] intrusted with any Goods and Merch[illegible] are entitled, under certain circumstances, [illegible] lien thereon, but under the said Act, and the present rule of the Law, Advances cannot safely be made [illegible] Goods or Documents to persons known to [illegible] possession thereof as Agents only: And [illegible] further [illegible] the said Act it is amongst other things any person to [illegible] that it shall be lawful to and for with any Goods, or to [illegible] amount intrusted consigned for the purchase of any such and to receive the same of and to pay for the same to such Agent, and such contract and payment shall be binding upon and good against the Owner of such Goods, notwithstanding such person shall have notice that the person making such contract, or on whose behalf such contract is made, is an Agent; provided such contract or payment be made in the usual and ordinary course of business, and that such person shall not when such contract is entered into or payment made, have notice that such Agent is not authorized to sell the same, or to receive the said Purchase Money;" And whereas Advances on the Security of Goods and Merchandize have become an usual and ordinary course of business, and it is expedient and necessary that reasonable and safe facilities should be afforded thereto, and that the same protection and validity should be extended to bona fide Advances upon Goods and Merchandize as by the said recited Act is given to Sales, and that Owners intrusting Agents with the possession of Goods and Merchandize, or of Documents of Title thereto, should in all cases where such Owners by the said recited Act or otherwise would be bound by a contract or agreement of Sale be in like manner bound by any contract or agreement of pledge or lien for any Advances bona fide made on the Security thereof. And whereas much litigation has arisen on the construction of the said recited Act, and the same does not extend to protect Exchanges of Securities bona fide made, and so much uncertainty exists in respect thereof, that it is expedient to alter and amend the same and to extend the Provisions thereof and to put the Law on a clear and certain basis. Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled and by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this Act any Agent who shall thereafter be intrusted with the possession of Goods, or of the Documents of Title to Goods shall be deemed and taken to be Owner of such Goods and Documents so far as to give validity to any contract or agreement by way of pledge, lien, or security bona fide made by any person with such Agent so intrusted, as aforesaid as well for any original Loan, Advance or Payment made upon the Security of such Goods or Documents, as also for any further or continuing Advance in respect thereof, and such contract or agreement shall be binding upon and good against the Owner of such Goods, and all other persons interested therein notwithstanding the person claiming such pledge or Lien may have had notice that the person with whom such contract or agreement is made is only an Agent.

Bona fide Advances to Persons intrusted with the possession of Goods or Documents of Title though known to be Agents, protected.

II. And be it enacted, that where any such contract or agreement for pledge, lien or security shall be made in consideration of the delivery or transfer to such Agent of any other Goods or Merchandize, or Document of Title or Negotiable Security upon which the person so delivering up the same had at the time a valid and available Lien and Security for or in respect of a pr[illegible] Advance by virtue of some contract or agree[illegible] made with such Agent, such contract [illegible]ment, if bonâ fide on the part of the [illegible] whom the same may be [illegible] be a [illegible] intent and meaning of this Act, and shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, and to the same extent, as if the consideration for the same had been a bonâ fide present Advance of money. Provided always that the Lien acquired under such last mentioned contract or agreement upon the Goods or Documents deposited in exchange shall not exceed the value at the time of the Goods and Merchandise which, or the Documents of Title to which, or the Negotiable Security which shall be delivered up and exchanged.

Bona fide Deposits in exchange protected,

III. Provided always, and be it enacted, that this Act and every matter and thing herein contained, shall be deemed and construed to give validity to such contracts and agreements only, and to protect only such Loans, Advances, and Exchanges, as shall be made bonâ fide and without notice that the Agent making such contracts or agreements as aforesaid has not authority to make the same, or is acting malâ fide in respect thereof against the Owner of such Goods and Merchandize; and nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to or protect any Lien or Pledge for or in respect of any antecedent debt, owing from any Agent to any person with or to whom such Lien or Pledge shall be given, nor to authorize any Agent intrusted as aforesaid in deviating from any express orders or authority received from the Owner; but that, for the purpose and to the intent of protecting all such bonâ fide Loans, Advances and Exchanges as aforesaid (though made with notice of such Agent not being the Owner

GOVERNMENT TEA PLANTATIONS IN ASSAM.

In consequence of the operations of the Government Experimental Tea Culture in Assam being about to be brought to a close, as notified in the Government Gazette No. 26, of the 1st April 1846, Tenders will be received at this Office for the purchase of the undermentioned Government Tea Barrees, together with Buildings, Manufacturing Implements, Tools, Stores, &c., attached thereto.

These Barrees have abundance of land fit for the growth of the Tea Plant in the vicinity, and admit of being greatly extended; they are situated within about 16 miles of the Sudder Station of the District, Dibroo Ghur, where there is a small temporary Bungalow belonging to the Concern. A good Road is now in progress through Muttuck, which will pass within a few hundred yards of the Dinjoy Barree, and this Road will be completed in the course of next cold season: the accompanying Sketch* will show the relative position of the Barrees.

To persons desirous of engaging in the Cultivation of Sugar Cane, in conjunction with that of the Tea Plant, these Barrees would be found particularly advantageous, as there is much fine fresh land in the vicinity of Dinjoy and Chubwa, well suited for the growth of the Cane, and which may be rented, to the extent required, from time to time, for cultivation: the present rent of such land, when actually taken up, being only 8 annas per poora.

With the Establishment at present attached to the Barrees, the purchaser would have to make his own arrangements; the Members, generally, are well acquainted with the process of the preparation of the Tea, in all its branches, and, if well superintended, would be equal to the duties of a greatly extended concern.

2d.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for Sale at an upset price of Rupees 400 per Chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price: Except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause the 12th of the Conditions of Sale.

3d.—The Sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A. M, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P. M; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for Sale shall remain unsold, the Sale may at the discretion of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public Holiday) at the hour of 11 A. M; and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the quantity of 2,405 Chests shall not be sold on the day advertized, the Board may dispose of the Lots which remain on hand at a future Sale.

4th.—Each Lot to contain Five Chests.

5th.—A deposit in a Promissory Note for 25 per Cent. even money of the amount for which each lot is knocked down shall be made by the purchaser in the Sale Room, and before the lot is Registered in the Sale Book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office, by Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or by substitution of other Public Securities of the Bengal Government, on or before 4 o'Clock of the afternoon of Wednesday, the 27th of January 1847; or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or deposit of other Public Securities as aforesaid, shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times, and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, shall see fit, and all losses and expences whatsoever attending such re-sale, shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6th.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of Sale, under the last mentioned Condition, if remaining unredeemed on the said 27th January 1847, will be placed in the hands of the Attorney to the Hon'ble Company for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8th.—The Opium now advertised for Sale shall be paid for within fifteen clear days from the day of Sale, that is to say, no Treasury Receipt will be accepted in payment after 4 P. M. of Tuesday the 9th of February 1847, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for, and adjusted, then the cash deposit of 25 per Cent. even money of the amount for which each lot is knocked down, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale, and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9th.—Purchasers taking out Certificates or Orders for the delivery of Opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each Certificate or Order, and it is to be clearly understood, that the Certificates or Orders so taken out shall be considered final and not afterwards changeable for other Certificates or Orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each Certificate or Order.

10th.—No Sub-Treasurer's Receipt, or Deposit of Public Securities, under the Fifth of the present Conditions, will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when clearance has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11th.—The Officer Superintending the Sale on the part of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, is empowered to reject at his discretion the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time, a deposit either in Bank of Bengal Notes, Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or other Government Securities, equal to 25 per Cent. even money of the amount so bid.

12th.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the Sale, it is hereby notified that the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale, shall be competent at any time during the Sale to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for Sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for Sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale shall also be competent to dispose in the same manner of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper; provided always, that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of 400 Rupees, specified in the 2d Clause of these Conditions.

13th.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession any number of lots of the same Agency Opium to the extent of twenty-five lots, and for the lots so purchased, the purchaser shall deposit for each lot 25 per Cent. even money of the amount bid by him for the first lot, and pay the same price per chest as that for which he purchased his first lot; provided always, that there remain a sufficient number of lots of that Opium to complete the said twenty-five, but not otherwise.

14th.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the Sale of the Opium included in this Notification, or adjustment of the accounts thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and all ordinary Plea and Pleas to the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court shall be waived.

15th.—The following Papers, together with samples of the Opium for Sale, will be exhibited for inspection on the day of Sale, or may be seen previously to that date, by application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium.

No. 1—Certificate of the Opium now advertized for Sale.

No. 2—Report of the Examination of such Opium.

16th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares

Opium for the years 1845-46, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the Drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the Drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of six chests from each dispatch at Calcutta, may be seen on application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium; and further that four chests of Behar and Benares Opium, which have been reserved from the provision of the two preceding years, will be also shewn to the purchasers on the day of Sale, to enable them to judge of the state of preservation in which the Drug has kept.

17th.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the Trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on application at the Office of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium; but in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred in reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in addition to the quantity above mentioned, the following quantities more or less of Behar and Benares Opium of 1845-46, will be brought to sale in the present season on or about the dates specified below:

No. 116.

PORT OF AKYAB, COAST OF ARRACAN.

The trade of the Port of Akyab having rapidly increased the attention of Mariners is now recalled to the existence of the Light on Faqeer's Point at its entrance, and to the following Sailing Directions for entering the Harbour, by Captain Paterson, published 1844. In these the Light above referred to, which was not at that time quite completed, was described as being erected on "Mosque Point," but this designation is now altered to "Faqeer's Point," which is understood to be that by which it is best known, and which is that applied to it by the Commissioner of the Province.

By order of the Officiating Superintendent of Marine,

JAS. SUTHERLAND, Secretary.

Fort William,
Marine Superintendent's Office,
The 9th January 1847.

Sailing Directions for the Port of Akyab, in the Arracan River.

Ships sailing for Akyab during the South Wes Monsoon should steer for the South end of Western Bolongo, in Lat. 19° 50′ N. Long. 93° 3′ E., then standing along the Coast to the Northward and Westward about five or six miles off shore, until the Light is sighted on the Great Savage, at the entrance of the Arracan River, then steer so as to bring it to bear N. by East or N. N. E., and if they intend to run in during the night, with either of these bearings, they will cross the bar in the best water, in three fathoms low water spring tides.

After deepening across it, the course should be altered to N. by W. or even N. N. W., according to the state of the Tide and Sea at the time to avoid the Western Rocks (above water) bearing from the Light S. W. ½ S., distant nearly half a mile; the Flood Tide sets in on these Rocks.

When the Light bears East in six to nine fathoms on the edge of the flat to the Westward, the course must be altered to N. N. E. and N. E. by N., having brought the Light to bear S. E. by S. ½ S., the Ship will be inside of Passage Rock, which is five to seven feet above water, and bears from the Savage Light N. W. ½ N., distant a quarter of a mile, and should then steer N. E. Easterly, to avoid the Reef projecting from Faqeer's Point a mile in extent to the South; some of the Rocks are above water at half ebb. There is a Red Buoy placed on the Southern entrance in about nine fathoms, which with attention may be seen in a clear night without the Moon, and after bringing Faqeer's Point to bear N. W. by N. to N. W. the Ship should anchor.

On Faqeer's Point a small Light House is nearly finished, the Light of which will be a deep red, and will be seen about six miles or three miles beyond the bar, as a leading mark to clear the Western Rocks, keeping it a little open to the Westward of the Savage Light when steering in or out, also to point out when the Ship is inside of the Reef off Faqeer's Point. With this Light bearing N. W. by N. to N. W. is good Anchorage, having excellent holding ground, and perfectly sheltered from the Sea.

A stranger should not attempt to run in at night, particularly in the rains, except at high or low water, as the ebb tide runs very rapidly in strong eddies off the Passage Rock, over the dangerous flat to the Westward, and the flood in strong eddies upon the Rocks.

During the N. E. Monsoon Ships bound to Akyab, from the Northward, should endeavour to make the Table Land of the Western Bolongo in Lat. 20° 1′ N., then steering due East they will avoid the Oyster Reef in Lat. 20° 5′ N., Long. 92° 40′ East, which is distant from the Savage Light fifteen miles due West. This course is recommended, as although in favourable weather the Savage Light is seen outside the Reef in 16 to 17 fathoms water, the depth suddenly decreases, and the probability of hazy or rainy weather would prevent the Light being seen, and steering boldly in to sight it, to the Northward of Lat. 20° 1′, would endanger the safety of the Vessel, by suddenly falling upon the Oyster Rock or Reef before sighting the Light House.

I would not advise strangers on any occasion to make use of the channel inside of the Oyster Rock or Reef.

JAMES PATERSON,
Comdr. H. Co.'s Ship Amherst.

No. 116.

PORT OF AKYAB, COAST OF ARRACAN.

The trade of the Port of Akyab having rapidly increased the attention of Mariners is now recalled to the existence of the Light on Faqeer's Point at its entrance, and to the following Sailing Directions for entering the Harbour, by Captain Paterson, published 1844. In these the Light above referred to, which was not at that time quite completed, was described as being erected on "Mosque Point," but this designation is now altered to "Faqeer's Point," which is understood to be that by which it is best known, and which is that applied to it by the Commissioner of the Province.

By order of the Officiating Superintendent of Marine,

JAS. SUTHERLAND, Secretary.

Fort William,
Marine Superintendent's Office,
The 9th January 1847.

Sailing Directions for the Port of Akyab, in the Arracan River.

Ships sailing for Akyab during the South West Monsoon should steer for the South end of Western Bolongo, in Lat. 19° 50′ N. Long. 93° 3′ E., then standing along the Coast to the Northward and Westward about five or six miles off shore, until the Light is sighted on the Great Savage, at the entrance of the Arracan River, then steer so as to bring it to bear N. by East or N. N. E., and if they intend to run in during the night, with either of these bearings, they will cross the bar in the best water, in three fathoms low water spring tides.

After deepening across it, the course should be altered to N. by W. or even N. N. W., according to the state of the Tide and Sea at the time to avoid the Western Rocks (above water) bearing from the Light S. W. ½ S., distant nearly half a mile; the Flood Tide sets in on these Rocks.

When the Light bears East in six to nine fathoms on the edge of the flat to the Westward, the course must be altered to N. N. E. and N. E. by N., having brought the Light to bear S. E. by S. ½ S., the Ship will be inside of Passage Rock, which is five to seven feet above water, and bears from the Savage Light N. W. ½ N., distant a quarter of a mile, and should then steer N. E. Easterly, to avoid the Reef projecting from Faqeer's Point a mile in extent to the South; some of the Rocks are above water at half ebb. There is a Red Buoy placed on the Southern entrance in about nine fathoms, which with attention may be seen in a clear night without the Moon, and after bringing Faqeer's Point to bear N. W. by N: to N. W. the Ship should anchor.

On Faqeer's Point a small Light-House is nearly finished, the Light of which will be a deep red, and will be seen about six miles or three miles beyond the bar, as a leading mark to clear the Western Rocks, keeping it a little open to the Westward of the Savage Light when steering in or out, also to point out when the Ship is inside of the Reef off Faqeer's Point. With this Light bearing N. W. by N. to N. W. is good Anchorage, having excellent holding ground, and perfectly sheltered from the Sea.

A stranger should not attempt to run in at night, particularly in the rains, except at high or low water, as the ebb tide runs very rapidly in strong eddies off the Passage Rock, over the dangerous flat to the Westward, and the flood in strong eddies upon the Rocks.

During the N. E. Monsoon Ships bound to Akyab, from the Northward, should endeavour to make the Table Land of the Western Bolongo in Lat. 20° 1′ N., then steering due East they will avoid the Oyster Reef in Lat. 20° 5′ N., Long. 92° 40′ East, which is distant from the Savage Light fifteen miles due West. This course is recommended, as although in favourable weather the Savage Light is seen outside the Reef in 16 to 17 fathoms water, the depth suddenly decreases, and the probability of hazy or rainy weather would prevent the Light being seen, and steering boldly in to sight it, to the Northward of Lat. 20° 1′, would endanger the safety of the Vessel, by suddenly falling upon the Oyster Rock or Reef, before sighting the Light House.

I would not advise strangers on any occasion to make use of the channel inside of the Oyster Rock or Reef.

JAMES PATERSON,
Comdr. H. Co.'s Ship Amherst.

7th.—No Tender of Money, Sub-Treasurer's Receipts or Public Securities, on account of Opium, upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'Clock of the 27th January 1847, will be afterwards accepted.

8th.—The Opium now advertised for Sale shall be paid for within fifteen clear days from the day of Sale, that is to say, no Treasury Receipt will be accepted in payment after 4 P. M. of Tuesday the 9th of February 1847, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for, and adjusted, then the cash deposit of 25 per Cent. even money of the amount for which each lot is knocked down, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale, and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9th.—Purchasers taking out Certificates or Orders for the delivery of Opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each Certificate or Order, and it is to be clearly understood, that the Certificates or Orders so taken out shall be considered final and not afterwards changeable for other Certificates or Orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each Certificate or Order.

10th.—No Sub-Treasurer's Receipt, or Deposit of Public Securities, under the Fifth of the present Conditions, will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when clearance has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11th.—The Officer Superintending the Sale on the part of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, is empowered to reject at his discretion the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time, a deposit either in Bank of Bengal Notes, Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or other Government Securities, equal to 25 per Cent. even money of the amount so bid.

12th.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the Sale, it is hereby notified that the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale, shall be competent at any time during the Sale to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for Sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for Sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale shall also be competent to dispose in the same manner of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper; provided always, that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of 400 Rupees, specified in the 2d Clause of these Conditions.

13th.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession any number of lots of the same Agency Opium to the extent of twenty-five lots, and for the lots so purchased, the purchaser shall deposit for each lot 25 per Cent. even money of the amount bid by him for the first lot, and pay the same price per chest as that for which he purchased his first lot; provided always, that there remain a sufficient number of lots of that Opium to complete the said twenty-five, but not otherwise.

14th.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the Sale of the Opium included in this Notification, or adjustment of the accounts thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and all and every Plea and Pleas to the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court shall be waived.

15th.—The following Papers, together with samples of the Opium for Sale, will be exhibited for inspection on the day of Sale, or may be seen previously to that date, by application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium.

No. 1—Certificate of the Opium now advertised for Sale.

No. 2—Report of the Examination of such Opium.

16th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the years 1845-46, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the Drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the Drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of six chests from each dispatch at Calcutta, may be seen on application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, and further that four chests of Behar and Benares Opium, which have been reserved from the provision of the two preceding years, will be also shewn to the purchasers on the day of Sale, to enable them to judge of the state of preservation in which the Drug has kept.

17th.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the Trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on application at the Office of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium; but in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred in reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in addition to the quantity above mentioned, the following quantities more or less of Behar and Benares Opium of 1845-46, will be brought to sale in the present season on or about the dates specified below:

No. 116.

PORT OF AKYAB, COAST OF ARRACAN.

The trade of the Port of Akyab having rapidly increased the attention of Mariners is now recalled to the existence of the Light on Faqeer's Point at its entrance, and to the following Sailing Directions for entering the Harbour, by Captain Paterson, published 1844. In these the Light above referred to, which was not at that time quite completed, was described as being erected on "Mosque Point," but this designation is now altered to "Faqeer's Point," which is understood to be that by which it is best known, and which is that applied to it by the Commissioner of the Province.

By order of the Officiating Superintendent of Marine,

JAS. SUTHERLAND, Secretary.

Fort William,
Marine Superintendent's Office,
The 9th January 1847.

Sailing Directions for the Port of Akyab, in the Arracan River.

Ships sailing for Akyab during the South West Monsoon should steer for the South end of Western Bolongo, in Lat. 19° 50′ N. Long. 93° 3′ E., then standing along the Coast to the Northward and Westward about five or six miles off shore, until the Light is sighted on the Great Savage, at the entrance of the Arracan River, then steer so as to bring it to bear N. by East or N. N. E., and if they intend to run in during the night, with either of these bearings, they will cross the bar in the best water, in three fathoms low water spring tides.

After deepening across it, the course should be altered to N. by W. ½ W. even N. N. W., according to the state of the Tide and Sea at the time to avoid the Western Rocks (above water) bearing from the Light S. W. ½ S., distant nearly half a mile; the Flood Tide sets in on these Rocks.

When the Light bears East in six to nine fathoms on the edge of the flat to the Westward, the course must be altered to N. N. E. and N. E. by N., having brought the Light to bear S. E. by S. ½ S., the Ship will be inside of Passage Rock, which is five to seven feet above water, and bears from the Savage Light N. W. ½ N., distant a quarter of a mile, and should then steer N. E. Easterly, to avoid the Reef projecting from Faqeer's Point a mile in extent to the South; some of the Rocks are above water at half ebb. There is a Red Buoy placed on the Southern entrance in about nine fathoms, which with attention may be seen in a clear night without the Moon, and after bringing Faqeer's Point to bear N. W. by N. to N. W. the Ship should anchor.

On Faqeer's Point a small Light House is nearly finished, the Light of which will be a deep red, and will be seen about six miles or three miles beyond the bar, as a leading mark to clear the Western Rocks, keeping it a little open to the Westward of the Savage Light when steering in or out, also to point out when the Ship is inside of the Reef off Faqeer's Point. With this Light bearing N. W. by N. to N. W. is good Anchorage, having excellent holding ground, and perfectly sheltered from the Sea.

A stranger should not attempt to run in at night, particularly in the rains, except at high or low water, as the ebb tide runs very rapidly in strong eddies off the Passage Rock, over the dangerous flat to the Westward, and the flood in strong eddies upon the Rocks.

During the N. E. Monsoon Ships bound to Akyab, from the Northward, should endeavour to make the Table Land of the Western Bolongo in Lat. 20° 1′ N., then steering due East they will avoid the Oyster Reef in Lat. 20° 5′ N., Long. 92° 40′ East, which is distant from the Savage Light fifteen miles due West. This course is recommended, as although in favourable weather the Savage Light is seen outside the Reef in 16 to 17 fathoms water, the depth suddenly decreases, and the probability of hazy or rainy weather would prevent the Light being seen, and steering boldly in to sight it, to the Northward of Lat. 20° 1′, would endanger the safety of the Vessel, by suddenly falling upon the Oyster Rock or Reef before sighting the Light House.

I would not advise strangers on any occasion to make use of the channel inside of the Oyster Rock or Reef.

Comdr. H. Co.'s Ship Amherst.

9th.—Purchasers taking out Certificates or Orders for the delivery of Opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each Certificate or Order, and it is to be clearly understood, that the Certificates or Orders so taken out shall be considered final and not afterwards changeable for other Certificates or Orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each Certificate or Order.

10th.—No Sub-Treasurer's Receipt, or Deposit of Public Securities, under the Fifth of the present Conditions, will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorised Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when clearance has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11th.—The Officer Superintending the Sale on the part of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, is empowered to reject at his discretion the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time, a deposit either in Bank of Bengal Notes, Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or other Government Securities, equal to 25 per Cent. even money of the amount so bid.

12th.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the Sale, it is hereby notified that the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale, shall be competent at any time during the Sale to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for Sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bona fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for Sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale shall also be competent to dispose in the same manner of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper; provided always, that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of 400 Rupees, specified in the 2d Clause of these Conditions.

13th.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession any number of lots of the same Agency Opium to the extent of twenty-five lots, and for the lots so purchased, the purchaser shall deposit for each lot 25 per Cent. even money of the amount bid by him for the first lot, and pay the same price per chest as that for which he purchased his first lot; provided always, that there remain a sufficient number of lots of that Opium to complete the said twenty-five, but not otherwise.

14th.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the Sale of the Opium included in this Notification, or adjustment of the accounts thereof, the same shall and may be tried, and decided in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and all and every Plea and Pleas to the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court shall be waived.

15th.—The following Papers, together with samples of the Opium for Sale, will be exhibited for inspection on the day of Sale, or may be seen previously to that date, by application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium.

No. 1—Certificate of the Opium now advertised for Sale.

No. 2—Report of the Examination of such Opium.

16th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the years 1845-46, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the Drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the Drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of six chests from each dispatch at Calcutta, may be seen on application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, and further that four chests of Behar and Benares Opium, which have been reserved from the provision of the two preceding years, will be also shewn to the purchasers on the day of Sale, to enable them to judge of the state of preservation in which the Drug has kept.

17th.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the Trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on application at the Office of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium; but, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred in reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in addition to the quantity above mentioned, the following quantities more or less of Behar and Benares Opium of 1845-46, will be brought to sale in the present season on or about the dates specified below:

Colonel G. Campbell, C. B., of Her Majesty's 98th Foot, to be a Brigadier of the 2d Class, and to Command at Lahore.

Captain F. W. Burroughs, of the 17th Regiment of Native Infantry, to be Deputy Assistant Adjutant General of the Punjab Division.

Brevet Major H. Palmer, of the 48th Regiment of Native Infantry, to be Major of Brigade in the Jullundur Dooab.

Captain D. C. Keillar, of the 6th Regiment of Native Infantry, to be Major of Brigade at Lahore.

The Malwah Field Force is no longer to be so designated. It is henceforward constituted a 2d Class Brigade Command.

Colonel J. Tulloh, C. B., of the 16th Regiment Native Infantry, is appointed a Brigadier of the 2d Class, to complete the Establishment.

Major General Sir J. H. Littler, K. C. B., Commanding the Punjab Division, will be pleased to assemble a Medical Committee for the purpose of examining the Seikh Cantonment of Anarkullee, and reporting on its fitness in point of salubrity, as a Station for a portion of the occupying Force.

Besides carefully inspecting the whole locality, the Committee will seek from any parties capable of affording it, all available information with respect to the health of the Seikh Troops during their occupation of that Cantonment.

Captain Tremenheere, Garrison Engineer, will attend the Committee.

In General Orders by the Governor General of the 12th February 1846, the Allowances granted to the Native Troops serving in Scinde when in the Field, by General Orders by the Governor General in Council, No. 261 A of the 15th August 1845, were extended to the Army of the Sutlege on occasion of its crossing that river; and in General Orders by the Governor General in the Foreign Department, of the 8th March 1846, those Allowances were continued to the Native Troops left for the temporary occupation of Lahore, as these Corps being considered in the Field, and liable to move at the shortest notice, were obliged to keep up their Marching Establishments.

2. Most of these Corps having been relieved, the Troops now occupying Lahore, under different circumstances, are not required to keep up their Marching Establishments, and will therefore be placed exactly on the same footing as the Troops serving in Scinde, that is to say, they will receive Scinde Cantonment Allowances while in Garrison or Cantonment, but will be entitled to Scinde Field Allowances in addition, whenever they march or take the Field.

3. This arrangement to have effect from the dates on which the relieving Corps discharge their Extra Establishment.

No. 116.

PORT OF AKYAB, COAST OF ARRACAN.

The trade of the Port of Akyab having rapidly increased the attention of Mariners is now recalled to the existence of the Light on Faqeer's Point at its entrance, and to the following Sailing Directions for entering the Harbour, by Captain Paterson, published 1844. In these the Light above referred to, which was not at that time quite completed, was described as being erected on "Mosque Point," but this designation is now altered to "Faqeer's Point," which is understood to be that by which it is best known, and which is that applied to it by the Commissioner of the Province.

By order of the Officiating Superintendent of Marine,

JAS. SUTHERLAND, Secretary.

Fort William,
Marine Superintendent's Office,
The 9th January 1847.

Sailing Directions for the Port of Akyab, in the Arracan River.

Ships sailing for Akyab during the South West Monsoon should steer for the South end of Western Bolongo, in Lat. 19° 50′ N. Long. 93° 3′ E., then standing along the Coast to the Northward and Westward about five or six miles off shore, until the Light is sighted on the Great Savage, at the entrance of the Arracan River, then steer so as to bring it to bear N. by East or N. N. E., and if they intend to run in during the night, with either of these bearings, they will cross the bar in the best water, in three fathoms low water spring tides.

After deepening across it, the course should be altered to N. by W. or even N. N. W., according to the state of the Tide and Sea at the time, to avoid the Western Rocks (above water) bearing from the Light S. W. ½ S., distant nearly half a mile; the Flood Tide sets in on these Rocks.

When the Light bears East in six to nine fathoms on the edge of the flat to the Westward, the course must be altered to N. N. E. and N. E. by N., having brought the Light to bear S. E. by S. ½ S., the Ship will be inside of Passage Rock, which is five to seven feet above water, and bears from the Savage Light N. W. ½ N., distant a quarter of a mile, and should then steer N. E. Easterly, to avoid the Reef projecting from Faqeer's Point a mile in extent to the South; some of the Rocks are above water at half ebb. There is a Red Buoy placed on the Southern entrance in about nine fathoms, which with attention may be seen in a clear night without the Moon, and after bringing Faqeer's Point to bear N. W. by N. to N. W. the Ship should anchor.

On Faqeer's Point a small Light House is nearly finished, the Light of which will be a deep red, and will be seen about six miles or three miles beyond the bar, as a leading mark to clear the Western Rocks, keeping it a little open to the Westward of the Savage Light when steering in or out, also to point out when the Ship is inside of the Reef off Faqeer's Point. With this Light bearing N. W. by N. to N. W. is good Anchorage, having excellent holding ground, and perfectly sheltered from the Sea.

A stranger should not attempt to run in at night, particularly in the rains, except at high or low water, as the ebb tide runs very rapidly in strong eddies off the Passage Rock, over the dangerous flat to the Westward, and the flood in strong eddies upon the Rocks.

During the N. E. Monsoon Ships bound to Akyab, from the Northward, should endeavour to make the Table Land of the Western Bolongo in Lat. 20° 1′ N., then steering due East they will avoid the Oyster Reef in Lat. 20° 5′ N., Long. 92° 40′ East, which is distant from the Savage Light fifteen miles due West. This course is recommended, as although in favourable weather the Savage Light is seen outside the Reef in 16 to 17 fathoms water, the depth suddenly decreases, and the probability of hazy or rainy weather would prevent the Light being seen, and steering boldly on to sight it, to the Northward of Lat. 20° 1′, would endanger the safety of the Vessel, by suddenly falling upon the Oyster Rock or Reef before sighting the Light House.

I would not advise strangers on any occasion to make use of the channel inside of the Oyster Rock or Reef.

JAMES PATERSON,
Comdr. H. Co.'s Ship Amherst.

Secretary.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1st.—The Opium will be sold for Exportation by Sea only, and no Certificate will be granted except to cover such Export.

2d.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for Sale at an upset price of Rupees 400 per Chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price: Except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause the 12th of the Conditions of Sale.

3d.—The Sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A. M., and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P. M; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for Sale shall remain unsold, the Sale may at the discretion of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public Holiday) at the hour of 11 A. M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the quantity of 2,405 Chests shall not be sold on the day advertized, the Board may dispose of the Lots which remain on hand at a future Sale.

4th.—Each Lot to contain Five Chests.

5th.—A deposit in a Promissory Note for 25 per Cent. even money of the amount for which each lot is knocked down shall be made by the purchaser in the Sale Room, and before the lot is Registered in the Sale Book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office, by Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or by substitution of other Public Securities of the Bengal Government, on or before 4 o'Clock of the afternoon of Wednesday, the 27th of January 1847; or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or deposit of other Public Securities as aforesaid, shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times, and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, shall see fit, and all losses and expences whatsoever attending such re-sale, shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6th.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of Sale, under the last mentioned Condition, if remaining unredeemed on the said 27th January 1847, will be placed in the hands of the Attorney to the Hon'ble Company for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8th.—The Opium now advertised for Sale shall be paid for within fifteen clear days from the day of Sale, that is to say, no Treasury Receipt will be accepted in payment after 4 P. M. of Tuesday the 9th of February 1847, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for, and adjusted, then the cash deposit of 25 per Cent. even money of the amount for which each lot is knocked down, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale, and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9th.—Purchasers taking out Certificates or Orders for the delivery of Opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each Certificate or Order, and it is to be clearly understood, that the Certificates or Orders so taken out shall be considered final and not afterwards changeable for other Certificates or Orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each Certificate or Order.

10th.—No Sub-Treasurer's Receipt, or Deposit of Public Securities, under the Fifth of the present Conditions, will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when clearance has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11th.—The Officer Superintending the Sale on the part of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, is empowered to reject at his discretion the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time, a deposit either in Bank of Bengal Notes, Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or other Government Securities, equal to 25 per Cent. even money of the amount so bid.

12th.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the Sale, it is hereby notified that the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale, shall be competent at any time during the Sale to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for Sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for Sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale shall also be competent to dispose in the same manner of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper; provided always, that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of 400 Rupees, specified in the 2d Clause of these Conditions.

13th.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession any number of lots of the same Agency Opium to the extent of twenty-five lots, and for the lots so purchased, the purchaser shall deposit for each lot 25 per Cent. even money of the amount bid by him for the first lot, and pay the same price per chest as that for which he purchased his first lot; provided always, that there remain a sufficient number of lots of that Opium to complete the said twenty-five, but not otherwise.

14th.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the Sale of the Opium included in this Notification, or adjustment of the Accounts thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and all and every Plea and Pleas to the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court shall be waived.

15th.—The following Papers, together with samples of the Opium for Sale, will be exhibited for inspection on the day of Sale, or may be seen previously to that date, by application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium.

No. 1—Certificate of the Opium now advertized for Sale.

No. 2—Report of the Examination of such Opium.

16th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the years 1845-46, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the Drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the Drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of six chests from each dispatch at Calcutta, may be seen on application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, and further that four chests of Behar and Benares Opium, which have been reserved from the provision of the two preceding years, will be also shewn to the purchasers on the day of Sale, to enable them to judge of the state of preservation in which the Drug has kept.

17th.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the Trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on application at the Office of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium; but in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred in reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in addition to the quantity above mentioned, the following quantities more or less of Behar and Benares Opium of 1845-46, will be brought to sale in the present season on or about the dates specified below:

GOVERNMENT TEA PLANTATIONS IN ASSAM.

In consequence of the operations of the Government Experimental Tea Culture in Assam being about to be brought to a close, as notified in the Government Gazette No. 26, of the 1st April 1846, Tenders will be received at this Office for the purchase of the undermentioned Government Tea Barrees, together with Buildings, Manufacturing Implements, Tools, Stores, &c., attached thereto.

These Barrees have abundance of land fit for the growth of the Tea Plant in the vicinity, and admit of being greatly extended; they are situated within about 16 miles of the Sudder Station of the District, Dibroo Ghur, where there is a small temporary Bungalow belonging to the Concern. A good Road is now in progress through Muttuck, which will pass within a few hundred yards of the Dinjoy Barree, and this Road will be completed in the course of next cold season: the accompanying Sketch* will show the relative position of the Barrees.

To persons desirous of engaging in the Cultivation of Sugar Cane, in conjunction with that of the Tea Plant, these Barrees would be found particularly advantageous, as there is much fine fresh land in the vicinity of Dinjoy and Chubwa, well suited for the growth of the Cane, and which may be rented, to the extent required, from time to time, for cultivation: the present rent of such land, when actually taken up, being only 8 annas per poora.

With the Establishment at present attached to the Barrees, the purchaser would have to make his own arrangements; the Members, generally, are well acquainted with the process of the preparation of the Tea, in all its branches, and, if well superintended, would be equal to the duties of a greatly extended concern.

General Orders by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India.

Home Department, Camp Bheranah, the 12th January, 1847.

1. The Governor General is pleased to direct that all Public Works carried on, by order of the Government, whether under the direction of its own Officers, or through the Agency of Contractors, shall be discontinued on the Sunday.

2. Cases of urgent necessity, in which delay would be detrimental to the Public Service, are to be considered as cases of exception, and all such cases will be immediately reported to the Military Board for their special orders, and for the information of the Government. The Officer in charge of the work will act on his own discretion, where delay in waiting for the sanction of the Board would be attended with injurious consequences

3. The cessation of work on the Sunday shall be an understood condition in all future contracts for Public Works, whether an express provision to that effect be inserted in the deed of contract or not. No claim therefore of addition to the amount of the contract on account of the suspension of labor on Sundays shall be admitted in reference to any engagements executed subsequently to the date of this notification.

4. An order to this effect has been enforced since January 1843 by the Bombay Government, and the Governor General has much satisfaction in extending the rule which it enjoins to the other Presidencies subordinate to the Government of India.

The Officer Commanding Regiment of

Sir,—The arrangements for the settlement with Soldiers on their discharge from the Army, and the allowances made to them on such occasion, having been under consideration, I have the honor to signify to you Her Majesty's pleasure, that in every case of the discharge of a Soldier in Great Britain or Ireland, whether with or without Pension or Gratuity; except when he is discharged by purchase, or for bad conduct, the following rules shall be observed from and after the 1st January 1847, instead of those hitherto applicable, viz.

Rule 1. The discharged Soldier, whatsoever shall have been his rank, or the rate of his Pay, at the time of his discharge, shall receive an allowance of one Shilling a day for twenty days from the date of his discharge; and, if he shall have necessarily attended at Kilmainham, for the completion there of his discharge, this allowance shall be extended to twenty-five days; and in case the Soldier shall been entitled to a higher rate of Pension than one Shilling a day, he shall receive the difference between the allowance of one Shilling and his rate of Pension for the twenty or twenty-five days respectively.

Rule 2. He shall also be provided at the public expense, with a conveyance to his home or intended place of residence, if not more distant than the place of his original enlistment, by Steam Vessel or Railway, as far as either shall be available, and least expensive; and when not available, by such other suitable means, as shall be found at a cost not exceeding Railway fare.

Rule 3. If any part of the distance shall be necessarily travelled on foot and the Pension of the discharged Soldier shall not exceed one Shilling a day, he shall receive for every complete ten miles, and the proportion over, if not less than five miles, of such part of the distance, an allowance of six Pence, or, if his Pension exceed one Shilling, and be less than one Shilling and six Pence a day, the difference between those rates. But no allowance for distance travelled on foot shall be issued to a discharged Soldier, whose Pension amounts to one Shilling and six Pence a day.

Rule 4. The stoppage to be made from the discharged Soldier for Rations, when actually supplied to him on board any Steam, or other Vessel, in proceeding to his home or intended place of residence, shall be six Pence a day.

Rule 5. For the discharged Soldier's Wife and Children, conveyance at the public expense shall also be provided for the same distance, and in the same manner as for himself, as stated in Rule No. 2. And for such distance as shall be necessarily travelled on foot, as adverted to in Rule No. 3, an allowance of three half-pence a mile shall be issued for the Wife, and one Penny a mile for each Child not above fourteen years of age.

Rule 6. If the discharged Soldier with his Wife and Children shall be unavoidably detained at any Port waiting for a passage by Steam or other Vessel to proceed to his home or intended place of residence, an allowance of ten Pence a day for the period of such detention, except for the day of arrival, and that of embarkation, shall be issued for the Wife, and six Pence a day for each Child not above fourteen years of age. And when Rations in kind at the public expense shall not be supplied, on such passage, an allowance of six Pence a day for the probable period of the passage shall be issued for the Wife, and three Pence a day for each Child not above fourteen years of age.

I have to add, that appropriate Forms for charging these allowances will be supplied from this office upon requisition in the usual course.

PORT OF AKYAB, COAST OF ARRACAN.

The trade of the Port of Akyab having rapidly increased the attention of Mariners is now recalled to the existence of the Light on Faqeer's Point at its entrance, and to the following Sailing Directions for entering the Harbour, by Captain Paterson, published 1844. In these the Light above referred to, which was not at that time quite completed, was described as being erected on "Mosque Point," but this designation is now altered to "Faqeer's Point," which is understood to be that by which it is best known, and which is that applied to it by the Commissioner of the Province.

By order of the Officiating Superintendent of Marine,

JAS. SUTHERLAND, Secretary.

Fort William,
Marine Superintendent's Office,
The 9th January 1847.

Sailing Directions for the Port of Akyab, in the Arracan River.

Ships sailing for Akyab during the South West Monsoon should steer for the South end of Western Bolongo, in Lat. 19° 50′ N. Long. 93° 3′ E., then standing along the Coast to the Northward and Westward about five or six miles off shore, until the Light is sighted on the Great Savage, at the entrance of the Arracan River, then steer so as to bring it to bear N. by East or N. N. E., and if they intend to run in during the night, with either of these bearings, they will cross the bar in the best water, in three fathoms low water spring tides.

After deepening across it, the course should be altered to N. by W. or even N. N. W., according to the state of the Tide and Sea at the time to avoid the Western Rocks (above water) bearing from the Light S. W. ½ S., distant nearly half a mile, the Flood Tide sets in on these Rocks.

When the Light bears East in six to nine fathoms on the edge of the flat to the Westward, the course must be altered to N. N. E. and N. E. by N., having brought the Light to bear S. E. by S. ½ S., the Ship will be inside of Passage Rock, which is five to seven feet above water, and bears from the Savage Light N. W. ½ N., distant a quarter of a mile, and should then steer N. E. Easterly, to avoid the Reef projecting from Faqeer's Point a mile in extent to the South; some of the Rocks are above water at half ebb. There is a Red Buoy placed on the Southern entrance in about nine fathoms, which with attention may be seen in a clear night without the Moon, and after bringing Faqeer's Point to bear N. W. by N. to N. W. the Ship should anchor.

On Faqeer's Point a small Light House is nearly finished, the Light of which will be a deep red, and will be seen about six miles or three miles beyond the bar, as a leading mark to clear the Western Rocks, keeping it a little open to the Westward of the Savage Light when steering in or out, also to point out when the Ship is inside of the Reef off Faqeer's Point. With this Light bearing N. W. by N. to N. W. is good Anchorage, having excellent holding ground, and perfectly sheltered from the Sea.

A stranger should not attempt to run in at night, particularly in the rains, except at high or low water, as the ebb tide runs very rapidly in strong eddies off the Passage Rock, over the dangerous flat to the Westward, and the flood in strong eddies upon the Rocks.

During the N. E. Monsoon Ships bound to Akyab, from the Northward, should endeavour to make the Table Land of the Western Bolongo in Lat. 20° 1′ N., then steering due East they will avoid the Oyster Reef in Lat. 20° 5′ N., Long. 92° 40′ East, which is distant from the Savage Light fifteen miles due West. This course is recommended, as although in favourable weather the Savage Light is seen outside the Reef in 16 to 17 fathoms water, the depth suddenly decreases, and the probability of hazy or rainy weather would prevent the Light being seen, and steering boldly in to sight it, to the Northward of Lat. 20° 1′, would endanger the safety of the Vessel, by suddenly falling upon the Oyster Rock or Reef before sighting the Light House.

I would not advise strangers on any occasion to make use of the channel inside of the Oyster Rock or Reef.

JAMES PATERSON,
Comdr. H. Co.'s Ship Amherst.

Secretary.

4th.—Each Lot to contain Five Chests.

5th.—A deposit in a Promissory Note for 25 per Cent. even money of the amount for which each lot is knocked down shall be made by the purchaser in the Sale Room, and before the lot is Registered in the Sale Book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office, by Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or by substitution of other Public Securities of the Bengal Government, on or before 4 o'Clock of the afternoon of Wednesday, the 27th of January 1847; or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or deposit of other Public Securities as aforesaid, shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times, and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, shall see fit, and all losses and expences whatsoever attending such re-sale, shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6th.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of Sale, under the last mentioned Condition, if remaining unredeemed on the said 27th January 1847, will be placed in the hands of the Attorney to the Hon'ble Company for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7th.—No Tender of Money, Sub-Treasurer's Receipts or Public Securities, on account of Opium, upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'Clock of the 27th January 1847, will be afterwards accepted.

8th.—The Opium now advertised for Sale shall be paid for within fifteen clear days from the day of Sale, that is to say, no Treasury Receipt will be accepted in payment after 4 P. M. of Tuesday the 9th of February 1847, and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for, and adjusted, then the cash deposit of 25 per Cent even money of the amount for which each lot is knocked down, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale, and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9th.—Purchasers taking out Certificates or Orders for the delivery of Opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each Certificate or Order, and it is to be clearly understood, that the Certificates or Orders so taken out shall be considered final and not afterwards changeable for other Certificates or Orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each Certificate or Order.

10th.—No Sub-Treasurer's Receipt, or Deposit of Public Securities, under the Fifth of the present Conditions, will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when clearance has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11th.—The Officer Superintending the Sale on the part of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, is empowered to reject at his discretion the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time, a deposit either in Bank of Bengal Notes, Sub-Treasurer's Receipts, or other Government Securities, equal to 25 per Cent, even money of the amount so bid.

12th.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the Sale, it is hereby notified that the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale, shall be competent at any time during the Sale to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for Sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for Sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the Officer of Government Superintending the Sale shall also be competent to dispose in the same manner of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper; provided always, that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of 400 Rupees, specified in the 2d Clause of these Conditions.

13th.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession any number of lots of the same Agency Opium to the extent of twenty-five lots, and for the lots so purchased, the purchaser shall deposit for each lot 25 per Cent. even money of the amount bid by him for the first lot, and pay the same price per chest as that for which he purchased his first lot; provided always, that there remain a sufficient number of lots of that Opium to complete the said twenty-five, but not otherwise.

14th.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the Sale of the Opium included in this Notification, or adjustment of the accounts thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and all and every Plea and Pleas to the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court shall be waived.

15th.—The following Papers, together with samples of the Opium for Sale, will be exhibited for inspection on the day of Sale, or may be seen previously to that date, by application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium.

No. 1—Certificate of the Opium now advertised for Sale.

No. 2—Report of the Examination of such Opium.

16th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the years 1845-46, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years, to have the Drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the Drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of six chests from each dispatch at Calcutta, may be seen on application at the Office of the Secretary to the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, and further that four chests of Behar and Benares Opium, which have been reserved from the provision of the two preceding years, will be also shewn to the purchasers on the day of Sale, to enable them to judge of the state of preservation in which the Drug has kept.

17th.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the Trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on application at the Office of the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium; but in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred in reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18th.—The Public are hereby informed, that in addition to the quantity above mentioned, the following quantities more or less of Behar and Benares Opium of 1845-46, will be brought to sale in the present season on or about the dates specified below;

GOVERNMENT TEA PLANTATIONS IN ASSAM.

In consequence of the operations of the Government Experimental Tea Culture in Assam being about to be brought to a close, as notified in the Government Gazette No. 26, of the 1st April 1846, Tenders will be received at this Office for the purchase of the undermentioned Government Tea Barrees, together with Buildings, Manufacturing Implements, Tools, Stores, &c., attached thereto.

These Barrees have abundance of land fit for the growth of the Tea Plant in the vicinity, and admit of being greatly extended; they are situated within about 16 miles of the Sudder Station of the District, Dibroo Ghur, where there is a small temporary Bungalow belonging to the Concern. A good Road is now in progress through Muttuck, which will pass within a few hundred yards of the Dinjoy Barrees, and this Road will be completed in the course of next cold season: the accompanying Sketch* will show the relative position of the Barrees.

To persons desirous of engaging in the Cultivation of Sugar Cane, in conjunction with that of the Tea Plant, these Barrees would be found particularly advantageous, as there is much fine fresh land in the vicinity of Dinjoy and Chubwa, well suited for the growth of the Cane, and which may be rented, to the extent required, from time to time, for cultivation: the present rent of such land, when actually taken up, being only 8 annas per poora.

With the Establishment at present attached to the Barrees, the purchaser would have to make his own arrangements; the Members, generally, are well acquainted with the process of the preparation of the Tea, in all its branches, and, if well superintended, would be equal to the duties of a greatly extended concern.

No. 116.

PORT OF AKYAB, COAST OF ARRACAN.

The trade of the Port of Akyab having rapidly increased the attention of Mariners is now recalled to the existence of the Light on Faqeer's Point at its entrance, and to the following Sailing Directions for entering the Harbour, by Captain Paterson, published 1844. In these the Light above referred to, which was not at that time quite completed, was described as being erected on "Mosque Point," but this designation is now altered to "Faqeer's Point," which is understood to be that by which it is best known, and which is that applied to it by the Commissioner of the Province.

By order of the Officiating Superintendent of Marine,

JAS. SUTHERLAND, Secretary.

Fort William,
Marine Superintendent's Office,
The 9th January 1847.

Sailing Directions for the Port of Akyab, in the Arracan River.

Ships sailing for Akyab during the South West Monsoon should steer for the South end of Western Bolongo, in Lat. 19° 50′ N. Long. 93° 3′ E., then standing along the Coast to the Northward and Westward about five or six miles off shore, until the Light is sighted on the Great Savage, at the entrance of the Arracan River, then steer so as to bring it to bear N. by East or N. N. E., and if they intend to run in during the night, with either of these bearings, they will cross the bar in the best water, in three fathoms low water spring tides.

After deepening across it, the course should be altered to N. by W. or even N. N. W., according to the state of the Tide and Sea at the time to avoid the Western Rocks (above water) bearing from the Light S. W. ½ S., distant nearly half a mile; the Flood Tide sets in on these Rocks.

When the Light bears East in six to nine fathoms on the edge of the flat to the Westward, the course must be altered to N. N. E. and N. E. by N., having brought the Light to bear S. E. by S. ½ S., the Ship will be inside of Passage Rock, which is five to seven feet above water, and bears from the Savage Light N. W. ½ N., distant a quarter of a mile, and should then steer N. E. Easterly, to avoid the Reef projecting from Faqeer's Point a mile in extent to the South; some of the Rocks are above water at half ebb. There is a Red Buoy placed on the Southern entrance in about nine fathoms, which with attention may be seen in a clear night without the Moon, and after bringing Faqeer's Point to bear N. W. by N. to N. W. the Ship should anchor.

On Faqeer's Point a small Light House is nearly finished, the Light of which will be a deep red, and will be seen about six miles or three miles beyond the bar, as a leading mark to clear the Western Rocks, keeping it a little open to the Westward of the Savage Light when steering in or out, also to point out when the Ship is inside of the Reef off Faqeer's Point. With this Light bearing N. W. by N. to N. W. is good Anchorage, having excellent holding ground, and perfectly sheltered from the Sea.

A stranger should not attempt to run in at night, particularly in the rains, except at high or low water, as the ebb tide runs very rapidly in strong eddies off the Passage Rock, over the dangerous flat to the Westward, and the flood in strong eddies upon the Rocks.

During the N. E. Monsoon Ships bound to Akyab, from the Northward, should endeavour to make the Table Land of the Western Bolongo in Lat. 20° 1′ N., then steering due East they will avoid the Oyster Reef in Lat. 20° 5′ N., Long. 92° 40′ East, which is distant from the Savage Light fifteen miles due West. This course is recommended, as although in favourable weather the Savage Light is seen outside the Reef in 16 to 17 fathoms water, the depth suddenly decreases, and the probability of hazy or rainy weather would prevent the Light being seen, and steering boldly in to sight it, to the Northward of Lat. 20° 1′, would endanger the safety of the Vessel, by suddenly falling upon the Oyster Rock or Reef before sighting the Light House.

I would not advise strangers on any occasion to make use of the channel inside of the Oyster Rock or Reef.

JAMES PATERSON,
Comdr. H. Co.'s Ship Amherst.

Secretary.

GOVERNMENT TEA PLANTATIONS OF ASSAM.

In consequence of the operations of the Government Experimental Tea Culture in Assam being about to be brought to a close, as notified in the Government Gazette No. 26, of the 1st April 1846, Tenders will be received at this Office for the purchase of the undermentioned Government Tea Barrees, together with Buildings, Manufacturing Implements, Tools, Stores, &c., attached thereto.

These Barrees have abundance of land fit for the growth of the Tea Plant in the vicinity, and admit of being greatly extended; they are situated within about 16 miles of the Sudder Station of the District, Dibroo Ghur, where there is a small temporary Bungalow belonging to the Concern. A good Road is now in progress through Muttuck, which will pass within a few hundred yards of the Dinjoy Barrees, and this Road will be completed in the course of next cold season: the accompanying Sketch* will show the relative position of the Barrees.

To persons desirous of engaging in the Cultivation of Sugar Cane, in conjunction with that of the Tea Plant, these Barrees would be found particularly advantageous, as there is much fine fresh land in the vicinity of Dinjoy and Chubwa, well suited for the growth of the Cane, and which may be rented, to the extent required, from time to time, for cultivation: the present rent of such land, when actually taken up, being only 8 annas per poora.

With the Establishment at present attached to the Barrees, the purchaser would have to make his own arrangements; the Members, generally, are well acquainted with the process of the preparation of the Tea, in all its branches, and, if well superintended, would be equal to the duties of a greatly extended concern.

No. 272 of 1847.

Lieutenant Governor's Camp, Revenue Department, the 18th January, 1847.

Notification.—The following paras. of a letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, No. 11, dated the 22d September 1846, relating to the Cultivation and Manufacture of Tea in the North Western Provinces, are published for general information:

2. "We received by the "Minerva," a small Box and two Canisters of Tea, the produce of the Government Tea Nursery, at Kalagarh, in the Deyrah Dhoon, alluded to in your letter of the 23d November (No. 12,) 1845.

3. "These samples have been submitted to the inspection of qualified persons in this country, and by the Reports of Messrs. Thompson and Son, W. Hunt, and Messrs. Ewart, which we now transmit, you will perceive that the Tea is pronounced to be equal to China Tea, of a superior Class, possessing the flavor of the Orange Pekoe, but more than the usual strength of that Tea, in other respects resembling that imported as Ning Yong. You will take measures for giving publicity to these Reports.

4. "Comparing this Tea with the samples formerly received, the Reports on which were forwarded with our despatch of the 26th February 1844, (No. 4,) the present specimens exhibit a marked improvement, the only defect pointed out being a "slight peculiarity of smell," or "deficiency of fragrance, probably arising from some defect in the firing."

5. "These specimens are very creditable to the efforts of the Superintendent, Dr. Jameson, and his Establishment.

6. "The latest Report of Dr. Jameson shows the quantity of land under Tea Cultivation in the Districts of Kumaon and Gurhwal, including the Dhoon, to be 176 Acres, and the total number of plants 3,22,579. The plant is stated to be thriving in different localities, extending over 4 degrees of latitude and 3 of longitude, and that 100,000 Acres are available in the Dhoon only, for purposes of Tea Cultivation.

7. "We observe that at a sale which took place at Almorah, 173 seers of this Tea produced from 4 to 5 Rupees per seer, and Dr. Jameson is of opinion that the produce of 6,000 Acres of land would yield a surplus of Rupees 2,80,266 per annum, making in this calculation suitable allowance for a considerable reduction in the sale price, on the supply being increased to the extent, and sold in Calcutta; it is stated however that the demand for the article in the Hill provinces would be very extensive. The only obstacle to the general use of the Kumaon Tea, by the middling and better classes in those localities being the high price at which it has hitherto sold.

Estimate for 6,000 Acres.	Rs.
Establishment, ...	87,000
Manufacturing and packing 6,000 Maunds, ...	6,234
Land and River Carriage of do. to Calcutta,	11,300
Contingencies, ...	7,200
Rent at 3 Rs. per Acre, ...	18,000
Total, ...	1,29,734
Value of 6,000 Maunds, at 1-8 per Seer, ...	2,60,000

8. "We feel a deep interest in this subject, and attach great importance to the success of a project from which considerable advantages would arise to the Agricultural Community of these Districts, who would, it is stated, readily undertake the cultivation of the plant if encouraged to do so."

Report on the Tea manufactured in the Deyrah Doon, received per "Minerva," June 1846.

Appearance of the Tea.—Well made, as well as China Tea, and similar to the blackish, mixed curled Tetsong description.

Smell.—As China Tea, but deficient in fragrance, arising probably from some defect in the firing.

Color of the infusion.—Bright and good.

Aroma.—As good China Tea.

From this, and examinations of former samples, I am quite satisfied that the Tea-shrub in Kumaon is not only identical with the China plant, and as capable of being made into as fine a description of Tea, but also that the climate and soil in Kumaon is as suited to the favorable growth of the Shrub as the finest of the China localities.

Sd. Wm. Andrews Hunt.

8th June, 1846.

The leaf is well made, curled, of the Ankni Pekoe class, mixed black and brown, and closely resembles that class of China Tea.

The flavor is very strong, and would therefore be serviceable for mixing, but it is "coarse burnt," that all richness of flavor is destroyed.

Sd. Wm. Thomson & Sons.

38, Mincing Lane, 6th June, 1846.

The sample of Tea marked as manufactured in the Deyrah Dhoon, August 1845, in leaf somewhat resembles the Tea imported from China as Ning Young, with something of the character both of Oolong and Orange Pekoe. In flavor it most resembles the better descriptions of Orange Pekoe, having with the brisk burnt flavor of that description, more than its usual strength.

There is however in this sample a slight peculiarity of smell and flavor, which is rather objectionable, but it probably arises from some accidental cause to which this sample may have been exposed, either in curing or subsequently.

We consider it a good, useful description of Tea.

EDUCATION NOTICE.

AN Examination will be held early in April 1847, in the College of Fort William, for the purpose of filling up existing vacancies in the Secondary or Military Class of the Medical College. All candidates will be expected to possess an adequate knowledge of the Hindoostanee language, to enable them to read and write it in the Persian or Devanagri character.

2. All Interpreters of Regiments and Battalions will be requested through the Military Department, not to grant certificates of qualification to any candidate under the age of fifteen and above that of twenty years: and likewise to reject all who may not pass the prescribed ordeal with a sufficient degree of fluency and facility. Much disappointment, expense and inconvenience have already been experienced by lads from distant stations being furnished with certificates, who were found on examination quite unqualified for admission, and it is with a view to prevent the recurrence of this that the above measure has been adopted.

3. Candidates for admission will be required to present themselves before the Secretary to the Medical College, at least three days prior to the day of examination, in order that a proper descriptive roll may be prepared, for transmission to the examiners of the College of Fort William.

4. The preference in selection, attainments being equal, will be given to those who have already been attached to, or served in civil or regimental hospitals.

5. No candidate will be allowed to present himself for examination who cannot produce a written testimonial of his conduct and character, or afford satisfactory evidence as to who and what he may be. A few individuals of decidedly bad character have upon recent occasions managed to obtain admittance, it is supposed by producing false papers; the strictest care and scrutiny will, therefore, be exercised in examining the credentials of all future candidates.

6. All pupils must, as a condition of their appointment, reside within the college premises at all times, and never be absent from morning and evening muster without special leave.

7. All students in the Military Class are amenable to the Articles of War, and regularly enlisted as Soldiers.

8. No candidate will be admitted to the school who is physically unfit for the duties of a soldier.

By order of the Hon'ble the President and Council of Education,

FRED. J. MOUAT, M. D.,
Secretary.

The following Act is passed by the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council on the 30th January 1847, with the assent of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India, which has been read and recorded.

Ordered, that the Act be promulgated for general information.

ACT No. I OF 1847.

An Act for the establishment and maintenance of Boundary Marks in the North Western Provinces of Bengal.

Whereas it is desirable with a view to the better definition and security of landed property, the prevention of encroachments and disputes, and the identification of lands assessed to, or exempted from, the Public Revenue, that provision should be made for the establishment and maintenance of permanent marks to distinguish the boundaries of Fields or Estates:

I. It is hereby enacted, that it shall be lawful within the Territories subject to the Government of the North Western Provinces of Bengal, for Collectors of Land Revenue, or persons exercising the powers of Collector, or such Revenue Officers as the Lieutenant Governor may entrust with that authority, to fix the boundaries of Fields or Estates, and to require that marks be formed and maintained by the owners or occupants on the boundaries, of such materials and in such number and manner as may appear to such Officers sufficient for distinguishing the limits of those Fields or Estates whenever they may be of opinion that such demarkation is necessary for the prevention or adjustment of disputes.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that notices shall be served on the persons owning or occupying the conterminous Fields or Estates requiring them to form or repair the said boundary marks within ten days from the date of the notice, and in the event of these persons not being found in the Village that the said requisition shall be posted at the Village Chowree or Chopal, or other conspicuous place in the Village, which shall be held to be a sufficient service, notwithstanding it may afterwards appear that the owners or occupants were not correctly named or designated in the notice.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that in default of the owners or occupants of the Fields or Estates complying with the requisition, the said Revenue Officers shall give directions for the erection and repair of such boundary marks, the cost of which shall be equitably apportioned on the Fields or Estates which they serve to distinguish, and shall be charged to the persons possessing a right of ownership or occupancy in such Fields or Estates, and shall be realized in the same manner as arrears of land revenue.

IV. And it is hereby enacted, that any person who may be convicted of wilfully erasing, removing or injuring such boundary marks, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Fifty Rupees for each mark so erased, removed or injured; one half of which fine may be awarded on conviction to the informer, and the other half shall be chargeable with the cost of restoring the mark; whenever it may not be possible to detect the person who erased, removed or injured the boundary marks as aforesaid, the marks shall be re-erected or repaired at the charge of one or both parties, as the Collector or other Officer authorized to make the demarkation may consider just and equitable.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that disputed boundaries shall be fixed by Revenue Officers under the powers and in the manner prescribed in Regulations VII. 1822 and IX. of 1833, and shall be similarly open to appeal

VI. GOVERNMENT TEA PLANTATIONS IN ASSAM.

In consequence of the operations of the Government Experimental Tea Culture in Assam being about to be brought to a close, as notified in the Government Gazette No 26, of the 1st April 1846, Tenders will be received at this Office for the purchase of the undermentioned Government Tea Barrees, together with Buildings, Manufacturing Implements, Tools, Stores, &c., attached thereto.

These Barrees have abundance of land fit for the growth of the Tea Plant in the vicinity, and admit of being greatly extended; they are situated within about 16 miles of the Sudder Station of the District, Dibroo Ghur, where there is a small temporary Bungalow belonging to the Concern. A good Road is now in progress through Muttuck, which will pass within a few hundred yards of the Dinjoy Barree, and this Road will be completed in the course of next cold season: the accompanying Sketch* will show the relative position of the Barrees.

To persons desirous of engaging in the Cultivation of Sugar Cane, in conjunction with that of the Tea Plant, these Barrees would be found particularly advantageous, as there is much fine fresh land in the vicinity of Dinjoy and Chubwa, well suited for the growth of the Cane, and which may be rented, to the extent required, from time to time, for cultivation: the present rent of such land, when actually taken up, being only 8 annas per poora.

With the Establishment at present attached to the Barrees, the purchaser would have to make his own arrangements; the Members, generally, are well acquainted with the process of the preparation of the Tea, in all its branches, and, if well superintended, would be equal to the duties of a greatly extended concern.

is especially prescribed for any suits, appeals or applications, nothing herein contained shall affect such law." Acts X of 1859 and VIII (B.C.) of 1869 are Acts not mentioned in the Schedule here specified, and it was accordingly held that nothing contained in Act IX of 1871 affected these Acts; therefore the rules as to the computation of the period of limitation contained in Act IX did not affect or apply to Rent Suits. Section 6 of the present Limitation Act (XV of 1877), corresponding with section 6 of Act IX of 1871, is couched in different language:—viz. "When by any special or local law now or hereafter in force in British India a period of limitation is specially prescribed for any suit, appeal or application, nothing herein contained shall affect or alter the period so prescribed." It has been held (I.L.R. 5 Calc. 110) that the effect of this change in the language used is that the rules prescribed by Act XV of 1877 for computing the period of limitation are applicable—apparently on the ground that rules for computing the period of limitation do not affect the period itself. If this decision is accepted as conclusive, it may be unnecessary to extend Part III by special words to Rent Suits, for the whole of this Part, (i.e. sections 12 to 25 inclusive) is concerned with the "computation of the period of limitation" as appears from the heading thereto. We have thought it safer, however, to follow the decision and enact this in express words. After due consideration we have come to the conclusion that it is inadvisable to extend to Rent Suits the allowance of time for disability. We think that a minor ought not to be competent on coming of age to sue a ryot for rent which had accumulated during the whole period of his minority; that this kind of debt, which a poor man usually discharges year by year out of the produce of the year, ought not to be allowed to accumulate; and that, if the manager of a minor's estate neglects his duty of realizing rents as they fall due, the minor's remedy ought to be an action for damages against such manager.

Computation of time where, until termination of litigation as to their mutual rights, landlord could not previously have sued tenant for rent

§ 162. We have provided (section 94) that, when the result of litigation between any persons is such that they are found to stand in the relation of landlord and tenant to each other and to have stood in this relation while such litigation was pending, but, until their mutual rights were finally determined by such litigation, such landlord was unable to sue such tenant for rent, the period of limitation for suing for any such rent shall be computed from the termination of such litigation. We invite criticism to this attempt to formulate a principle, not very susceptible of definite expression. The object we have in view will be rendered more intelligible by some reference to the cases concerned with the application of the principle. In Rani Swarnamayi vs. Shashi Mukhi Burmani, &c. (12 Moor. In. Ap. 244; S. C 2 B. L. R. P. C. 10) the facts were—A zemindar had brought a patni tenure to sale under Regulation VIII of 1819. The patnidar was thereupon ousted and the purchaser took possession of the patni tenure. The patnidar then successfully sued to have the sale reversed on the ground of irregularity, and recovered possession of the patni tenure together with mesne profits from the purchaser for the period of his possession. The zemindar subsequently sued the patnidar for rent for this period. Such rent was barred, if the period of limitation contained in Act X of 1859 were to be applied without qualification. The Privy Council, however, held that it was not barred—that the cause of action accrued at the time at which, the sale having been set aside, the obligation to pay this rent revived—that the patnidar on being restored to possession took back the estate subject to the obligation to pay the rent, and that the particular arrears must be taken to have become due in the year in which that restoration to possession took place. Two points are to be noticed here. First, the zemindar could not sue the patnidar for the rent as long as the latter was out of possession: second, the patnidar received mesne profits for the period for which rent was claimed. From this case were distinguished some subsequent cases in which, although the landlord had denied the continuance of the relation of landlord and tenant and had attempted to put an end to such relation, the tenant was nevertheless not dispossessed and there was in consequence nothing to prevent the landlord from recovering the rent In these cases, although one element, viz. receipt by the tenant of the profits of the land, was present, the other element, viz. inability of the landlord to sue was wanting—(See I. L. R. 3 Calc. 6, 791, 817).

§ 163. We now come to the Second Part of the Bill, which contains the Adjective law or Procedure. The first Chapter of this Part, namely Chapter XV, is concerned with proceedings to enhance the rent payable in money by ryots having a right of occupancy or by tenure-holders or undertenure-holders. We have already fully considered these provisions in discussing the subject of enhancement, this being more convenient than to deal with them in the order of the arrangement of the Bill. Chapter XVI treats of the recovery of arrears of rent in certain cases by summary sale without decree, and is in fact a reproduction of the Patni Regulation, VIII of 1819. The original language of the Regulation has been retained as far as possible, and this will account for some difference in the form of expression between this Chapter and the rest of the Draft Bill. Some alteration of the arrangement of the matter has been necessarily made, and some additions have been made, incorporating the result of the decisions upon important questions raised upon the Regulation. As the law now stands, this procedure can be used only by "proprietors" of revenue-paying estates and in respect of patni tenures and other tenures upon which the right of selling or bringing to sale for an arrear of rent has been specially reserved by stipulation in the engagements interchanged on the creation of such tenures. Whether this procedure should be extended to other tenures, or to undertenures and even occupancy holdings, is a question which may deserve consideration. Some of us have suggested a certain extension; but the majority are opposed to putting this summary procedure into the hands of any other than the superior landlords. The tenure-holders to whom the law now applies are persons of means, able to vindicate their own rights, if unjustly infringed. The proprietors of revenue-paying estates, who may use the law, are persons of substance, against whom a decree for damages can be effectually enforced. It is extremely rare to hear even the allegation that a tenure has been brought to summary sale without arrears being bonâ fide due; and the invariable ground, upon which it is sought to set aside these sales, is irregularity in the publication of the notices This publication, it may be observed, generally depends upon men of subordinate position, not very accurate in transacting business and not generally supposed to be above corruption. So far as these Summary Sales depend upon the acts and volition of the landlords, there is little reason to suppose that the procedure is abused. There may be grave doubts, whether the result would be equally satisfactory, if the same procedure were entrusted to petty landlords, to be put into operation against tenants not always in a position to avail themselves of the aid of the law against oppression.

Summary Sale for Arrears of Rent without Decree Incorporation of the Patni Regulation

Question of extending this procedure to other tenures and undertenures, &c.

§ 164. According to the Regulation—and we have made no change in the Bill—these summary sales take place twice a year, namely, on the 1st Jeyt and on the 1st Aghan. Application for sale is made on the 1st Baisakh and on the 1st Kartik. If these dates happen to fall on a holiday, there is no express provision that the application may be made, or that the sale may take place upon the next open day. We have not inserted any such provision in the Bill, because no case has occurred within our experience, or has been brought to our knowledge, in which hardship has resulted from the want of it. We invite attention to the point, however, as for reasons, which are not before us, it may be desirable to have a precise rule on the subject. The only change which we have made in the provisions of the Patni Regulation is, that we have allowed the defaulting tenureholder, whose tenure has been advertized for sale, to lodge the amount of the arrear in the Government Treasury up till sunset of the day preceding the advertized day of sale. Under the law, as it new stands, the Collector is not bound to receive the arrear of rent except in two cases, viz. (1) when the defaulter has applied for a summary investigation (see section 137 of the Draft Bill); (2) when an undertenure-holder desires to pay the amount in order to prevent the sale and protect his undertenure from the risk of being avoided (see section 138 of the Draft Bill). In these two cases the amount of the arrear may be deposited on the day of sale, and at any time before the time of sale. It has, however, happened that the amount has been deposited in the Collectorate in cases other than the above; and that the person, who so deposited it, was under the impression that he had thereby prevented the sale of his tenure, whereas in fact he had not done so, inasmuch as the money should have been paid to his landlord, and a deposit in the Collectorate was no legal bar to the sale. In the particular case to which we allude, the tenure was sold and the tenure-holder had no remedy. We have thought it advisable to prevent the possibility of a recurrence of this hardship by allowing the amount of the arrear to be lodged in the Collectorate in every case. We have at the same time cleared up a point, as to which there has been some doubt, by declaring that the money must be paid to the landlord or lodged in the Treasury (in cases other than the two exceptional cases just stated), before sunset of the day next preceding the day of sale, otherwise that the sale shall not be stayed or postponed.

Is provision required when day of application or day of sale falls on a holiday?

Amount of arrear may be lodged in the Collectorate before sunset of the day preceding day of sale

§ 165. Chapter XVII contains certain special rules of procedure applicable to suits between landlords and their tenants or agents. It is declared (section 147) that, save where the Bill otherwise provides, The Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to all suits brought for causes of action arising between landlords and their tenants or agents; and (section 148) that the cause of action in all such suits shall be deemed to have arisen within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Civil Court, which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the recovery of the land in respect of which the relation of landlord and tenant or the agency exists between the parties. This latter provision proceeds upon the lines of the present law. We have retained the existing provisions as to Sarbarakars and Tehsildars suing and being sued, and have extended them to managers under the Court of Wards; but we have provided (section 149) that all such suits shall be conducted or defended in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council, or in the names of the private persons to whom the estates belong. We have also retained the provision of the existing law as to Naibs and Gomashtahs, if specially empowered thereto, acting as the authorized agents of their employers, although such employers are resident within the local limits of the Court's jurisdiction. We think that the facility thus afforded to landlords is a reasonable one, which should not be taken away. At the same time we have thought it equally reasonable to provide in the interest of the ryots, that the service of any notice under the Act upon any such Naib or Gomashtahs, or the tender to him of any money or fee, shall be as valid a service or tender, as if the service had been made upon, or the amount or fee tendered to, his employer (section 150).

Suit for the determination of the Conditions of a Tenancy § 166. We have already (ante § 8) stated the reasons which have influenced us in doing away with suits for pottahs and kabuliyats, and substituting therefor a simple suit for the determination of the conditions of the tenancy. Either landlord or ryot may sue for the determination of all or any of the following matters:—(a) the quantity of land held by the ryot; (b) the amount of annual rent payable for such land; (c) the class to which the ryot belongs (section 156). The plaint must contain the plaintiff's allegation as to each of these matters, this being necessary for purposes of pleading and for determining the party on whom the burden of proof shall lie. We have provided that no suit shall be dismissed because the plaintiff fails to prove exactly the allegations made in his plaint. The necessity of proving the exact terms of the kabuliyat has destroyed the efficacy of a suit for a kabuliyat under the existing law; and we desire to prevent the Mofussil Courts from the error of perpetuating this result. Whatever may be the allegations in the plaint, the Court shall proceed to ascertain and declare the actual facts of the tenancy.

Ejectment for non-payment of rent

§ 167. The provisions as to a claim for ejectment being included in a suit for arrears of rent or being based upon an unexecuted decree for arrears, and as to a stay of ejectment, if the decree for arrears is satisfied within fifteen days, are taken from the existing law; but we have appended two Explanations which embody the results of the decided cases—first, that the judgment-debtor is entitled to the benefit of this fifteen days' rule, even though the lease contains a stipulation that it shall be void upon one or more instalments of rent falling into arrear, or upon the breach of any other condition as to payment of rent; secondly that, if the original decree is altered or amended on appeal or review, the fifteen days shall be computed from the date of the judgment on appeal or review; but if not altered or amended, then from the date of the original decree (section 152). We have made no change in the provisions of the present law as to immediate execution in certain cases of ejectment, and as to execution not being stayed pending appeal in such cases (sections 155, 156)

Suits for Abatement of Rent in what Courts to be to be brought § 168. An occupancy ryot is entitled to abatement of rent under the provisions of section 25; and a ryot who has held for more than three, but less than twelve, years, is entitled to claim abatement under the provisions of section 31. We have provided (section 153) that suits for abatement of rent brought by ryots of these two classes, or in other words, by any ryot who has held land for more than three years, may be instituted, (a) when abatement is claimed on the first or second ground specified in section 25, in the Civil Court or before the Collector; (b) when abatement is claimed on the third ground specified in the same section, before the Collector only: provided that no such suit shall be instituted before the Collector unless at least ten ryots join in bringing it. We have allowed ten or more ryots to join in suing for abatement of rent, if they all pay rent to the same landlord, even though their holdings are separate. These provisions are the counterpart of the provisions as to enhancement. When abatement is claimed on account of diminished powers of production or diminished price of produce, the causes in operation affect a certain number of persons, and efficiency of decision, as well as economy of judicial agency, are obtained by the cases being tried together. Suits for abatement brought by tenure-holders, undertenure-holders, and ryots holding at fixed rates of rent are to be instituted in all cases in the Civil Court. Abatement cases before the Collector are to be governed by the provisions of Chapter XV so far as they are applicable. Abatement cases in the Civil Court will be governed by the provisions of The Code of Civil Procedure.

Procedure

When Execution may be had against the person or against movable or immovable property

§ 169. We have retained (section 154) the provision of the existing law that process of execution may not be issued simultaneously against person and property; but, subject to the rule that a tenure, undertenure or occupancy holding must be brought to sale before any other process of execution can be obtained, we have allowed execution to issue against movable or immovable property, or both, thus altering the present practice under which execution can be had against the immovable property of the judgment-debtor only if satisfaction cannot be obtained against his movables. The first provision tends to prevent harassment, more especially in the case of ryots, whose incarceration in a Civil Jail prevents them from cultivating their lands. If they have movable or immovable property which can be made available to satisfy the decree, imprisonment serves no useful purpose, and is in practice seldom resorted to. If they have property which they have concealed, imprisonment occasionally brings about a settlement. If they have no property, they can, if imprisoned, apply to be declared insolvent. As to the second point, we see no reason why any distinction should be made between judgment-creditors for rent and other judgment-creditors in respect of their being permitted to proceed against movable and immovable property indiscriminately.

No appeal from District or Additional Judge, when value of suit does not exceed one hundred rupees, and no question of title has been decided § 170. We have left the law of Appeal in its present state, declaring that nothing in the Bill shall be deemed to alter the law as established by Act X of 1859, so as to confer a right of appeal in any suit tried and decided by a District Judge or Additional Judge originally or in appeal, wherein the amount sued for or the value of the property claimed does not exceed one hundred rupees, if no question of right to enhance or vary the rent of a ryot or tenant, or no question relating to title to land or to some interest in land, as between parties having conflicting claims thereto, has been determined by the judgment in such suit—(section 157). We do not consider it desirable that any alteration should be made in the law, and we have here simply reproduced section 102 of VIII (B.C.) of 1869, the enactment of which has been decided by a Full Bench of the High Court not to be beyond the powers of the Bengal Council (I. L. R. 3 Calc. 151). The words "or Additional Judge" have been inserted in accordance with the decision of the High Court, that a District Judge and an Additional Judge stand in the same category as regards these appeals (13 B. L. R. 376).

Suits against Agents for money or accounts or papers—Law made applicable to all Agents

§ 171. We have made some important changes in the law concerned with suits against agents for money or accounts or papers. We have in the first place extended these provisions so as to include not only agents who collect the rents from the tenants, but also agents who receive the rents so collected and account for them to the landlord. In large estates it is very usual for one set of amlah to collect the rents in the Mofussil, while another set at head-quarters keep the accounts, receiving the rents from those who collect them and retaining them in a treasury for disbursement as required. There has been some doubt as to whether the special provisions of the present law extend to this latter class of agents, and we have thought it desirable to remove this doubt, and make the procedure applicable to agents employed by landlords in the collection or receipt of rents or the management of land. The present law speaks of "suits for the delivery of accounts," and it is not quite clear what is meant. In some cases judicial officers think it sufficient to give a decree for the manual delivery of certain accounts, e. g. jama-wasil baki, baki jai, &c., and consider it a sufficient compliance with this decree, if these accounts be handed into court. The landlord has then to find out as best he may whether they are correct or not; and, if he can prove them to be incorrect, he has to bring a second suit for the recovery of the money which is owing to him upon correct accounts. It is clear that this is a very unsatisfactory method of obtaining a remedy. In other cases the suit is valued at some imaginary sum, say, Rs. 500; and a decree is made for the delivery of the accounts or the payment of this sum, if they are not delivered, no attempt being made to ascertain if, on taking a proper account, this sum would be really due from the agent.

§ 172. We have endeavoured to make the remedy simple and effectual. There are, we conceive, two classes of possible cases—first, where the landlord knows the exact sum of money or the specific accounts or papers which his agent ought to make over to him; second, when in consequence of the agent not having accounted, the landlord is unable to tell what amount has been received and is to be accounted for. The first case may easily occur where there are a few tenants, each paying a considerable amount of rent. The landlord knows what documents connected with their tenancy are in the hands of his agent, and can easily ascertain from his tenants the sums paid over by them to the agent. The second case ordinarily happens when there are a number of small tenants paying each an inconsiderable sum as rent, and it would be extremely difficult to ascertain from each the exact state of his account. In many instances an illiterate ryot is himself unable to say how he stands, and he trusts entirely to the zemindari amlah and their accounts. Then, again, the agent may be charged with all the disbursements connected with the collections, and, until these have been correctly ascertained, it may not be possible to say what balance is due to his employer. In the first of these cases the landlord is required to state in his plaint the exact sum of money which he claims, or to describe the accounts or papers which he demands, from his agent.

Remedy provided for two classes of cases. (1) where landlord knows what money or papers he ought to receive; (2) where, in consequence of agent not accounting, he does not know

Procedure in the first class of cases

Procedure in the second class of cases

§ 173. The second case is not so simple. We here require the landlord to set forth in his plaint the fact that he is unable to ascertain the exact sum of money or the papers, vouchers, or other documents in the hands of his agent, in consequence of such agent having neglected or refused to render proper accounts, and to pray the Court, that it will take an account from such agent and make a decree for the payment of such sum of money (if any) as may upon the taking of the account be found to be due and owing to the plaintiff, and for the delivery of such papers, vouchers or documents belonging to the plaintiff as may be found in the hands of the agent—(section 161). Upon the filing of this plaint, a summons issues to the defendant, calling upon him to show cause why he should not render a full and satisfactory account of all sums received and disbursed by him, and of all papers, vouchers or other documents which may have come into his hands in the discharge of his duties as agent —(section 162). If the defendant fails to show cause, or does not, in the opinion of the Court, show sufficient cause why he should not render such an account, the Court shall make an order requiring him to file such account in Court and shall fix a day on or before which such account shall be filed. This order, if disobeyed, may be enforced by imprisonment or by attachment of property or by both—(section 163). When the defendant files the account, the plaintiff is to be allowed a reasonable time to examine it, and make objections, if he has any such to make. The Court will then fix a day for hearing and determining such objections, and will make its decree accordingly.

Abbreviated procedure for Rent Suits- Dangers of a so called Summary Procedure

§ 174. We now come to Chapter XVIII, which contains the abbreviated Procedure which we have been able to devise for Rent Suits. If this procedure appears to any persons less summary than they could wish, and if on this account objections are advanced against it, we can only in reply state our earnest conviction of the extreme danger of summary methods of justice. In order that justice may be done, truth must be elucidated; and the elucidation of truth, especially in this country, and for reasons which we need not here dwell upon in detail, requires time and patience. Any attempt to abridge judicial inquiry by arbitrary and abnormal presumptions in favour of either party, which by precluding the production of evidence may enable Judges to arrive at rapid conclusions, is to our minds retrogressive and unsafe. The history of the judicial administration of this country for the last half century is a continuous record of the abandonment of a system of procedure under which rights were hastily and perfunctorily adjudicated upon, the person defeated and dissatisfied being left to a "regular suit" to right himself, if wronged by an irregular proceeding which too often saddled him with the burden of proof, that should have been laid on the shoulders of his adversary, and thus unfairly diminished his chance of ultimate success. We entirely agree in the wisdom which has abolished this system, we will not say, of administering justice but of choking off litigation, and we cannot recommend the adoption of any Summary Procedure for Rent Suits which would involve even a partial renewal of it.

Classes of suits to which the New Procedure is made applicable

§ 175. At the same time there are, we think, certain classes of rent-suits, to the decision of which full justice can be done by a system of procedure shorter than the elaborate Code now in force for ordinary civil suits; and such a system we have endeavoured to devise. The classes of suits to which we think this procedure can be applied with advantage are:—

(1) suits for the recovery of arrears of rent;

(2) suits for ejectment;

(3) suits to recover possession of land;

(4) suits for damages on account of the illegal exaction of rent or cesses, or on account of the refusal of receipts;

(5) suits to compel the registration of successions to, or transfers of, tenures, undertenures or occupancy holdings.

§ 176. The points of difference between The Code of Civil Procedure and the procedure proposed for the above classes of rent-suits, or in other words, the particulars in which the former procedure has been abbreviated are as follow:—

Certain portions of The Code of Civil Procedure not extended

First—The following portions of The Code of Civil Procedure do not extend to Rent Suits at all, viz. the sections relating to Discovery, Inspection, Interrogatories, and Affidavits; sections 380-382 as to Security for costs; sections 401-415 as to suits by Paupers; sections 430-434 as to suits by Aliens and by and against Foreign and Native Rulers; sections 470-476 as to Interpleader; sections 503-505 as to Receivers; sections 506-526 as to arbitration; sections 527-531 as to proceedings on the Agreement of parties; sections 532-538 as to Negotiable Instruments; and section 529 as to Public Charities.

Summons to be for Final Disposal

Secondly.—The summons is to be in all cases for the final disposal of the suit, which is ordinarily to be disposed of at the first hearing—(section 173). We have laid down (section 188) precise rules as to the cases in which an adjournment may be allowed. To deny an adjournment would be in some cases tantamount to a denial of justice, but such cases are exceptional; and, if the Subordinate Courts will do their duty and District Judges see that they do it, we are satisfied that over 90 per cent. of Rent Suits can be properly disposed of at the first hearing.

No written Pleadings

Thirdly.—No written pleadings are required, save that the defendant may, if he desires, file a written statement of his defence—(section 184).

Early and effectual ascertainment of Facts and Documents Disputed

Fourthly.—We have provided (section 190) that the Court shall upon the day of hearing ascertain from each party whether he admits or denies the allegations of fact and the documents of the opposite party, and shall record such admissions or denials. We believe that this course will in very many cases considerably reduce the quantity of evidence that has to be taken, and in some cases do away with the necessity of taking evidence at all. It is too much the habit with subordinate Judicial Officers to leave the case in the hands of the parties in its earlier stages, rousing their own attention fully only when they come to write their judgment. Facts and documents, which would be readily admitted at the first appearance before the Court, thus come to be strenuously denied, when the parties understand their bearing, are excited by the contest, advised by unscrupulous mukhtars and eager for victory regardless of the means by which it is obtained. The proceedings are thus prolonged and the time of the Court wasted in taking evidence, which ought to have been unnecessary.

Abbreviation of the Record of the Evidence

Fifthly.—We have provided (section 192) for making a memorandum of the evidence, sufficient to give the gist and substance of what is said, but requiring less time to record than if the whole of what each witness says were taken down at full length, as must be done under the provisions of The Code of Civil Procedure in all appealable cases. Any particular question and answer may, however, be taken down by the Judge, if he thinks fit—(section 193).

Avoidance of complicated questions of Title

Sixthly.—We have enacted (section 169) that the Court shall not add as a party a person setting up a title adverse to the plaintiff or defendant in respect of the subject-matter of the suit; but any question of title, disputed between any such person and a party to the suit, may be decided in such suit as between the parties thereto, if the decision of such question is necessary to the proper determination of the suit. There is no greater source of delay in the decision of Rent Suits than the raising of complicated questions of title and making the decision of the Court thereupon final and conclusive. Thus in a suit brought to recover a few rupees of rent, the title to property worth a thousand rupees may be litigated, to the great detriment of the stamp revenue. It sometimes indeed happens that the decision of such a question is necessary in order to the decision of the Rent Suit. Where this is the case, it may be tried and decided, but the decision will not be a bar to the formal trial of the same question under the provisions of The Code of Civil Procedure—(section 223.)

Limitation of Appeal

Seventhly.—We propose to take away appeals in suits brought for arrears of rent, in which the amount claimed does not exceed ten rupees and in which no question of right to enhance or vary the rent of a tenant has been determined.

§ 177. With respect to the last point, we are of opinion that the right of appeal in petty cases for the recovery of arrears of rent may well be taken away. Well aware as we are of the ideas of the people on the subject of appeal and the general dislike to the final jurisdiction of the Courts of Small Causes, we have provided two safe-guards for the class of cases in which we propose to take away the right of appeal. First, this final jurisdiction is to be exercised only by selected officers specially empowered by the Lieutenant-Governor; secondly, the District Judge is invested with a power of supervision which he can exercise, when satisfied that a failure of justice has been caused by a substantial defect or irregularity in the proceedings or in the decision.

Safeguards under which it is proposed to take away the right of appeal in petty cases

§ 178. The Code of Civil Procedure, as amended by Act XII of 1879, contains 663 sections. Of these, 393 have been extended to Rent Suits. The sections extended are the following:—13, 19, 25, 27, 32, 36 to 41 inclusive, 45, 49, 52 to 57 inclusive, 59, 60, 62, 63, 66, 67, 69, 72, 73, 74, 77 to 88 inclusive, 91 to 103 inclusive, 105 to 109 inclusive, 111, 137 to 144 inclusive, 157 to 169 inclusive, 171 to 178 inclusive, 186, 188, 191, 193, 199 to 203 inclusive, 205, 206, 210, 216, 219 to 228 inclusive, 230 to 234 inclusive, 236 to 254 inclusive, 257, 257*a*, 258, 266 to 304 inclusive, 306 to 319 inclusive, 326 to 379 inclusive, 383 to 395 inclusive, 397 to 400 inclusive, 416 to 429 inclusive, 435 to 469 inclusive, 480, 482 to 491 inclusive, 540 to 591 inclusive, 623 to 630 inclusive, 640 to 645 inclusive, 648, 651, and 652. It may be observed that the use of many of these sections, though necessary at times, will be extremely rare in the trial of Rent Cases. In order to make the Procedure Chapter as simple and as easily workable as possible, two devices have been adopted in extending these sections of The Code of Civil Procedure to Rent Suits—first, the reference to the sections extended in connection with any point is inserted in the particular place in which the operation of these sections is required, e. g. the sections of the Code relating to the service of summons on the defendant will be found in section 174, where provisions as to such service are required: secondly, the reference to the sections of the Code gives the marginal note of each or a sufficient description of its contents to enable the Judicial Officer, who has to use it, to turn to the right section at once without any risk of making a mistake.

Sections of The Code of Civil Procedure especially extended to Rent Suits

§ 179. There are a few other points connected with the proposed procedure, which may usefully be noticed. And first it may happen that in an important rent suit it would be very expedient that one of the parties should be able to make use of some of those portions of The Code of Civil Procedure, which we have not extended, e g. inspection, or discovery. We have therefore empowered the District Judge, upon application made, to direct that any particular suit shall be tried under the provisions of The Code of Civil Procedure, and upon such order being made the whole of such provisions shall be applicable to the trial of such suit.

District Judge may direct that any particular suit be tried under the provisions of The Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 180. We have provided (section 167) that the plaint shall, amongst other particulars, in suits concerned with tenures, undertenures, holdings or land, set forth the extent, situation, designation, and boundaries of the same, or, where the plaintiff is unable to give the boundaries, in lieu thereof a description sufficient for identification. We have required the same particulars to be inserted in the decree—(section 195, clause (c)). According to section 45 of The Code of Civil Procedure a plaintiff may join in the same suit several causes of action against the same defendant or the same defendants jointly. Claims for arrears of rent of two or more tenures, undertenures or occupancy holdings may therefore be joined in the same suit; but, as each is liable and must be brought to sale for its own arrears only, we have required the decree in any such case to show separately the arrears decreed in respect of each tenure, undertenure, and occupancy holding—(section 195, clause (d)).

§ 181. We have substantially adopted the provisions of Act X of 1859 as to the arrest of the defendant before judgment (sections 175 to 179); but we have not allowed such arrest in suits for arrears of the rent of a tenure, undertenure or occupancy holding hypothecated for its own rent under the provisions of section 64. The defendant can be arrested only if resident within the district in which the Court is held, and if the Court is satisfied (a) that there are primâ facie grounds for believing the claim to be well-founded, and (b) that, if a summons be issued in the first instance, such defendant will abscond. If an arrest be obtained on insufficient grounds, the defendant will be entitled to compensation.

Arrest before judgment allowed in what cases and with what limitations

§ 182. We have extended to Rent Suits the provisions of The Code of Civil Procedure as to attachment before judgment. These provisions will in certain cases form a useful and legitimate substitute for distraint, enabling the plaintiff to attach the defendant's crops through the Court. We have provided, however, that in suits for arrears of the rent of a tenure, undertenure or occupancy holding hypothecated for its own rent, there shall be no attachment before judgment, unless the plaintiff can satisfy the Court that such arrears, together with interest and costs, are not likely to be satisfied by the sale-proceeds of such tenure, undertenure or occupancy holdings (section 180). We have enacted that standing crops and other ungathered products, which have been so attached, may, notwithstanding such attachment, be reaped and gathered by the defendant, and stowed in such granaries or other places as are commonly used by him for the purpose; and, if the defendant neglects to do so, the plaintiff may cause such crops or products to be reaped or gathered and may store them in such granaries or places or in some other convenient place in the neighbourhood. We have also provided for an ad interim sale of crops or products which would deteriorate if kept—(section 181).

Attachment before Judgment allowed in what cases and with what limitations

§ 183. The result of extending section 266 of The Code of Civil Procedure to Rent Suits is that the following movables cannot be taken in execution:—(a) the necessary wearing apparel of the judgment-debtor, his wife and children; (b) implements of husbandry and such cattle as may in the opinion of the Court be necessary to enable the judgment-debtor to earn his livelihood as an agriculturist; (c) the materials of houses and other buildings belonging to and occupied by agriculturists. It may be observed that these are not exempted from attachment in execution under the provisions of Act X of 1859, so that in those districts in which this Act is in force, judgment-debtors under decrees for rent are placed at a considerable disadvantage in this respect.

Ryots' implements of agriculture, plough oxen, and houses may not be taken in execution

§ 184. The principle, borrowed from the Revenue Sale Laws, of making sub-leases and incumbrances voidable upon the sale of a tenure for arrears of rent sometimes works great hardship to innocent persons. It appears to a majority of us very desirable to prevent this hardship, if possible; and we have devised certain means which we hope will successfully accomplish this object. We have provided (section 205) that, when a tenure or undertenure is notified for sale, the amount of the decree and costs may be paid into Court by any one who has an interest which would be endamaged by the sale of such tenure or undertenure free of incumbrances. The amount so paid may be recovered, as money lent, from the person in consequence of whose default to pay rent the tenure or undertenure was notified for sale.

Hardship of avoiding sub-leases and incumbrances upon the sale of a tenure for arrears of rent

Provisions of the Bill for preventing this hardship

Payment into Court of the amount of the decree, by person likely to be endamaged by sale

§ 185. The object of making sub-leases and incumbrances voidable upon the sale of a tenure for arrears of rent is, that the superior

Object of avoiding incumbrances upon landlord's security for his rent may not be impaired. If the sub-leases and incumbrances of a tenure have not absorbed so much of the tenure-holder's profits as to render the interest left him insufficient to meet the rent which he pays to the proprietor of whom he holds his tenure; if the tenure, subject to these sub-leases and incumbrances, will sell for a sum sufficient to satisfy any decree that can be passed for arrears of the rent payable by the tenure-holder—it cannot be said that the proprietor-landlord's security for his rent has been impaired so far as to bring the case within the above object. The right of sub-letting and creating incumbrances belongs to every tenure-holder—such is the common law of the country. So long as the landlord is certain of the rent to which he is entitled, he cannot justly complain of the exercise of this right or claim to interfere with it. When, however, the exercise of the right extends so far as to endanger the landlord's rent, to impair the security for such rent afforded by the sale of the tenure by public auction, the case is altered, and the landlord may reasonably demand that these sub-leases and incumbrances be avoided, which have rendered the remaining interest of the tenure-holder an insufficient security for the rent payable by him.

a sale, to secure the landlord's rent

This object not defeated, if claim for rent satisfied by sale of tenure subject to incumbrances § 186. In this view of the matter, we have enacted (sections 203, 206) that a tenure, undertenure or occupancy holding, about to be sold in execution of a decree for arrears of its own rent, shall first be put up to auction, subject to certain incumbrances, and, if the sum bid is sufficient to liquidate the amount of the decree and costs, shall be sold subject to such incumbrances. If the highest amount bid is not sufficient to liquidate the decree, the decree-holder, that is, the landlord, may then claim to have the tenure, &c., sold free of incumbrances. Such sale is not to be had immediately, but upon a subsequent sale-day not less than fifteen or more than thirty days afterwards; and a notification of such tenure being about to be offered for sale free of incumbrances must be posted upon some conspicuous place upon the land of the tenure. The effect of these provisions will be, that persons, who hold sub-leases and incumbrances, will not be endamaged if the bidding on the first sale-day reaches an amount sufficient to satisfy the decree, and the tenure is in consequence sold subject to incumbrances. If, on the other hand, the bidding on the first sale-day does not reach an amount sufficient to satisfy the decree, such persons will have time to protect themselves from injury by paying in the amount of the decree (which they can subsequently recover from the defaulter) and so preventing such a sale of the tenure as will avoid incumbrances.

Bill provides that tenure shall first be put up to auction subject to incumbrances and, if bidding does not reach an amount sufficient to satisfy decree, a sale may then be had free of incumbrances

§ 187. It has appeared to us that the superior landlord ought to have notice of the creation of the incumbrances to which the above protection is afforded, and that this protection ought not to be extended to all incumbrances indiscriminately. We have accomplished this by defining the term "incumbrances" to mean and include every incumbrance, lien, sub-lease, or subordinate interest which the defaulting holder of the tenure, undertenure or occupancy holding was by law competent to create in derogation of his own interest, and which was created by an instrument in writing duly registered, a copy of such instrument being served upon the person to whom the rent of the tenure, undertenure or occupancy holding is payable. This provision will, we trust, prevent fraud, if sought to be accomplished by setting up sham incumbrances after the sale. It will also enable an intending purchaser to ascertain the real value of property about to be sold, and he will probably bid more than if he was in a state of uncertainty on this point. We have provided for incumbrances created before the commencement of the Act by instruments in writing duly registered under the law applicable to them, by allowing a copy of any such instrument to be served within six months after the commencement of the Act. Mr. O'Kinealy would extend the same privilege to unregistered incumbrances created before the Act, which were not required to be registered by any law in force at the time of their execution; but a majority of us are apprehensive lest this might induce some persons to set up incumbrances fabricated for the purpose.

Purchaser entitled to avoid all except Registered Incumbrances, unless superior landlord gave written power to create § 188. With the exception of these registered incumbrances, of the creation of which the superior landlord has had notice and which are protected in the case of a sale of the tenure subject to incumbrances, a purchaser will be entitled to avoid and annul all incumbrances imposed upon the tenure by any holder thereof, his representatives or assignees, unless in the case of incumbrances allowed by law, the right of creating the same was expressly granted by the written engagement under which the tenant was originally let into possession, or by the subsequent written authority of the person who let him into possession, or of the representatives or assignees of such person—(section 210). Khúdkasht ryots or resident and hereditary cultivators are not, however, liable to ejectment under this rule, nor can a purchaser cancel bonâ fide engagements made with them, unless he can show that a higher rent would have been fairly demandable at the time when such engagements were contracted: he may, however, proceed under the provisions of the Act to enhance the rents of all other ryots. We have provided in accordance with a decision of the Privy Council, that the judgment-debtor himself or any person acting in fraudulent collusion with him for the purpose of disencumbering the tenure shall not be entitled to avoid incumbrances.

Khudkasht ryots not liable to ejectment

Court may set aside sale when

When sale set aside, order to be made for refund of the purchase money § 189. The only other portion of the procedure to which we think it necessary to make special reference is that relating to setting aside sales. The Court may set aside a sale if (a) material irregularity in publishing or conducting it, and (b) substantial injury caused thereby are proved, and not otherwise—(section 212). When a sale is ordered to be set aside, we have provided that the order shall direct the purchase-money to be refunded, with or without interest as the Court may see fit; and that such order may be enforced as a decree for money against any person into whose hands the purchase money or any portion of it may have passed, if such person has been served with notice of the application to have the sale set aside. This will prevent the hardship to a purchaser of having to bring a suit for the recovery of his money after he has lost the benefit of his purchase.

The Bill not larger than the subject requires

§ 190. The Draft Bill, which we have the honor to submit with this Report, contains 225 sections, some of which are of considerable length, being subdivided into two or more sub-sections. Having regard to the extent of the matter, and the importance of the subject with which we have had to deal, we do not think that a Bill codifying the statute law and the case-law concerned with landlords and tenants in these Provinces can be compressed into much less space. We propose to repeal, in whole or in part, seven Regulations of the Bengal Code, four Acts of the Bengal Council, and four Acts of the Supreme Council. The seven Bengal Regulations contain 37 sections, some of which (especially in the Patni Regulation) are longer than any sections of the Bill: Act X of 1859 contains 168 sections: Act VI (B.C.) of 1862 contains 19 unrepealed sections; and Act VIII (B.C.) of 1865 contains 17 unrepealed sections. These four make a total of 241 sections, or more than the number of sections in the Bill. Again, Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, which does not include procedure governed by The Code of Civil Procedure, contains 111 sections. The Draft Bill includes—Sections.

Substantive Law	94
Enhancement Procedure	38
Summary Sale Procedure	14
Procedure for recovery of rents, &c.	79
Total ...	22

The North-Western Provinces' Rent Act, 1873, contains 212 sections; and an Amending Bill now before the Council contains 29 sections = total 241. We have briefly adverted to these facts, because one of our colleagues expresses a hope that, if the Bill be brought into Council, it will be made "simple and practicable by cutting out half the sections and sub-sections and all the Illustrations and Explanations." He adds:—"We know by experience that Illustrations and Explanations too often fail in their object, and instead of elucidating raise new and unforeseen difficulties and doubts as to the meaning of the text." The majority of us have not this knowledge, and, until we read this passage, were not aware of its existence. Our own experience has differently informed us. The Illustrations and Explanations in the Penal Code have, we believe, prevented many misconstructions of the text. Whatever difference of opinion there may be as to the utility of Illustrations and Explanations constructed from hypothetical cases, we concur with the modern masters of law-making, who set much value upon Illustrations and Explanations taken from cases which have actually occurred in practice.

Too much must not be expected from a measure of this kind

§ 191. In concluding the task which has been entrusted to us, and the difficulty of which may be fairly postulated without the appearance of magnifying our duties, we indulge no undoubting confidence that, if the Bill which we have framed becomes law, it will ensure to the rural community of these Provinces a paradise of agricultural peace and prosperity, undisturbed by litigation and untroubled by famine and all the accidents to which the husbandman's life is especially subject in this country. In many recommendations we all concur, who have had different experiences in different districts and in different departments of the public service. Where our views have differed, we have felt ourselves justified in accepting after discussion a compromise which offers violence to the opinions of none. We very earnestly trust that good will come of our labours: but time and experience alone can show whether the hope will be realized. If it be beneficial that men's rights and duties be certain and definite, benefit ought to accrue from the collection in a single Act of all that concerns the rights and duties of landlords and tenants: and many provisions, such for example as those relating to Merger and those concerned with Coparceners, introduce exact rules where much doubt and consequent litigation have prevailed. In the interest of the cultivating class we have afforded protection from arbitrary and excessive enhancement of rents—we have defined the incidents of a right of occupancy and have made it a valuable property in the hands of a careful tenant—we have provided reasonable instalments of rent and secured the evidence of payment—we have restrained the harassment of honest tenants, when their landlords are coparceners and cannot agree—we have given the evicted tenant the crop on the ground sown by himself, and have allowed him compensation for any improvements which he may have made—and finally we have endeavoured to raise the standard of comfort by allowing the ryot to build himself a comfortable habitation and by giving him some share in the material progress of his country.

Provisions in the interest of Tenants

Provisions in the interest of landlords.

§ 192. In the interest of the landlord we have provided rules for the registration of transfers of, and successions to, tenures, under-tenures, and occupancy holdings—we have allowed the tenant to be ejected who disclaims his landlord's title, a valuable sanction in a country where the person who sets up a hostile title too often hopes to support it by suborning to his side the tenants of the person in possession—we have provided definite rules for the enhancement of the rents of tenure-holders and undertenure-holders—and for the purpose of a reasonable enhancement of ryots' rents we have placed the executive agency of Government at the disposal of the zemindar, and have put him in as good a position as Government itself for the achievement of this object. Finally, we have provided the auction-purchaser, who represents an important landholding interest in this country, with the means of realizing the profit of capital invested in land. This ought to increase the value of landed property, and so benefit the landholding community. We believe that the advantages offered by the Bill to landlords are a full equivalent for anything proposed to be given to the ryots. If any think otherwise, we desire to remind them of how much more, in the opinions of some, the ryots are entitled to demand. As to the power of the Legislature to redistribute property in land at any time, when such a redistribution is required in the interests of the entire community, there can be no doubt. If such a redistribution has for its immediate result the impairment of existing interests, compensation is usually given by civilized Legislatures; and we are of opinion that this rule should prevail, if anything contained in the Draft Bill constituted a case to which the rule can be applicable. The majority of us desire, however, to say very emphatically, that in our opinion nothing contained in the Draft Bill constitutes such a case; and that all its provisions, so far as they propose to benefit the ryots, fall well within the power expressly reserved by the conditions of the Permanent Settlement—the power, that is, reserved to the Governor-General of enacting, whenever he might deem it proper, such Regulations as he might think necessary for the protection and welfare of the dependent talukdars, ryots, and other cultivators of the soil.[a]

[a] Clause 1 Section 8, Reg. 1 of 1793.

Remarks by MR. DAMPIER.

§ 1. CHAPTER XV of the Bill treats "Of Proceedings to Enhance the Rent payable in Money by Ryots having a Right of Occupancy. The sections of this Chapter as they stand drafted provide for the landlord, who has a permanent transferable interest in the land, new facilities for enhancing the rent of his occupancy ryots by a procedure before the Collector. If he wishes to enhance on the first, second, or third ground mentioned in section 22, they give him the option of proceeding either before the Civil Court as hitherto, or before the Collector according to the new procedure; if on the fourth ground (rise of prices), he can proceed before the Collector only.

§ 2. It is supposed that where the landlord wishes to proceed against a few ryots only, he will elect the Civil Court. I see no reason for assuming this. If the new procedure before the Collector becomes popular with landlords, they will probably elect it even for isolated cases. This would be going beyond the object of the present remedial measure, which is to provide a special means for enabling the landlord to overcome the resistance which is offered by combinations of ryots, it having been found that when ryots so combine the landlord is practically powerless to enforce the rights which legally and admittedly belong to him.

§ 3. Again, if the new procedure becomes popular, and its adoption depends solely on the will of the landlord, I fear that simultaneous demands will be made on the Government for agency to carry it out, which will be very embarrassing and perhaps impossible to comply with promptly. I would therefore retain in the hands of Government the power of deciding whether cases for determining the amount of rent payable by each individual shall be dealt with by the Revenue Authorities or not.

If a landlord desires the preparation of a Table of Rates of general application, he should of course apply to the Collector under sections 101 et seq., but cases for determining the amount of rent payable by each ryot, whether in accordance with a Table of Rates so prepared or otherwise, I would have instituted in the first instance before the Civil Court, section 30 of the Civil Procedure Code being made use of, if necessary.

§ 4. Then, if the suits so instituted were numerous, and if the circumstances showed the existence of the special difficulty which the new procedure before the Collector is devised to meet, the suits should be transferred to the Collector. I would not leave the power of ordering such transfers in the hands of the Judge as is done by section 130 of the Bill, but in those of the Lieutenant-Governor. If on a representation from the Judge, the Lieutenant-Governor were satisfied that good reason for the transfer existed, he would order the Collector to make an Enhanced Jamabandi such as is contemplated in sections 107 et seq. of the Bill.

§ 5. I would, however, make an exception of the cases contemplated in Sections 112 et seq. in which the landlord can show that, from causes beyond his own control, he is without information as to the existing details of the estate. The hardship of these cases and the difficulties with which a purchaser is beset on acquiring a property from a hostile proprietor, who withholds papers and information, are matters of notoriety. In these cases I would allow the landlord to apply at once to the Collector to make a "Settlement Jamabandi" as contemplated in section 112.

CALCUTTA,
The 5th June 1880.

Remarks by BABOO PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE.

§ 1. As several of the provisions of the Draft Bill were carried by a majority of votes, and as the above Report very properly gives only such facts and arguments as support those provisions, I wish to record my views on some, at least, of the cardinal points involved in the Bill.

Report, para. 15.

§ 2. The Bill has been avowedly framed on the principle that "the land of a country belongs to the people of the country; and, while vested rights should be treated with all possible tenderness, no mode of appropriation and cultivation should be permanently allowed by the Ruler, which involves the wretchedness of the majority of the community." This is a theory, however, which assails the very foundation of private property. Whether they are the outcome of prescriptive enjoyment, or the result of acquisition by labour or money, rights of property should be scrupulously respected, and if the Ruler thinks it desirable that a vested right should be destroyed, let it be compensated for at its money value, or some other equivalent paid to its possessor. It is as reasonable to trench upon a vested right of a landholder for the good of the ryots, as to ask a ryot to carefully cultivate land for the benefit of the entire Indian community.

§ 3. The Government of 1793 declared the zemindars to be "proprietors of the soil" and "landowners." With the exception of ryots who held under pottahs granted before the conclusion of the settlement, and khudkasht ryots, no other ryots were declared to have any right of occupancy in the land, or any right to hold land at fixed rates of rent. The landholders, on the contrary, were enjoined not to grant pottahs for a term exceeding ten years.

Preamble and section 2 of Regulation XLIV of 1793

Sections 52 and 60 of Regulation VIII of 1793

§ 4. In 1864 a majority of the Judges of the High Court gave it as their opinion that the right of occupancy created by section 6, Act X of 1859, was an invasion of the rights of the landholder. Mr. Justice Trevor declared it "a great infringement of the law previously existing," and Sir B. Peacock, Baboo Sumbhoo Nath Pundit, and others, suggested its abolition. The former learned Chief Justice based his recommendation on the grounds that "it interferes with the just rights of the zemindars, at least in the permanently settled districts, by vesting rights of occupancy in the ryots, which had no previous existence;" and secondly, that "it tends to perpetuate small holdings, which must ultimately become injurious to the best interests of the country." Sir R. Garth is quite as strong in his opinion on the subject—"Now, however wise and politic this provision might have been, it seems to me impossible to deny that it operated as an invasion of the landholder's rights as conferred upon him by the Permanent Settlement."

Note dated 8th January 1880.

§ 5. The right has now been enjoyed by ryots for so long a time that the question of its abolition is at the present moment beyond the pale of discussion, but in the face of the above opinions expressed by responsible interpreters of the law, landholders have a right to ask that there should be no further encroachment on their rights. The Bill, however, provides for the extension of the right of occupancy (1) to those who have held or cultivated land under a Mukarraridar or Istemrardar; (2) to sub-ryots who have held or cultivated land otherwise than for a term, or year by year, under ryots having rights of occupancy; and, in a qualified form, (3) to ryots who have held land for three years or more, and less than 12 years.

Section 19, Explanation 3.

Ditto.

Chap IV.

§ 6. Section 19 of the Draft Bill, which takes away the right of occupancy from Mukarraridars, Istemrardars and all ryots whose holdings have been or will be declared, under the operation of the 20 years' presumption, protected from enhancement of rent, and transfers it to their under-ryots, will be productive of great confusion. Power to exempt exciseable articles from provisions of Act.

"The local Government may, by notification in the Government Gazette, within any specified tract of country, exempt any exciseable article or foreign exciseable article from all or any of the provisions of this Act, and may from time to time by a like notification cancel such exemption."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE necessity for amending the Excise Act of 1878 has been brought to the notice of Government partly by a representation from the Board of Revenue, and partly by a communication from the Chief Commissioner of Assam. The Board have pointed out the practical inconvenience which results from the wording of section 58, which restricts the punishment for the illegal introduction, into one Excise Circle, of liquors manufactured beyond the limits of that Circle, to cases in which such liquors are introduced for the purpose of sale. It is practically impossible to prove that liquor is intended to be sold until it has actually been offered for sale; and the law has consequently been evaded to the serious detriment of the public revenue.

The Chief Commissioner of Assam has urged that the Act, as it stands, does not meet some cases of what may be termed "foreign exciseable articles" It appears that wild ganja, which pays no tax, grows plentifully in the hills to the north of Assam, and is smuggled to a considerable extent into the plains, but as the place of its production is beyond the limits of British India, the Act does not authorize any interference with this traffic so long as it is carried on in quantities not exceeding a quarter of a seer. A further difficulty has been found in the working of section 64, which refers to liquors manufactured at any place in India beyond the limits of British India, but does not include such as are manufactured at places in British India in which no excise law is in force. The Jynteah Hills are referred to as an example of such a place.

It is proposed to introduce a short amending Act to meet these difficulties.

C. H. REILY,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Legislative Dept.

THE following report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill, as amended by them, is, by order of the President, published for general information:—

WE, the undersigned members of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to whom the Bill to amend The Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876, was referred, have the honour to make the following report:—

We have considered the question of providing, by law, for the consolidation of the Government loans, and the handing over to Government of the Sinking Fund held against those loans—an operation already carried into effect. From an examination of the wording of Bengal Act I of 1872 and of Chapter XV of the present Calcutta Municipal Act, it appears to us that the arrangements between Government and the Municipality in respect of Government loans were not intended in any way to be affected by the provisions of the Municipal Acts, and that the Sinking or Reserve Fund, provided for by section 337 of the present Act, had reference solely to the fund formed by setting aside two per cent on the total amount of the debenture loans contracted by the Commissioners under the provisions of former Acts. This being so, it is only necessary to make the intention of the law clear by inserting words in the penultimate clause of that section to show that the moneys and securities which are to be held by the Municipal Trustees "upon the trusts declared" in that section, did not include any moneys held as a Sinking Fund against sums borrowed from Government.

In respect of Sinking Fund provision against debenture loans, contracted, under the Act of 1876, section 334 gives the Government full power to make all necessary stipulations, if section 337 is held not to require the calculation of Sinking Fund percentage upon the amount of such loans.

We have, however, by a separate section, provided that, in respect of future loans on account of drainage and water-supply, the Sinking Fund may be reduced to one per cent. on the net amount of such loans outstanding at the beginning of each year.

We have also considered the question of providing for an extension of the water-supply to the suburbs. We are all (with the exception of Baboo Kristodas Pal) of opinion that the simplest way of effecting this is to follow the lines of section 168 of the present Act, under which the local Government may declare any portions of the environs to be part of the town for the purposes of the drainage scheme. In the same manner if the local Government is empowered to declare any portion of the environs to be part of the town for the purposes of the water-supply, all the legislative sanction necessary will be given. The Government will then be in a position to act as supreme arbitrator between the Calcutta Corporation and the Suburban Municipalities. It is not necessary for the law to take cognizance of the details of any particular scheme of water supply. We have, however, been shown grounds for believing that if the town should determine to have a 62-inch main for its own purposes without any reference to possible suburban demand, and should therefore be willing to charge against the suburbs only the cost of the necessary extensions and the increased pumping and filtering apparatus necessitated by such extensions, the levy in the suburbs of the same water-rate as in the town would give the town a very large interest on the capital so charged against the suburbs. Even if it be thought fair to charge against the suburbs a portion of the extra cost involved in having a 62-inch main, it seems improbable that the levy of an equal rate in town and suburbs would cause any loss to the town. We have, however, thought it safest to provide for the possible levy of a differential rate in the suburbs, if the Government should be convinced that good reason exists for allowing such a rate; but we restrict this to the maximum already allowed by the Act, as that appears to us, on the figures available to us, not only as much as the suburbs ought to bear, but as much as they can possibly afford to pay. It has been pointed out to us that the reduction of the contribution to Sinking Fund in the case of future water-supply and drainage loans has been allowed by Government only on the understanding that such works are permanent in character, and that the suburbs are to be brought on equitable terms within the water-supply. The Government would, it appears, refuse to recognise anything short of a 62-inch main as a permanent and satisfactory settlement of the water-supply question, even for the town itself. This being so, we think that the Corporation is bound to recognize a certain solidarity in this matter between the suburbs and the town, and it cannot fairly claim the right of charging against the suburbs expenditure which it could not in any case avoid. The difference between a one per cent. and two per cent. Sinking Fund is a material advantage which the town should set off against any little extra expenditure caused by the inclusion of the suburbs.

BABOO KRISTODAS PAL has recorded his views on the subject separately.

The rest of us dissent from this view, holding not only that the town has a real and strong interest in the sanitary condition and well-being of its suburbs, but that it owes some consideration to the residents of those parts, nearly all of whom work in the town and contribute to its wealth.

We have provided that the Suburban Municipalities shall, if required, assess and collect the water-rate for the Commissioners.

We come now to the minor amendments made by us in the Bill.

We have exempted from the operation of section 39 of the Act all officers and servants whose pensions are otherwise provided for under section 15 of the Bill

In section 54 of the Act we have made the call for tenders and the approval of the Committee of the Commissioners unnecessary in all contracts over a thousand rupees entered into by the Commissioners in meeting.

We have altered section 77 of the Act so as to enable the court inflicting the fine to pay from the amount so obtained the sum due as license to the Commissioners.

We have made the provisions of section 96 of the Act applicable to night-soil fees.

We have made the operation of section 16 of the Bill contingent on the direction of the local Government with the sanction of the Governor-General.

In section 277 of the Act we have fixed a limit of 14 days after receipt of notice within which the Commissioners must decide whether they will interfere or not in respect of the erection of huts.

We have made it clear that the sanction of the local Government must be obtained to any scheme of improvement: and that, when such sanction is obtained, the municipal funds may legally be spent in carrying out such scheme.

We have added a clause to section 21 of the Bill making it imperative upon the Commissioners, in the event of their undertaking to carry out the scheme of improvement themselves, to complete such work within two years unless the time is extended by the direction of the local Government. The clause also provides for the ultimate disposal of the lands so purchased or leased by the Commissioners. It is not considered desirable that the Commissioners should hold improved lands permanently, or become in a general way owners of house property. We have in other respects amended the wording and arrangement of the section.

We have provided that the word "drug" used in the first clause of section 23 of the Bill shall, for the purposes of that clause, not apply to articles of ordinary domestic consumption. We have also provided for the granting of a license to all keepers of drug-shops affected by the clause, and for the exposure of such license in some conspicuous part of the shop or place.

We have enlarged the scope of the second clause of the same section by prohibiting the sale of any drug in any shop registered under the first clause except by persons duly certified under the provisions of that clause.

The penal provisions of the third clause of the same section have also been altered to meet the changes effected in the clause immediately preceding, and the forfeiture of license has been included among the penalties liable to be incurred upon infraction of the provisions of the section by the keeper of a retail drug-shop

In section 26 of the Bill we have prohibited the sale of articles used for the cremation of bodies by any but licensed vendors within a range of three hundred yards of the burning ground, and added a penalty not exceeding a fine of fifty rupees to follow upon the contravention of this rule.

We have made a few other verbal alterations, and recommend that the Bill, as amended by us, be passed.

DISSENT.

I DISSENT from the view taken by my colleagues as to the terms on which the Calcutta water-supply should be extended to the suburbs. I am quite willing to see the benefit of the Calcutta water-supply extended to the suburbs, but hold that this should not be done at the expense of the town. I am of opinion that the extension should be made either by admitting the Suburban Municipality into a co-partnership with the Calcutta Municipality, or by selling water to the suburbs on the ordinary commercial principle. According to the first view, it appears that the increased supply of water from the extension of the present scheme would be twelve millions of gallons, of which two-thirds would be kept for the town and one-third would be given to the suburbs. The cost of construction and maintenance of the works I consider should be divided between the town and the suburbs on the same principle and in the same proportion. This would involve a charge of Rs. 1,80,893 upon the suburbs per annum, which the Suburban Municipality says, it is not in a position to pay. To apply the commercial principle strictly would not be advantageous to the suburbs, for in that case the seller might well claim the right of selling his own commodity at his own price. Considering, however, the community of interests between the town and the suburbs, I am quite willing to charge the suburbs only the out-of-pocket expenses, which will be incurred by the town in extending the supply to the suburbs. The data for the calculation of these expenses are roughly given in some of the papers of the Calcutta Corporation laid before the Select Committee. In calculating these expenses, the main point on which I am at issue with the majority is about the cost of the 62-inch main. I hold that a 42-inch main would double the supply of the town, that a 62-inch main would be necessary for the extension of the supply to the suburbs, and that the difference in the cost of the bigger main should in equity be borne by the latter. Following this principle, the capital outlay on suburban works, including interest during construction, would be in round numbers Rs. 15,50,000. The other items are not disputed. The figures, which have been furnished to me by the Engineer to the Calcutta Corporation, stand thus—

	Rs.
Interest on capital outlay	77,500
Contribution to Sinking Fund at one per cent. ...	15,500
Working charges	38,000
Cost of renewal of works at five per cent. on iron works and one per cent on brick culvert ...	38,000
Total ...	1,69,000

An equal rate for town and suburbs is delusive, for one per cent. rate on assessed house property in town is productive of nearly six times as much as the same in the suburbs, that is to say, while one per cent. rate produces in Calcutta about Rs. 1,30,000 per annum, the same for the area of the suburbs estimated yields Rs. 24,547 per ditto.

The maximum water-rate proposed for the suburbs is six per cent. per annum, and as one per cent. rate in the suburbs, for the area to be supplied with water, is calculated to be equal to Rs. 24,547, a six per cent. water-rate would yield Rs. 1,47,282, leaving a deficit of Rs. 21,718. The question is whether the rate-payers of Calcutta can be fairly called upon to make up this deficit from their own pockets. It is on this point I am at issue with my colleagues, and as they would apparently saddle the town with this burden, I cannot agree with them. There are other points which I do not consider it necessary to notice here. I have no objection to the provision giving power to the Lieutenant-Governor to declare the suburbs as a part of the town for purposes of water-supply, but I think that the Government is bound to see that the town is not made to bear the burden of the suburbs in carrying out the orders of Government. It is observable that when I accepted the concession of Government to reduce the contribution to the Sinking Fund on account of future drainage and water-supply loans from two per cent. to one per cent. on the understanding that the 62-inch main should be adopted in order to enable the Calcutta Corporation to extend the water-supply to the suburbs, I did not for a moment understand that the town should bear any portion of the legitimate burden of the suburbs. The reduction of the Sinking Fund contribution would be a benefit common to the town and the suburbs. It would be a relief to the present generation of tax-payers, both in the town and in the suburbs. To call upon the town to make up the deficit of the suburbs on account of the extension of the supply would be to neutralize the benefit accorded to it by the reduction of the Sinking Fund contribution—in fact, it would be taking away with one hand the boon which has been conferred by the other.

"The Commissioners may revoke or withdraw any such license at any time they may think fit, and any person to whom any such license is granted, who shall charge for the sale of any such article any higher rate than the rate fixed for such article in such scale, shall, at the discretion of the Commissioners, be liable to have his license cancelled, and shall also be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees."

"And they shall invest the surplus (if any) of the said sum, after repayment as aforesaid, or in case there has not been any amount due or paid in respect of such loans during the year, then they shall invest the whole of the said sum in Government securities or in any securities guaranteed by Government, or in Calcutta Municipal debentures, in the names of the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department and the Accountant-General of Bengal respectively for the time being, to be by them held in a separate account as Trustees for the purpose of repaying at due date, from time to time, the loans contracted by the Commissioners for the purposes aforementioned after the said first day of April 1881."

BURIAL BOARDS (CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS).

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the appointment of a Burial Board in Calcutta and its suburbs.

He said that the condition of the older Calcutta burial-grounds had frequently of late years attracted the notice of Government, and been unfavourably commented on by the public. The two cemeteries in the neighbourhood of Park-street had long since ceased to be used for purposes of general interment, and were fast lapsing into a state of ruin and disrepair. The monuments, consisting chiefly of those vast masses of brickwork which our predecessors were wont to pile over the remains of their departed friends, were falling in many cases to pieces, and there was no authority at present vested with power to deal with them. Even in the Circular Road grounds, though matters were of course not so bad, there was still in the older portions of the cemetery much disorder and untidiness from the want of a controlling authority competent to direct the repair, removal, or alteration of broken-down tombs. At the same time, owing to the fact that this cemetery was used by three different sections of the community—the Church of England, the Roman Catholic body, and the Non-Conformists—there was a want of uniformity and neatness in the manner in which the grounds were kept, the monuments put up, and other work done. The establishments were, moreover, under no proper control. It was proposed therefore to provide by law for the appointment of a Burial Board, in which should be represented the Calcutta Corporation, the Health Department of the Town, the Public Works Department of Government, and, as far as possible, the clergy and laity of the different religious bodies using the cemeteries. To this Board would be made over the control and management of all the Government cemeteries. Power was also taken to enable those interested in private cemeteries to make them over to the management of the Board on such terms as regards the defrayal of expenses and the like as the Lieutenant-Governor might approve.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie said the Bill had already been published under the authority contained in Rule 15 of the Rules for the Conduct of Business, and although much public attention had not been drawn to the subject, the matter was a simple one, and there could, he believed, be no possible objection to the Bill being at once read in Council and referred to a Select Committee for consideration. He therefore applied to His Honor the President to suspend the rules in order that the Bill might be read in Council.

The President having declared the rules suspended—

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie moved that the Bill be read in Council. The Bill, he said, provided for the appointment of a Burial Board, in which the Calcutta Corporation and its Health Department would be represented, as well as the Public Works Department of the Government, and the three Christian bodies now using the cemeteries—viz the Church of England, the Roman Catholic Church, and the Non-Conformists; the Chairman of the Board being appointed by the Government. The Bill gave power to bring under the control of the Board all or so many of the Government burial-grounds (not being military burial-grounds) situated in the town or suburbs of Calcutta, as might seem fit to the Lieutenant-Governor. The Board would receive and account for fees paid for the use of burial-grounds and the erection of monuments therein, and for any Government grants placed at their disposal. They were empowered to appoint and control their own subordinate establishment. The Bill also provided for the making of bye-laws; for regulating the conduct of business; for securing the preservation, repair, or removal of existing monuments, and for regulating the dimensions and erection of new monuments; for regulating the mode of payment of fees and charges, and the expenditure of the same; and for controlling the execution of all works within burial-grounds. These last were the most important provisions of the Bill, which were intended to give the Burial Board full power and control over the working of cemeteries. There was also inserted in the Bill a provision to meet cases like the following: There were several minor burial-grounds belonging to small communities—for instance, the Scotch, Armenian, Greek, and other cemeteries—which were at present managed by the communities to which they belonged. These communities might perhaps sometime or other wish to have their burial-grounds placed under the control of the Board, which they might consider, with the experience it would possess in the management of cemeteries, would be better able to administer the trust than private bodies liable to frequent changes and having no legal powers. Accordingly power was taken under the Bill to bring such private grounds under the control of the Board on the application of those interested, on such terms and conditions as the Lieutenant-Governor might approve.

The motion was agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Messrs. Reynolds, Allen, Prestage, and the Mover, with instructions to report within a week.

AMENDMENT OF THE EXCISE ACT.

THE HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS moved for leave to bring in a Bill to amend "The Bengal Excise Act, 1878," and in doing so, he said that the amendment of the Excise Act had been urged upon the Government from two different quarters. First the Board of Revenue reported that they found a practical difficulty in the working of section 58 of the Act. Section 9 authorized the Collector to fix the limits within which liquors, not manufactured at a licensed distillery, should not be introduced or sold without a pass, but section 58, the corresponding section which provided a penalty for breach of an offence against section 9, declared that whoever introduced or attempted to introduce for sale any spirituous liquors manufactured at another place, into the limits fixed for the consumption of such liquors manufactured at such distillery, without a special pass, should be liable to a fine. The Board pointed out that, a great practical difficulty had arisen from the insertion in section 58 of the words "for sale." The difficulty was that when liquor was found in transit, or in the act of being introduced from one circle to another, it was impossible to show that it was intended for sale, while in the case of an actual sale it was difficult to prove that the liquor which was sold was the very liquor which had been introduced from another circle.

The other quarter from which reference was made to the Government for the amendment of the Act was the Chief Commissioner of Assam, who urged that the Act did not meet some cases of what might be termed "foreign exciseable articles." These were dealt with by section 19 of the Act, which provided that spirituous liquor, manufactured beyond the limits of British India, should, on passing the limits of the territories to which the Act applied, be charged with duty, and the corresponding section which provided a penalty was section 64, which declared that any person found in illicit possession of spirituous liquors, manufactured beyond the limits of British India, should be liable to fine. It appeared, however, that in Assam there were certain parts of the province which were not beyond the limits of British India, but in which no excise law was in force, for instance, the Jynteah Hills, and in consequence that section did not apply to those territories, and liquor had been introduced from the Jynteah Hills where it was not subject to the payment of duty on manufacture, and the section did not admit of the levy of duty on such liquor. Section 64 was also imperfect in another particular, inasmuch as it applied only to spirituous liquors and not to intoxicating drugs. It appeared that gunja grew plentifully in the hills in a wild state, and under section 61 and section 64, as they stood, no one was liable to any penalty for being in possession of such gunja as long as it was held in quantities not exceeding a quarter of a seer. It was represented by the Chief Commissioner that there was a considerable illicit traffic in gunja which was brought from the hills beyond British territory into Assam, and it was desired that measures should be taken to put a stop to this.

As MR. REYNOLDS was at present only moving for leave to introduce a Bill, it was not necessary for him to explain in detail the provisions which the Bill would contain.

The motion was agreed to.

AMENDMENT OF THE COURT OF WARDS ACT.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to amend "The Court of Wards Act, 1879," be read in Council. He said that in asking permission to introduce this Bill, he made some remarks on points which now stood embodied in sections 2 and 3 of the Bill, and it would not be necessary for him to touch on those points again. He should therefore proceed at once to section 4 which contained a re-arrangement of sections 48 and 49 of the present Act. Those sections provided that the funds which came into the hands of a Manager should be expended for certain purposes in a certain order of priority. Hon'ble Members, who had read the annexures to the Bill, would see that it was found impossible to adhere to that order of priority in practice; for instance, the Manager of the Narail Estate reported that a good Hindu would not take his food until the family idols were worshipped, but according to law, the Manager was not authorized to pay for pooja expenses until certain other things were provided for, and if the law was to be obeyed, he would, in certain cases, be obliged to starve his ward. Managers of wards' estates had a right to ask for such protection as could, by reasonable forethought, be devised against the necessity of breaking the law in such cases. MR. DAMPIER had accordingly endeavoured to recast these sections so that they should be more workable. He believed that the Council would consider the really important point in these sections to be the limit that was put on the expenditure of not more than 10 per cent. of the surplus proceeds of the estate on purposes of general benefit and improvement of the ward and his estate. MR DAMPIER had defined the restriction and limitation more precisely than it was defined in the Act. It was necessary under the existing law to obtain the special permission of the Lieutenant-Governor in such cases before a larger proportion than 10 per cent. of the surplus was so used: in that respect is was not proposed to weaken the check which the law imposed on the action of the Court of Wards.

Then, in the section which was substituted for section 49, MR. DAMPIER had tried also to express the meaning of the law more precisely, but he had put in a new proviso for the protection of the Court. According to the existing law, the surplus funds of an estate, belonging to a female who was of sound mind, and above the age of 21, was to be paid to her without question: as the law stood, she could claim the surplus at any moment. But it was obvious that the Collector, before handing over the accumulated surplus, must keep a working balance in his hands, and it was reasonable that he should also keep a sufficient balance to meet any considerable expenditure of which the necessity could be foreseen and which could not probably be met out of the profits of the following year. These provisions were therefore introduced for the protection of the officers who had the management of the estate.

The next provision to which MR. DAMPIER would refer, was contained in section 7 of the Bill, and related to suits instituted by female wards who had attained the age of 21 years. This was a new provision, and he did not know whether it would meet with the approval of the Council. It had been suggested by a practical difficulty in the working of the Act, and he hoped to get the opinion of the learned Advocate-General on it before the Bill was passed.

The next section was section 8 of the Bill, which was intended to meet the difficulty of getting accounts from farmers in wards' estates: the section was taken from a provision in the Land Registration Act, which was accepted by the Council as the best possible procedure. It was provided that the Collector could impose a daily fine on a farmer until he produced the accounts.

Section 10 of the Bill was to remedy a defect in the Public Demands Recovery Act. As the Act stood, the application of the Manager of a ward's estate to the Collector for a certificate for the recovery of arrears of rent must be on stamped paper. It had been discovered that, by an oversight, the Act did not provide for the recovery of the interest on the arrears, of the cost of the stamp, or of the costs of executing the certificate, so that if the ward's Manager elected to proceed for recovery of arrears of rent due by the certificate procedure, he must either give up the interest due and the costs, or proceed to recover them by the separate procedure of a civil suit. The section by which it was proposed to remedy this omission would stand as section 63 of the Wards Act of 1879, taking the place of the section of the Act on the same subject which originally bore the same number, and which had been repealed by the Public Demands Recovery Act.

The last section of the Bill provided for the recovery from those into whose hands any portion of the ward's property had passed from the charge of the Collector, after its release, of any expenses which had been incurred by the Court on account of the property, in cases in which, in consequence of want of funds, oversight, or any other cause, such expenses had not been paid out of the funds of the ward's property before it was released from the charge of the Court.

The HON'BLE AMEER ALI said there was one point which he thought it proper and convenient to bring to the notice of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill at this stage. It was a point which had struck several practical lawyers, and could be discussed in Select Committee, and, if thought proper, could be included in the amended Bill which the Committee would submit for the consideration of the Council. It was a difficulty which had arisen with reference to section 27 of Act IX of 1879, which provided as follows:—

"Whenever any Collector has reason to believe that any person residing in his district, or being the proprietor of an estate borne on the revenue-roll of his district, should be declared or adjudged to be a disqualified proprietor under section 6, he shall make such enquiry as he may deem necessary, and, if satisfied, that such person should be so declared or adjudged, shall make a report of the same to the court; and the court shall, on receipt of such report, make such order consistent with this Act as may seem to it expedient."

Thus it would be seen that it lay in the hands of the Collector to make a report, and the Court of Wards made an order with reference to the person so reported to be disqualified as might be consistent with this Act. Section 6 defined who the disqualified proprietors were, one class of such persons being minors, and a minor was defined by the Act to mean a person who had not completed the age of twenty-one. It appeared to MR. AMEER ALI that these provisions of the Court of Wards Act involved some degree of inconsistency with the Indian Majority Act IX of 1875. That Act declared that a person who was not a Ward of Court, or for whom a guardian was not appointed by a Court of Justice, should be considered a major on the completion of his eighteenth year; but the Court of Wards Act provided that a person was a minor who had not completed his twenty-first year; so that under the lastmentioned Act a person who had under the Indian Majority Act entered into the enjoyment of all his legal rights, and had become vested with all the legal capacities of a major, might, on the report of a Collector, be deprived of these capacities, and be declared disqualified and incompetent to enter into any legal transaction. MR. AMEER ALI thought that the inconsistency to which he had called attention might, if possible, be removed, and therefore mentioned the point for the consideration of the Select Committee. The conflict existing between the two Acts was likely to occasion much hardship to people who entered bona fide into transactions with a person who was a major under Act IX of 1875, but who, under the Court of Wards Act, was declared a disqualified proprietor.

THE HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said he could not allow this occasion to pass without acknowledging the liberality of Government in recognizing and rewarding the eminent services of DR. RAJENDRALALA MITRA to the cause of literature to his country, as well as to the State. Those services were well known and highly appreciated not only in this country but also in Europe. The object of the Bill was primarily to give validity to the pension which the Government had been kind enough to grant to him, and BABOO KRISTODAS PAL felt sure that the native public would hail with pleasure and gratitude this generous recognition of the distinguished services of this illustrious man.

With regard to the remarks which had fallen from the Hon'ble Member on his right (MR AMEER ALI), he could not concur with his Hon'ble Friend as to the propriety of re-opening the question of the age of minors under the Court of Wards. He must say that that question had been discussed threadbare and settled after long and mature deliberation. He thought it was to the advantage of the proprietors of estates that the period of the nonage of minors under the Court of Wards had been extended to twenty-one years. It had not unfrequently been found that young men suddenly coming into the possession of large properties without having their character properly formed and their judgment matured, fell into the hands of intriguers around them, and he thought the provision of law which enabled the Court of Wards to keep charge of an estate until the proprietor had attained the age of twenty-one years was calculated to prove highly beneficial to him.

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE, in reference to the question of the age of majority, said that in spite of what had fallen from his hon'ble friend opposite (BABOO KRISTODAS PAL), he thought it advisable that the matter should be considered by the Select Committee. It was not proposed by the hon'ble member who spoke first (MR. AMEER ALI), as he understood him, to reduce the age of majority, but to draw attention to the fact that when a person who might come under the Court of Wards had attained the age of 18, it was uncertain, as the law stands, whether he was a minor or a major. Apparently the Court of Wards could take charge of his estates at any time up to his reaching the age of 21. There was nothing in the Act compelling the Court to come to a final decision about taking over the estate on the first occasion of its becoming aware of the disability. In a recent case, where a large proprietor had entered into the possession of his estate at the age of 18 years, it had been found useful by Government to have the power of check given, by its being apparently able to direct the interference of the Court of Wards at any time, although so long as the property was well managed, Government did not wish to interfere. There might, however, be some question of the legal effect of such a course of action, and some difficulty in defining the position of such a minor-major, and it was just as well that the Select Committee should look into the matter in order to see whether any further definition or explanation of minority or majority was desirable.

His Honor the President said that before putting the question he wished to say, with reference to the remarks which had fallen from the Hon'ble Member on the left (Mr. Amir Ali), that he was very much averse to any such alteration in the age of majority under the Court of Wards Act, which should have the effect of preventing the Government from interfering for the protection of an estate the proprietor of which had not attained the age of twenty-one years. The case which had been cited by the Hon'ble Member on the right (Mr. Mackenzie) was a very well known case While it was very desirable that the Government should have power to interfere, it was very often unnecessary to do so provided proper arrangements were made for the management of the estate by the family. The case which had been mentioned exemplified the working of the section. It was the case of the proprietor of a large estate, who died suddenly leaving an heir between the ages of 18 and 21. The proprietor had before his death made arrangements for the management of his estate which worked exceedingly well, and it was considered very desirable that those arrangements should continue. But soon after the death of the proprietor, it came to the notice of His Honor that endeavours had been made to upset the system of management which the deceased proprietor had established, and he only succeeded in having the then existing arrangements continued by threatening to exercise the power vested in the Government to interfere in the management of the estate if any change was made. He believed that in this way one of the most valuable estates in Bengal had been saved from ruin. The power, although it might only be necessary to exercise it by way of influencing the action of the heir, was a very valuable one, and therefore he would wish that the power be retained. The subject had already been brought to the notice of Government by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and it was one well worthy the consideration of the Select Committee, not with the view of altering the principle of the law, but getting rid of apparent inconsistencies, and of making it perfectly certain that the Government should have power to interfere in cases in which it might be desirable to do so. The Hon'ble Member who had raised this question would no doubt be placed upon the Select Committee, and the subject could then be carefully considered.

The motion was then agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Messrs. Reynolds, Allen, Amir Ali, Peary Mohun Mookerjee, Kristodas Pal, and the Mover with instructions to report within a fortnight.

AMENDMENT OF "THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT."

The Hon'ble Kristodas Pal moved that the Bill to amend "The Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876," be read in Council, and in doing so he said he should endeavour to give a brief analysis of the provisions of the Bill. In the first part of the Bill, provision had been made to legalize the consolidation of the loans borrowed from the Government, and with respect to this point, it might be open to question whether it was at all necessary to make legal provision of this kind, because he found, on reference to the Municipal Act of 1876, that the Government loans were contracted outside the Act. It had, however, been found desirable to give legal effect to the consolidation of the Government loans, and the provisions of sections 2 and 3 had accordingly been inserted in the Bill. The opportunity had also been taken to indemnify the Trustees in charge of the Sinking Fund for making over to the Government the Government portion of the accumulations of the fund up to date, in order to carry out the terms of the consolidation of the Government loans. The whole transaction had been completed—it was now a fait accompli, but the sections had been drawn on the lines of the Port Commissioners Amendment Act, in order that the Commissioners might at a meeting, other than an ordinary meeting, give effect to the transaction.

Power was given by another section to the Commissioners to set apart annually, in respect of future loans for the drainage and water-supply of the town, one per cent. on the total amount of the loans as a Sinking Fund for the repayment of the loans. He had explained to the Council that, under the existing law, the Commissioners were required to assign two per cent. as a contribution to the Sinking Fund, but that contribution necessitated increased taxation, and unnecessarily threw a heavy burden on the present generation of rate-payers. The Commissioners therefore represented to the Government that it would be both reasonable and equitable that the liability should be divided between the present generation and posterity, and that the contribution to the Sinking Fund should therefore be reduced from two to one per cent. The Government of Bengal had acceded to that representation of the Municipal Commissioners, and supported it in a letter to the Government of India on the subject. With His Honour the President's permission, he would read an extract from that letter. After alluding to the consolidation of the Government loans, and the relief afforded to the town by the arrangements made, the Secretary to the Government of Bengal remarked—

"The Corporation are now considering a scheme for largely increasing the supply of water, and extending it to the suburbs, and the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to amend Act V (B. C.) of 1876 so as to give the Suburban Commissioners power to levy a water-rate to cover the expenses incurred on their behalf by the Calcutta Municipality. The work in contemplation will be of such a nature as to last long beyond the present generation. The drainage works, too, are essentially of a permanent nature, and their benefits will extend to posterity. On the other hand, there is no ground for apprehending any decline in the prosperity of Calcutta, within any period to which reasonable anticipation can extend. Municipal taxation in Calcutta is very high, and the Lieutenant-Governor believes that any increase in the rates would seriously interfere with the progress of the town. Only once during the ten years, from 1870 to 1879, did the aggregate rate fall below 16 per cent., and in four of these years it was 18 or 18½ per cent. It is a question whether, even now, the population of the town is not less than it would be if the rate of Municipal taxation were lighter. In the suburbs taxation is also high, and it is represented that, if the rate to be levied is to include provision for a two per cent. Sinking Fund contribution, the scheme will probably have to be abandoned. Under these circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to make provision in the amending Act for a Sinking Fund contribution of one per cent. only on all public loans raised for water-supply, on the understanding that the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta determine to lay a new 62 inch main conduit from Pultah, and he would make a similar provision in regard to loans for drainage works. He trusts the Government of India will signify their approval of this measure."

Baboo Kristodas Pal did not know whether any reply had been received to that letter, but he hoped the recommendation of the Government of Bengal would be accepted by the Government of India. The rate-payers of Calcutta ought to be grateful to Government for relieving them from so heavy a charge on the Town Fund, which was dictated by a sense of justice to the present generation. Whilst on this subject, he might advert to the provision made in section 12 of the Bill for the extension of the water-supply to the suburbs. He considered it his duty to point out that it was no part of the obligation of the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta to supply water to the suburbs—that their sole duty was to supply water to their own rate-payers. But if the Commissioners of the suburbs desired to avail themselves of the Calcutta supply, and would pay for it, the Calcutta Commissioners would certainly assist them. At present, the law did not authorize the Commissioners of Calcutta to extend the water-supply to the suburbs, nor to levy a rate for the purpose; it was therefore proposed to give them power to extend the supply to the suburbs on the application of the Suburban Municipality and the consent of the local Government, and to impose a water-rate on the suburbs, sufficient to cover interest on the capital for the extension works, contribution to the Sinking Fund, and the cost of maintenance and supervision, and the necessary renewal of works. Accordingly, section 12 had been introduced, but he hoped it would be distinctly understood that it was not the object to throw an undue burden on the Calcutta rate-payers. If the people of the suburbs wished to drink the water of Calcutta, they must pay for it—unless they consented to pay the price, they could not justly be held entitled to the water.

He now came to some of the detailed provisions of the Bill. Section 5 legalized the designation "Town Council." It might be in the recollection of the Council that when the Municipal Act of 1876 was passed, there was no provision in that Act for the constitution of a Town Council, but Mr. Metcalfe, who officiated for some time as Chairman of the Corporation, gave the name "Town Council" to the General Committee of the Commissioners. The business of the Municipality was carried on partly by the Chairman and partly by Committees of the Commissioners—there was the General Committee, which met every week—sometimes more than once a week—there were Special Committees which sat on special subjects, and made reports, and these reports were considered by the Commissioners in meeting. The General Committee performed the functions of the body, which, in Bombay and other places, was called the Town Council, and it was desired that that designation should be legalized, but it was not intended in any way to change the constitution of the Committees or their present procedure.

Then, some practical inconvenience had resulted under the present provision of the law which required that the budget should be laid before the Town Commissioners at their quarterly meeting in October, when the Doorga Pooja holidays intervened. It was proposed to alter the time for the submission of the budget from October to November.

He now came to section 14 of the Bill which related to pensions. He did not wish to discuss this subject at length, as he stated, when he applied for leave to introduce the Bill, that he was not responsible for the introduction of this section. He believed there had been some correspondence between the Government of India and the Government of Bengal on the subject, and it might probably be arranged hereafter that the section should be omitted, but he could not give any positive information to the Council regarding it—he would leave it to His Honour the President to explain the position in which the question now stood. But he repeated that, in his opinion, it was not fair and equitable to throw any charge for these pensions on the Municipal Fund, for the officers concerned were in no sense servants of the Municipality—they were not appointed by the Corporation—they were not liable to the control of the Commissioners, nor to dismissal by them. The Municipality paid a lump sum for the maintenance of the police under an Act of the Legislature, and it was never intended or declared that the funds of the Municipality should be burdened with the pensionary allowances of persons who were all-along considered to be Government servants. From 1867, to the present time, the Municipality had only been called upon to pay a certain portion of the cost of the police, but they were now for the first time asked to make a contribution towards their pensions as well. He hoped that the Municipality would be exempted from that burden.

He would now advert to what was known as the bustee question. The sections in the Bill had been drawn on the lines of The English Artisans Dwelling Act, and in framing the sections, care had been taken that no land should be acquired arbitrarily or hastily. First of all, any land or area which might be considered to be in a state dangerous to health would be reported upon by two competent medical men in addition to the Health Officer of the Town After receiving the report of such medical men, the Commissioners would consider what improvements should be made. They might, if they thought it necessary, report to the Government, recommending that the land be acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, and they might then reclaim the land and carry out the improvements at their own expense, or re-sell the land to private individuals under certain conditions as to building, drainage, and other sanitary requirements. Compensation should of course be paid according to the Land Acquisition Act, and the Commissioners were authorized to borrow money for this purpose.

The next subject which Baboo Kristodas Pal would notice was the registration of shops for the sale of European drugs. There were some defects in the existing law as to registration, which it was now proposed to remedy by giving full power to the Health Officer. For instance, the present law did not give power to the Health Officer to seize any medicines which had become deteriorated by reason of climate or age, or to require the proprietor of any shop to employ a competent compounder. Section 21 gave power to the Municipal Commissioners to require the proprietors of drug shops to employ persons duly certified, under such rules as the Government might from time to time provide on the subject. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was pleased to say, at the last sitting of the Council, that he would be happy to co-operate with the Municipality by instituting a compounder's class in the Campbell Medical School, and lay down certain conditions to test the professional qualifications and capacity of men to be employed in druggists' shops.

The next provision in the Bill gave power to the Commissioners to license fuel shops near burning grounds. This subject was perhaps not thoroughly known to Hon'ble Members of the Council. They were doubtless aware that, near the burning ground, shops were kept for the sale of fuel and other articles for cremation—great abuses at one time existed in respect of these shops, and his friend, Baboo Chunder Mohun Chatterjee moved Mr. Wauchope, who was then Commissioner of Police for Calcutta, to put a stop to those abuses by licensing one or two shops for the sale of fuel. The abuses were so great that Mr. Wauchope, though not having the support of the law, considered it necessary by a stretch of executive authority to regulate the sale of fuel at these shops by licensing one or two of them. That arrangement continued when the late Justices came into existence. Sir Stuart Hogg examined the question, and he was also satisfied that, unless some hold was had on the sale of fuel at the burning ghats, great abuses would again arise, and he therefore continued the arrangements made by Mr. Wauchope, and those arrangements have since been in force. But lately, owing to a new interpretation of the law by a Bench of Magistrates in Calcutta, rival shops had sprung up, and some police cases had resulted in consequence. It was therefore proposed to give power to the Commissioners to license fuel shops with a view to put down disputes and litigation, and to check abuses. Section 24 of the Bill provided for that purpose.

These were the main provisions of the Bill; the other sections covered minor amendments, which did not call for particular remarks. But there was one point deserving of notice, which was at present outside the Bill He meant whether the Municipal year should be brought into harmony with the Financial year of the Government Hon'ble Members had seen amongst the papers circulated with the Bill, a letter from Mr. Secretary Macaulay in which reference was made to this subject. The Municipal year in Calcutta corresponded with the calendar year, but the Secretary of State urged that the Municipal year in all the Presidency towns should be made to correspond with the Official year This question was referred to the Commissioners sometime ago, and Baboo Kristodas Pal found that it was reserved for consideration till the time when the Municipal Act might need amendment. The question had therefore been now again urged for consideration. He, for his own part, thought it would entail great practical inconvenience on the Municipality if the Municipal year were made to correspond with the Official year. All the Municipal licenses corresponded with the calendar year, and if the Financial year were made the Municipal year, then the year of such licenses must be altered, the books of the Municipality must also be altered, and at least for one year the tax-payees, who had to take out these licenses, would have to pay license fees for a year and a quarter, and great practical inconvenience would thus arise. The object of the Government was, he believed, to have the Municipal accounts made up according to the Financial year, and he understood that there was an executive order in existence under which the Municipal accounts were furnished to Government according to the Financal year, so that the primary object of the Government, he ventured to think, had already been attained by the executive arrangements already in force. But if the Government should insist on the change of the Municipal year, it would be for the Select Committee to consider how far the wishes of Government might be met.

The Hon'ble Ameer Ali said he thought advantage should be taken of the present opportunity to do away with the anomalous position of the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta, who were also Justices of the Peace, in trying cases in which the Municipality was a party. He believed doubts had suggested themselves in several quarters as to the legality of their proceedings, and he believed that such doubts existed in Bombay also. He had mentioned the matter to His Hon'ble friend on his left (BABOO KRISTODAS PAL), and he thought it right that attention should be drawn to it in Council, that measures might be taken to solve the difficulty referred to. The Bombay Government was about to introduce a Bill to empower Presidency Magistrates, who were also Municipal Commissioners, to try cases in which the Municipality was a party; and as there was no special provision in the Calcutta Municipal Act giving such authority to them, he would urge upon the Hon'ble Member to introduce a provision in the Bill by which the question might be settled in a satisfactory manner one way or the other.

THE HON'BLE PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE said there was one portion of the Bill regarding which too much care could not be taken in settling its provisions—he meant the sections of the Bill relating to the sale of drugs. It was certainly not intended that a grocer's or bunniah's shop should be required to be registered, or that such shops should employ certificated compounders to superintend the sale of such innocuous substances as ginger, cinnamon, or aniseed, which, to use the words of the Bill, were "drugs enumerated in the British Pharmacopœia." It would operate as a great hardship if the wording of the section was not altered so as to exclude the sort of shops to which he had referred. He thought that abkarry shops, or shops for the sale exciseable articles, should also be expressly excluded, because the section as it stood would include these shops also.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said, perhaps it was desirable that he should say a word with reference to the sections bearing on the Government municipal loans. It was doubtful whether they were really required in the shape in which they appeared in the Bill. It would be remembered that the Calcutta Municipality had made repeated efforts to get some reduction of the burden imposed on the present generation of tax-payers on account of the drainage and water-supply of the town, and the Government of Bengal had consistently supported the Municipality in those endeavours. The consolidation of the Government loans wat one of the measures of relief which theGovernment of India, on representations made, had been good enough to grant. The Government had lent the Municipality 52 lakhs of rupees on account of water-supply at the low rate of interest of 4 per cent., and various other sums for drainage, markets, Municipal offices, and the like, at 4½ per cent., subject to certain stipulations regarding sinking funds and repayments. The Municipal Act took, however, no direct cognizance of such loans, which were simply matters of contract between the Government and the Municipality. The Government made its own terms with the Municipality, and if it became necessary to enforce compliance with those terms, the Government knew where to find its remedy. When, therefore, in 1878 the Municipality applied for some modification of the terms of repayment, the Government of Bengal made certain proposals to the Government of India, and the Government of India took these into consideration and passed orders regarding them. No special need for legislative sanction was apparent. What the Government of India proposed was that the Municipality should hand over to the Government the Sinking Fund which had been held as against the Government loans, and that the whole of the balances of the loans should then be consolidated into one loan at 4½ per cent., to be repaid in sixty equal half-yearly instalments. This proposal was believed to be advantageous to the Municipality, and was accepted. It was then, however, found that the Trustees of the Municipality held not only the Sinking Fund accruing against the Municipal Debentures, but also the Sinking Fund accruing against the Government 4½ per cent. loans in one and the same account. A separation of accounts became necessary, and was easily effected. But a doubt arose whether, looking to the fact that section 337 of the Act bound the Trustees to hold all moneys in their possession when the Act was passed—when held for the purpose of paying off any sum borrowed by them—subject to the trusts declared in that section, some legislation was not required to show that the section was not intended to apply to, or affect in any way, the arrangements regarding the Government loans. This doubt might be fanciful perhaps, but it was the only matter in connection with the consolidation of the Government loans which seemed to him to call for legislation at all. There was again a point in connection with the Public Debenture loans which might or might not require legislation. In the Municipal Act provision was made that the sum of 2 per cent. on the total sum borrowed by the Commissioners, for purposes of any enactment thereby repealed, and exclusive of the Government loans, was to be held as a Sinking Fund. The Government of India suggested that the Municipality should, in respect of future loans, instead of setting aside a sum of 2 per cent. on the gross amount of the loan, set apart 2 per cent. only on its net amount as it might stand at the beginning of each year—that is to say, after deducting the amount of Sinking Fund held against the loan. That was a matter for the Municipality to consider, and so far they had not come up officially for any amendment of the law to enable them to take advantage of the proposal; but he observed that in the Bill effect was apparently sought to be given to it. The second clause of section 4 of the Bill provided that in respect of loans contracted after the passing of the Act, a sum of not less than 1 per cent. on the total sum borrowed by the Commissioners, after deducting the total amount previously set apart as a Sinking Fund in respect of such loans, should be set aside yearly towards the discharge of the loans. This proposed a double concession to the present generation of tax-payers. The Hon'ble Mover of the Bill had only referred to one—the reduction of the rate of payment to the Sinking Fund; but it would be seen there was a further modification, in that this percentage was to be calculated only on net, and not on gross, indebtedness. He might further remark that if the Sinking Fund was to be calculated on the net debt, there was perhaps no necessity for a Sinking Fund at all. It would be sufficient to provide that the sum of 1 or 2 per cent., as the case might be, should be appropriated annually to buying up and cancelling Municipal debentures. After all, however, it was doubtful whether legislation was required to meet the case of these future loans, seeing that under section 334 of the Act the terms of loan and repayment had to be settled in each case by Government and the Commissioners. Section 337 was only designed to protect the status quo at the time of passing the Act in 1876.

MR. MACKENZIE thought it desirable to make this explanation, because the object of the sections to which he had referred might not be understood. He would not follow the hon'ble member through the other remarks which he had made, except to say shortly, in respect to the extension of the water-supply to the suburbs, that it would be wise policy to recognize something like solidarity between the town and suburbs. According to the provision as it now stood in the Bill, the Calcutta Municipality might carry out in the suburbs any scheme of water-supply they pleased, at any cost they pleased, and charge the rate-payers of the suburbs any amount they pleased: the rate of interest to be charged not being even mentioned in the Bill. He did not think that this was an arrangement that either the inhabitants of the suburbs or the Government could contemplate with satisfaction.

HIS HONOUR the President said that before putting the motion he wished to make one or two remarks on the subjects which had just been alluded to; and first, in answer to what had fallen from the Hon'ble Mover, HIS HONOUR thought that the section relating to the supply of water to the suburbs required very careful consideration by the Select Committee. It seemed to him that this section, as worded, would impose upon the suburbs a liability very much in excess of what he believed was right. He was sorry to see a tendency on the part of the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta to treat the Suburban Municipality with a sort of jealousy. There seemed to be some objection on the part of the Calcutta Municipality to recognize that the suburbs were, as a matter of fact, part of Calcutta, and an inclination to shut them out from the advantages which the people of Calcutta enjoyed chiefly from the assistance of Government. The Calcutta water-works, as he and Hon'ble Members well know, had been carried out by the Calcutta Municipality, but they could never have carried them out unless they had received very marked assistance from the Government. They ought to be willing to let the suburbs share in the advantages thus derived, if they could do so without any extra expenditure to themselves. The water-works were carried out by a loan of half a million from the Government, and the Municipality had every facility in the way of the services of engineering officers from the Government, and they were allowed to construct the work a distance of 14 miles along a Government road. This being so, HIS HONOUR thought they should recognize the fact that the health of Calcutta and its prosperity were to a great extent wrapped up in the health and prosperity of the suburbs. There were many people who resided all day in Calcutta, but who lived in the suburbs, and who came here every day to do their work. Calcutta was dependent to a great extent on the suburbs for labour and other conditions which made life and trade in Calcutta possible. He thought that instead of grudging the suburbs aid in the matter of water-supply, they should allow them ungrudgingly such benefit as they could enjoy from the existing head works and mains of the Calcutta service without detriment to Calcutta. It was, of course, quite fair that if the water-service was extended to the suburbs, the residents of the suburbs should pay such a rate as would entirely relieve Calcutta of any extra cost bona fide incurred for that purpose, but they should not be called upon to pay any charges which Calcutta would have to incur if the water-supply was not so extended. It seemed to him that the section, as now drawn, left it open to the Calcutta Municipality to assess the people of the suburbs to a degree which would involve a prohibitory charge by making them pay something in excess of what was the fair cost of laying down the water in the suburbs. He quite agreed that all extra expense involved in extending the works to the suburbs would be a fair charge upon the suburbs, but he strongly protested against throwing upon them the cost of works which were not rendered necessary exclusively by that extension, and he hoped that the Select Committee would give their careful consideration and see that some proper control was provided, so that the suburbs might not be shut out altogether by a prohibitory rate or that the rate imposed upon them was not made unreasonably heavy.

He would now come to the question of pension. Hon'ble Members had just been told that the Municipal Commissioners objected to pay anything towards pensions of Police officers, because they neither appointed nor controlled the Police: he must remind them that the payment of the Police was a duty which was thrown upon them by law just as much as drainage, water, and other rates; they had to prepare a budget which was to receive the sanction of Government, and after the budget had been received, the local Government determined, year by year, how much it would give towards the maintenance of the Police as a contribution to Municipal Funds. The Municipality had to find the pay of the Police by law, less only such amount as Government saw fit to contribute, year by year: and pension was really only a form of deferred pay. Although we all had great respect for the Municipal Commissioners, and the way in which they managed their work, he did not think that the detailed control of the Police was a matter which could in any way be advantageously vested in the Corporation. As a matter of fact, particularly as regards pension, the Government had always behaved with great liberality to the Municipality. About two years ago, His Honour received a proposal from the Government of India calling upon the Municipality to pay a contribution towards the pension of the Commissioner of Police. He pointed out that the Municipality paid a very heavy sum for the maintenance of the Police, that the Municipal rates were very high, and that the Municipality should, therefore, in his opinion, not be called upon to make any contribution for such purpose. The Government of India replied that although they claimed the principle to be correct, they were willing, in consideration of what the Municipality was doing, to make the pension a part of the contribution from the Government, and that claim had been withdrawn. Since then, about the beginning of this year, he received a letter from the Government of India, directing him to take measures for the amendment of the Municipal Act in order to make the Municipality bear a share of the pensions and gratuities granted to servants who were partly paid by the Government and partly by the Municipality. He must say that that principle seemed to him to be perfectly fair and justifiable, but as he had before said he was willing to recognize the fact that the Municipality had very heavy charges to meet, that taxation was very high, and though the charge for pensions was not a heavy item, he desired to save them as much as he could from further expenditure for Police; he accordingly wrote to the Government of India as follows:—

"The proposal to require the Calcutta Municipality to contribute for pensions has been more than once discussed The circumstances have materially altered since Mr. Dampier's letter No. 530, dated 31st January 1868, was written, and Sir Ashley Eden is of opinion that the validity of the claim of Government to these contributions is indisputable; but he thinks that the present time is not opportune for enforcing this claim. As has already been stated in my letter No. 143, dated 23rd ultimo, to the Financial Department, on the subject of the Sinking Fund contribution on future public loans for water-supply and drainage, taxation in Calcutta is extremely high, and any considerable increase in the burdens thrown on the rate-payers must affect the prosperity of the town. The Commissioners are about to incur very heavy expenditure in increasing the supply of filtered water—a measure absolutely indispensable to sanitary progress. Government have unceasingly urged upon them the necessity of pushing forward vigorously the work of filling up filthy tanks and improving the condition of bustees in the town. The extension of the water-supply will remove one obstacle to the prosecution of the first measure; while the provision about to be made in the amending Act, enabling the Commissioners to acquire bustee land for the purpose of reclaiming and building on it, or letting it for building sites, will give the Municipality ample powers to deal with the second question. But while the way will now be open to the execution of those essential sanitary reforms, it is most important that no avoidable financial difficulties should be allowed to arise. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that it would have a very good effect, and would greatly strengthen the hands of Government, in insisting on the systematic prosecution of these reforms, if the Government of India were to postpone for the present the enforcement of their claim to pensionary contributions, and to declare, as was done in the case of the Chairman's contribution for leave and pension allowances, that the exemption, so long as it is permitted, must be held to be a substantial contribution by Government to the Municipal revenue of the town."

He had this morning received a reply from the Government of India to that letter, in which they said:

"I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 175, dated the 7th instant, and in reply to say that, under the circumstances represented, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to sanction the recommendation of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, that the Government should, for the present, forego the enforcement of its claim for pensionary contributions from the Calcutta and Mofussil Municipalities.

"The principle that such contributions are claimable should, however, be definitely asserted in the Municipal Acts now under amendment in Bengal; and it would, in the opinion of the Governor-General in Council, facilitate the settlement of the question, and prevent risk of future misapprehension, if the obligation were at once imposed in the legislation at present under consideration of the Government of Bengal, power being reserved to the local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to exempt the Calcutta or other Municipality at any particular time from the payment of contribution, in the event of sufficient reasons being shown for such temporary exemption."

That was how the matter now stood. The Government of India had consented to forego its demand for contribution to pension, but they wished to have the principle asserted in the Act. His Honour himself must say that he saw no great object in inserting the principle in the Act if it was the intention to forego payment, and he would take an opportunity of making a further representation, and point out that the liability having been declared by the Government, it would be better to leave the whole question to be settled hereafter, the Act being amended when necessary for this purpose, rather than to disfigure the Act in the way in which it was proposed by putting in a provision which was not to be enforced. Whether the Government of India would consent to that proposal, he could not say; but in the mean time the Select Committee should consider the orders of the Government of India, and endeavour to frame a section which would meet the views of the Government of India.

He did not think that there was anything further in the Bill which called for remark in this stage, but he had no doubt that its provisions would receive the careful consideration of the Committee, and that they would also consider the suggestion which had been made by the Hon'ble Member on the left (Mr. Amir Ali.)

The Hon'ble Kristodas Pal explained that it was not intended that the Municipality should have the arbitrary power of imposing a water-rate on the suburbs. Specifications and estimates of works necessary for the extension of water to the suburbs would be submitted to the Government, and as no such extension could be carried out without the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, the determination of the rate would ultimately rest with His Honour. It was provided in the Bill that the Municipality should have power to levy such a rate as would cover all costs of construction, establishment, and maintenance; but if the rate were fixed by law, it might prove insufficient and embarrassing. The determination of the rate ought therefore to be left to the Commissioners subject to the sanction of the local Government.

The motion was then agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble the Advocate-General and the Hon'ble Messrs. Cockerell, Mackenzie, Allen, Ameer Ali, and the Mover, with instructions to report in a fortnight.

AMENDMENT OF "THE CESS ACT, 1880."

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the report of the Select Committee, on the Bill to amend "The Cess Act, 1880," be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the following note be substituted for the note which stood below Part I of Schedule A:

"NOTE.—In the body of this statement should be entered only nijjote lands and such uncultivated lands in the use and occupation of the maker of the return as are capable of assessment on their annual value."

This amendment, he said, was the result of the opinion expressed by the Hon'ble Member opposite when the Bill was read in Council, and also in Select Committee. A communication had since been received by the Lieutenant-Governor from the British Indian Association on the subject. It turned on the point whether uncultivated nijjote lands were to be entered in the return as liable to assessment or not. There had been a good deal of discussion on the matter informally, and the Government had ultimately accepted the amendment which MR. DAMPIER now moved, and which he hoped would meet with the approval of the Council.

THE HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said he was willing to accept the amendment if it was worked out in the spirit in which it was moved. He hoped that the Board's instructions to Collectors would be sufficiently explicit so as not to give rise to complications in future. As far as he understood the object of the Cess law, it was that the cess should be calculated on the rental or profit derived in some shape or other, and the definition of "annual value" in the Act of 1880, although somewhat vaguely worded, implied that only land capable of valuation in some form or other, that was to say, land yielding profit or some advantage to the owner, was liable to assessment.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER observed, in reply, that it was impossible that any pledge should be given in this Council on behalf of an institution so proverbially irresponsible and intangible as a Board, but he would express a confident hope that the Board of Revenue would endeavour to do full justice to the intention which actuated the introduction of this amendment.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE remarked that it was not the principle of the original Road Cess Act that the assessment should fall only on actual rental or profits; possible profits had also to be considered. Under section 4 of the Act, all "immovable property" was liable to pay road cess; and the term "immovable property" was defined in section 3 to include land. But "land" meant "land, whether cultivated, uncultivated, or covered with water." Land falling under the last part of that definition might very well be land yielding no actual profit. It was not, however, apparently the intention of the Act that land which was absolutely worthless should pay cess, for that on which the assessment was calculated, namely, the "annual value of the land," was defined to be the "total rent paid or, if no rent was actually paid, the rent which would be reasonably expected to be payable during the year by all the cultivating ryots thereof, or by other persons in actual use and occupation thereof." These last words led to the inference that waste lands which were absolutely unculturable, or capable of yielding no return of any kind, were not to be assessed, but where land might be made capable of yielding a rent under any circumstances it must pay road cess, whether the owner chose to utilize it or not. He believed, however, that in practice only lands returning actual profits were included in the returns.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE AMEER ALI moved that the proviso in clause 3, section 44 of Bengal Act IX of 1880, commencing with the words "subject however" and concluding with the words "the holders of such share" be omitted. He said that the great hardship which was entailed upon the co-sharers of a mehal by the insertion of this proviso in section 44 was the reason which induced him to bring forward the motion. He had received several communications on the subject from zemindars in Behar, one of which he forwarded to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill. The Hon'ble Member was good enough to consider the suggestion, which however he thought to be impracticable. MR. AMEER ALI himself was of the same opinion. The suggestion was to the effect that the cesses should be required to be paid with the Government jumma; but it appeared to him that it would be hardly possible to do so, unless the cesses were consolidated with the Government revenue. The only remedy seemed to him to be the omission of the proviso mentioned in the amendment. It occurred only in clause 3, and presumably applied only to such co-sharers as were mentioned in that clause. There appeared to him therefore to be no difficulty in omitting it. MR. AMEER ALI did not see the justice of making co-sharers, who were in every respect separate, who paid their jummas separately, who had separate accounts with the Collector for Government revenue, liable for the laches of a co-sharer, who was a co-sharer only in name and by a fiction of the law. He would read, with the Hon'ble President's permission, a passage from the communication already referred to by him, to show the great hardship which was caused by the joint-liability clause in section 44 of the Cess Act. It was as follows:—

"In the province of Behar, the mehals, generally speaking, consist of ten or twenty mouzahs, each owned by numerous and different co-sharers, so much so that the malik of one mouzah is not acquainted with the maliks of the other mouzahs, nor is he aware of the different shares in the remaining mouzahs held by the respective maliks. As there is only one and same toujih number for the mehal, a joint assessment is made in respect of the same. And when the Road and Public Works Cesses run into arrears, the shareholders of the mehal cannot possibly know which particular sharer is liable for such arrears, and whether the debt in reality is due or not and if due, how much it amounts to. The payment consequently is impossible. The co-sharers and the shareholding proprietors of larger shares do not allow Road and Public Works Cesses to fall into arrears. The holders of small shares generally allow the cesses to remain unpaid, so that in the event of the same being paid by the large shareholders, it is difficult for them to reimburse themselves. Under these circumstances many mehals would be put up to sale, and innocent parties deprived of their estate along with the defaulters."

The provision in the Revenue law by which the entire body of co-sharers were made liable for default committed by one of them in the payment of the Government cess, was a traditional rule handed down from former Governments, who not unfrequently visited the sins of the fathers on the heads of the sons. It appeared to MR. AMEER ALI, however, that the circumstances connected with the separate payment of revenue by co-sharers did not apply to the separate payment of cesses. He could understand the reason for the Revenue authorities placing the payment of Government revenue on a different basis from the payment of cesses, which was a due of quite a different nature—cesses, as a matter of fact, were not payable in such large amounts as the Government revenue. It was possible that when default was committed in the payment of revenue, and the specific share in default was set up for sale, the highest offer might not be equal to the amount of revenue due; but it could hardly ever happen that when a specific share of an estate was set up for sale for arrears of cess due, the highest offer would not suffice to meet the amount due. He therefore thought that there was no sufficient reason for the insertion of the proviso in clause 3, section 44 of the Cess Act, and he knew that it caused a great deal of hardship on persons who were co-sharers in a mehal, and therefore the only means of remedying that hardship was to strike out the proviso in clause 3 altogether. He did not see that the omission of the proviso could do any harm in respect of the recovery of the cesses; the section remained intact and the specific share remained primarily liable for recovery of the arrears. The whole mehal would remain liable for the Government revenue as before, but the other co-sharers would not suffer for the laches of one co-sharer, generally a small shareholder, in the payment of cesses. In view of the hardship and vexation occasioned by the law as it stood at present, he hoped the Council would agree to the amendment proposed by him, or the Bill might be referred back to the Select Committee, with instructions to devise a clause calculated to obviate the evils to which he had referred.

THE HON'BLE PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE said he entirely agreed in this amendment. If the objectionable passage contained in clause 3 of section 44 of the Cess Act were expunged, he thought the security for recovering arrears of cess would not be in the least jeopardized: arrears of cess were ordinarily so small in amount, that he thought there was no fear of the Government incurring any loss by reason of not being able to recover those arrears if the provision to which objection had been raised was struck out. He thought that the considerations affecting cess and revenue were so different that there could be no comparison whatever as to the means to be provided for the recovery of arrears of cess in the one case and of revenue in the other. He perfectly agreed with the Hon'ble Member in thinking that great hardship was experienced by shareholders from the operation of the proviso which he now sought to remove from the Act: they were not only liable to be sold out, if the revenue of a co-sharer had not been paid, but they ran a similar risk if a small arrear of cess were due on account of a small fractional share of an estate in which they had no interest whatever.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said the hardships arising from joint liability for the payment of cesses were, he presumed, the same in character and very much less in degree than those which arose out of joint liability for the payment of Government revenue. The Hon'ble Gentleman, the Mover of this amendment, in speaking of the Government enforcing that joint liability for revenue, likened it to the visiting of the sins of the father upon the children. It was not for MR. DAMPIER to give the Hon'ble Gentleman a lecture on the law of contract, but he would ask him to remember that an estate when created was created as a whole—the engagement with the Government was for the estate as a whole. One condition above all others was attached, that, without the consent of the Government to the division of an estate, and the assessment of the revenue in proportion to the shares into which it was divided, there should be no disruption of the joint liability for the payment of revenue. The process which the law afforded to proprietors for getting rid of this joint liability was well known as the Butwarrah law, and those joint proprietors who wished to take advantage of that law, could do so without asking for any favour from the executive Government.

If they did not choose to do this, certainly the sons had so far to suffer for the sins of their fathers, that they inherited their estates with precisely the liabilities which their fathers had attached to them, or subject to which the fathers had voluntarily acquired them. It was not unusual for sons to suffer for the sins of fathers to this extent in matters of property.

MR. DAMPIER would next notice the last remark which the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment had made. He said that where the Government revenue was in arrear, it might perhaps happen that the sale of the share in default would not yield sufficient to cover the arrear, but that the amount of cesses payable was so small, in proportion to the market value of an estate, that that was not a possible contingency where arrears of cess and not revenue were due, and that therefore it was practically unnecessary to keep alive the ultimate joint responsibility of all the co-sharers in an estate for arrears of cess due on a share of the estate, to be enforced only in case the arrear was not realized by sale of the share only. In answer to the communications to which the Hon'ble Gentleman referred, MR. DAMPIER had pointed out that the proposal was founded upon the misconception that the liability for payment of cess followed the land. That was not the case—it followed the person. After putting in force the certificate procedure, the share of the estate belonging to the defaulter might be sold just as his interest in any other land, unconnected with the cess in arrear, might be sold for the debt—but not otherwise.

These remarks arose directly out of what had fallen from the Hon'ble Member in moving this amendment, but the proposed amendment raised so important a question, that MR. DAMPIER had considered it very thoroughly before coming into the Council-room. The argument which had been advanced was a specious one in no bad sense, but in the sense that the advantages of the proposed measure were patent and lay on the surface, whereas the objections were latent—hidden under a mass of rubbish and details, from which to exhume them required the pickax of an expert. This particular question of relieving the joint sharers in an estate from liability on account of the default of a co-sharer was a matter of such importance, the benefit which this proposal would confer on the individual tax-payer was so great, it was in a direction in which MR. DAMPIER was so often pressed to go, and the measure was one of which he would be so glad to advise the adoption if it were possible, that he thought it due to the Council to explain as fully as possible why it was impossible in the general interests of the public to accept this amendment or any other in the same direction.

But in order to make the reasons intelligible, he was obliged once more to ask the Council to allow him to give them one of those homilies on revenue details for which he was so often obliged to ask their indulgence.

"The difficulty of accepting the amendment lies in the fact that the sections of Act XI of 1859, which treat of the opening of separate accounts for shares of the sudder jumma, do not require that the share of the sudder jumma, in respect of which the separate account is opened, shall bear the same proportion to the entire sudder jumma of the estate as the assets or value of the fractional share, or of the land in respect of which the separate account is opened, bear to the entire assets or value of the estate.

If it were otherwise, if the law insisted, as the Butwarah law does, on a proper proportion being kept up between assets and sudder jumma, it might be possible for the Government to entertain the Hon'ble Member's proposed amendment, for it might, with reasonable safety, be assumed, that when a share in an estate, for which a separate account has been opened by the Collector, is brought to sale for arrears of revenue, the sale will yield a surplus over the arrear of land revenue on which the Collector might lay hands in payment of any arrear of cess due from the same proprietor. But as the law stands, there is nothing to prevent a joint proprietor in an estate from having a separate account opened in respect of 12 annas of the entire sudder jumma, that is, accepting for himself the liability to pay 12 annas of the entire sudder jumma, while declaring himself to be the proprietor of a very small fraction only of the estate, of which fraction the assets are, say, not more than one-eight of the entire assets of the estate, and insufficient even to pay the share of the sudder jumma for which he causes a separate account to be opened in his name.

Under these circumstances, the Hon'ble Member's amendment, if adopted, would leave open the door for collusion to defraud the Government and the District Committees of the cesses due. Taking for illustration the case of an estate in which the recorded joint proprietors are A and B—the former a man of substance—the latter a man of straw, and A's creature.

Immediately a separate account for a share of sudder jumma is opened, A and B will, under clauses 2 and 3, section 44 of the Cess Act, become liable for the cess assessed in respect of the entire estate "in proportion to the amount of Government revenue, for the payment of which their respective shares remain liable." Let us suppose that B has caused a separate account to be opened in his name, accepting a liability for 12 annas of the entire sudder jumma' Then, immediately, on the account being opened, A will be liable, say, for Rs. 250 only, and B for the remaining Rs. 750 out of a thousand, which is the entire amount of cess on the estate. B having defaulted for land revenue, the share, in respect of which the separate account is open in his name, is put up to sale; as it is encumbered with a higher amount of land revenue than it can pay, no outsider will buy it, and of course A, the substantial joint proprietor in the estate will buy the share in, either in his own name, or benamee in that of some other man of straw—say C, so as to save the entire estate from being put up to sale for the arrear, but he will only bid the exact amount of arrears due—there will be no surplus profits of the sale to be paid to B, from which the Collector could deduct the Rs. 750 of cess due from B.

So the Collector must proceed to realize the cess from B by the certificate procedure. But B is a man of straw, and long before the certificate is issued, he has made over his moveable property to his sisters and his cousins and his aunts. He has no other immoveable property, and the nazir makes his return—"No assets can be discovered." At this stage, as the section which the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment wishes to alter now stands, the Collector would enforce the joint liability of A, and proceed to recover the Rs. 750 of cess from him. But if the section is mutilated as the Hon'ble Member proposes, "the general responsibility of the holders of the entire estate," i.e of A, will have absolutely ceased from the date on which the separate account of land revenue was opened, and the amount of cesses due will be irretrievably lost to the Public Exchequer and the District Committees, and this game might be played over and over again with perfect safety to A.

The case of collusion between A and B has been here taken as the best for the purposes of illustration, but MR. DAMPIER could assure the Council that a similar danger would exist in cases in which there is no collusion, but in which (B being a man with no other property) the share of the estate, which, bonâ fide, belongs to him, has by private arrangement among the proprietors of the estate, been burdened with an undue share of the land revenue demand."

The HON'BLE AMEER ALI said, in reply, that he thought the difficulty suggested by the Hon'ble Member (MR. DAMPIER) might easily be obviated by adding some clause to cover such special and hypothetical cases. Such cases were extremely unlikely to occur in actual practice, and with the safeguards which the law provided against collusion and fraud, it was impossible to suppose they could occur with impunity. At all events, the great boon which would be conferred on the large mass of proprietors by the omission of the clause in question would compensate for any mischief which in some rare instances, according to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, was likely to arise if MR. AMEER ALI'S suggestion was adopted. That suggestion was offered from the practical level of those who had to suffer from the working of the Act, and he hoped that it would meet with the approval of Hon'ble Members. Some portion of the hardship at present entailed upon proprietors would be removed by requiring the Collector to give some distinct notice to the entire body of shareholders in a mehal, so as to enable them to know who the defaulting co-sharers were and what the amount of the cess in arrears was. He might mention one instance in which, if such a course had been adopted, much hardship would have been avoided. There was one mehal in the Patna district, which had been put up for sale for default committed by certain co-sharers in the payment of the cess. This mehal consisted of 12 mouzahs, and was in possession of 20 maliks, and though the property was put up for sale, the majority of the co-sharers were not aware up to this time who the defaulting co-sharers were.

HIS HONOUR the President said he thought the question which had been raised was a very important one, but it hardly came in properly in connection with the Bill now before the Council. The object of this Bill was not to reconsider and to revise all questions relating to the assessment and recovery of cess, but to correct certain obvious errors in the Act which had been discovered in the course of its administration. The question which had been raised was one which had possibly not been considered before, it involved important principles, and could only be decided after careful enquiry from local officers. Acts, such as the Cess Act, were very frequently amended, and another opportunity would no doubt occur for proposing the change suggested. In the mean time the point could be noted and enquiries could be made from the revenue officers in Behar on the subject. He would therefore suggest the propriety of the Hon'ble Member withdrawing his amendment on the present occasion, leaving it for consideration or the occasion of some subsequent amendment of the Act.

The amendment was then by leave withdrawn.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER postponed the motion which stood in the list of Business that the Bill be passed.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday the 19th March.

Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations.

PRESENT:

HIS HONOUR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL, Presiding,
The HON'BLE H. L. DAMPIER,
The HON'BLE H. J. REYNOLDS,
The HON'BLE H. A. COCKERELL,
The HON'BLE A. MACKENZIE,
The HON'BLE T. T. ALLEN,
The HON'BLE PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE,
The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL, C.I.E., RAI BAHADOOR, and
The HON'BLE AMEER ALI.

BURIAL BOARD (CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS).

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the appointment of a Burial Board in Calcutta and its Suburbs be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill. He said that the Select Committee had not found it necessary to make any material amendments in the Bill. They had inserted a clause providing for the resignation of Members of the Board by enabling the Lieutenant Governor from time to time to relieve any Member of the Board nominated by him of his functions as a Member of such Board. The other amendments which the Committee had made in the Bill were merely of a verbal nature.

The motion was put and agreed to

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE asked leave to postpone the remaining two motions which stood in his name. Finding that no criticisms—in fact no notice—of the Bill had appeared in the public press, he had sent copies to all the leading dissenting clergy in town, and had received from a few of them replies. Briefly, he might say, as far as the replies went, they all approved of the principle of the Bill, and the chief point on which suggestions had been made was that of the constitution of the Board Some of those consulted thought that the Bill ought to provide for a larger proportion of the clerical element on the Board, while one gentleman thought that no clergymen at all ought to be appointed. As these suggestions did not go to the principle of the Bill, the Council would probably find it unnecessary to make any change in its provisions; but he should like to wait another week for further replies to the circular which had been issued.

The motions were by leave postponed.

AMENDMENT OF "THE EXCISE ACT."

THE HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS moved that the Bill to amend "The Bengal Excise Act, 1878," be read in Council. He said that at the last meeting he explained the grounds upon which legislation was necessary; the Bill had since been printed and circulated, and he need only briefly refer to its provisions. The third section of the Bill contained a definition of "foreign exciseable article," which was drawn up in accordance with a representation which had been made by the Chief Commissioner of Assam. MR REYNOLDS mentioned at the last meeting that these foreign exciseable articles were of two kinds—first, spirituous liquors, which were imported into Assam from places in British India in which no excise law was in force; and, secondly, wild ganja, which grew on the hills beyond British India, and was surreptitiously brought into Assam across the frontier. The 4th section of the Bill provided for the regulation of the traffic in such articles in accordance with the wish of the Chief Commissioner. Power was given to the Board of Revenue absolutely to prohibit the possession of such foreign exciseable articles in any quantity whatsoever in the districts or tracts specified in the notification, or to limit their possession to certain specified quantities. The 5th section provided for the difficulty which had been raised by the Board, by omitting the words "for sale" from section 58 of the Act.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said he observed in the Bill a provision to substitute, for the definition of "spirituous liquor" under the Act, the following words:—

"Spirituous liquor" includes any spirituous liquor imported into India by sea or manufactured in India by any process of "distillation." The only difference between this definition and that for which it was substituted, lay in the introduction of the words "by sea," which had a restricting and not an extending effect, excluding from the definition all liquors imported otherwise than by sea. Perhaps the Hon'ble Mover of the Bill would explain the object of this change in the definition, which was not apparent to MR. DAMPIER.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS remarked that he did not remember at that time the exact reason why the words "by sea" were introduced in the amendment, but the point might be reserved for consideration in Select Committee.

HIS HONOR the PRESIDENT said he thought the idea probably was to exclude spirituous liquors imported into British India from Native States. Liquors so manufactured and imported would be included in the definition of "foreign exciseable article" contained in the previous paragraph of the section, foreign exciseable article being there defined to mean any article manufactured or produced at any place beyond the limits of British India.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said he believed that the reason for the introduction of the words "by sea" lay in the construction of the later penalty sections. The point could best be considered in Committee.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble MESSRS. MACKENZIE, ALLEN, PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE, and the MOVER.

AMENDMENT OF "THE CESS ACT, 1880."

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER moved that the Bill to amend "The Cess Act, 1880," be further considered in order to the settlement of its clauses.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said that since the last meeting of the Council two points had been brought to his notice. The first was in connection with the 42nd section of the Act. That section provided that cess might be paid at the time when rent was payable. He should not himself have suggested the introduction of the explanatory words contained in his first amendment, but that the necessity for such explanation had been suggested to him from two independent quarters. The revenue was due according to the instalments mentioned in the engagement, but, although the revenue was then due, payment of it was not required until a certain last date of payment which was fixed under the provisions of Act XI of 1859: all instalments which had become due before that last day of payment were bound to be paid by that last day, and not before, on penalty of sale of the estate. It was suggested that section 42 of the Cess Act was ambiguous, and that a question might rise whether payment of cess was bound to be made according to the periods fixed in the engagement for the payment of revenue, or by the latest day fixed by the Board of Revenue under Act XI of 1859. The object of the amendment was to declare that the latest day for the payment of cess was the date fixed "under the provisions of section 3 of Act XI of 1859, or of any similar Act at the time being in force for the payment of arrears." His motion therefore was to substitute these words for the words "for the payment of the instalments" in clause (1) of section 42.

The motion was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said that his second amendment was suggested from the discussion which took place on his hon'ble friend MR. AMEER ALI's amendment in section 44 of the Cess Act as to the separation of liability for payment of cess. As the Act stood, when a separate account was open for the payment of revenue, there was a corresponding separation of liability in regard to the payment of cess also. But, although the law provided for the closing of a separate account as regards the payment of revenue, the Cess Act did not provide for closing the corresponding account for the payment of cess in the same manner, and therefore MR. DAMPIER moved the addition to the Bill of the following section :—

"5A. To section 44, the following clause shall be added :—

'(5.) Whenever the separate account of the revenue payable in respect of any share or portion of an estate, as mentioned in clause 1 of this section, shall be closed, the provisions of this section shall cease to have effect in respect of such share.' "

The HON'BLE AMEER ALI said he thought the introduction of the proposed clause unnecessary. As long as a person continued to enjoy the privilege given him by Act XI of 1859 of separate liability for the payment of revenue, he would retain the similar privilege in respect to the payment of cesses conferred upon him by the first clause of section 44 of the Cess Act, but when the separate account for the payment of revenue was closed, the privilege as to separate payment of cess must cease.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER replied that the Hon'ble Member himself had in Select Committee let fall a remark to the effect that as he read the law, when once a separate account had been opened as provided in clause 4 of the section, joint liability of the proprietors of the whole estate could never be resuscitated, and it was that remark which suggested the amendment now proposed of providing expressly for the closing of a separate account for the payment of cess.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS thought that, though the words might not be absolutely necessary, the addition of the proposed clause was desirable—it seemed to him to make the intention more unmistakeable.

HIS HONOUR the PRESIDENT observed that the proposed amendment would not make any alteration in the law. If there was room for doubt in the mind of Hon'ble Members, there was probably room for doubt elsewhere.

The motion was put and agreed to.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER the Bill was then passed.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 26th instant.

RUNGPORE DRAINAGE WORKS.

MEDICAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Dated Calcutta, the 22nd March 1881.

RESOLUTION.

RUNGPORE has for many years been notorious for endemic fever of a severe type. The town lies between marshes on the north, and the stagnant bed of the river Ghogat on the south, and the drainage has been exceedingly defective. A scheme to improve the drainage was taken in hand by the Municipality in 1878, and Government sanctioned the acquisition of lands required for the purpose. The Government also offered to place convict labour at the disposal of the Municipality free of charge as a contribution in aid of the scheme.

2. The scheme comprised the following works:—

(1.) The cutting of a drainage channel from the marshes on the north of the town to the bed of the Ghogat river at Mahigunge.

(2.) The clearing out of the old bed of the dead Ghogat on the south of the station to within half a mile of its junction with the running stream, and the construction of a cut to connect it with the swamp behind the jail.

(3.) The clearing out of the silted-up beds of the Kanchna and Ichamutty nullahs on the east of the town. This work is important, as these nullahs when cleared out will receive a considerable portion of the drainage of the old town, Mahigunge.

(4.) The construction of subsidiary channels to carry off the surface drainage of the town.

3. The second and fourth works have been nearly completed, and considerable progress has been made with the first. But though the scheme is still incomplete, its partial execution has been already attended by beneficial results. The Sanitary Commissioner, at the time of his last inspection of the Municipality in July 1880, observed: "Much improvement has * * * already been brought about by the scheme The mortuary returns of the last year and the first-half of this year show a distinct reduction in the fever mortality within the limits of the Municipality as compared with previous years. The level of the water in the great beels to the north and north-east of the station has been reduced to about the natural level of January, and there is hardly any water lodging anywhere throughout the civil station." The Vice-Chairman, who is the Medical Officer of the station, says:—

The beels, as a matter of fact, have been quickly relieved of their floods during the last two rains, and simultaneously with it there has been a fall in the death-rate of the town, as will be seen from the following table:—

Year	Deaths from cholera	Deaths from small-pox.	Deaths from fevers	Deaths from bowel complaints	Deaths from all other causes.	Total deaths	Deaths per 1,000 of population
1876	6	3	426	53	57	521	35·23
1877			440	39	99	578	39·01
1878	93	2	290	48	53	486	34·95
1879	6	13	182	46	93	340	24·82
1880	1	2	253	33	67	356	25·55

In the above table, the last five years of which accurate statistics are available, have been taken for comparison—viz. three preceding and two following the commencement of the scheme. It will be observed that although the last season was a notoriously unhealthy one in Bengal, still the number of deaths from fever during the year in Rungpore was less than that registered during the healthiest of the three years before the commencement of the works, and the total death-rate was nearly ten less per thousand of population. It should be remembered, when considering the figures in the above table, that the death-rate has been calculated upon a population enumerated long before the construction of the railway, which must have considerably increased the number of inhabitants in the town.

4. Up to the end of January last a sum of Rs. 18,538 had been expended on the scheme, of which Rs. 3,921 came from the Municipal funds and Rs. 14,617 from private subscriptions. A further expenditure of Rs. 7,600 is required for the completion of the works. Baboo Mohima Runjun Roy Chowdhry, zemindar of Kakina, has liberally subscribed Rs. 7,500, and the balance will be met from the Municipal funds. Thus of the total sum of Rs. 26,138, Rs. 22,117 will come from private subscriptions, and Rs. 4,021 from the funds of the Municipality.

5. The Commissioners are at the same time anxious to acquire all the lands to be reclaimed by the drainage works. They represent that the ordinary income of the Municipality will not be sufficient to bear the cost of maintaining the works in good order, and they desire to secure the reclaimed lands, which, it is expected, will soon become a valuable source of income. Some of the proprietors have given their lands as free gifts to the Municipality. The cost of acquiring the remaining lands is estimated at Rs. 14,000. To enable them to meet this expenditure, the Municipality now ask the Government for a grant of Rs. 7,000, and a loan of Rs. 7,000 at a low rate of interest.

6. When the scheme was originally considered, it was, as already stated, contemplated to provide convict labour free of charge. But the requirements of the Jail Department have been such that all the available convicts have been for some time employed on the construction of the jail buildings at Rungpore, Julpigoree, Bogra, and Pubna, and it has not been found possible to tell off prisoners to the drainage works in Rungpore. Under these circumstances, and in the hope that the inhabitants of other Municipalities may be encouraged to come forward with subscriptions for similar works of local improvement, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions a grant from the Provincial Revenues of the whole sum of Rs. 14,000 required by the Municipality.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division, and the Accountant General; also that it be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

Coal, down ... ... Mds. 2,01,120 Rs 25,780

Decreases are shown at nearly all the coal-despatching stations, and this appears to be owing to the continued importation of large quantities of English coal.

Government stores ... ... Mds. 18,810 Rs. 30,470.

Frontier operations having ceased, the despatches of Government stores have been reduced.

The importation of hides into the Calcutta market has been small during January.

The falling off is not large and is to be attributed mostly to the absence this year of despatches of rolling-stock for the State Railways.

The salt traffic has fallen off on all sides. I give below a table of decreases at various points.—

Jamalpore, the 11*th March* 1881.

N. St. L. Carter, Traffic Manager.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of February 1881.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The most notable feature in the traffic of the month is the large increase in the up traffic under the head of "All other goods" In January 1880, 33,955 maunds were carried, whereas for the month now under review the figures stand at 68,851 maunds.

Managers and Agents of tea-gardens are no doubt looking ahead and making a push to get all garden-stores, &c. up before the rains set in.

Increases.

Food grain .. . . Mds. 9,416

There has been more enquiry at the Port for all kinds of rice for export during the month, and the opportunity to sell has eagerly been taken advantage of by holders of stocks in this district.

Ginger .. .. Mds. 374

After many months of depression the traffic in this article appears to be reviving.

Gunny-bags ... ... Mds. 4,390

The low rate for jute this season, as compared with last, is still affecting this traffic, and will continue to do so until it pays the holders of the raw staple to send it forward in its unmanufactured state.

Jute . ... Mds. 3,253

Early in the month, the jute traffic gave promise of keeping up, but a sudden decline, coupled with a weak market, even at the lower rate, again checked despatches, or it is anticipated the increase would have been much greater.

Sugar .. .. Mds. 692

The total weight carried under this head during the month stands at 2,412 maunds, out of which only 4 maunds passed downwards The increase is due to purchasers taking advantage of the slightly easier rates to stock the local marts, and will, in all probability result in a corresponding falling-off some months hence.

Tea .. . . Mds. 302

The increased weight carried under this head, thus late in the season, can only be accounted for on the assumption that stocks have been kept back in the hope of better prices being realized.

All other goods .. .. Mds. 40,781

This large increase is dealt with in general remarks.

Decreases.

Ale ... ... Mds. 763

Commissariat despatches, which go to make up the bulk of the weight carried under this head are still withheld.

Railway material .. .. Mds. 22,228

The reasons given in last month's report for the decrease in this staple apply here, and until some new work is started a revival cannot be looked for

Salt . . .. Mds 2,447

The price of this article at the port has advanced about Rs. 2 a maund, and this no doubt had the effect of checking despatches.

Tobacco .. .. Mds. 753

The continued heavy despatches of this article during the whole of last year have no doubt worked off the last season's crop The increased weight carried for the 12 months ending 31st December 1880, as compared with the year 1879 being no less than 116,598 maunds

The periods to which these figures refer are—29 days in 1881 and 31 „ „ 1880,
were it not so, the public traffic this year would exhibit a fair increase over that for 1880 both in passengers and goods

The details of the increases and decreases of the passenger traffic are given in the following table

While the 3rd class traffic proper has increased, that in troops and Government servants has decreased on account of cessation of operations onthe frontier.

In goods traffic there is a large decrease in weight, but the earnings have not been affected in a similar way; this is owing to the rice traffic, although less in quantity, having been carried longer distances, thereby resulting in increased receipts.

The staples in which increases and decreases are shown are principally—

Grain.	Government stores.
Jaggree	Hides.
Opium.	Railway materials, foreign.
Piece-goods.	Salt.
	Sugar.

Increases.

Coal, up ... ... Mds. 1,58,450 Rs. 1,06,290

This is doubtless attributable to the reduced rate of freight now quoted to the public, viz. one-sixth of a pie a maund mile for distances over 300 miles.

The rice traffic this year has been carried from Bengal to the North-West, where a demand existed owing to threatened scarcity. The receipts from this flow of traffic, which took an unusual direction have largely increased.

The decrease in weight is chiefly vid Allyghur in rice which was exported from Oudh to the Punjab last year for the troops; the falling off on this account is Mds. 1,57,220 and Rs. 19,040.

Wheat for export from Calcutta has been despatched from Patna City and Ghât chiefly, and there is an increase at that station of maunds 1,40,400 and Rs. 54,200 vid Allyghur; also an increase is shown of maunds 33,400 and Rs. 2,830. but this was in wheat carried into Rajputana.

In other grains and pulses the traffic is normal and chiefly local

Juggree ... ... Mds 80,290 Rs. 12,980

A fair demand has sprung up for this article in Central India, and despatches from Arrah and stations above have increased

Opium .. .. Mds. 44,740 Rs. 14,220

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 13,010 Rs 22,880

Up-country dealers in Bengal and the North West are reported to have dealt largely in the Calcutta market after the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of February 1881.

The total quantity of goods carried during the month of February 1881 aggregated 2,07,849 maunds, as compared with 1,95,392 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 2,11,331 maunds as carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 12,457 maunds in the one case, and a decrease of 3,482 maunds in the other. 2,283 maunds of railway materials, carried during the month of February 1880, have not been taken into account

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations :—

	Mds.
Increases.
Coal.—Coal is fast supplying the place of firewood in the district for brick-burning purposes, and the increase is attributable to the large supplies of bricks in demand for the Government Darbhanga offices under contruction and the Maharaja's palace, and also for Road Cess both at Darbhanga and Muzuffurpore	30,482
Lime and Kunkur.—This depends on works under construction in the district, and is gathered by the contractor at Somastipur from the river Gunduck	16,004
Iron.—This depends on the local requirements, being imported by several Indigo-concerns, the Road Cess, the Raj, and the Public Works Department	1,470
Oil-cake.—This is outward traffic and the increase is satisfactory	1,028
Piece-goods.—This traffic is gradually improving and is recovering from the temporary check it received from the want of ready money among the dealers. The season of the Hindoo marriages is at hand, and the requirements will be greater	1,120
Potatoes.—This traffic is temporary	1,118
Indigo seeds.—This traffic has improved much and the increase is most satisfactory. The reduction of rate was not out of place; almost all the concerns availed themselves of the railway, which had hitherto got their seed by boat through Hajipore	2 311
Sundries.—This increase is also steady and very satisfactory	1,080
Decreases
Chillies.—This is due to the season for the new crop being at hand and the old stock exhausted .	4 162
Food grains.—Owing to the abundant harvest everywhere the prices of food-grains have fallen very much, and the markets everywhere are overstocked This is a great bar to export traffic ...	11,421
Hides and Horns.—This depends upon the local collection, and the decrease is due to the improved health of cattle in the district	6,535
Salt.—The traffic in this staple has fallen owing to failure of several native firms and the consequent stoppage to the issue of hoondees (cheques). Salt cannot be had on credit, and hence the decrease	7,097
Saltpetre.—Previous explanations will suffice to explain this	3,763
Seeds other than food-grains.—This traffic fluctuates as necessity arises for import and export	3,058
Stone-ballast and ware.—This fluctuates according to the requirements of the Road Cess and other Engineering works	1,423
Seeds, oil.—The new crops have not been harvested as yet	3,027

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Patna and Gya State Railway for the month of February 1881.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of February 1881 aggregated 1,13,921 maunds as compared with 1,18,560 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 1,53,861 maunds carried during the previous month showing an increase of 4,639 maunds in the one case, and 39,940 maunds in the other. Three hundred maunds of railway materials carried during the month of February 1880 have not been taken into account

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations :—

INCREASES.

	Mds.
Coal.—This depends entirely on Engineering works requiring bricks, in the burning of which the coal is used	13,482
Jaggree - This for the most part consists of outward traffic, and is exported to Bombay and other stations on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway	19,778
Salt. - This is an inward traffic, imported from Howrah, Patna, and other stations for consumption in the interior of the district	4,733
Seeds, oil.—This is chiefly exported to Howrah. The increase is satisfactory, considering the poor demand in outside markets	1,580
Sundries - This increase is also steady	2,384

DECREASES.

Food grains.—The decrease is due to the abundant crops everywhere and the prices having fallen	24,827
Saltpetre.—Previous remarks will suffice for this	3,098
Stone, stone-ballast and wares—This depends upon the requirements of the Road Cess and Engineering works	7,721
Sugar.—On account of high prices, transactions in sugar are dull	10,410

COURT OF WARDS ACT AMENDMENT.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Court of Wards Act, 1879, and in doing so he said there were only two points necessary to be noticed now. The minor alterations made by the Committee were sufficiently set out in the report. The first of the two points was the alleged discrepancy between the Indian Majority Act, passed by the Council of the Governor-General, and the Court of Wards Act of this Council. Before the matter was laid before the Select Committee an informal meeting was held, principally to discuss this question. It was purely a question of law, and it happened that, of the four legal gentlemen of whose assistance the Committee were able to avail themselves, two held one opinion as to the construction of a certain expression in the Indian Majority Act, and these were the two law officers of the Government, while two held the other opinion. The expression in the Majority Act was "every minor under jurisdiction of the Court of Wards." The opinion of the learned Advocate-General and of the Legal Remembrancer was that this expression in the Indian Majority Act embraced every minor upon whom that Court might stretch out its hands and take charge of his property, if, in the exercise of its discretion, it thought right to do so. If the view of these legal officers was correct, then the way in which the expression was used in the Majority Act had the effect of leaving the Court of Wards to declare whom they should consider to be minors for the purposes of that Act, and therefore there was no discrepancy between the two Acts and no alteration was required in the present Bill. On the other hand, the two learned gentlemen opposite (Mr. Ameer Ali and Baboo Peary Mohun Mookerjee) were of opinion that the expression in question in the Indian Majority Act embraced only minors of whose person and property the Court had actually taken charge in the exercise of its discretional jurisdiction. If so, there was certainly some difficulty in reconciling the two Acts; but then this Council had not the power to clear up the doubt by putting an authoritative construction on the words of the Majority Act.

On these considerations, and giving that weight to the opinion of the law officers of Government, who happened to be agreed, which was officially due to them, the Select Committee had not thought it necessary to introduce any provision on this head into the present Bill.

The next point was that the Committee had omitted the proposed section 55A as unnecessary. It was the section by which MR. DAMPIER had proposed to give authority to the Court of Wards to allow any ward to bring a suit, as if that ward were not in charge of the Court. The consideration of this section led the Committee to look somewhat deeply into the general law, and the result was that it was held by those most competent to give an opinion, that, as the law stood, there was no necessity for a specific provision of the nature of the one he proposed; cases such as MR. DAMPIER had intended to meet were already met, Wards of Court, who are not minors, being already under the general law competent to institute certain suits independently of the Court of Wards, and the managers of their estate. That being the general effect of the law, it had not been found necessary to put in any provision to secure it.

He saw one point looming at a distance, regarding which he might perhaps have to propose an amendment. It was this. It had been represented that for the purpose of executing a certificate, the manager of a ward's estate was, under the Public Demands Recovery Act, in the position of a plaintiff decree-holder. Now, after a certificate had been made for the recovery of a certain sum due to the ward's estate, and before it was fully executed and satisfied, suppose the estate of that ward passed away from the jurisdiction of the Court, how was that certificate to be sued out? Who was then legally competent to take such steps as were necessary to go on executing it? That was a question which had been raised. He had in an informal way consulted two authorities on the subject; one said it was as clear as possible; the decree being made, the Collector could go on executing it even after the estate had passed out of its hands, and the Collector would make over the amount realized to the proprietor who had come into possession of the estate. The other legal luminary said it was palpable that the proprietor in possession of the estate was the successor in title to the manager, and that, under the general law, he would be entitled to take such steps as were necessary for executing these certificates.

This was purely a legal question, and MR. DAMPIER did not like to rush in where the angels feared to tread, and he proposed to give the subject further consideration and to obtain more formal opinions before the next meeting of the Council.

The HON'BLE PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE said he had the honour of serving on the Select Committee, but he regretted that he could not agree with the learned law officers of the Government or of the majority of the hon'ble gentlemen of the Committee in thinking that the Court of Wards Act or the Indian Majority Act gave the Court of Wards any thing like a prospective jurisdiction with respect.

to persons who had passed the age of eighteen years and had not completed the age of twenty-one years. He thought that the standards of majority, fixed by the two enactments, related to classes of persons differently situated, and that they did not conflict with one another; but as the majority of the gentlemen who formed the Select Committee were of a contrary opinion, he subscribed to the report of the Committee. But since signing the report he had consulted the authorites on the subject, and he had been confirmed in his opinion by the rulings of the highest authorities, he meant of the Privy Council and of a full Bench of the High Court. He thought that a person after he had attained the age of eighteen years was beyond the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards. He stated this simply because he wished it to be understood that he did not subscribe to the opinion expressed in the 2nd paragraph of the report of the Select Committee.

The HON'BLE AMIR ALI said that as he had the honour of serving on the Select Committee he might be allowed to say a few words to explain the dissent he had recorded. The reasons which compelled him to differ from his hon'ble colleagues were contained in his dissent, and he was not going to trespass at any length on the time of the Council. He was sorry to find the opinion of the law officers of Government were against him with reference to the meaning which was to be attached to the words "under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards" in section 3 of the Indian Majority Act. They were of opinion that these words vested in the Court of Wards a prospective jurisdiction, and that consequently there was no conflict between the provisions of Act IX of 1875 and the Court of Wards Act. The opinion of the law officers of the Government was entitled to the greatest weight, but he (MR. AMIR ALI) could not bring himself to agree in the view that the word "jurisdiction" in the Indian Majority Act had a different meaning from the word as used in other Acts. He thought a reference to some of the authorities mentioned already by his hon'ble friend (Baboo Peary Mohun Mookerjee) would show that in every instance in which the question had been discussed the term had been construed to imply an actual and not a prospective and possible jurisdiction. His hon'ble and learned friend the Legal Remembrancer had mentioned to him that in section 11 of the Court of Wards Act and Act XL of 1858 the word was used in the sense which Mr. Allen was inclined to put upon it, but a careful examination of the sections referred to by him had confirmed MR. AMEER ALI in his conviction that the words "under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards" meant under the actual jurisdiction or charge of the Court of Wards and did not include persons who had attained their majority under Act IX of 1875. The analogy which was sought to be drawn from the expression "jurisdiction of the civil court" did not appear to him to be correct. The jurisdiction of the civil court was an actual jurisdiction, exercised with reference to all persons and at all times. Everybody was subject to that jurisdiction unless specially exempted, whereas nobody was subject to the authority of the Court of Wards unless specially declared to be so or the charge of his or her property was taken by the Court of Wards.

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said, lawyers, like doctors, differed; he did not profess to be a lawyer, but as a Member of the Select Committee, he took a common-sense view of the question raised. If there was a conflict between the law of the Indian Council and the Court of Wards Act, it was not in the power of this Council to remedy that conflict. The Select Committee had not touched the law one way or another, and had not therefore in any way added to the difficulties which might be at present experienced. Such being the case, he thought the paragraph which had been inserted in the report of the Select Committee would not in any way alter the present position of things. If the Government, in its executive capacity, thought that the two laws ought to be reconciled, it should move the Legislative Council of the Governor-General to amend the Majority Act. But in his opinion it was not competent for this Council to do anything in the matter.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said, with reference to remarks which had just been made, that he entirely agreed with the Hon'ble Member who spoke last.

He observed that the Hon'ble and learned Member who spoke first said more than once that one of the constructions of the Indian Majority Act was held by the majority of the Members of the Select Committee, as well as by the law officers of Government. MR. DAMPIER begged leave to say that he had in this matter pinned his official faith on the opinion of the Government law officers.

He was satisfied that, whichever of the two constructions was correct, nothing that this Council was competent to enact would be of practical use. Any conclusion which he might arrive at as to the correct construction must, therefore be a sterile conclusion, leading to no results. He had not therefore thought it necessary to examine the merits of the rival constructions as he would have done had any result depended upon his vote.

The HON'BLE MR. ALLEN said, as one of the Members of the Select Committee, and particularly as one of those by whose advice it acted, he thought it right to state why that Committee had determined to make no change in the Bill in respect to the matter under discussion, and the explanation lay in the answer to the question who was a minor under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards. The difficulty arose not as to the meaning of any words in any Act passed by this Council, but as to the meaning of words used in the Indian Majority Act of 1875 which was passed by the Council of the Governor-General. The words of section 3 of that Act were—

"Subject as aforesaid, every minor of whose person or property a guardian has been or shall be appointed by any court of justice, and every minor under the jurisdiction of any Court of Wards shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Succession Act, or in any other enactment, be deemed to have attained his majority when he shall have completed his age of twenty-one years and not before."

The question was as to the meaning of the words "under the jurisdiction of any Court of Wards." The learned Advocate-General's opinion (and the only opinion which seemed to MR. ALLEN the correct opinion) as to the construction of these words was that a distinction must be drawn between the words "under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards" and the words "under the charge of the Court of Wards" The opinion maintained by his friends on the opposite side appeared to him to depend entirely on the loose way in which the word "jurisdiction" was used in this country. Every person who had any functions to perform was said to have a "jurisdiction," and thus we heard of a dâk-runner's "jurisdiction" and a chowkidar's "jurisdiction," and other "jurisdictions" of a similar kind in which the word was used in a most slovenly manner. But the exact meaning of the word was to signify, prospectively, a possible control, thus every person was under the jurisdiction of that court which had the dictio juris—the right of declaring what was jus in cases in which he was concerned; therefore the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards must extend to those persons over whose affairs the court had a dictio juris, that is to say all those minors who held entire estates paying revenue direct to Government. The qualification therefore was that of every minor zemindar holding an entire estate whether his property had or had not been taken charge of, he was under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards: and consequently the Committee could see no conflict between an Act of the Governor-General, which expressly, in the case of persons under the jurisdiction of the Court, extended the age of majority to twenty-one years, and an Act of this Council which stated that in the case of those subject to the Court of Wards, a minor was a person under twenty-one years of age. The expression "under the jurisdiction" occurred in another Act of the Governor-General in Council, namely Act XL of 1858 which made provision for the custody and protection of the property of minors not under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards and who did not hold entire estates paying revenue to Government. Section 2 of that Act provided that the care of the persons of all minors (not under the protection of the Court of Wards) and the charge of their property should be "subject to the jurisdiction of the civil court." The expression in that section was almost identical with the expression in the Indian Majority Act, but MR. ALLEN never heard that the section was supposed to refer merely to persons whose property had been already taken charge of by the civil court: clearly, it contemplated the possibility of the property being taken charge of by the court, and not necessarily that it had been actually taken under it. It was not advisable to explain the meaning of the words in question by reference to an Act of this Legislature, because it might be said that it was not competent for this Council to amend or explain an expression used in an Act of the Council of the Governor-General. But a case had just been put in his hands which was relied upon by the hon'ble member opposite as giving the opinion of the Privy Council to the effect that the age of majority for all minors must be taken at eighteen years.* The point of the decision on which reliance was placed appeared to MR. ALLEN not to affect this question at all, except in a very remote way, and even there their Lordships of the Privy Council drew a distinction and based their decision on the express words of a Regulation. They said,—

* Jumoona Dassya vs. Bamasoondari Dassya. I. L. R. 1 Calc. 289—295.

"The only remaining point was that taken by Mr. Doyne to the effect that although Govind Chunder may have been of the age of discretion according to the Hindu law as prevailing in Bengal, he was still a minor under the 2nd section of Regulation XXVI of 1793, and that under the 33rd section of the prior Regulation, X of 1793, he could not make the adoption without the consent of his guardian. The last-mentioned enactment prohibits a disqualified proprietor from making an adoption, except with the sanction of the Court of Wards, and it has been determined by the sudder court in the case cited—Anundmoyee Chowdrani vs. Sheeb Chunder Roy—(1) a case which afterwards came here, though not on the same point, (2) that the prohibition applies equally to an authority to adopt and to an actual adoption. But the words of the 33rd section of Regulation X of 1793 would seem to confine its operation to persons who are under the guardianship of the Court of Wards."

(1) S. D. A (1855), page 918.
(2) Section 9, Moore's I. A, 287.

This objection was overruled it is true, but the basis of their Lordships' opinion was that section 33 of Regulation X of 1793 limited the incapacity to those who were under the guardianship of the Court of Wards, that is to those whose property was in charge of the Court of Wards and to whom the Court of Wards stood in the place of guardian. The judgment went on—

"And we have the judgment of Mitter, J., to the effect that where a minor is not under the Court of Wards but has attained years of discretion according to the Hindu law, he is capable of executing such an instrument as this. Rajendra Narain Lahooree vs. Saroda Soondaree Dabee (3). If, then, the case actually turned upon this point, their Lordships' opinion would have been that Govind Chunder was not incapacitated from executing this instrument by reason of his not having attained the age of eighteen years."

(3) 15 W. R., 548.

The question was not then, the validity of the adoption, but whether a disqualified landholder could execute an instrument giving power to adopt, and the Privy Council in thinking that he could, relied on the words of Regulation X of 1793 which limited the prohibition to adopt, to those persons who were actually under the guardianship of the Court of Wards. There therefore did not appear to MR. ALLEN to be any difficulty as to the meaning of the words "under the jurisdiction of the Court" in the Indian Majority Act, and even if there was, he did not see how this Council could in any way remove the obscurity, unless, indeed, it should declare that eighteen years was to be the age of majority of minors under the Court of Wards. But as he had already said he did not think there was any ambiguity in the words of the Indian Majority Act, and he thought it very desirable that the age of majority for proprietors of estates paying revenue direct to Government should not be reduced under twenty-one years.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

COURT OF WARDS ACT AMENDMENT.

THE HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Court of Wards Act, 1879, and in doing so he said there were only two points necessary to be noticed now. The minor alterations made by the Committee were sufficiently set out in the report. The first of the two points was the alleged discrepancy between the Indian Majority Act, passed by the Council of the Governor-General, and the Court of Wards Act of this Council. Before the matter was laid before the Select Committee an informal meeting was held, principally to discuss this question. It was purely a question of law, and it happened that, of the four legal gentlemen of whose assistance the Committee were able to avail themselves, two held one opinion as to the construction of a certain expression in the Indian Majority Act, and these were the two law officers of the Government, while two held the other opinion. The expression in the Majority Act was "every minor under jurisdiction of the Court of Wards." The opinion of the learned Advocate-General and of the Legal Remembrancer was that this expression in the Indian Majority Act embraced every minor upon whom that Court might stretch out its hands and take charge of his property, if, in the exercise of its discretion, it thought right to do so. If the view of these legal officers was correct, then the way in which the expression was used in the Majority Act had the effect of leaving the Court of Wards to declare whom they should consider to be minors for the purposes of that Act, and therefore there was no discrepancy between the two Acts and no alteration was required in the present Bill. On the other hand the two learned gentlemen opposite (Mr. Ameer Ali and Baboo Peary Mohun Mookerjee) were of opinion that the expression in question in the Indian Majority Act embraced only minors of whose person and property the Court had actually taken charge in the exercise of its discretional jurisdiction. If so, there was certainly some difficulty in reconciling the two Acts; but then this Council had not the power to clear up the doubt by putting an authoritative construction on the words of the Majority Act.

On these considerations, and giving that weight to the opinion of the law officers of Government, who happened to be agreed, which was officially due to them, the Select Committee had not thought it necessary to introduce any provision on this head into the present Bill.

The next point was that the Committee had omitted the proposed section 55A as unnecessary. It was the section by which MR. DAMPIER had proposed to give authority to the Court of Wards to allow any ward to bring a suit, as if that ward were not in charge of the Court. The consideration of this section led the Committee to look somewhat deeply into the general law, and the result was that it was held by those most competent to give an opinion, that, as the law stood, there was no necessity for a specific provision of the nature of the one he proposed; cases such as MR. DAMPIER had intended to meet were already met, Wards of Court, who are not minors, being already under the general law competent to institute certain suits independently of the Court of Wards, and the managers of their estate. That being the general effect of the law, it had not been found necessary to put in any provision to secure it.

He saw one point looming at a distance, regarding which he might perhaps have to propose an amendment. It was this. It had been represented that for the purpose of executing a certificate, the manager of a ward's estate was, under the Public Demands Recovery Act, in the position of a plaintiff decree-holder. Now, after a certificate had been made for the recovery of a certain sum due to the ward's estate, and before it was fully executed and satisfied, suppose the estate of that ward passed away from the jurisdiction of the Court, how was that certificate to be sued out? Who was then legally competent to take such steps as were necessary to go on executing it? That was a question which had been raised. He had in an informal way consulted two authorities on the subject; one said it was as clear as possible; the decree being made, the Collector could go on executing it even after the estate had passed out of its hands, and the Collector would make over the amount realized to the proprietor who had come into possession of the estate. The other legal luminary said it was palpable that the proprietor in possession of the estate was the successor in title to the manager, and that, under the general law, he would be entitled to take such steps as were necessary for executing these certificates.

This was purely a legal question, and MR. DAMPIER did not like to rush in where the angels feared to tread, and he proposed to give the subject further consideration and to obtain more formal opinions before the next meeting of the Council.

The HON'BLE PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE said he had the honour of serving on the Select Committee, but he regretted that he could not agree with the learned law officers of the Government or of the majority of the hon'ble gentlemen of the Committee in thinking that the Court of Wards Act or the Indian Majority Act gave the Court of Wards any thing like a prospective jurisdiction with respect to persons who had passed the age of eighteen years and had not completed the age of twenty-one years. He thought that the standards of majority, fixed by the two enactments, related to classes of persons differently situated, and that they did not conflict with one another; but as the majority of the gentlemen who formed the Select Committee were of a contrary opinion, he subscribed to the report of the Committee. But since signing the report he had consulted the authorites on the subject, and he had been confirmed in his opinion by the rulings of the highest authorities, he meant of the Privy Council and of a full Bench of the High Court. He thought that a person after he had attained the age of eighteen years was beyond the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards. He stated this simply because he wished it to be understood that he did not subscribe to the opinion expressed in the 2nd paragraph of the report of the Select Committee.

The HON'BLE AMIR ALI said that as he had the honour of serving on the Select Committee he might be allowed to say a few words to explain the dissent he had recorded. The reasons which compelled him to differ from his hon'ble colleagues were contained in his dissent, and he was not going to trespass at any length on the time of the Council. He was sorry to find the opinion of the law officers of Government were against him with reference to the meaning which was to be attached to the words "under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards" in section 3 of the Indian Majority Act. They were of opinion that these words vested in the Court of Wards a prospective jurisdiction, and that consequently there was no conflict between the provisions of Act IX of 1875 and the Court of Wards Act. The opinion of the law officers of the Government was entitled to the greatest weight, but he (MR. AMIR ALI) could not bring himself to agree in the view that the word "jurisdiction" in the Indian Majority Act had a different meaning from the word as used in other Acts. He thought a reference to some of the authorities mentioned already by his hon'ble friend (Baboo Peary Mohun Mookerjee) would show that in every instance in which the question had been discussed the term had been construed to imply an actual and not a prospective and possible jurisdiction. His hon'ble and learned friend the Legal Remembrancer had mentioned to him that in section 11 of the Court of Wards Act and Act XL of 1858 the word was used in the sense which Mr. Allen was inclined to put upon it, but a careful examination of the sections referred to by him had confirmed MR. AMEER ALI in his conviction that the words "under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards" meant under the actual jurisdiction or charge of the Court of Wards and did not include persons who had attained their majority under Act IX of 1875. The analogy which was sought to be drawn from the expression "jurisdiction of the civil court" did not appear to him to be correct. The jurisdiction of the civil court was an actual jurisdiction, exercised with reference to all persons and at all times. Everybody was subject to that jurisdiction unless specially exempted, whereas nobody was subject to the authority of the Court of Wards unless specially declared to be so or the charge of his or her property was taken by the Court of Wards.

The HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL said, lawyers, like doctors, differed; he did not profess to be a lawyer, but as a Member of the Select Committee, he took a common-sense view of the question raised. If there was a conflict between the law of the Indian Council and the Court of Wards Act, it was not in the power of this Council to remedy that conflict. The Select Committee had not touched the law one way or another, and had not therefore in any way added to the difficulties which might be at present experienced. Such being the case, he thought the paragraph which had been inserted in the report of the Select Committee would not in any way alter the present position of things. If the Government, in its executive capacity, thought that the two laws ought to be reconciled, it should move the Legislative Council of the Governor-General to amend the Majority Act. But in his opinion it was not competent for this Council to do anything in the matter.

The HON'BLE MR. DAMPIER said, with reference to remarks which had just been made, that he entirely agreed with the Hon'ble Member who spoke last.

He observed that the Hon'ble and learned Member who spoke first said more than once that one of the constructions of the Indian Majority Act was held by the majority of the Members of the Select Committee, as well as by the law officers of Government. MR. DAMPIER begged leave to say that he had in this matter pinned his official faith on the opinion of the Government law officers.

He was satisfied that, whichever of the two constructions was correct, nothing that this Council was competent to enact would be of practical use. Any conclusion which he might arrive at as to the correct construction must therefore be a sterile conclusion, leading to no results. He had not therefore thought it necessary to examine the merits of the rival constructions as he would have done had any result depended upon his vote.

The HON'BLE MR. ALLEN said, as one of the Members of the Select Committee, and particularly as one of those by whose advice it acted, he thought it right to state why that Committee had determined to make no change in the Bill in respect to the matter under discussion, and the explanation lay in the answer to the question who was a minor under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards. The difficulty arose not as to the meaning of any words in any Act passed by this Council, but as to the meaning of words used in the Indian Majority Act of 1875 which was passed by the Council of the Governor-General. The words of section 3 of that Act were—

"Subject as aforesaid, every minor of whose person or property a guardian has been or shall be appointed by any court of justice, and every minor under the jurisdiction of any Court of Wards shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Succession Act, or in any other enactment, be deemed to have attained his majority when he shall have completed his age of twenty-one years and not before."

The question was as to the meaning of the words "under the jurisdiction of any Court of Wards." The learned Advocate-General's opinion (and the only opinion which seemed to MR. ALLEN the correct opinion) as to the construction of these words was that a distinction must be drawn between the words "under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards" and the words "under the charge of the Court of Wards" The opinion maintained by his friends on the opposite side appeared to him to depend entirely on the loose way in which the word "jurisdiction" was used in this country. Every person who had any functions to perform was said to have a "jurisdiction," and thus we heard of a dâk runner's "jurisdiction" and a chowkidar's "jurisdiction," and other "jurisdictions" of a similar kind in which the word was used in a most slovenly manner. But the exact meaning of the word was to signify, prospectively, a possible control, thus every person was under the jurisdiction of that court which had the dictio juris—the right of declaring what was jus in cases in which he was concerned; therefore the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards must extend to those persons over whose affairs the court had a dictio juris, that is to say all those minors who held entire estates paying revenue direct to Government. The qualification therefore was that of every minor zemindar holding an entire estate whether his property had or had not been taken charge of, he was under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards: and consequently the Committee could see no conflict between an Act of the Governor-General, which expressly, in the case of persons under the jurisdiction of the Court, extended the age of majority to twenty-one years, and an Act of this Council which stated that in the case of those subject to the Court of Wards, a minor was a person under twenty-one years of age. The expression "under the jurisdiction" occurred in another Act of the Governor-General in Council, namely Act XL of 1858 which made provision for the custody and protection of the property of minors not under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards and who did not hold entire estates paying revenue to Government. Section 2 of that Act provided that the care of the persons of all minors (not under the protection of the Court of Wards) and the charge of their property should be "subject to the jurisdiction of the civil court." The expression in that section was almost identical with the expression in the Indian Majority Act, but MR. ALLEN never heard that the section was supposed to refer merely to persons whose property had been already taken charge of by the civil court: clearly, it contemplated the possibility of the property being taken charge of by the court, and not necessarily that it had been actually taken under it. It was not advisable to explain the meaning of the words in question by reference to an Act of this Legislature, because it might be said that it was not competent for this Council to amend or explain an expression used in an Act of the Council of the Governor-General. But a case had just been put in his hands which was relied upon by the hon'ble member opposite as giving the opinion of the Privy Council to the effect that the age of majority for all minors must be taken at eighteen years.* The point of the decision on which reliance was placed appeared to MR. ALLEN not to affect this question at all, except in a very remote way, and even there their Lordships of the Privy Council drew a distinction and based their decision on the express words of a Regulation. They said,—

* Jumoona Dassya vs. Bamasoondari Dassya. I. L. R. 1 Calc. 289—295.

"The only remaining point was that taken by Mr. Doyne to the effect that although Govind Chunder may have been of the age of discretion according to the Hindu law as prevailing in Bengal, he was still a minor under the 2nd section of Regulation XXVI of 1793, and that under the 33rd section of the prior Regulation, X of 1793, he could not make the adoption without the consent of his guardian. The last-mentioned enactment prohibits a disqualified proprietor from making an adoption, except with the sanction of the Court of Wards, and it has been determined by the sudder court in the case cited—Anundmoyee Chowdrani vs. Sheeb Chunder Roy—(1) a case which afterwards came here, though not on the same point, (2) that the prohibition applies equally to an authority to adopt and to an actual adoption. But the words of the 33rd section of Regulation X of 1793 would seem to confine its operation to persons who are under the guardianship of the Court of Wards."

(1) S. D. A. (1855), page 918.
(2) Section 9, Moore's I. A., 287.

This objection was overruled it is true, but the basis of their Lordships' opinion was that section 33 of Regulation X of 1793 limited the incapacity to those who were under the guardianship of the Court of Wards, that is to those whose property was in charge of the Court of Wards and to whom the Court of Wards stood in the place of guardian. The judgment went on—

"And we have the judgment of Mitter, J., to the effect that where a minor is not under the Court of Wards but has attained years of discretion according to the Hindu law, he is capable of executing such an instrument as this. Rajendra Narain Lahooree vs. Saroda Soondaree Dabee (3). If, then, the case actually turned upon this point, their Lordships' opinion would have been that Govind Chunder was not incapacitated from executing this instrument by reason of his not having attained the age of eighteen years."

(3) 15 W. R., 548.

The question was not then, the validity of the adoption, but whether a disqualified Jandholder could execute an instrument giving power to adopt, and the Privy Council in thinking that he could, relied on the words of Regulation X of 1793 which limited the prohibition to adopt, to those persons who were actually under the guardianship of the Court of Wards. There therefore did not appear to MR. ALLEN to be any difficulty as to the meaning of the words "under the jurisdiction of the Court" in the Indian Majority Act, and even if there was, he did not see how this Council could in any way remove the obscurity, unless, indeed, it should declare that eighteen years was to be the age of majority of minors under the Court of Wards. But as he had already said he did not think there was any ambiguity in the words of the Indian Majority Act, and he thought it very desirable that the age of majority for proprietors of estates paying revenue direct to Government should not be reduced under twenty-one years.

AMENDMENT OF THE EXCISE ACT.

THE HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend "The Bengal Excise Act, 1878." He said he did not propose at this meeting to ask the Council to take the Bill into consideration. He would only mention that he had since received a communication from which he found that the Board were not thoroughly satisfied with the 4th section of the Bill as it stood, and it was possible that at the next meeting of the Council he should have to propose some amendment of that section.

AMENDMENT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CONSOLIDATION ACT.

THE HON'BLE KRISTODAS PAL presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend "The Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876," and in doing so he said the modifications made by the Select Committee were fully set forth in the report, and he need not therefore trouble the Council with a detailed statement of the alterations made. It had been his misfortune to differ from his colleagues on some important points, but he would take an opportunity to notice them when the Bill would be brought up for settlement of its clauses. There were, however, one or two points which he might now notice. One of the most important objects of the Bill was to give power to the Commissioners to take up land for the reclamation of bustees. When he applied for leave to introduce the Bill, he endeavoured to explain the procedure under which a bustee might be reclaimed by the Corporation under the existing law. That procedure, he might say, was two-fold. First, the Commissioners were required to serve notice on proprietors of land, calling upon them to carry out certain improvements which might be recommended by their Sanitary Officer; these proprietors might be required to make roads within bustees for the admission of conservancy carts, to introduce drainage and water-supply, to lay out huts in proper order, and to make other sanitary arrangements. If the proprietors did not carry out the orders of the Commissioners, they were competent to carry out such improvements at the expense of the Municipality and to recover the expense afterwards from the owner. That was one procedure. The other mode of procedure was very much the same, with this difference, that the scheme of improvement was not to be brought into operation till the condemned bustee had been reported upon by two competent independent medical gentlemen. If the Health Officer reported a bustee to be particularly unhealthly, and if the Commissioners thought fit, they might call upon two independent medical men to report on the bustee. These gentlemen were required to set forth a scheme of improvement which might partially or wholly be adopted by the Commissioners, who were competent to require the owner to carry out all the improvements they might order. If the owner neglected to carry out the improvements, the Commissioners were competent to carry them out and to recover the cost from the owner. The expense might be so heavy that, perhaps in some cases, the proprietor of the bustee might not be able to meet it. It had therefore been considered hard to enforce the Act in cases in which the owner might be too poor, or might find the undertaking to be unremunerative. The best course in such cases, he thought, would be for the Municipality to take up the land and pay proper compensation to the proprietor. As Baboo Kristodas Pal had mentioned to the Council on the occasion he had referred to, he had pressed this point on the Council when the Municipal Act of 1876 was under consideration, so this was not the first time he ventured to bring the subject before the Council. At that time it was thought that the extensive powers given to the Commissioners by the Act might first be tried, and if they were found to be insufficient, they might be subsequently extended. When introducing the Bill, he read to the Council an extract from a letter of the Government, in which His Honour the present Lieutenant-Governor recommended that the Commissioners might take up land for the improvement of bustees, and sell or lease it as they thought fit in order to recoup themselves. The Commissioners had also come forward with the same suggestion in a letter to the Council, and accordingly provisions had been introduced in the Bill to give the Commissioners the necessary powers. The Select Committee had, however, so hedged in the provision as to prevent the Commissioners from arbitrarily exercising the power or embarking in land speculation. The amended Bill provided that no unhealthy area should be taken up by the Commissioners unless independent medical testimony was obtained as to the unhealthiness of the locality concerned. The bustee must be first reported upon, specially by two competent medical men before it could be included in any scheme of improvement by the Commissioners under the provisions of the Bill; the Commissioners would then consider the scheme of improvement recommended, and lay it before the Lieutenant-Governor for consideration and sanction, and after obtaining such sanction, might take measures to acquire the land. Within two years of the acquisition of the land, the Commissioners should either carry out the scheme of improvement at their own expense or make arrangements for carrying out the improvement by other persons. And within five years from the time of the commencement of the improvement, and seven years from the date of purchase of the land, the Commissioners must sell the land unless the time was extended by special order of the Lieutenant-Governor. So that the Commissioners would not be competent to hold the land they might purchase for the profit of the Corporation: this provision of the Bill would act as a check upon the acquisition and improvement of land, for, as fast as the Commissioners might acquire or improve any land, they would be bound to sell it; they must not hold land for the pecuniary benefit of the Corporation. The object, as he had stated before, was simply to assist the Municipal Corporation in carrying out more effectually the reclamation of bustees. This provision, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL hoped, would be doubly beneficial. In the first place it would assist the Commissioners in carrying out sanitary improvements; in the next place it would help proprietors of bustees, who might not have the means of carrying out improvements of large magnitude; they would receive fair and sufficient compensation for the land they possessed, but which they were not able to improve. He thought these sections, on the grounds he mentioned, were fair and equitable to all parties concerned, and most important from a sanitary point of view.

The next section to which he would refer was the section about drug shops. He believed there was no difference of opinion on the point that there ought to be some provision for the proper regulation of shops where medicinal drugs were exposed for sale. The Bill provided for the proper registration of drug shops, next for their proper supervision by the Health Officer of the Town, and thirdly for the employment of certificated compounders for the dispensing of medicines in those shops. It had been pointed out to him that as the section had been worded it would include Indian drugs which were used for the preparation of indigenous medicines, and if certificated compounders were insisted upon for the sale of such drugs, it would offer serious impediment to trade and to the indigenous system of medicine. In order to meet this objection, the Committee had inserted the words "drugs recognized in the British Pharmacopœia, not being also articles of ordinary domestic consumption." It, however, happened that Indian drugs had been included in the British Pharmacopœia which were not articles of domestic consumption; other drugs were also included which were used both for domestic consumption and medicinal purposes in this country. It would be very hard if, by any words in this section, the trade in Indian drugs should be fettered in any way. These drugs were very cheap, they were sold by small druggists, they were used by Indian Kobirajes and Hakeems, and most of them were comparatively innocuous, and if any obstacle were thrown in the way of the sale of such drugs, it would be a serious inconvenience to the public. BABOO KRISTODAS PAL would therefore take the opportunity, when the clauses of the Bill would come up for consideration, to ask the Council to consider whether some explanation should not be attached to the section which might exclude from its scope drugs which might be used for indigenous medicine.

He need not notice the other amendments made by the Select Committee, because they were more or less explained in the report; he would now present the report, leaving the detailed consideration of the clauses of the Bill for the next sitting of the Council.

APPOINTMENT OF A BURIAL BOARD FOR CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS.

THE HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved that the Bill to provide for the appointment of a Burial Board in Calcutta and its Suburbs be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee. He had, with the permission of the President, last week, postponed this motion in order to give time for the receipt of further communications to the circular which had been issued. He had during that time received several further replies, and he was happy to say that two of the largest bodies interested—the Roman Catholic community and that of the Church of England—were entirely satisfied with the provisions of the Bill as they stood. Practically, he might say, that the Non-Conformists, as far as he had been able to discover, were also satisfied. One or two suggestions had been thrown out, but he did not consider it necessary to make any change in the substance of the Bill in consequence of those suggestions. As the Bill was worded, there was nothing in the section providing for the constitution of a Burial Board to compel the Lieutenant-Governor to appoint only laymen as additional members; it was quite open to His Honour to appoint either laymen or clergymen. That met one objection which had been taken by his correspondents. Another point was this. It was suggested that Non-Conformist bodies should be allowed to elect their own representatives. That, however, appeared hardly practicable, for the Government had no definite knowledge of the number of bodies who claimed to be represented; it would be difficult to lay down rules for the conduct of elections, and, on the whole, it would probably be found best that the power of appointment be left with the Lieutenant-Governor, who would consider the interests of the leading bodies and choose men who might be considered fairly representative. Another suggestion, which had been made, was that all the Government burial-grounds should be placed under the Board. The intention was that all such burial-grounds should be placed under the Board, but the Bill had been made discretionary, because new burial-grounds might be opened out which it might not always be convenient to place under the Board. Therefore, MR. MACKENZIE thought that on this point also there should be a discretion left to the Government. The only other suggestion which had been made was as to section 10. Several gentlemen had suggested that all private burial-grounds ought to be brought compulsorily under the jurisdiction of the Board. The Government had not heard how such a provision would be received by the proprietary and managing bodies concerned; and here also MR. MACKENZIE thought it would be best that the Bill should be left open. On the whole, therefore, he did not see any reason to ask the Council to make any change; but in section 3, he would move to insert, after "Senior Chaplain of St Johns," the words "Church in Calcutta."

The motion was put and agreed to.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the Bill was then passed.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 2nd April.

FORMATION OF CLASSES FOR THE TRAINING OF COMPOUNDERS.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 30th March 1881.

RESOLUTION.

READ the following papers regarding a proposal to establish a class for the training of compounders in the medical schools of these provinces:—

Letter to the Surgeon-General, Bengal, No. 499T, dated the 8th November 1880.
Letter from the Surgeon-General, Bengal, No. 42, dated the 5th January 1881.
Letter to the Director of Public Instruction, No. 45, dated the 18th January 1881.
Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 1771, dated the 14th March 1881.

The rapidly increasing number of Government dispensaries and of private shops for the sale of medicines has brought prominently to notice the want of a system of training for the persons employed as compounders in these institutions. The only compounders' class in Bengal is to be found in the Mitford College at Dacca, and it is stated that but little benefit is derived from this, as the boys attached to it, as soon as they acquire the smallest smattering of knowledge, quit it for private employment.

It is clear that some security to the public against the results of ignorance and carelessness on the part of the dispensers of drugs and medicines is required. The Municipal law of Calcutta is now being amended so as to make the employment of certificated compounders compulsory in the druggists' shops of the town. A similar provision will probably find a place in the Bengal Municipal Act when that also comes under revision. It is incumbent upon Government therefore to provide the means of instruction and training for persons intending to practice as compounders. For this reason, and with this view, the Director of Public Instruction was requested to frame a scheme for the establishment of compounders' classes in connection with the medical schools at Sealdah, Dacca, Patna, and Cuttack.

In consultation with the Surgeon-General, the Lieutenant-Governor is now pleased to direct that compounders' classes be opened at these institutions on the following plan :—

(1.) Candidates for admission to the classes should be from 17 to 20 years of age.

(2.) They should be able to read and write Bengali well, and should know arithmetic up to the Rule-of-three. Their knowledge of English should suffice to enable them to read prescriptions and printed labels and to write labels for medicines dispensed. The Middle English and the Middle or Lower Vernacular Scholarship certificates should be accepted as qualifying candidates for admission; while the elementary knowledge of English required should be tested by the Superintendent of the School. Candidates having no departmental certificates should be specially certified by the Inspector of Schools. In case of applications being received in excess of the number of vacancies, the preference should be given to candidates holding departmental certificates.

(3.) The course of instruction should consist of practice in the compounding-room for one year. Candidates should be allowed, if they desire it, to attend the regular lectures in Materia Medica and Pharmacy, though the Lieutenant-Governor has some doubt as to how far such attendance will be really profitable. It would no doubt be useful if some simple instruction could be given to the compounders' class in Materia Medica and the properties of drugs, and Sir Ashley Eden would be glad to see some arrangements made, if practicable, for this purpose.

(4.) On the completion of the course, an examination should be held in the reading and writing of prescriptions, and in the compounding and dispensing of medicines; and a certificate signed by the Superintendent of the School should be given to those who pass. This certificate will be recognised as sufficient for the purposes of the Municipal Act. Those who fail may, on the special recommendation of their teachers in each case, be sent back for another three or six months' instruction in the subjects of failure, and be subjected at the end of that period to further examination.

(5.) The size of the class should be determined in each case by the Superintendent of the School according to his estimate of the probable number of pupils that can be efficiently taught.

(6.) At the Sealdah School the fee payable by each pupil attending the compounders' class will be Rs. 10. Of this sum, the Head Compounder will, in the case of each successful candidate for a certificate, receive Rs. 4. At Patna and Dacca fees will be levied at the rate of Rs. 5 a head from each pupil, of which the Head Compounder will get Rs. 2 for each successful candidate. As the demand for compounders is said to be limited at Cuttack, the Lieutenant-Governor does not see any necessity for creating a supply artificially by the payment of a stipend; but in the event of any candidates presenting themselves, they should be admitted to the class on depositing Rs. 4 as caution-money. All fees should be paid in advance.

(7. The fees thus levied will provide remuneration for the Head Compounders at each school for the extra duties now imposed on them, and will also cover the cost of drugs used in teaching, and the expenses of the examination. In the case of the Sealdah School, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the employment, in addition to the present staff, of an assistant compounder on Rs. 16 per mensem.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE OPIUM DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1879-80.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 4th April 1881.

READ—

A letter No. 182B, dated the 8th March 1881, from the Officiating Secretary to the Board of Revenue, submitting the reports of the Opium Agents of Behar and Benares for the year 1879-80.

The Lieutenant-Governor regrets again to be obliged to notice the delay which has occurred in the submission of this report by the Board of Revenue. Both the reports from the agencies are dated the 30th November, but were not forwarded to Government for more than three months after that date. Only once in the last few years have the reports reached the Bengal Secretariat within three months of their despatch from Ghazipore and Patna. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Board will endeavour in future to avoid this delay, which cannot really be necessary for the satisfactory preparation of the Board's covering letter.

2. The following statement shows the cultivation and produce in each agency for the last two years :—

Season	Land sown for cultivation.	Net cultivation.	Produce at 70° consistence.
Behar.	Beeghas.	Beeghas.	Mds.	s.	c.
1878-79	500 371	415,289	41,268	1	4½
1879-80	473,550	461,086	53,593	23	1
Increase ...	.....	45.797	12,325	21	12½
Decrease ...	26,821	... .	. .... .
Benares.
1878 79	416,015	395,820	56 636	35	8½
1879-80	451,641	438,531	45,476	37	0½
Increase ...	35,626	42,711	.. ..
Decrease ...	.....	.....	11,160	38	8

It appears that, while there was a decrease of 26,821 beeghas in the area sown for cultivation in the Behar Agency, the actual cultivation was more than in 1878-79 (when there occurred an extensive failure of crop) by 45,797 beeghas, and the net produce, at a consistence of 70°, was greater by over 12,325 maunds than in 1878-79. The additional area thus put under crop lay chiefly in unirrigated tracts, the total unirrigated area cultivated being 123,104 beeghas against 81,911 in 1878-79. In the Benares Agency a decrease of 11,160 maunds is apparent in the net produce, notwithstanding the fact that there were 35,626 beeghas more brought under cultivation, and that the area of net cultivation was greater by 42,711 beeghas in the year under review than in the previous year.

3. The decrease in the area sown in Behar is said to have been due in some parts to sickness among the cultivators and murrain among the cattle, and in some to the fact that extensions have been already pushed too far; but generally speaking the Agent attributes the falling off to the disheartening effect of two bad seasons, the reduction in the price of the crude drug from Rs. 5 to Rs. 4-8 per seer, and the increasing remunerativeness of other crops. Special attention is drawn to the formidable rivalry of sugarcane in the region south of the Ganges, consequent on the adoption by both European and native manufacturers of a system of advances enabling the smaller cultivators to grow this remunerative crop, which, owing to its occupying the land for the whole year, was formerly only taken up by the more substantial ryots. The Government of India has already, on the Lieutenant-Governor's suggestion, raised the price of crude opium to the old figure, but the Agent doubts whether this will suffice to secure extensions to really profitable lands or even bring about the recovery of such lands where already lost. The Board consider that improvements calculated to increase the popularity of the cultivation might be made in the present system of advances and adjustment of accounts, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to see attention given to this matter. He is not, however, prepared to accept the view now again put forward by the Board that Government should, in order to secure such popularity, refrain as a matter of course from recovering its advances whenever the season turns out to be unfavourable. The assumption made in the report that advances on account of sugar cultivation, indigo cultivation, and the like, are not recovered from the cultivators when the crop fails rests on no basis of fact. Remissions are no doubt made by private capitalists who grant advances, when it appears good policy to do so, and Government is always ready to treat liberally those who take State advances when a real necessity for concession exists, but nothing could be more demoralizing to the ryots than to encourage the idea that they may take advances freely in the certainty that if they fail to work them off they will be as a matter of course remitted. The results of the Government orders for recovery of those balances of 1877-78, which the Board would have indiscriminatingly remitted, prove that no injury is done by judicious firmness in dealing with this question. All needful remissions have been sanctioned, while the interests of Government have not been sacrificed.

4. In the Benares Agency every endeavour was made under the orders of the Government of India to extend the cultivation, and a net increase of nearly 60,931 beeghas was obtained over the settlements of the previous year. Unfortunately, a severe epidemic of fever broke out, many of the cultivators who had taken advances died, and many more were disabled from cultivating the amount of land for which they had taken settlement. The result was that the net area cultivated fell short of that settled by 22,867 beeghas. There is, however, no reason to anticipate any disinclination to cultivate the poppy in these provinces. The crop continues to be popular, and further extensions are, under the orders of the Government of India, going on in the current year.

5. One of the main differences between the cultivation in Behar and Benares is the large proportion of unirrigated land in the former agency. In the year under review there were in Behar 1,23,104 beeghas unirrigated, while in Benares only 10,091 beeghas came under that category. There are large tracts north of the Ganges in Behar where well-irrigation would, owing to the large amount of alkali in the soil and in the sub-soil water, only serve to destroy the crop. But it seems probable that more might be done in the way of well-making in tracts where this peculiarity of soil is less marked, and the Lieutenant-Governor has noted with satisfaction the results of Mr. Tytler's efforts to encourage the making of permanent wells in the Aliganj sub-district. Mr. Tytler deserves great credit for the interest which he has shown in well-irrigation. The Agent should, as he proposes, impress upon district officers and others the importance of this matter and sanction advances freely where required. During the year only Rs. 11,294 were given in advances for wells in Behar. In Benares Rs. 9,894 were advanced, most of the area cultivated being irrigated already.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe the promptitude with which all officers of the Behar Agency carried out the orders of Government for the introduction of maps and registers after the pattern of those which had been previously in use at Benares.

7. The experiment of issuing minature licenses to each cultivator having proved successful in the Ghazipore and Faizabad sub-agencies, the Board have ordered its extension to the whole of the Benares Agency and to the Gya and Aliganj sub-agencies of the Behar Agency. The object of the system, as given in paragraph 36 of the Board's report, is as follows:—"To supply each cultivator with an extract from the combined license issued to the lumbardar. Each cultivator is thus provided with a separate record of his own transactions with the agency, and this is equally convenient to the officers of the department when testing measurements, or on any other occasion when enquiries may be necessary, which otherwise can be avoided by the excuse that the lumbardar, license and all, is absent from the village. A further merit which is claimed for this system is that it is a safe check on illicit cultivation under cover of a joint license which cannot always readily be checked with the area of the different plots under crop." The Lieutenant-Governor desires that it may be noticed in next year's report, how far the system has proved successful in the districts to which it has now been extended.

8. As regards the weather in the Behar Agency, especially in the districts on the north of the Ganges, the year was very favourable. Anticipations which were at one time entertained of a blight were not realized, and the moderate rain which fell in February, though injurious to the manufacture of leaves, and causing some reduction in the consistence of the drug, did more good than harm by bringing on the plants which, owing to the lateness of the rains in the previous year, were in a backward condition In Benares, on the other hand, although the season commenced well, the rains in February were so heavy as to injure the strength and productiveness of the plants, and were followed by unusually early hot winds that scorched up the crops of the later sowings and reduced the outturn.

The following table shows the average outturn per beegha in both agencies for the last five years —

	Behar		Benares
	Seers	Chittacks	Seers	Chittacks
1875-76	5	13½	6	4
1876-77	4	14½	6	9
1877-78	3	5½	5	1½
1878-79	3	15½	5	7½
1879-80	4	10½	4	0½

The year under review is the first in this period in which the average outturn from Behar has surpassed that of Benares. The decline in the Benares average since 1875-76 seems to justify the inference that in the desire to extend cultivation inferior land has been taken up.

9. The total deliveries of opium at the Patna Factory, taken at 70° consistence, amounted to maunds 53,593-23-1½, or maunds 12,325-21-13 over last year. From Benares, Patna received maunds 8,073-14-9½ for excise opium and lewah. The factory made 31,118 chests of provision opium at 74° and 75°, against 29,786 in 1878-79, and 3,318½ chests of excise opium against 3,297½. The deliveries of free pussewah rose from maunds 46-7-2½ in 1878-79 to maunds 942-23-6½ equivalent to damdatta (70°) maunds 323-27-9½. The quality of the opium was generally good. Maunds 6-4-1½ were confiscated as adulterated after being passed by Sub-Deputy Opium Agents as good, against maunds 4-34-9½ last year. There was a large increase in the number of deliveries of opium marked as 'suspected' by the district officers, indicating greater strictness in examination, and the quantity on which fines were imposed rose from maunds 86-37-15 to maunds 435-29-8. The total quantity confiscated was maunds 21-11-3 against maunds 16-4-5 in 1878-79. The Board, in paragraph 13 of their covering letter, refer to the successful results of the recently sanctioned payment of commission to the headmen and ryots of Nepalese villages to induce them to bring in their opium for sale. This is a matter that does not, however, properly belong to the year now under review.

10. In the Benares Agency the net outturn at 70° consistence was maunds 45,475-37-0½, or less by maunds 11,160-38-8 than in 1878-79, showing a decrease in outturn of 24·54 per cent., although the area under crop was 8·56 per cent. greater. These results are attributed entirely to the unfavorable weather. The quantity of opium sent in as suspected was maunds 116-25-9 against maunds 122-5-6 last year. The amount actually confiscated out of this was maunds 35-20-3 against maunds 21-32-13. Fines were imposed on maunds 655-28-5 against maunds 709-13-8. There was an increase (from maunds 4-28-5½ to maunds 5-3-2) in the amount of opium passed as good by the out-stations and found at the factory to be adulterated. The Agent, however, believes that in the most serious case the jars had been tampered with in transit. The deliveries of pure pussewah were maunds 172-18-4 against maunds 8-21-7 last year. The Agent here believes that the orders sanctioning a commission of one rupee per maund for free pussewah brought in had a good effect in encouraging its separation. The Behar authorities, on the other hand, attribute the larger quantity delivered in this year to the fact that the season was favorable to the production of pussewah. It is too soon yet to decide whether the grant of commission has really done good, and it should be continued during the current year. The Ghazipore Factory made 21,851 chests of provision opium against 20,175 in 1878-79, and 177 chests of excise opium against 2,308. The bulk of the cakes ranged between 69·50° and 70° consistence, none being lower than 69·50°.

11. The total expenditure of the year was Rs. 1,06,35,452 in Behar against Rs. 83,42,062 in 1878-79; and in Benares Rs 92,73,815 against Rs. 1,12,52,285.

12. The progress made in the collection of the outstanding balances in Behar is extremely satisfactory. The balances of 1877-78 originally amounted to Rs. 6,40,052. These were reduced by the end of 1878-79 to Rs 2,13,166. Of this sum, Rs. 16,403 have been remitted under the orders of Government; the remainder, with the exception of Rs. 3,383, which it is expected will shortly be realized, has been recovered. Rs. 9,537, outstanding from 1878-79 are in process of realization, and the balance of the year under review amounts to Rs. 10,914 only. Of this sum Rs. 10,550 are due from the Monghyr Agency, where the crop suffered much from hail-storms In Benares the Agent anticipates that about half the outstanding balances, amounting to some Rs. 30,000, will be realized. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the instructions given by the Board to the Agent with regard to the recovery of these balances.

13. The tables given do not show the total number of cases of smuggling detected during the year. The number of prosecutions instituted in the Benares Agency is given as 855, in 766 of which convictions were obtained The amount realized as fines was Rs. 13,198-3-6, and that given in rewards Rs. 15,950-12-9. These numbers are throughout below those of the previous year. In Behar it is stated that 45 cases of opium-smuggling were successfully prosecuted, in which the offenders belonged to the Patna Division. Of the 59 persons concerned in these cases, 41 were imprisoned, and were under the standing orders of Government brought to Bankipore Jail, in order that they might be identified The Agent, however, reports that in the majority of cases the prisoners evaded recognition by giving false names and addresses. The Board are of opinion that there must have been some want of zeal or intelligence in working out the plan of identification The subject is one of some importance, and the Lieutenant-Governor would wish to have a special report as to the system now pursued, with such suggestions for its improvement as may occur to the Board and the Agent. Some explanation of the extraordinary difference in the number of cases reported in the two agencies is also called for It appears doubtful whether the figures for Behar are complete. No tabular statement of opium cases is given as in the Benares report.

14. The report by the Principal Assistant of the Behar Agency, on the work of the Patna Factory and the improvements effected there in the course of the year, has been read with great interest. Dr. Shepherd deserves the cordial thanks of Government for the numerous and important improvements effected in the factory arrangements. It is hoped that the measures adopted by him for the careful supervision of cake-making and packing will do something towards removing the cause of the complaints now made in China of the defective condition of the Behar opium on arrival there. The whole question of packing and storing provision opium has, however, recently been exhaustively dealt with by Government on the report of the Special Committee appointed to consider the matter, and the orders of the Government of India on the subject are now under issue.

15. No new chests have been turned out by the Patna saw-mill during the year under review. This is ascribed to the large amount of alterations and repairs necessary to bring the old chests into conformity with the prescribed specification, and to the non receipt of dovetailing machinery from England Mr. Girling, the Superintendent of the Saw-mill, has again rendered good service in improving the machinery for preparing and fitting the chests and in conducting the operations of his department.

16. From the statement (F) in the appendix, it appears that 28,200 chests of Patna-made opium were sold during the year at an average per chest of Rs. 1,361-0-7 against Rs. 1,188-11-7 in the previous year, the average cost per chest being Rs. 308-11-1 against Rs. 251-15-5. Of Benares opium 21,851 chests were sent to the Presidency, but the results of sales are not given. The average cost of each chest was Rs 350-5-10 against Rs. 356-3-6. The attention of the Board is invited to the remarks on the incompleteness of the annual statements embodied in the Resolution on the Report for 1876-77, and to the instructions contained in Government order No. 665T, dated the 26th June 1878, as to the mode of exhibiting the results of sales, and giving uniform statistics for the two agencies. The reports still leave something to be desired in this respect.

17. The thanks of Government are due to both the Agents for the intelligent supervision exercised over their respective charges. Mr. Carnac has been particularly zealous in giving effect to the orders of the Government of India regarding the extension of cultivation in his Agency The Lieutenant-Governor also notices with satisfaction the commendation bestowed by the Board and by the Agents on the work done by Drs. Shepherd and Durant. The last paragraph of the Board's letter will be forwarded to the Appointment Department of this office for information.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

N.B.—In the Weekly Report from 20th to 26th March 1881, read 3·5lbs. instead of 35lbs. as the highest pressure of the wind on one square foot during the seven days.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII" The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 1·0

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables
